

5G News Update

Part 2
February 10, 2022

This is one of those pivotal moments when you have to step back from where one can't see the forest for the trees. I imagine many of you have had similar moments. A few days ago I had a breakthrough connection. Making a breakthrough like I have is very rewarding in an intangible way.

To focus only on small details and fail to understand the larger plans or principles overshadowing can be very annoying. This is doubly so when it is as obvious as tripping over it.

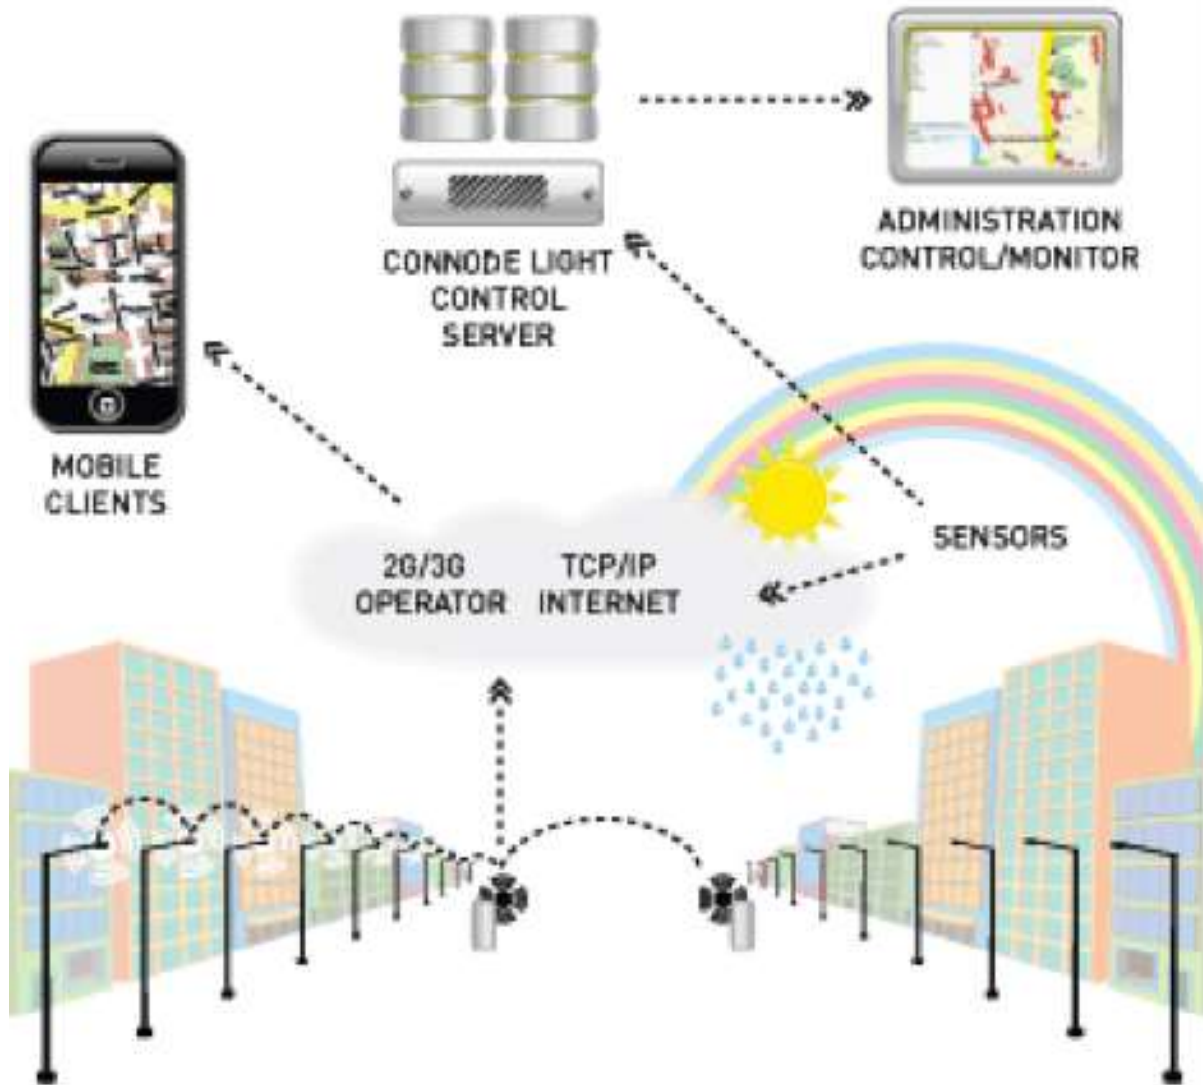

One of my readers lives on Madeira a Spanish island off the coast of Morocco. Rob Harris two years ago said something that took up residence in my brain and it has been haunting me for months. Rob said something to the effect, "It's all about the frequencies!" If you recall in part 1 of this was about the squabble between the FCC and FAA. Today aviation is all about 5G up in the cockpit of the aircraft mentioned. The airline industry and FAA people know something that has not been revealed to the flying public, and if they did they might not be flying again! This squabble involves four organizations and no one wants to be labeled the 'fall guy' if you catch my drift. You have the FAA, FCC, the airlines, and the Airlines Pilots Association.

Cellphone companies, of course, lauded the fact this has been going on in so many different countries. Well, it's going on differently. For instance, in France, they had the antennas pointed downward. They brought the power (modulation) of the signal down, and they backed away the frequency from the frequency that an aircraft uses for this critical input through the radio altimeter. And that protected the airplane in France for almost two minutes prior to landing, whereas in the U.S., what the cellphone companies have proposed would have given the pilot about 20 seconds of protection and with some rapid deployment on that. Problem solved for now, but it is only a short-term fix. The larger issue hanging over all parties is the liability or legal issue in the event of a catastrophic accident that would kill hundreds of passengers. This difference in time from two minutes to just 20 seconds was never brought out in the news accounts and now you know why. They did not want this information out in the public media but they needed to be on record and the concerns of the airlines and pilots unions were addressed. None of the parties want to be blamed in the event of a catastrophic accident where legal claims go sky high, and you can be sure this is all on record with any attorney or law firm worth their billing rates!

Perhaps you have seen video footage of the opera singer breaking a wine glass just from her voice projection. Some of us have had a chance to hear the loud boom that comes when a jet aircraft breaks the sound barrier. The moment an aircraft's speed exceeds the speed of sound, it is said to have broken the sound barrier. The speed at which you break the sound barrier depends on many conditions, including weather and altitude. It's approximately 770 mph at sea level. We are moving quickly into a frightening future and 5G and 6G are replacing your freedoms with AI in the most interesting ways.

New LED "Smart" Streetlights Aren't Just Streetlights!! They Are Weapons Packed With So Much Technology... It Can Only Mean The Unthinkable!!

These dumb streetlights are installed beyond any public oversight, any standards of law, ethics, or concern for the wellbeing and safety of the public... no risk assessments... no oversight to control data... no environmental studies... but just so happen to benefit the police state at every angle by which you examine their ultimate use... This LED “Smart” streetlights is about a shared “Dual Use” issue associated with 5G, and relevant to the dangers of 5G!

Here’s a shortlist of the tech in the new LED Streetlights, according to Deborah Tavares:

- Intel Atom Processor
- half terrabyte of storage
- Bluetooth
- Wi-Fi
- Two acoustical sensors
- sensors that monitor weather, temperature, humidity, vibrations, magnetic fields
- data processed on the node, known as edge processing
- algorithm processing
- counts cars, bicycles and people
- calculates exact average speed of vehicles

Do you really believe all this tech is just to be used for flicking light switches on and off?

All information has already been used by law enforcement, even though that’s not the stated use. The most important item in this new world of AI is data. The powers running the world want to know everything they can obtain about you and there seems to be no limits to which they will go to obtain it from humans. This became a reality with the cell phone and social media.

If you thought Covid-19 was the crisis of the century you were conned by the global elite who have planned this as far back as the turn of the century. It was codified in the Rockefeller’s operation Lock Down in 2010. It was all about 5G and soon 6G and we had to be isolated in their strategy of social lockdown tactics, fear-mongering, economic destroying small business, remote censorship and control, all as if it was an earth-changing event, which it was; however, not in the way that most people realize.

The only way that the public could be corralled to get hooked up to the new technology was to fake a life-threatening virus of such pandemic proportion people would be begging for the salvation of the pharmaceutical industry that never existed before in all of history. In some ways writing this now seems as bizarre as if I am recapping the globalist success. The bottom line of it all is most of the world was fooled. This psy-op is one for the Guinness Book of Records. Its purpose was to hook you up to the “Cloud”. The tag cloud on my web page shows over 300 articles on this huge issue!

Deborah gets into it at the 40:00 mark (the entire video is mind-blowing) of the video on her web site "Stop the Crime.net!"

What is the unthinkable?

Permanent tracking, monitoring... and the potential to falsify data to remove anyone deemed undesirable.

Remember the end game of the streetlights, vaxxes, smart cities, smart devices... it's all about control towards the endgame of removal of 90% of the population.

You have been warned... again and again.

Will the public ever wake up, or are we doomed by our own hands and doing.

Remember... a smart city, is really a dumb city.

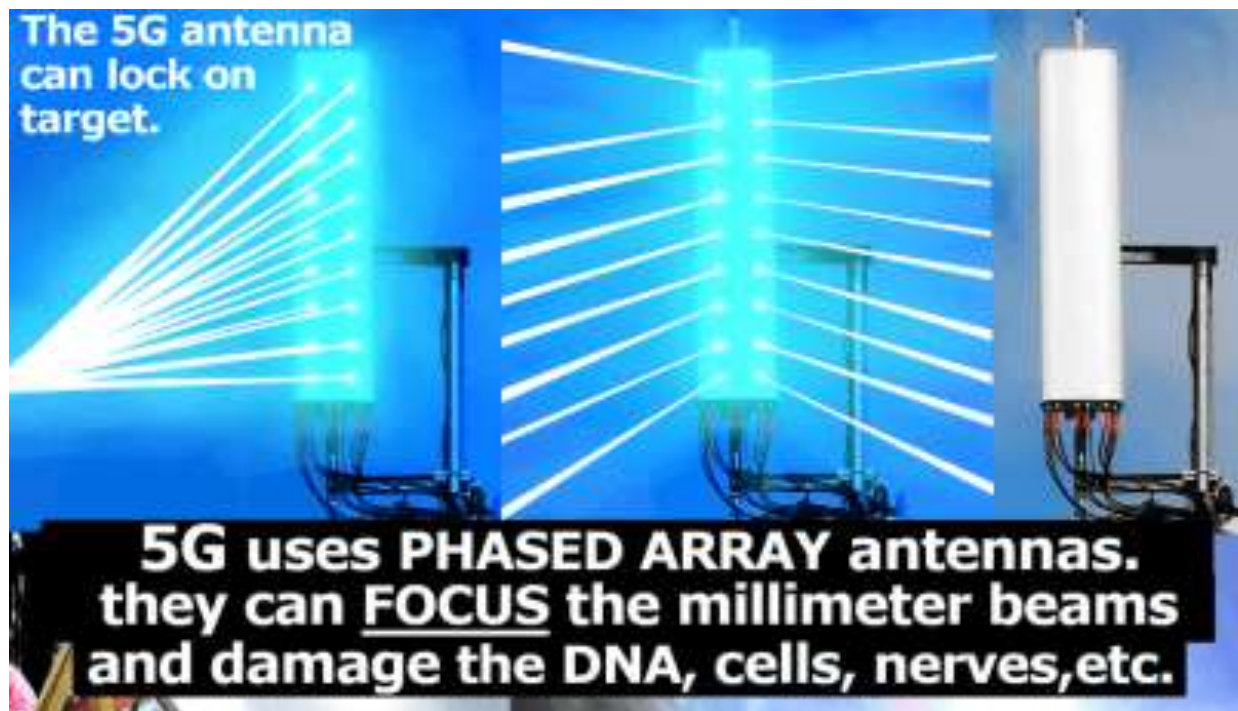

A smart device, is a dumb device.

A smart politician is a dumb politician.

Smart tech is weaponized technology, because it is designed for permanent control.

Smart water is dumb water.

Got it?

Did you know...

The term "conspiracy theorist" was a term made popular by the CIA to stop critical thinkers from asking questions about the JFK assassination? In a memo called "Countering Criticism of The Warren Report" the CIA set out to make the term "conspiracy theorist" weapon to be used against anyone who questioned the government's secret activities and programs.

I have been saying for more than two years that Covid-19 was a ruse, a cover for a more insidious health issue, i.e., 5G and 6G. We really should be including 4G LTE. It stands for Long Term Evolution. As it turns out many if not all 4G cell phones have 5G elements or features already built into the later model 4G cell phones that will remain in 5G services, such as the full array antenna! I am now prepared to say unequivocally Covid-19 is all about radiation sickness from the wireless EMF wireless energy devices and high-tech equipment being manufactured.

More on this later in this article but the next segment is a definite "Red Herring" issue that throws a wrench into the scandemic of Covid. I received an interesting news report today that interestingly gives credence to my basic premise that Covid was being used in running a "cover" story for 5G EMF Wi-Fi toxic radiation in a way that I would have never known about were it not for my wide scope of reading that I do. The report headline reads:

"Scientists Deliberately Gave People COVID — Here's What They Learnt"

February 7, 2022

During a first-of-its-kind COVID-19 human-challenge trial, healthy young individuals who were purposely subjected to the coronavirus SARS-CoV-2 had minor symptoms, if any at all. This kind of trials offers an once-in-a-lifetime chance to research viral infections from beginning to end, but they are contentious due to the hazards they entail to patients. The study verifies findings from previous COVID-19 investigations.

Scientists Deliberately Gave People COVID — Here's What They Learnt.

According to researchers, the UK study of 34 people aged 18 to 30 years old demonstrates that these studies can be conducted adequately and provides the framework for more in-depth research of vaccines, antivirals, and immunological responses to SARS-CoV-2 infection. The findings were published on the preprint service Research Square on February 1st and have not yet been peer reviewed, reports Nature.

Approximately half of those who received a small dosage of the virus did not become infected, while some of those who did were asymptomatic. Sore throats, runny noses, and a loss of smell and taste were among the mild-to-moderate symptoms experienced by those who had COVID-19.

"It presents a potentially important advance in how to assess future vaccine and drug efficacy," Miles Davenport, an immunologist at Sydney's University of New South Wales, agrees. "This opens a number of important possibilities to study immunity in a controlled environment."

Some academics, nonetheless, doubt if the study's findings are significant enough to warrant the dangers to subjects, including the possibility of long-term side effects. "In my mind, it's still not entirely clear whether these studies are ethically justified, and I'm waiting to see what else they've found," says Seema Shah, a bioethicist at Northwestern University in Chicago, Illinois.

Over decades, human-challenge experiments are often used to research influenza, malaria, and a variety of other infectious diseases. Several experts advocated that such studies with SARS-CoV-2 should be conducted throughout the early months of the pandemic to speed up vaccine development. Others, on the other hand, considered challenging trials as too risky to be acceptable, especially given how little was understood about the virus and how few, if any, viable treatments were present.

The study was introduced in October 2020, and the very first volunteers were subjected to the virus in early 2021. It was headed by Imperial College London scientists and a Dublin-based commercial clinical-research business called Open Orphan and its London-based subsidiary hVIVO. Volunteers were compensated with £4,565 (US$6,200) for their time spent in a high-level seclusion unit at the Royal Free Hospital in London for at least two weeks.

The initial participants were given a really small dose of a virus strain that was circulating in the United Kingdom in early 2020, approximately similar to the quantity of virus in a solitary droplet of nasal fluid. According to Andrew Catchpole, chief scientific officer of hVIVO, scientists expected a greater dosage to infect the majority of volunteers. However, the initial dose infected upwards of half of the subjects.

He adds that it should let some people feel more at ease with doing future human-challenge trials for SARS-CoV-2. He added that such trials could aid in the development of vaccines that protect against a wide range of coronaviruses, not just SARS-Co

The study, according to Meagan Deming, a vaccine researcher and virologist at the University of Maryland in Baltimore, verifies findings from previous COVID-19 investigations, like the rapid spike in viral levels. However, it hasn't quelled her fears about subjecting individuals to a SARS-CoV-2 strain that hasn't even been attenuated.

(Attenuated means to be reduced · lessened · decreased · diminished · impaired). She observes that more over two-thirds of infected subjects had issues with smell or taste that lasted for more than six months in certain circumstances.

"It sounds like this is the most serious risk that materialized. This is the one to keep an eye on," Shah adds. Furthermore, she worries if the study's findings thus far warrant such costs. "This study reads like a promissory note that ultimately, in conjunction with the other research they're doing, there will eventually be substantial scientific and social benefits. But we're not really seeing that yet."

Infected people's bodies reproduced the virus at breakneck speed. People acquired their initial symptoms and tested positive using sensitive PCR testing, on average, just under two days following exposure. In comparison, real-world epidemiological investigations have recorded a five-day 'incubation period' between a possible exposure and symptoms. The virus remained at high levels for an average of 9 days and up to 12 days.

Sore throats, runny noses, and sneezing seemed to be the most common symptoms, which were similar to those of other respiratory diseases. Fever was less frequent, and no one got the chronic cough that had been associated with COVID-19, according to Catchpole. Approximately 70% of infected volunteers lost their perceptions of smell and taste to varied degrees – another COVID-19 hallmark. In five of the individuals, these issues continued for more than six months, and in one for more than nine months. Some individuals showed no signs at all, yet they had just as much virus in their upper airways as those who did, and their infections persisted just as much.

The study's researchers are trying to figure out why so many participants were not affected despite becoming treated to SARS-CoV-2. According to Christopher Chiu, a physician-scientist at Imperial College London who conducted the study, certain uninfected patients had really low levels of virus for brief periods of time, indicating that their immune systems were actively battling the virus.

Future research on the challenge-trial participants will try to figure out why. Some people may be protected against COVID-19 by coronaviruses that cause the common cold, according to previous study. One other theory is that certain individuals have powerful innate immune responses that do not necessitate prior exposure to a disease or a virus that is similarly related. "We're trying to understand the fundamentals of why people are protected even though they've not been exposed to a virus like this before," Chiu adds.

His group intends to conduct another challenge study in which vaccinated people would be exposed to the Delta version of SARS-CoV-2. The goal of this research is to find immunological components that shield individuals from 'breakthrough' infections following vaccination. Human-challenge trials for SARS-CoV-2 will most likely enlist only those at very low risk of severe sickness for the time being, according to Catchpole. However, if researchers acquire expertise conducting these challenge trials properly, Chiu believes it may be possible to broaden them to include at-risk populations such as with the elderly.

According to Matthew Memoli, an infectious-disease specialist and virologist at the US National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases in Bethesda, Maryland, the trial appeared to be safe and well-conducted.

What if Covid-19 is not a virus as we were told? What if it really is EMF radiation from Wireless EMF as the roll out of 5G technologies continues?

The Indian news report above may have never been intended to appear in print other than to inform the public; I suspect it may have slipped through the Internet censors in their global effort to shut down any truth about Covid and if I am correct, you will not hear anything more about it, particularly so from the very last paragraph and the agency headed by Dr. Anthony Fauci. It came from an Indian web site and perhaps they do not fully recognize the significance of what their report means in the larger frame of reference I have been saying since the fall of 2019.

Dr. Sherri Tenpenny on February 1st or 2nd slammed the government and Big Pharma for pushing Wuhan coronavirus (COVID-19) vaccines, which she said are not actually vaccines by definition. Her words here are from a report on Mike Adams, the Health Ranger web site, when Mike interviewed Dr. Sherri Tenpenny. Because I am censored by AOL, I did not get the video on Brighteon where Mike posts his videos.

"When you think about a flu shot, or MMR or chickenpox or something like that, they are intended to stop the spread of the virus and the infection. They're intended to lower the incidence rate, they're intended to stop hospitalizations and they're definitely intended to stop deaths. That's the normal vaccines as what we call them. That's how they're supposed to work," she said during the January 30 episode of "What is Happening."

What the world has been injecting in people now, according to Tenpenny, are genetic modification technologies. The messenger RNA (mRNA) has never been used in human beings and has only been issued under emergency use authorization.

They don't do anything vaccines are supposed to, like keep people from getting sick or lower hospitalization rates. Based on the information from the Department of Defense, over 70 percent of hospitalizations from COVID are for fully vaccinated individuals, or those who have had their two shots and a booster.

The mRNA injections definitely cause harm, with over a million reported adverse events and over 23,000 deaths reported to the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) as of February 4th, 2022.

Tenpenny also talked about COVID-19 tests and how they don't work. "The test couldn't distinguish between coronaviruses and influenza viruses. Doesn't that just say to the world that all of it is nonsense, we ought to throw all of it underneath the bus?"
Brigteon.TV

The PCR tests were never intended for diagnostics.

The original developer of the "gold standard" PCR test, Kary Mullis, said in the early '90s that the tests were never intended to be used as a clinical diagnostic tool because it finds little particles that could still turn up a positive result. (Related: Coronavirus RT-PCR tests are being used to mislead people amid the pandemic, says health expert.)

There are thousands of cases because governments insist on testing healthy, asymptomatic people who do not spread the virus or are not contagious. "An asymptomatic person that has traces of virus is a healthy person. We carry approximately three trillion viruses, bacteria, yeast fungi in and on our body at all times. And it's the symbiotic relationship of those trillions of viruses that define a healthy person," Tenpenny said.

She pointed out that all that has been done is to create a new name to create fear and to drive the injection agenda to make people get nonsensical tests that really say nothing. I would agree but there is more to this that is missed by those unfamiliar with 5G EMF toxic wireless Wi-Fi energy!

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention withdrew the emergency use authorization of the PCR test for COVID-19 testing effective December 31, 2021, finally admitting that the test does not differentiate between the flu and the COVID virus.

The CDC recommended that clinical laboratories and testing sites begin their transition to using another FDA-authorized COVID-19 test, and is encouraging laboratories to consider adoption of a multiplexed method that could facilitate the detection and differentiation of SARS-CoV-2 and influenza viruses.

Dr. Pascal Sacre, who specializes in critical care, also said that the RT-PCR process was misused and applied as a relentless strategy to create the appearance of a pandemic based on “phony test results and not actual COVID patients, in order to violate human and constitutional rights of citizens.”

The PCR test was also intentionally run at high cycles that were known to produce false positives. Most alleged cases were nothing but fabrications, and hospitals were becoming part of the scam because they were incentivized with financial rewards to report “COVID deaths.”

The public has become so addicted to Wireless Energy and has never bothered to ask about its down side. Wireless Energy has always been intended as a weapons system. The fact that you are able to talk, text, and transmit data is simply a side benefit to the public that was designed as a weapons system to kill and harm adversaries. The governments of all advanced countries are well aware of the “dual use” of wireless energy! In part 1, I stated:

“My point is I am a victim of 4G Wi-Fi and 5G EMF can be 100x greater than 4G EMF!”

The following information has been abbreviated from scientific literature that is fully validated and has been stated by international experts such as Dr. Barry Trower, Mark Steele, Drs. Devra Davis and Martin Pall about EMF’s adverse effects to government leaders and national legislators repeatedly. This outline was presented by Dr. Martin Pall, a Professor Emeritus of Biochemistry and Medical Sciences at Washington State University to the National Institutes of Health. Dr. Pall is recognized worldwide as an expert in EMF and 5G’s detrimental effects on biological systems and the diseases associated with wireless technologies. These are not necessarily minor issues!

- Lower Fertility: Alters the structure of the testes and ovaries, lowers sperm count and the number of egg follicles, increases spontaneous abortion and lowers the levels of three sex hormones.
- Neurological and Neuropsychiatric Effects: There has been a dramatic increase in the following conditions since the advent of mobile phones, the internet, and wireless technologies: insomnia, fatigue, depression, headaches and cognitive dysfunction, anxiety, and loss of memory. Animal studies have shown that EMFs produce major changes in brain structure, which is likely happening to everyone who has extensive daily exposure to EMFs
- Cellular DNA Damage: There are three types of DNA damage observed in EMF exposure: single and double DNA breaks and oxidized DNA bases. These can cause cancer and mutations in the sexual germ lines.
- Apoptosis: EMFs contribute to programmed cell death that in turn leads to reproductive and neurodegenerative disorders.

- Oxidative Stress: Free radical damage that has been associated with numerous health conditions including cancer, diabetes, rheumatoid arthritis, myocardial infarction, stroke, chronic inflammation, Parkinson's, multiple sclerosis, cellular death and aging
- Endocrine Effects: According Dr. Pall, every hormonal system in the body is adversely affected by EMF exposure.
- Excessive Intracellular Calcium: Ca<sup>2+</sup> is critical for cellular activity
- Cancer: There are 35 separate scientific reviews of the body of peer-reviewed literature providing evidence that EMFs increase carcinogenesis, promote and progress tumor development and contribute to metastasis.

There are also other medical conditions that have been shown to be associated likely with EMF exposure:

- Cardiac Effects. EMFs interfere with the electrical control of the heart that can produce tachycardia, bradycardia, arrhythmia and abnormal heart palpitations.
- Early Onset of Alzheimer's and Dementia: In recent years and in parallel with increased EMF exposure, signs of symptoms associated with Alzheimer's are being observed in people age 30 and younger. Dr. Pall has called this "digital dementias."
- ADHD and Autism: The epidemic in ADHD and autism witnessed in each younger generation may be caused by late prenatal and early post-natal EMF exposure. Each of these neurological conditions is associated with the increase of calcium over-penetrating cell linings due to EMF pulsations and disrupting synapse formations.

Everyone will be affected by 5G's radiation. But it will not require three decades to observe its injurious effects. Unlike cigarettes, nobody has a choice whether you wish to be exposed to 5G or not. 5G's EMF radiation is all-pervasive. But it does not end there, the next level or 6G has been on the drawing board for several years.

To minimize the effects of 5G, my advice is NOT to let it be brought into your place of residence. This includes the following:

- Do not upgrade to a 5G phone.
- Do not allow an external roof 5G receiver to be installed.
- Do not upgrade your Wi-Fi router to a 5G router.

Keep your bedroom and children's bedrooms free of wireless devices, baby monitors, cell phones, ipads, ipods, wireless lap tops or PCs.

Getting back to the UK study and the very first volunteers subjected to the virus in early 2021. It was headed by Imperial College London scientists and a Dublin-based commercial clinical-research business called Open Orphan and its London-based subsidiary hVIVO. Imperial College of London has been in the center of the Coronavirus issue from day one!

One of the very first to dispute Coronavirus or Covid-19 was Dr. Thomas Cowan and his 2021 book 'Contagion'. Dr. Cowan and his co-author Sally Fallon Morrell argued the factor of "Terrain" Theory vs. "Germ Theory" dispute the government health agencies. I even did an article or two on this very issue. Their book had an 88% 5-star review and if you want to get an unbiased view I recommend 'Contagion'. I have read it twice and was fortunate to have listened to his short presentation he gave at a convention in March or April of 2020 where he blew Covid out of the water. It only took a few weeks or so before the video was removed from the Internet, and thus it spoke volumes about the people who were behind the alleged virus, as well as corrupt voice of the powers that want to censor what the public hears. It was at that point of hearing Dr. Tom Cowan I was convinced this was about something more cynical and diabolical.

The obstacle that confounded me for so long was the term "synthetic biology". I understand "synthetic motor oil" and I understand "synthetic fibers" but how one came to an understanding of something as natural as "biology" becoming "synthetic biology" was a hurdle I could not jump over or get past. Dr. Andrew Kaufman has done a number of videos explaining that Covid-19 does not exist, nor has it ever existed. All of this is best explained by Dr. David L. Martin and his study of the 4,000 patents on these man-made pathogens produced on a computer screen using CRISPR technology to hoax a virus that is not natural, not a rogue or novel virus having jumped from animal to humans.

Dr. David L. Martin heads a company called M:Cam, and their task are providing third party expertise and advice for potential investors. They investigate inventor patents to determine investment worthiness to people that put up the investment capital to get a product or idea off the ground and into the public domain. Dr. Martin was well aware of the thousands of pharmaceutical vaccine patents of technology that was being used against the public. Dr. Martin has provided testimony to the U.S. Congress in the past and as recent as last year was creating a RICO crime case for the likes of world renown attorney Reiner Fuellmich. Dr. Martin gave the 4,000 patents related to the Coronavirus which currently are part of the evidence for a forthcoming Nuremberg Trial 2. Indictments for the major names in this scandemic have been determined by the International Criminal Court in the Hague.

The International Criminal Court (ICC or ICt) is an intergovernmental organization and international tribunal that sits in The Hague, Netherlands. The ICC is the first and only permanent international court with jurisdiction to prosecute individuals for the international crimes of genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and the crime of aggression. It is intended to complement existing national judicial systems, and it may, therefore, exercise its jurisdiction only when national courts are unwilling or unable to prosecute criminals. The ICC lacks universal territorial jurisdiction and may only investigate and prosecute crimes committed within member states, crimes committed by nationals of member states, or crimes in situations referred to the Court by the United Nations Security Council. This limitation has not stopped the team of attorneys, scientists, and professionals from presenting the evidence in regards to those that will have to stand trial for crimes against humanity.

As of this date, February 8, 2022, as many as nine sovereign states have cancelled their mandates, lockdowns, face masks, enforcements. The State of New Jersey dropped face mask requirements on Monday, February 7th, 2022. The entire Covid-19 scamdemic is falling as I type. Unfortunately, it may take months for those in the hinter lands to get the word. Just yesterday, the Washington County Kentucky School Board issued an 8-page policy for coping with the Covid issue for the rest of the school year. Kentucky is a “blue” state and its governor is a Democrat who has been following the directions of the Obamabiden Administration. We can be sure that Barack Obama is pulling the strings of the person who calls himself the President of the United States. As I opened my email this morning, there are abundant signs that this Covid crime is going away, one way or another. The linguistics clearly indicates the powers at be have run out of leverage. But there will be laggards who are clueless to the truth that will make life crazy for the rest of the world.

I have noticed that in the past few days there have been a number of articles that are bringing focus back to my point of view, that being this is all about a cover for an industry who sees a potential profit of $17-trillion dollars. If you go to my web page www.pastorbobreid.com you will find a total of 108 articles on 5G related issues. I am pretty sure some of them are dated as far back as 2018, and perhaps earlier. I have been studying Wireless energy since the fall of 1996 when bee keepers were reporting their bee colonies were dying and collapsing.

Ethan Huff posted this article below on Sunday, February 6th, 2022. I did a couple articles on the “White Tail Deer” Covid-19 crisis last year that stretched over nearly 20 northern states where as much as 65-70% of White Tail Deer were found to have Covid. That fact is indicative to my point about aerial spraying of pathogens such as aluminum, barium, strontian, and graphene oxide among others has been ongoing for at least three decades.

Deny all you want the existence of Chemtrails, or Geoengineering, we have so much evidence it cannot be denied. Peter Kirby wrote the book ‘Chemtrails Exposed: A New Manhattan Project’ and Elana Freeland’s book ‘Under An Ionized Sky’ I have read these and other experts who have been victims of Directed Energy Weapons (DEW) as the result of their exposes on how the government, military, intelligence, and scientific community are engaged in change of the environment on the earth while they regularly point the blame at the exhausts of vehicles as the primary source of climate change.

NOT JUST HUMANS: Scientists say 5G radiation is killing animals and wildlife

Sunday, February 06, 2022 by: Ethan Huff

(Natural News) A lengthy report about 5G exposure has found that this newfound radiation source is damaging the health of creatures that live in the wild.

The 150-page report, compiled by researchers at the University of Washington and Johns Hopkins University, contains three sections, the first of which looked at how environmental EMFs (electromagnetic frequencies) have radically increased in recent years.

The second part looked at how living organisms are impacted by these EMFs. It reveals how “effects have been observed in mammals such as bats, cervids, cetaceans, and pinnipeds among others, and on birds, insects, amphibians, reptiles, microbes and many species of flora.”

The third section focuses on EMF exposure limits and the prospect of new regulations to help better protect living beings against the harm caused by this constant flood of non-ionizing radiation.

“This eloquent review gives insight into missed opportunities for cancer prevention exemplified by asbestos, tobacco, certain pesticides and now RF (radiofrequency) radiation,” said a spokesperson from the Environmental Health Trust (EHT).

“The authors highlight how economic considerations were favored instead of cancer prevention. ‘A strategy to sow doubt on cancer risks was established decades ago and is now adopted and implemented in a more sophisticated way by the telecom industry regarding RF-EMF risks to human beings and the environment. Industry has the economic power, access to politicians and media, whereas concerned people are unheard.”

D.C. Court of Appeals ruled in favor of petition calling for greater FCC regulation of cellular radiation

Devra Davis, the founder of EHT, said that it has been known for quite some time that cellular radiation of all kinds is dangerous to wildlife as well as to people. And yet the federal government has turned a blind eye to the science and instead promoted the interests of Verizon, AT&T and T-Mobile.

“We have more than enough research to trigger new regulatory action to protect wildlife,” a spokesperson from EHT is further quoted as saying.

“The FCC should have done a full review of the environmental impact of 5G network deployment before streamlining hundreds of thousands of 5G cell towers across the nation.”

Back in August, the D.C. Court of Appeals ruled in favor of a petition filed by EHT against the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). The court found that the FCC has not done nearly enough to address the growing body of evidence linking EMFs to negative health impacts, even at levels below what the FCC considers “safe.”

The court also noted that the FCC has not adequately responded to the Department of the Interior after it raised the issue of the environmental harms that EMFs cause specifically on migratory birds. (Related: The National Institutes of Health (NIH) published a report showing that both 5G and 4G are harmful to humans and other living beings.)

The corporate media, on the other hand, which is bought and paid for by the wireless industry, has scoffed at and scorned the idea that 5G is anything other than amazing and wonderful.

Fake news giant CNN, for instance, published a 2020 propaganda piece entitled “Why conspiracy theorists think 5G is bad for your health and why experts say not to worry.” The contents of this fake news piece are exactly what you might expect.

“With 5G coming to neighborhoods across the country, the levels of wireless radiation will significantly increase,” warns Davis, who believes that the time is now to act.

“We do not have the luxury of time to continue to debate this issue with the wireless industry. Adults, children, pets, wildlife, and our environment are all vulnerable.”

I have passed my page limit for this series and so I will draw to a close part 2, and continue in part 3 with another aspect of how they are killing humanity with methods that fully meet the Rothschild requirements of their book ‘Silent Weapons for Quiet Wars!’

Wireless Energy was first used as a Military Weapon

Its first application was as RADAR in the 1940's. In the 1970's it was used as a heart attack gun. In the 1990's it was used to send voices to the brains of the Iraqi army to surrender. Today, it is used as a Directed Energy Weapon (DEW) to start forest fires to force people off their land!

As Dr. Martin Pal calls 5G, "It is an Extinction Level Event!"

Blessings,
