Congress moving forward on classified 6G wireless

October 27, 2022 | Zero5G.com | Congressional Record Source

The public has not had time to digest and come to grips with the 5G roll out from October 31, 2019 when it is now being slammed by the U.S. Congress to move the nation into the next phase of wireless energy, that being 6G. Zero5G.com has blown the whistle here, sharing the information from the Congressional Record itself.

I have been aware of the technological side of the telecom industry's direction and knew it was only a matter of time before the government would become visible in this controversy over technology versus public health and safety.

With the potential of $Trillions of dollars involved, the public has little in the way of leverage to forestall 6G rollout. Congress is own by the lobbyists representing the telecom industry. They are a revolving door between the FCC and the telecoms. Legislation is bought and paid for by the parties with deep pockets favoring politicians who will deliver their votes for their agenda. The fact is that those elected to the House and the Senate become the puppets of their supporters.

(1) IN GENERAL.—There is established a council, to be known as the “Next Generation Telecommunications Council”, to advise Congress on ways the Federal Government can support private sector 6G advancements and advanced wireless communications technologies in the United States.

Congress is moving forward on classified 6G wireless communications systems, even though microwave irradiating infrastructures (+4G-5G-6G) are opposed by communities around the nation and worldwide, due to their hazardous pollution emissions continuously contaminating the environment, and the built-in, unwarranted surveillance capabilities.

According to microwave weapons expert Barrie Trower, 5G and wireless radiation constitutes weaponry. LINK

More and more communities are putting the brakes on these harmful antenna systems. LINK

A recent study by The International Commission on the Biological Effects of Electromagnetic Fields \(ICBE-EMF\), entitled “Scientific evidence invalidates health assumptions underlying the FCC and ICNIRP exposure limit determinations for radiofrequency radiation: implications for 5G,” confirmed that FCC and ICNIRP guidelines, set in the 1990’s are not protective of human health or the environment and need to be updated.

The federal government 6G push is led by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA). These agencies are in fact members of the UN International Telecommunications Union (UN ITU).

According to the NTIA, the UN ITU sets the global standard for 5G. The UN ITU is focused on implementation of Agenda 2030. LINK

(1) IN GENERAL.—The duties of the Council are to review and advise Congress on—

(A) advancements in 6G and other advanced wireless communications technologies;

(B) Federal Government and State, local, and Tribal government support for all generations of wireless communications technologies, including 6G;

(C) Federal Government support for the private sector to encourage 6G advancements and other advanced wireless communications technologies;

(D) the role of the Federal Government in supporting private sector leadership in the standardization and development of 6G and other advanced wireless communications technologies;

(E) the need for the Federal Government to accelerate access to Federal lands for deployment of 6G and other advanced wireless communications technologies; and

(F) the role of the Federal Government and State, local, and Tribal governments in supporting the private sector development and deployment of 6G and other advanced wireless communications technologies.

(i) to the extent possible, avoid obtaining and using classified information in the course of its work; and

(ii) handle and protect all classified information provided to the Council under this section in accordance with applicable statutes and regulations.

(D) TREATMENT OF BUSINESS-SENSITIVE INFORMATION.—The Council shall—

(i) to the extent possible, avoid obtaining and using business-sensitive information, including trade secrets, and other competitively sensitive information; and

(ii) handle and protect all business-sensitive information provided to the Council under this section in accordance with applicable statutes, contracts, and regulations.

(E) PENALTIES FOR DISCLOSURE.—Any unauthorized disclosure of classified information or business-sensitive information by staff of the Council shall serve as grounds for dismissal from the Council.

(i) DISMISSAL.—Any unauthorized disclosure of business-sensitive information by a consultant shall serve as grounds for dismissal from the Council.

(ii) PROSECUTION.—It is the sense of Congress that any unauthorized disclosure of business-sensitive information by a consultant should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

(k) COMPENSATION AND TRAVEL EXPENSES.—

(1) COMPENSATION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), each member of the Council may be compensated at not to exceed the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay in effect for a position at level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5315 of title 5, United States Code, for each day during which that member is engaged in the actual performance of the duties of the Council under this section.

Less Than 1 In 100 Million Chance That COVID-19 Has Natural Origin: New Study

BY TYLER DURDEN

TUESDAY, OCT 25, 2022

Authored by Hans Mahncke via The Epoch Times (emphasis ours),

A new study on the origins of the pandemic, “Endonuclease fingerprint indicates a synthetic origin of SARS-CoV2,” published on the preprint server bioRxiv, concludes that it is highly likely that the SARS-CoV-2 virus that causes COVID-19 originated in a laboratory. The odds of a natural origin, according to the study, are placed at less than 1 in 100 million.

Unlike previous studies that analyzed qualitative aspects such as virus features, the new study for the first time assesses the likelihood of a laboratory origin on a quantitative basis. This breakthrough methodology allowed the authors to present objective findings that appear to exceed any previous studies.

Significantly, the new study does not rely on any of the known evidence pointing toward a lab origin of the SARS-CoV-2 virus. For instance, it does not take into consideration the highly unusual Furin Cleavage Site that makes the virus particularly virulent and which it is widely thought to have been inserted into the virus at the Wuhan Institute of Virology. Nor does it factor in the huge coincidence that the pandemic started on the door steps of the world’s premier coronavirus laboratory

Instead, the authors—Valentin Bruttel, a molecular immunologist at the University of Würzburg in Germany; Alex Washburne, a mathematical biologist at Selva Science; and Antonius VanDongen, a pharmacologist at Duke University—took a novel approach that assesses the genesis of the SARS-CoV-2 virus from an entirely new angle. The authors examined tiny fingerprints left behind in the process in which viruses are assembled in laboratories. While use of seamless genetic engineering techniques in creating viruses in laboratories typically conceals evidence of manipulation, the new study developed a statistical process for uncovering such hidden evidence by comparing the distribution of certain strands of genetic code in wild viruses and lab-made viruses.

When viruses are constructed in a lab, they are typically assembled by piecing together various virus parts. According to a blog post from Washburne that accompanied the release of the study, it is like taking Mr. Potato Head from the movie Toy Story and replacing his arms with the arms of GI Joe to help “us study things like whether GI Joe arms provide any clear benefit for an important task in the virus life cycle like lifting weights.”

In other words, one of the main purposes of manipulating viruses is to better understand which parts of viruses make them particularly infectious, lethal, or transmissible. A related purpose is to develop bioweapons but the authors of the new study reject the idea that that is why SARS-CoV-2 was made. They believe that the virus “was assembled in a lab via common methods used to assemble infectious clones pre-COVID.”

A recent experiment at Boston University is an example of piecing together virus parts. Researchers created a COVID-19 variant that killed 80 percent of exposed mice using the backbone of the ancestral SARS-CoV-2 virus and replacing its spike gene with that from the Omicron variant. Put another way, the Boston lab created a COVID-19 version of Frankenstein's monster by piecing together different parts from different variants of the SARS-CoV-2 virus.

Piecing together viruses in labs is subject to limitations. The genetic information for SARS-CoV-2 is contained in 30,000 base pairs of RNA nucleotides. However, the 30,000 base pairs are not pieced together all at once. Instead, laboratory viruses are assembled from a collection of smaller strands of base pairs that are later "glued" back together as chimeras, or compounds. Enzymes are used to cut viruses apart at certain points along the DNA strand (laboratories use DNA instead of RNA as it is more stable; the assembled DNA is then added to bacteria that create RNA viruses).

[Covid-19 was only based upon a mere 156 base pairs out of 30,000 which was challenged by the inventor of the PCR tester Dr. Kerry Mullis, who also died mysteriously on August 7, 2019. Dr. Mullis is on video calling Dr. Anthony Fauci a liar about the use of the PCR device. It was never intended to confirm the existence of a pathogen per se.]

Enzymes are proteins that cut through DNA strands at specific recognition sites. These recognition sites, or cutting sites, are the genetic sequences within DNA strands that are sought out by the enzymes. Enzymes are like biological scissors that cut only at particular cutting sites marked by sequences that are recognized by particular enzymes.

Since cutting sites look like normal sequences of nucleotides, they can be found on RNA strands of naturally occurring viruses as well as on lab-made viruses. This is why this form of genetic engineering leaves no seams or obvious fingerprints. However, there is an important difference between cutting sites on wild-type and lab-made viruses that the authors exploited. Naturally occurring cutting sites are not necessarily located where scientists want them to be. Laboratories therefore routinely insert cutting sites in favorable locations and remove them from unfavorable locations.

While naturally occurring cutting sites and cutting sites added in a lab are biologically indistinguishable, Bruttel, Washburne and VanDongen hypothesized that they could detect a "very subtle but identifiable fingerprint" by plotting the distribution of the cutting sites on the SARS-CoV-2 virus. They would then compare this to the distribution of such sites on wild-type SARS viruses, as well as on other, pre-pandemic lab-made SARS viruses. They carried out their analyses for the most commonly used enzymes (biological "scissors") which, according to a series of pre-pandemic publications from the Wuhan Institute of Virology, were also used for experiments in the Wuhan lab.

The results of the new study are stark. While cutting sites on wild-type SARS viruses are randomly distributed, they tend to be regularly spaced on pre-pandemic lab-made viruses, as well as on SARS-CoV-2. So the authors found that regular spacing suggests that the location of the cutting sites was manipulated in a lab.

The new study also compared the length of the longest segments seen in wild-type viruses and lab-made viruses. The longest segments in wild-type viruses are far longer than any found in lab-made viruses, including in SARS-CoV-2. The findings again pointed to a lab origin for COVID-19.

The longest segments in lab-made viruses were found to be unusually short. As previously noted, the process of genetically engineering viruses requires scientists to use several shorter segments, which are then pieced together. Natural viruses are not pieced together and thus the length of segments is randomly determined and includes very short and very long segments.

Bruttel, Washburne, and VanDongen estimate that the odds that the SARS-CoV-2 virus arose naturally lie between 1 in 100 and 1 in 1,400. However, this estimate only factors in the distribution of cutting sites. The authors also observed a concentration of mutations within the cutting sites that was “extremely unlikely in wild coronaviruses and nearly universal in synthetic viruses.” The estimate drops to a 1 in 100 million chance that SARS-CoV-2 was a naturally-occurring virus if these mutations are factored in. When considering additional criteria, such as the fact that the “sticky ends” where the viruses are “glued” back together all happen to fit perfectly, the authors estimate the odds of a natural origin to be even lower.

The authors conclude that SARS-CoV-2 was assembled in a lab using common methods for assembling viruses. The authors do not speculate on which lab the virus escaped from.

In response to the new study, Kristian Andersen, the leading author of the Proximal Origin paper—the Dr. Anthony Fauci-led effort to dispel the lab leak theory—went on Twitter to slam the new study as “kindergarten molecular biology.” Andersen’s criticism is that cutting sites are common in naturally occurring SARS viruses. However, this criticism does not explain the very unusual placement of cutting sites in SARS-CoV-2.

The response was not a huge surprise as more and more scientists are coming forth and no longer living in fear of repercussions for speaking out. The evidence that I have gathered in this series is clear cut evidence of criminal crimes against humanity and these folks are running scared as this all blows up. Recall the Dr. Delgado report in the segment just prior to this.

Researchers observe hybrid virus for first time

Influenza and RSV fuse together to form a new pathogen, a new Scottish study reveals.

A new study conducted by the MRC-University of Glasgow Center for Virus Research has for the first time discovered that viruses can fuse together inside human cells to create a new type of pathogen which can evade the human immune system.

The researchers, who published the paper on Monday, co-infected human lung cells with influenza A virus (IAV) and respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) and found that instead of competing, they fused into a new palm-tree-shaped hybrid virus.

This new hybrid was then able to infect neighboring cells, despite the presence of antibodies against influenza that are meant to block infection. Researchers say that the antibodies still stuck to the influenza proteins on the hybrid virus' surface, but the virus simply used RSV proteins to infect lung cells instead, akin to a 'Trojan horse'.

Researchers are now trying to find out if this newly discovered hybrid virus plays a role in triggering a hard-to-treat and potentially fatal lung disease known as viral pneumonia, which is usually believed to be caused by influenza, RSV, and coronaviruses.

Professor Pablo Murcia, who supervised the research, says that what the team observed has never been described before. "We are talking about viruses from two completely different families combining together with the genomes of the external proteins of both viruses. It is a new type of virus pathogen," he was quoted as saying by 'The Guardian'.

Although co-infections in humans are believed to be quite common, the researchers say that before now, there has been little to no data on how viruses react when they find themselves inside the same cell.

Since the study was conducted using cultured layers of cells, scientists now look to study if hybrid viruses can form in actual patients with co-infections.

"We need to know if this happens only with influenza and RSV, or does it extend to other virus combinations as well?" Murcia said, adding that he believes it does and can even extend to animal viruses as well. "This is just the start of what I think will be a long journey, of hopefully very interesting discoveries."

In the report that follows which was just posted on 10/28/2022, details describe another aspect where 5G is directly involved in the activation of a biological/technological weapon. We are seeing the highly-sophisticated this weapons system has been in the works for several years. Her technological analysis provides the substance of what attorney Todd Callendar referred to as "little bombers" inside nano-particles that would be activated by 5G energy at the 18-GHz signal. The 5G wireless energy acts much like a kitchen microwave oven heating a cup of hot chocolate causing the nano-particles to then burst and release the bioweapon contents. The signal would be beamed for three one-minute intervals.

Covid "Tests" and "Vaccines" Are Delivering a Hybrid Biological/Technological Weapon Which is Activated By 5G, Fibre Optics and Light

Karen Kingston spoke with Mike Adams about patents that demonstrate that Covid-19 was always about the merging of biology – including the human body – with technology – artificial intelligence.

Kingston is a biotech analyst with more than 20 years of experience. She has been reviewing research that has been conducted on Covid “vaccines” over more than a decade. “I really want the truth to be understood and the evidence to be seen and evaluated,” she told Adams. So, during the interview, she discussed some of the patents she has found: in particular, quantum dots “because that’s the backbone technology and energy of this AI [artificial intelligence] bioweapon,” she said. “It’s part biology and part technology ... that’s always been the intention of Covid-19.”

She began by discussing a patent owned by Moderna which clearly shows that lipid nanoparticles (“LNPs”) are fully programmable self-assembling technologies that can contain gels and hydrogels.

See Modified Polynucleotides for the Production of Secreted Proteins, Moderna patent US 10703789 B2, 7 July 2020.

Patent US 10703789 B2, the “master patent,” refers to around another 90 patents. In other words, the master patent is built on 90 other patents. While reviewing the patents relating to Covid “vaccines” Kingston noted that patent numbers relating to biology have the suffix “B2” while those relating to technology have the suffix “A1”.

One of the patents US 10703789 B2 referenced, which is now removed from the U.S. Patent Office website, relates the functionality of the nanotechnology in the Covid-19 bioweapon injections to ensure rapid, easy, and targeted bio-distribution of the nanoparticles, which are quantum dot particles, throughout the body.

See Method for Preparing Surface-Modified Semiconductive and Metallic Nanoparticles Having Enhanced Dispersibility in Aqueous Media, Life Technologies Corp patent US 0028565 A1, 8 April 2014.

As Kingston noted, the patent was filed to Life Technologies Corporation in 2012 and Life Technologies was acquired by ThermoFisher in 2015. In February 2022, according to a report by Reuters, Moderna entered into a 15-year agreement with ThermoFisher Scientific for the manufacturing of its Covid “vaccine” and other experimental medicines based on mRNA technology.

This second patent “rolls up into the patent [US 10703789 B2] on the Moderna website,” Kingston said. In section 0003 of US 0028565 A1, the patent described “semiconductor nanocrystals (also known as quantum dot particles)” and how the size of the quantum dot responds to different energies or frequencies.

A 2011 book titled ‘Quantum Confinement Effect’ describes how quantum dots can be used to create tags, “so to mark people or animals,” Kingston said. “There are decades of successful research where they use quantum dots, not just to label an animal or human, but then to tag, mark and trace and communicate with, if you will, the heart, liver, spleen, lung, kidney and brain.”

Another patent that falls under the master Moderna patent US 10703789 B2 is one for opal hydrogels.

See Cell-Friendly Inverse Opal Hydrogels for Cell Encapsulation, Drug and Protein Delivery, and Functional Nanoparticle Encapsulation, Harvard College WO/2012/148684, 12 April 2012.

Opal hydrogels are part organic and inorganic. This means that they are part biology and part technology. Part technology – AI, metallic structures. Part biology – genetic sequences from other life forms e.g., insects, reptiles, rodents. Opal hydrogels look like quantum dots. “They have this bright blue and rainbow colors they give off,” Kingston explained.

A peer-reviewed article published by Wiley Online Library clearly states that the “backbone, the energy source, the technology between inorganic and organic – the inorganic-organic hybrids – is Qdots, it’s quan[tum] dots,” Kingston said.

Another patent on which the master Moderna US 10703789 B2 patent relies is one relating to carbon nanotubes which is owned by the Chinese Military.

See Method for Making Semiconducting Single Wall Carbon Nanotubes, Hon Hai Precision Industry and Tsinghua University patent US 02510618 A1, 26 September 2013.

Moving onto the purpose of Covid tests, Kingston explained the test swabs are to collect people’s genetic material and inoculate people with the nano weapon – the spike protein AI bioweapon which is part biology and part technology. It’s not only technology but it also has gene sequences, she said. “This technology is meant to spawn inside the body, it’s a parasite ... It has not [been fully activated in a lot of people.] The activation is very much contingent on the 5G [and] fibre optics networks ... also the quantum dots are activated using LED [light-emitting diode] so there’s light activation involved as well.”

She then discussed patents that reveal the shocking nature of the “spike protein” structures in “vaccines.” The hybrid inorganic-organic structures demonstrate “cognitive action” capabilities. They are described in patents as “intelligent sensor platforms” that carry out instructions. So-called “spike proteins” seen in electronic microscopy are actually these nanotech platform structures that are small enough to enter nervous system cells and alter their behavior.

THE HIDDEN DANGERS OF ELECTRICITY ARE A MORTAL THREAT TO HUMANITY

Listen to 'Betsy and Thomas' describe what they found in the research on electricity; then drop below and learn more. Hang on, patriots. This report is filled with red pills.

Raw audio file: <https://aim4truth.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/09/End-of-Life-on-Planet-Earth.mp3>

Electricity was seen as the source of “life” when it was first discovered. Scientists rushed to share this energy with the public through parlor tricks that electrocuted the unwitting, wide-eyed participant who felt their first “shock” of the new force. It was postulated that all life came from electricity, both in the human body and all living things on the earth. They imagined this force as raying in from the far expanses of space into the electric devise.

Ben Franklin was seen as the “man who tamed lightning” and captured it in a Leyden jar for later use.

Feeling the shock of the invisible force of nature pass through your body was a new revelation that assured the naïve participant that scientists had discovered the force of nature that birthed creation and maintained the human body with life through its mysterious energy. At low voltage, electricity became the social affair of the late 1700's and early 1800's and found a place in most doctor's offices as a healing therapy. At first, it was never imagined that low voltage electromagnetism can also kill.

I have so adapted my application of medical electricity that I positively cure Rheumatism, Kidney and Stomach Troubles and all affections of the vital organs. To illustrate the remedial power of my

I will give you a free treatment in my office by the galvanic current from my grand stationary battery. This is a breezy and exhilarating test of that curative power now used the world over.

To cure your ailment I will fit you with one of my famous Belts, which you wear at night until your system becomes charged with the reviving voltage. This keeps up the action of the blood vessels, contracts and strengthens relaxed muscles and glands. It casts out impurities, which are the cause of pain, and restores to the body its wonted energy. You feel the glow, the enlivening sensation of this power from the start. The improvements my Belt possesses above all others are recognized and appreciated by the thousands who are using my appliances. The cures I have made, the testimony from all quarters, the comfort of wearing my Belt, the method of adjusting the power, its thoroughly curative work, constitute it the pre-eminent remedy for the severest pain or the most trying weakness.

 Yours respectfully,
 DANIEL MULLER (Cooper).

Originally, electricity was touted as a “cure all” and the methods for its delivery directly into the human body grew by the day. Soon, every doctor claimed to know about electricity's properties and devised a new method of delivery that they believed was a new science derived from the thunderbolt. The low level voltage of the “electrocution therapy” packed a powerful punch but did not kill people by “frying them alive.” Therefore, it was seen as beneficial. It was claimed that every known disease could be treated, if not healed, by the “medical” use of direct electric current. Doctors, and electrical therapists, imagined they were calling down from heaven the lightning bolts of Zeus to effect miraculous healings. What could go wrong?

Scientists also thought that “electrical theory” was the answer to all unsolved problems from the nature of atoms to the mechanics of the sun. It was seen that not only humans, but animals, plants and all living things instantaneously responded to electrical experimentation. Once batteries were developed, there was no end to the uses of electrical phenomena and all aspects of human life changed as more applications for this magical force were developed. Science left the dark ages and entered into the age of light – provided by electricity.

Unfortunately, as direct current and alternating current took over the world, the search for the true nature and source of electricity was left behind as scientists were able to more and more control the effects and usefulness of this power. Electricity became the slave of modern life, and those using it blindly forgot that electricity, as a powerful force, had yet to be reckoned with. This new motive force of nature brought life, but it also brought death. These basic facts were forgotten or obscured to devalue the forces of death and the illnesses that the proliferation of electricity brought so that science could continue forging ahead without considering the long-term effects of this barely-understood force of Mother Nature.

Science seemed hell-bent on manipulating this universal force of nature even if the deadly electronic devices harmed humans and the environment. No moral reflection on the devastating effects of electrifying the world have entered into the hearts and minds of immoral inventors who seek personal gain through further electrical machinations that are not tested on humans before they are installed and become the new upgraded electrical environment. Scientists don't question building the next electrical death machine as long as it keeps the masses happy with another new electronic slave device (toy) that has zero moral considerations mixed into the formula. Scientific advances seem to be more important than human and environmental health. All is sacrificed for the "advancement of science" in contradistinction to the quality of life.

The Anonymous Patriots have written numerous articles on the evils of modern electrical devices from cell phones, computers, cell towers, 5G, and microwave poisoning that create the many illnesses being generated by electricity and our digital environment. You cannot overemphasize the magnitude of the health crisis created by unfettered, immoral scientific inventions.

LOCK DOWN ON PRISON PLANET ALMOST COMPLETE

Recently ,we were recommended to Arthur Firstenberg's 2017 book, The Invisible Rainbow A History of Electricity and Life, by Chelsea Green Publishing. This book had made a "stir" in the community that is questioning the unbridled use of 1G, 2G, 3G, 4G, and the deadly 5G. We have been quite active in this discussion and have brought a great deal of evidence to expose this active "extermination" of humanity and the earth.

WE HAVE ALSO DISCOVERED THAT 5G TRIGGERS THE ALREADY OVERWHELMING EFFECTS OF UNIVERSAL ELECTRIFICATION THAT CAUSE MANY ILLNESSES LIKE HEART DISEASE, DIABETES, AND CANCER.

But Arthur Firstenberg has compiled a very useful and comprehensive history of electricity and its negative effects on those who are sensitive to this bombardment of the human body. Electrification of the environment is found to be directly connected to the roll-out of new inventions that propagate electromagnetic frequencies (EMFs), according to Firstenberg. He walks through the history of electricity demonstrating, with research and anecdotal cases, that illness and death accompany the seemingly unstoppable advancement of life-threatening EMF propagation.

Arthur Firstenberg – "The Invisible Rainbow" – The Hidden Dangers of Wireless & Cell Phone Radiation

You can order his book at: <https://www.cellphonetaskforce.org/>.

The Invisible Rainbow is a long book with more evidence than anyone needs to conclude that our modern electric world is unhealthy and is the cause of many illnesses that are growing exponentially. The exact mechanism of destruction that accompany EMFs is spelled out in detailed medical terminology. The state of the art understanding of cellular respiration and oxygen deprivation, which is at the heart of influenza epidemics, is laid out so that anyone can understand it. Coupling this research with the historical “advances” in radio wave radiation show that they are one and the same – cause and effect.

Electricity is driving the biggest illnesses of our time and 5G is triggering even more negative responses. Essentially, everyone is affected by this onslaught but some people are hypersensitive to EMFs developing illnesses that have been given many names but never find the source of the illness or the factors that exacerbate those illnesses – ultimately causing death in many.

THE QUESTION BECOMES: WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO ABOUT THIS POISONOUS KILLER IN OUR ENVIRONMENT – THIS ENEMY OF HUMANITY IN THE GUISE OF A HELPFUL, INVISIBLE SLAVE WHICH DOES OUR WORK FOR US? Can we stop the unfolding human rights emergency already affecting one hundred million people worldwide, and the environmental emergency threatening so many plants and animal species with extinction?

Obviously, we must face this dilemma with open eyes. Firstenberg’s book helps open the eyes of the naïve reader who has been brain-washed all their lives with the myth that anything electric is good and helpful. This myth needs to be busted and The Invisible Rainbow helps burst this bubble of dangerous propaganda.

Arthur Firstenberg is himself a person who suffers from “electrical sensitivity”, also called “electromagnetic hypersensitivity” (EHS). Through his suffering and his attempts to help out others like himself who suffer horribly from this unrelenting attack on the human electric body, he outlines the genesis of the electrical overthrow of the world and its medical and psychological effects on sensitive people. Basically, he tells us that we have all been electrocuted to a greater or lesser extent for the last 200 years and are in denial. No one is even allowed to question the new 5G “advancements”, let alone consider stopping the attack. Humans are electric beings and there is no mechanism in the human body that protects it from man-made radiation. Every historical source shows that cancer always accompanied electricity.

Firstenberg points out that living near an EMF transmission tower is carcinogenic. The closer a child (or any human) lives to a tower, the more likely they are to have leukemia, cancer and other diseases. Industrial electricity, in any of its forms, always injures. If the injury is not too severe, it also prolongs life. Ionizing radiation – X-rays and gamma rays – will prolong life if not too intense. Maximal life spans increased by exposure to ionizing radiation.

Radiation produces two opposite kinds of effects: injurious effects that shorten the lifespan and effects that extend life. If the dose of radiation is low enough, the net effect is a lengthening of life despite obvious injuries. Rats exposed daily to moderate doses of gamma rays for a year had their lives extended, on average, by 50 percent, but suffered a significant increase in tumors. The oxygen consumption was also reduced by one-third.

The basic problem is — we acknowledge the existence of electricity only to extent that it does work for us; otherwise we pretend it is not there.

The bottom line is — cell towers, satellite wireless, and ubiquitous digital devices rule the earth. By some estimates, as many as one trillion antennas will soon be talking to one another through the Internet of Things, outnumbering people on the earth by a hundred to one.

Internet of Things: Fascism by Another Name. Powered by 5G

Firstenberg points out the excellent research of Dr. George Beard, who first described a disease called neurasthenia, or acute electrical illness. Previously, this illness was generally produced only by accidental injury from lightning strikes. Early studies on electricity's effects on life also focused on the sun's electrical activities and its effects on human illnesses, particularly influenza.

In 2001, astronomers and physician confirmed that for at least the last three centuries, influenza pandemics have been most likely to occur during peaks of solar magnetic activity – that is, at the height of each eleven-year cycle. Solar radiations, electromagnetic in nature, triggered latent viruses already in the host and reactivated viruses in humans and animals. Influenza rose and fell with the number of sunspots, solar flares, and coronal mass ejections, as the solar maximum coincided with epidemic level influenza outbreaks. It is the atmospheric electrical voltage that is the trigger that releases viral infections in the host, which has not ever been proven to be contagious or able to spread from human to human, or animal to human.

During the solar minimum cycle (Maunder Minimum) from 1645 to 1715, when there were no sunspots or solar flares, there were no epidemics of flu. It wasn't until 1727 that the sunspot number surpassed 100 for the first time in over a century. And in 1728 influenza arrived in waves in pandemics for the first time in 150 years. The pandemic became worse in 1732 and continued until 1738, the peak of the next solar cycle. Two millions people died in that pandemic.

ELECTRICAL ILLNESSES

Firstenberg does a wonderful job of tracking the pathology of electrical illnesses and found that impaired metabolism of sugars is connected to diabetes, and impaired metabolism of fats to heart disease. He conclusively proves through citing endless research, conducted over many years, that radio waves cause health impairments.

The key to these illnesses is found in the chemical called heme, which is a porphyrin bonded to iron (and the enzyme cytochrome oxidase that is contained within it) which exists in every living cell making respiration possible. EMF's destroy porphyrin and disrupt cellular respiration in every cell as well as normal lung-based breathing, which is the main symptom of the current influenza "pandemic."

ELECTRICITY, LIKE RAIN ON A CAMPFIRE, DAMPENS THE FLAMES OF COMBUSTION IN LIVING CELLS. A CHRONIC LACK OF OXYGEN CAUSES CANCER. ONE NEED NOT LOOK ANY FURTHER THAN ELECTRIFICATION FOR THE ORIGIN OF MODERN INFLUENZA PANDEMICS.

Electrically induced illnesses follow a similar pathology of fermentation. The extraction of energy from glucose without using oxygen, a type of metabolism called anaerobic glycolysis – also called fermentation – is highly inefficient process that takes place to a small extent in most living cells but only becomes important when not enough oxygen is available. Although capable of supplying energy rapidly in an emergency, anaerobic glycolysis produces much less energy for the same amount of glucose, and deposits lactic acid in the tissues that has to be disposed of.

Cancer cells differ from normal cells in all higher organisms in this fundamental respect: they maintain high rates of anaerobic glycolysis and produce large amounts of lactic acid even in the presence of oxygen. Anaerobic glycolysis is inefficient and consumes glucose at a tremendous rate. In cancer, the respiratory mechanism has been damaged and has lost control over the metabolism of the cell. Unrestrained glycolysis – and unstrained growth – are the result. In the absence of a normal metabolic control, the cell reverts to a more primitive state like cancerous growth.

The causative factor in the origin of tumors is oxygen deficiency. When cells are repeatedly or chronically deprived of oxygen, respiratory control is eventually damaged and glycolysis becomes independent. If respiration of a growing cell is disturbed, the cell dies. If it does not die, a tumor cell results. Tumors grow without oxygen. The more malignant a tumor is, the higher its rate of glycolysis, the more glucose it consumes, and the more lactic acid it produces.

There is a widespread belief that cancer is caused by genetic mutations and not by altered metabolism. This is disinformation that hides the electrical sources of cellular oxygen deprivation. The protein hypoxia-inducible factor, that exists in all cells, is activated under conditions of low oxygen, and that in turn activates many of the genes necessary for cancer growth.

Cellular changes that indicate damaged respiration – including reductions in the number of and size of mitochondria, abnormal structure of mitochondria, lessened activity of Krebs cycle enzymes, lessened activity of the electron transport chain, and mutations of mitochondrial genes – are being routinely found in most types of cancer. Even in tumors caused by viruses, one of the first signs of malignancy is an increase in the rate of anaerobic metabolism. Experimentally inhibiting the respiration of cancer cells, or simply depriving them of oxygen, has been shown to alter the expression of hundreds of genes that are involved in malignant transformation and cancer growth. Damaging respiration makes cancer cells more invasive; restoring normal respirations makes them less invasive. Hypoxia is a cause of cancer.

ELECTRIFICATION AND ILLNESS

In 1889, the modern electric age began at the same time as the influenza pandemic that lasted for four years and killed over one million people. This indicated that influenza is an electrical disease and started Firstenberg's search for other similar evidence. These huge changes in atmospheric electricity qualitatively changed the earth's magnetic environment and immediately caused widespread illness.

1889 – The Power Line Era and its electrical radiations brought on the 1889 influenza pandemic.

1918 – The Radio Wave Era began with radio stations broadcasting VLF, UHF, and LF frequencies created the Spanish influenza pandemic of 1918.

1957 – The Radar Era began with hundreds of radar stations broadcasting millions of watts of microwave energy into the already overloaded electrical atmosphere surrounding and penetrating humans, animals, plants and all life. Radar gave birth to the Asian influenza pandemic of 1957.

1968 – The Satellite Era began with dozens of satellites beaming down microwave and EMF to the earth which ushered in the Hong Kong influenza pandemic of 1968.

1997 – The Wireless Era with digital cell phones and cell towers saturating the USA creating a 31% increase in diabetes cases in a single year. Cell phones interfere with glucose metabolism. Glucose uptake is considerably reduced in the region of the brain next to a cell phone. Thus, brain cancers increased exponentially.

1998 – The Hyper-Satellite Era – by (2000) Iridium, Globalstar had dozens of satellites, by (2017) Google, Facebook, etc. had 1,100 satellites, by (2019) Google plans 2,200 satellites, Space X 42,000 satellites, One Web 5,260 satellites, Telesat 512 satellites, Amazon 3,236. Diabetes, and subsequently heart disease, diabetes, and cancer go off the charts with new illnesses.

2006 – High Frequency Active Auroral Research Program (HAARP) Era exacerbated all electrical illnesses.

2020 – The 5G Era places endless antennas around and above us creating a soup of EMFs, microwaves, and milli-wave bombardment (along with beam-forming technology) causing millions of EMFs to exacerbate all electrical illnesses, including the current influenza “pandemic.”

DEATH FROM ELECTRICITY

Electromagnetic fields douse the flames of human metabolism through a slow asphyxiation causing cancer, diabetes, and heart disease. Oxygen starvation sources are well known systems of porphyria. Neurasthenia is often accompanied by lower porphyrin enzyme levels.

After WW II, a barrage of toxic chemicals and electromagnetic fields (EMFs) began to significantly interfere with the breathing of our cells. The chronic lack of oxygen defect was found to not be in the lungs but in cellular respiration. Cells could not fully utilize the oxygen uptake system and the person slowly becomes asphyxiated. Iron atoms in the porphyrin-containing enzymes were set into motion by the oscillating electric fields, interfering with the ability to transport electrons.

Electromagnetic radiation causes extreme fluctuations in blood pressure, heart rhythm disorders, heart attacks, and strokes in increasingly younger populations. EMF radiation can cause a significant drop in red blood cell count over time, and a significant increase in white cell count. Blood tests also reveal disturbed carbohydrate metabolism and elevated triglycerides and cholesterol. Humans and animals exposed to radio waves and magnetic fields from ordinary electric power lines diminish the mitochondrial enzymes that extract energy from food.

Heart disease rose steadily with electrification. Hospitalizations for heart failure tripled between 1979 and 2004 with congestive heart failure quadrupling from 1989 to 1999. Close to one-quarter of Americans aged forty to forty-four today have some form of cardiovascular disease. Heart disease is the number one killer of human beings around the world.

Research has shown that you can modify the rhythm of the heart at will with microwave radiation. The heart is an electrical organ and microwave pulses interfere with the heart's natural pacemaker. Microwave starves the heart of oxygen and causes conduction blocks. After ten minutes of exposure to a cell phone, bees could not metabolize sugars, proteins, or fats and had oxygen deprivation.

ELECTRICAL SOURCES OF DIABETES

As with heart disease, rural mortality from diabetes in the 1930s corresponded closely with rates of rural electrification. Diabetes soared ten-fold from 1922 to 1984. Mortality from diabetes increased steadily from 1870 until 1940 – this, with exposure to electromagnetic fields, basic metabolism is disrupted. Mitochondria become less active which slows the rate of which our cells can burn glucose, fats, and protein. Excess fats accumulate in our blood and are deposited on the walls of our arteries along with the cholesterol that transports them, forming plaques and causing coronary heart disease.

People become overweight before they become diabetic because their cells' reduced ability to metabolize fats. The Krebs cycle breaks down fatty acids, glucose, and amino acids to combine with oxygen to produce carbon dioxide, water, and energy. The electron transport chain delivers electrons from the Krebs cycle. If the speed of those electrons is modified by external electromagnetic fields, the final combustion of our food is impaired. Proteins, fats, and carbohydrates begin to compete with each other and back up into the bloodstream. Fats are deposited in arteries. Glucose is excreted in urine. The brain, heart, muscles, and organs become oxygen-deprived. Life slows down and breaks down. The more severe the insulin resistance, the greater the reductions in all these measures of cellular respiratory capacity.

Diabetes epidemic is an epidemic of diabetic complications

2025 = 380 million

270 million develop complications

Currently there are NO EFFECTIVE THERAPIES for prevention

The CDC estimates that in addition to the 21 million American adults over the age of twenty who have diagnosed diabetes, 8 million have undiagnosed diabetes, and 86 million have prediabetes. Adding these numbers together gives the shocking statistic that 115 million Americans, or more than half of all adults, have elevated levels of sugar in their blood. Worldwide estimates are 180 million in 2000. In 2014, the estimate was 387 million.

In no country on earth is the rate of diabetes, or of obesity, decreasing. Like diabetes, obesity has been tracked to exposure to electromagnetic fields. Two-thirds of all Americans today – 150 million – are overweight. Eighty million are obese, as are twelve and a half million children, including one and a half million children aged two to five. Electromagnetic fields cause obesity.

THE MANY NAMES OF ELECTRICAL ILLNESS

Over time, the names for electrical illness have changed and the origins of these illnesses forgotten or swept under the rug so that innovation can continue at a maddening pace. Some of the names of this illness are: neurasthenia, multiple chemical sensitivity, anxiety neurosis, radio wave sickness, microwave sickness, neurocirculatory asthenia, irritable heart, effort syndrome, anxiety neurosis, aerobic metabolism, oxygen deprivation, Da Costa's syndrome, flying sickness, valvular disorders of the heart, chronic fatigue syndrome, myalgic encephalomyelitis, post-exertional exhaustion, soldier's heart, chronic lack of oxygen, acoustic nerve hyperaesthesia, and microwave hearing, among others.

Some of the symptoms of acute electro-sensitivity that accompany these variously named electro-illnesses are: headaches, fatigue, weakness, dizziness, nausea, sleep disturbances, irritability, memory loss, emotional instability, depression, anxiety, sexual disfunction, impaired appetite, abdominal pain, digestive disturbances, tremors, cold hands, flushed face, hyperactive reflexes, abundant perspiration, brittle fingernails, heart palpitations, stabbing chest pain, shortness of breath after exertion, unstable blood pressure, rapid heartbeat, oxygen deprivation, congestive heart failure, exhaustion, and muscle pains, among others.

EFFECTS OF ELECTROCUTION

- Even mild exposure to atmospheric electricity damages the blood-brain barrier allowing more toxic chemicals, bacteria, and viruses to enter.
- Neither sugars nor fats are efficiently utilized by the cells, causing unutilized sugar to build up in the blood – leading to diabetes – as well as unutilized fats to be deposited in the arteries.
- Reduced activity of a porphyrin-containing enzymes called cytochrome oxidase and cytochrome c, the heme-containing enzymes of respiration.
- Exposure to EMFs create impaired glucose metabolism.

Porphyrins

Porphyrins are the very special molecules that interface between oxygen and life. They are responsible for the creation, maintenance, and recycling of all of the oxygen in our atmosphere: they make possible the release of oxygen by both plants and animals, and the use of the oxygen by living things to burn carbohydrates, fats, and proteins for energy. Porphyrins in plants absorb the energy of sunlight and transport electrons that change carbon dioxide and water into carbohydrates and oxygen. The high reactivity of porphyrins, which makes them transformers of energy, and their affinity for heavy metals, also makes them toxic when they accumulate in excess in the body, as happens in the disease called porphyria – a disease that is not really a disease at all, but a genetic trait, an inborn sensitivity to environmental pollution. The presence of greater or lesser amounts of metal atoms (copper, zinc, iron, etc.) regulates the electrical conductivity of the circuitry in bones and nerve which aid the process of respiration.

Dried proteins, amino acids, and porphyrins are semiconductors. Water is an electron donor that “dopes” proteins, porphyrins, and amino acids and turns them into good semiconductors. A nerve axon in an electrical transmission line and its membrane is an ionic transistor. Myelin sheaths are a liquid crystal that are essentially electrical transmission lines “doped” with heavy metal atoms, often zinc. Interference with this human electrical system causes illness.

CONCLUSION

“We are electrically tuned to the world around us and the only safe level of exposure to radio waves is Zero.” Neil Cherry

According to Firstenberg, there is no way out. Electricity is a killer and it must be stopped altogether. There is no other way. The extinction of humans, animals, plants and all living things exposed to the new “lethal” levels of EMFs must be stopped and re-evaluated as to its detrimental effects. The evidence is clear, the more electrified our environment becomes, the sicker we get and the more people die from illnesses caused by the lack of oxygen uptake. We are being strangled to death by our electric devices that have come to rule our lives wholesale. No scientist, working in the field of innovation, stops to think about the deadly effects of the new invention. The advancement of 5G, in contradistinction to the research evidence showing its harmful effects, is a perfect example of utilizing electrical inventions without ever considering the consequences.

Essentially, Firstenberg is a Luddite who wants to go back and do it all over again, this time with human health as the first consideration in technological “advancement.” We must stop satellite 5G in space and 5G on the ground, in all of its forms. We need to undo what has blindly been done for the sake of machine-thinking dominating human-thinking. We are at the crossroads and obfuscating the evils of EMF propagation will not serve the future of humanity.

Electricity is a force of death, not a force of life. The human bio-electric body does not match the man-made electricity “pulled from the atmosphere” to do humanity’s slave work. We believe electricity is our unseen helper making life easier, when in fact, electricity is an evil “death” of humanity that must be unplugged and rethought with human health and well-being as the driving force.

Now, let’s look at the spiritual side of electricity:

State of the Nation a few days ago posted a report that everyone concerned about the Covid-19 scamdemic ought to read and note. The folks at the State of the Nation are not afraid to state the truth and facts even at the risk of being attacked as Anti-anything or anyone.

THE VERY TOP OF THE GLOBAL COVID CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

CDC: A Khazarian Crime Syndicate That Trades in Disease and Death

State of the Nation

There should be no doubt about it: the CDC (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention) is now at the hub of an all-powerful international crime syndicate that profits immensely from the proliferation of infectious diseases and their poisonous vaccine treatments.

Why else would the 15 members of the CDC's ACIP (Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices) just unanimously vote to approve the inclusion of an annual COVID-19 vaccine in the already highly injurious and mandatory "Child and Adolescent Immunization Schedule"?! And, especially the exceedingly risky mRNA vaccines that have not been officially approved by the FDA and are currently designated as "Emergency Use Authorization"?!

As for hard proof of such a multi-decade institutional criminal conspiracy to commit genocide against America's youth, just look at who was really behind the unconstitutional passing of the illicit Federal Reserve Act of 1913. See: THE DARK TRIAD OF THE KHAZARIAN CABAL

Less than 5 years later, the Khazarian Cabal pulled off the Spanish Flu Pandemic of 1918—the most deadly global pandemic in modern history killing upwards of 100,000,000 people worldwide. In that highly coordinated mass murder, the Spanish Flu genocide perpetrators used an extremely hazardous and “massive military vaccination experiment” in Fort Riley, Kansas to start and spread that pandemic around the world.

Similarly, the very same Khazarian-controlled institutions used the Covid Plandemic to mandate extremely dangerous and deadly COVID-19 vaccines, all of which have been specifically formulated to perpetuate this transparently manmade plague for the rest of this decade. To be clear, both the COVID-19 bioweapon and various versions of the weaponized Covid ‘vaccines’ were both bioengineered and manufactured at the direction of the Khazarian Cabal.

The only murderous clan capable of carrying out such a depopulation scheme is the all-powerful Khazarian Cabal. Particularly where it concerns the ZOG-infested U.S. Federal Government, Khazarians without conscience have been stealthily positioned and strategically planted in every single medical- and health-related organ of the US government including the CDC, FDA, NIH, HHS, OSHA and CMS.

Among these various federal agencies and departments, the CDC stands out as having been transformed into a full-blown profit center for the Pharmaceutical Industry. In point of fact, Khazarian-controlled Big Pharma uses the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention as its primary marketing arm for all new pharmaceutical drugs and risky vaccines being introduced into the American Healthcare System.

BOTTOM LINE: Wherever there are HUGE profits being made off of disease and death in America, the Khazarian Cabal is both the prime mover and primary beneficiary.

KEY POINT: It ought to be intuitively obvious to every Covid conspiracy realist that there’s only one well-concealed global power structure capable of carrying out both the OPERATION COVID-19 biowar launched against humanity in 2019, as well as the genocidal Covid Super Vaccination Agenda first implemented in 2020. In point of fact, there is only one criminal clan that possesses such malevolent power, pervasive influence and overwhelming force that every country on Earth could be easily and quickly compelled/coerced to mass murder its own citizens. For only the Khazarian Cabal could so seamlessly and efficiently perpetrate such a worldwide holocaust, successfully cover it up, and seemingly get away with it. And it is these three primary pillars of their well-established global crime syndicate which have, thus far, ensured the ruthless killing efficiency of this long-planned Covid conspiratorial plot: (i) Khazarian Mafia, (ii) Ashkenazi Banksters and (iii) Zionist Warmongers.

NO SURPRISE HERE: See where each of the 15 CDC members who voted to add lethal COVID-19 injections to the already barbaric “Childhood Vaccination Schedule” are from.

What follows here is a recommended protocol by Dr. Ralph LaGuardia refers to in his book 'Infection' that will help one keep their immune system at an optimum level. Dr. LaGuardia calls it "The Gang of Seven". It is a "must" if you have a viral infection of any kind of type:

- Iodine (250 mcg capsules/daily)
- Vitamin A (1,000 IU/Day)
- Vitamin C (1,000 mg/day)
- Vitamin D3 (5,000 IU/day)

This is similar but stronger version of the Z-60 protocol prescribed by the late Dr. Zev Zelinsky who passed away from lung cancer earlier in February, 2022. The RDA on Z-60 is shown below:

S U P P L E M E N T F A C T S
Serving Size 2 Capsules		Serving Per Container 30
Amount Per Serving %Daily Value
Vitamin C (as Ascorbic Acid)	800 mg	889%
Vitamin D3 (as Cholecalciferol)(5,000IU)	125 mcg	625%
Zinc (from 130mg Zinc Sulfate)	30 mg	273%
Quercetin 95%	500 mg	†
† Daily Value not established.

Other Ingredients: Hypromellose Capsule (Vegetable Capsule).

Because I am in my upper 80s I added to Dr. Ralph LaGuardia's "Gang of Seven", the latter two additional supplements, which are reduced in those over 50:

- Elderberry (225 mg/daily)
- Glutathione (500 mcg/day)

I was well aware of the early mortality data from Covid-19. As the CDC's own data shows, the highest risk group is those over 70 years of age.

The mortality data has not changed since the first CDC reports were issued in 2020. The public and private health agencies have to continue and cover their lies by calling Covid by other terms such as “variants”, “long covid”, “rebounding”, “bivalent” booster and to keep the public in a state of fear hoping to explain away the re-infections from the vaxxes that continue to lower people’s immunity as the result of each additional booster shot.

So as to make myself clear on this regimen - The regimen protocol of vitamins and supplements that I take are oriented to strengthening my immune system protection wall against the effects of 5G wireless energy and its impact on the major organs of the body. I have been exposed to extended family members who had been diagnosed with Covid-19 and I have never worn a face mask. True the virus is a “bioweapon” but it attacks the body organs from uploading oxygen and performing its intended tasks. Wireless energy as noted in the article from American Intelligent Media above by Betsy and Thomas acts as an oxygen suppressant.

This distraction is needed to keep the eyes of people away from the real issue, which is 5G wireless EMF/EMR energy. A vaccine either works or does not work, and all this bovine excrement about boosters is a stinking pile of garbage. Unfortunately, most people are lacking in critical thinking skills from being dumbed down in the government schools. When public debate is suppressed on any issue it is a clear case of normalcy bias. Normalcy bias, or normality bias, is a cognitive bias which leads people to disbelieve or minimize threat warnings. Consequently, individuals underestimate the likelihood of a disaster, when it might affect them, and its potential adverse effects. The normalcy bias causes many people to not adequately prepare for natural disasters, market crashes, and calamities caused by human error. About 70% of people reportedly display normalcy bias during a disaster.

The normalcy bias can manifest in response to warnings about disasters and actual catastrophes. Such disasters include market crashes, motor vehicle accidents, natural disasters like a tsunami, and war.

Normalcy bias has also been called analysis paralysis, the ostrich effect, and by first responders, the negative panic. The opposite of normalcy bias is overreaction, or worst-case scenario bias, in which small deviations from normality are dealt with as signals of an impending catastrophe.

Another issue is that of cognitive dissonance is the perception of contradictory information, and the mental toll of it. Relevant items of information include a person's actions, feelings, ideas, beliefs, values, and things in the environment. Cognitive dissonance is typically experienced as psychological stress when persons participate in an action that goes against one or more of those things. According to this theory, when two actions or ideas are not psychologically consistent with each other, people do all in their power to change them until they become consistent. The discomfort is triggered by the person's belief clashing with new information perceived, wherein the individual tries to find a way to resolve the contradiction to reduce their discomfort.

If a person gets their news from their Apple's Siri News site on their Apple iPhone, they are brainwashed by what they get in the course of a day. Every single day I find ten to twenty stories about Covid propaganda. The mention of 5G as a serious health issue is not even mentioned. Companies like Apple, Google, and the telecoms do everything to suppress and censor the truth about wireless energy. The "TRUTH" ultimately will rise to the surface and in every war truth is the first thing to be eliminated to hide the dark side's lies. We are in a war for the mind, and have been for the past three years, if not longer.

Whenever the World Health Organization declares a "public health emergency of international concern" or a "pandemic", they effectively become a one world government.

Dr. Silvia Behrendt and Dr. Astrid Stuckelberger held leading positions in the World Health Organization and the United Nations. They reveal how the WHO is controlled by unelected financial entities, who use it to impose tyranny on all of humanity.

Virtually every nation of the world signed the Pandemic Treaty which essentially nullifies the laws and constitutions of the nations, during a pandemic. As a result the World Health Organization becomes an effective one world government.

The WHO banned every treatment for COVID

We witnessed this world dictatorship of the WHO during the 2020 pandemic.

The WHO claimed there is no treatment for COVID, and banned every effective treatment.

Thousands of physicians, who were saving lives with treatment protocols, were fired, censored, threatened, arrested and some murdered.

The nations of the world obeyed the instruction of the WHO to prevent early treatment. Pharmacies were told not to fill doctor's prescriptions. Nobody was even allowed to mention treatments for COVID on social media. As a result millions died needlessly.

The World Health Organization had to ban all treatments, as they would have ended the pandemic, causing the WHO to lose power.

A fraudulent test tricked the world

Dr. Silvia Behrendt, who worked at top level in the World Health Organization, reveals how there was no COVID pandemic until a flawed PCR test was introduced. This PCR test suddenly increased the so-called "cases" 14-fold.

But the PCR test is not able to detect an infection.

The inventor of the PCR test, Kary Mullis, specifically warned against the use of his invention to determine infections, since it is not suited for that purpose. It will produce a large number of false positives. Mullis died right before the pandemic, and his invention was used in the exact way he had warned against. The PCR test indeed produced hundreds of millions of false positives, which created the impression of a pandemic. The vast majority of people who tested positive, were not ill, and had no symptoms. They were simply labeled "cases" because of an unreliable PCR test.

Financial entities own the world's health system

The worldwide health system is controlled by private individuals, who use the excuse of "health emergencies" to impose tyranny on humanity. For example, in 2012, at the World Health Assembly, Bill Gates was declared as the leader of the global vaccine plan 2012-2020. Gates however has no medical qualifications whatsoever, and according to his own words, is into vaccines because of the astronomical monetary gains.

As its main financier Gates owns the World Health Organization. He personally positioned the WHO director Tedros, a former communist terrorist, who also never treated a single sick person.

The WHO is set up as a one world government, and is controlled by Bill Gates, which means the entire world is ruled by one man.

Gates is of course an extension of more powerful entities, who are in turn controlling him. More about who these entities are, will be revealed in the next emails.

All evidence for this information is revealed by the experts from the United Nations, WHO, military, etc. during the Grand Jury sessions.
