You have to believe that President Vladimir Putin and his fellow Kremlin pranskters planned it this way.

April Fools' Day 2022 marks the first day that all nations unfriendly to the Russian Federation will be required to pay for their natural gas and oil in rubles, and only rubles... unless of course they want to pay with gold. See: Russia Just Broke the Back of the West

Not only is this a “first” in international energy transaction history, this Russian demand is totally non-negotiable as in: “No rubles, no gas.”

However, this rather abruptly decreed arrangement is not even the worst of it for those nations that greatly rely on Russian LNG. For it is the world's primary reserve currency — the US petrodollar — that is about to get clobbered.

Why is that?

Because Russia is now pegging gold to the ruble, “Russia has just wiped out the dollar's clout from the world markets“. That's why!

As for the far-reaching ramifications of this brilliant move by Putin & Company, volumes will soon be written about the profound and permanent repercussions impacting every nation, corporation, NGO and person on the planet.

Certainly the WEF-Davos crowd is crapping is their collective pants right now—literally! They cannot even believe that Putin upped the ante in this poker game where EVERYTHING is potentially on the table, particularly where it concerns the future of Europe.

Globalization is dead

As if that's not big enough news affecting the world community of nations, here comes Larry Fink, Chairman and CEO of the $9.5 trillion BlackRock multinational investment management corporation declaring that globalization, as we know it, is over.

With one “special military operation”, Putin puts an end to globalization.

Given this rapidly emerging new paradigm, the planet has already morphed from a unipolar locus of power dominated by Zio-Anglo-American Axis to a multipolar world where the BRICS-aligned countries will exert much more influence worldwide starting tomorrow.

Although not located in the Global South, Russia has led this profound transformation of the global geopolitical chessboard in favor of the voiceless masses of the Third World, and especially for the economic powerhouses of China and India. The WEF-Davos crowd “will come to the realization they can’t win a war against a united Global South” led by Russia, China & India.

It’s entirely true, with one masterstroke Putin kicked over the Checkers board played on by the New York City suits and Washington politicians, folded up the Monopoly board monitored by the London bankers and GCHQ spooks, and burned the Stratego board used by the Tel Aviv puppeteers and Jerusalem powerbrokers. Of course, the papal Ouija board in the Vatican was ripped in half, as was the Scrabble board used by the word merchants in Rome. For example: VATICAN BANK SENDS 10 MILLION EUROS TO RUSSIA – TO BUY RUBLES – TO BUY GAS

Let’s face it: the extremely devastating brand of predatory capitalism sold and carried out across the planet by the US-UK-EU-NATO terrorist group has been in the Kremlin’s crosshairs for quite some time. All it took was the right time to pull the trigger.

Quite impressively, the Russian people have waited since the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution to shitcan those parties responsible for the subsequent 75-year reign of terror unleashed across the Soviet Union. They know that the same nexus of globalists and bankers, neocons and neoliberals, Zionists and Bolsheviks are responsible for provoking the ongoing Ukraine War, as well as every other deprivation and indignity suffered by the Russian people since 1990.

You have to admit, the Russian temperament is exceedingly patient ... and brimming with forbearance. Putin, Lavrov (FM), Shoigu (DM), Mishustin (PM), Medvedev (SCRF), Bortnikov (FSB), etc. have come to represent that steely temperament and unwavering will of the very tough Russian citizenry. Which is exactly why this toughest job in the world fell to Moscow to undertake ... and prevail.

Which also makes this April Fools’ Day a defining moment in human history—a unique point of no return when the yoke of globalism was untethered from humanity, once and for all. That is, of course, if the globalist cabal doesn’t start a nuclear war.

The Powers That Be are desperate to sabotage the liberation of Russia from the NWO plantation—what is to be the first of many national emancipations to take place this year and beyond. Hence, TPTB are well aware their whole game is coming to an end with the final collapse of the Global Gambling Casino also known as the stock market (they’re executing a controlled demolition 2008-style as we write).

In view of Putin's April Fools' Day timing, one thing for sure is that the April/May time frame is going to be very interesting—VERY INTERESTING INDEED!!! In any event, you have to admit that Vlad Putin has a great sense of humor. Who else could have set this sketch up where the curtain falls down — for the last time — on the once Almighty Dollar?
