Somebody is Not Telling the Truth!

Nine People Aboard Three Cruise Ships Test Positive for COVID-19 During Cruises to Alaska

A passenger on a Celebrity cruise to Alaska tested positive for COVID-19 last Sunday, according to Celebrity Cruises. Fox Business reports that a “fully vaccinated passenger” on the Celebrity Millennium reported to the cruise ship infirmary last weekend and complained of what is described as “cold-like symptoms.” The guest subsequently tested positive for COVID-19, the cruise line said in a statement yesterday.

The person was initially isolated in the ship’s medical facility for monitoring and then received “private air transportation” to the guest’s home state. The company said it performed contact tracing and tested the person’s close contacts, which were all negative for the virus.

A passenger on the Celebrity Millennium, which is due back in Seattle on Friday, left the ship after testing positive for COVID-19 (despite reporting being fully vaccinated). Close contacts of the person tested negative, the cruise line said.

— The Seattle Times

The fact that the cruise guest was fully vaccinated and still contracted COVID will be used by anti-vaxxers to suggest that there is no benefit to being vaccinated. Of course, the people who are vaccinated are unlikely to develop serious symptoms and are highly unlikely to require hospitalizations or intensive medical care involving ventilators. The vast majority of people who require hospitalization or end up dying due to COVID-19 are those who decide not to become vaccinated.

This conflict dichotomy may ensue for months to come. You can begin to see the circular reasoning of where the world is being led.

Meanwhile, 'Maritime Executive' reports that small cruise ship operator UnCruise Adventures reported that it cancelled the upcoming cruise on the Wilderness Explorer. During last week's cruise, the company reported that seven people (four passengers and three crew members) tested positive for COVID-19. KRBD reports that UnCruise owner and CEO Dan Blanchard says the seven positive individuals had "mild, cold-like symptoms."

An UnCruise representative said the operator identified the seven positive cases "starting July 23." KRBD reported that the company "says it's the first time a fully vaccinated guest has tested positive for the disease on its ships."

The passengers reportedly were quarantined in a hotel in Juneau and the crew members were isolated aboard the cruise ship. KRBD reported that UnCruise suggested that positive cases involved the Delta variant.

Juneau officials reported another positive COVID-19 case on the American Constellation. That ship previously had an outbreak involving 16 passengers earlier this year.

Brian Shilhavy, Editor, Health Impact News speaks on behalf of those who are greatly troubled by the government's efforts to circumvent the Nuremberg Code, as well as to ultimately undercut the U.S. Constitution on the matter of mandating Vaxxes for all. Brian makes a number of points that the public should be taking seriously.

"Those of us in the alternative media who have been exposing the dangers of vaccines for years, have had to deal with the attacks and ridicule from the vaccine believers who parroted the one statement that always ended any debate on the subject of vaccines, which they claimed were responsible for eliminating most of the world's infectious diseases:

The science is settled. Vaccines save lives.

“Writing and reporting on this topic for more than a decade now, I have constantly told our readers that this statement, “The science is settled,” is one of the most unscientific statements the health bureaucrat “doctors” at the alphabet letter agencies have ever made, because when is the “science” ever settled?”

“Never mind the fact that the rate of autism among our children has increased from one in ten thousand to one out of every 50 children in the U.S. as the CDC childhood vaccination schedule ballooned over the years. Never mind that the U.S. has the highest infant mortality rate in developed countries along with the highest amounts of vaccines injected into children from birth to age 18 among the developed countries.”

“No, that is not related to vaccines, because “the science is settled” when it comes to vaccines, we were all told. Those infant deaths were all written into the death certificates as SIDS (sudden infant death syndrome), and everyone knows that autism is genetic, happening before birth, so don’t be a stupid “conspiracy theorist” and blame vaccines, because when it comes to vaccines, “the science is settled.”

So to all my fellow truth seekers in the alternative media who have been ridiculed for many years for publishing the truth about vaccines and the injuries and deaths they cause because “the science is settled,” we were all just vindicated yesterday by CDC director Rochelle Walensky, who announced to the world that people fully vaccinated for COVID-19 were spreading the “delta variant” and that it was now time to mask up again, just weeks after they announced that people fully vaccinated for COVID-19 no longer needed to wear masks, because: THE SCIENCE IS SHIFTING.”

Imagine that. The “science” behind vaccines isn’t settled after all. We “conspiracy theorists” were correct all along, because the science is never settled, because the scientific method inherently can never prove anything, only provide theories that are subject to revisions as more data becomes available, and the universe is far too large for anyone to ever claim they have ALL the data, unless your name is “God Almighty, the Creator.” (More info here – and no Anthony, we didn’t just mention your name – go back to your adrenochrome stupor.)

In yesterday’s public address by the shifty CDC director Rochelle Walensky, not only did she announce that people fully vaccinated were spreading the COVID-19 delta variant to others requiring people to mask up again, she also stated:

“But the big concern is the next variant that might emerge, just a few mutations potentially away, could potentially evade our vaccines.”

Wow, sounds like it is time to admit these vaccines are a colossal failure and should be scrapped altogether, right?

Nope, instead she told America and the world that everyone who is not yet “vaccinated” needs to immediately go out and get one of the shots to stop the spread of this variant to make sure this doesn’t happen. And mask up again in the meantime.

Is this not the textbook definition of “insanity?” Is the United States just becoming one large asylum for the insane?

I did a search again today in the corporate media for “breakthrough cases” and could hardly believe what I found: Interviews with people who were fully vaccinated and had now become sick along with a COVID-19 positive test, and also spreading it to their friends and family members who are also fully vaccinated, and yet, they claim the vaccines “are working,” because if they had not received one of the COVID-19 injections, they would have been far sicker.

How could you even prove that?? But that’s what people are actually believing, as they follow the propaganda and shake their fists at those of us who are not vaccinated, blaming us for all these outbreaks.

Is this not insanity? Is anyone else waking up in the morning like I am, and asking yourself: “How could this all be real??”

Here is an example with an article published yesterday on NBC26 in Green Bay, Wisconsin.

‘Would have been definitely hospitalized’: Two fully vaccinated people share their stories of COVID-19 breakthrough cases

Excerpts:

With COVID-19 cases rising nationwide, reports of breakthrough cases among the fully vaccinated can be a real concern.

Two fully vaccinated people who recently contracted the Coronavirus are currently in isolation and share their stories.

Meet Trevor Ramseier. The De Pere man said it was last Wednesday he first began having symptoms.

“I had these body aches and pains that I’ve never experienced before. My hands hurt, down to the fingertips and hands, they were sore and achy,” Ramseier said. “Had the teeth chattering chills and the sweats and all that.”

He said he left work early that day and the next morning he received the news he was dreading to hear.

“Sure enough Thursday morning I woke up, slept miserable that night. Had the teeth chattering chills and the sweats and all that. Awful Thursday morning and my phone rang at 11:03, it was my doctor. I answered and I said ‘uh oh’ and he says ‘yeah you’re positive and you’re the first one in our clinic here that has a breakthrough case,’” Ramseier said.

Though fully vaccinated Ramseier still contracted the virus and passed it to his loved ones.

His wife who is also fully vaccinated got it along with his two small children who are not.

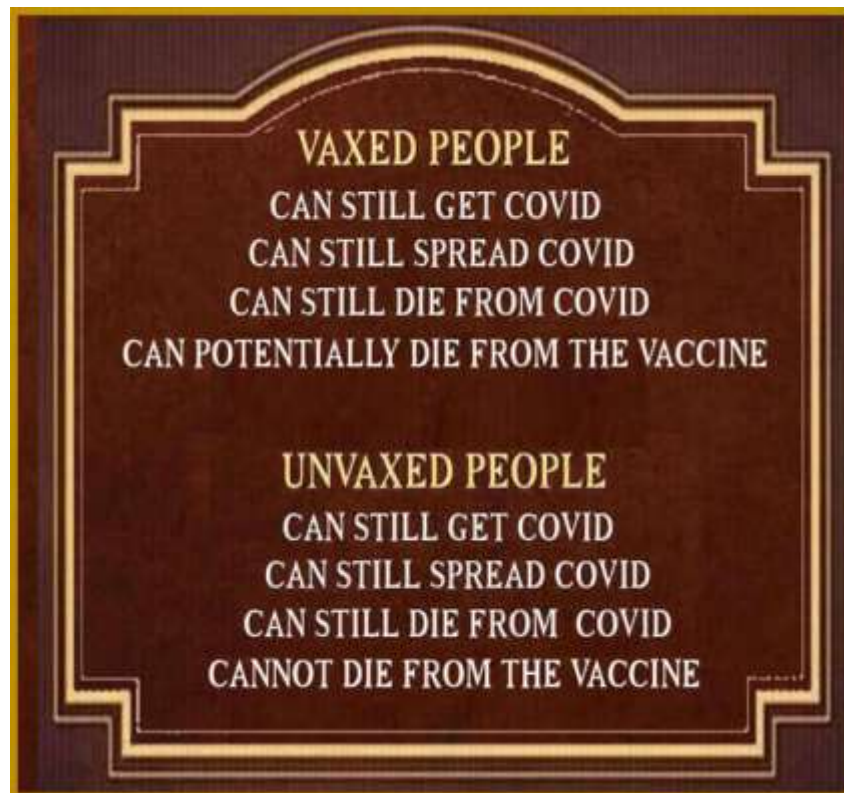

His mom who happened to be visiting for the first time since the pandemic also contracted the virus. She was fully vaccinated as well.

“It’s just like uhh this happened. There’s a lot of guilt with that I’ve had to process. I know it’s not as fair for me to feel that way but boy it was a weird pill to swallow knowing that we waited all this time and now we sit here and she has COVID,” Ramseier said.

His mom has multiple sclerosis so it was a real concern for their family.

“If she wouldn’t be vaccinated I just can’t imagine how bad it would have been for her or myself included. I don’t have MS but I also have an autoimmune disease and asthma, I certainly fall into the high risk category for this,” Ramseier said. (Full story.)

And just remember, the CDC and the corporate media are censoring the CDC’s own data from their own database that tracks reported cases of injuries and deaths following the COVID-19 injections.

That looks like a meme from someone who is actually sane. What do you think?

The UK's new aircraft carrier, the HMS Queen Elizabeth is full of COVID-vaccinated sailors who are now testing positive for the virus.

(Natural News) Proving once again that mandating people to get a COVID vaccine and obtain an electronic “passport” proving they’ve been jabbed is foolish policy, Britain’s newest capital warship, the aircraft carrier HMS Queen Elizabeth has more than 100 COVID-positive sailors on board though every one of them have been given the shot.

“There has been a coronavirus outbreak in the Carrier Strike Group (CSG) which includes the Royal Navy flagship HMS Queen Elizabeth, it has been confirmed,” the UK’s Evening Standard reported last week.

“The aircraft carrier is about a quarter of the way through a 28-week deployment leading the CSG, which includes a US destroyer and 10 Marine Corps F35-B fighters, and is currently in the Indo-Pacific,” the outlet continued.

Needless to say, the Royal Navy and the British Defense Ministry attempted to put the best spin possible on the outbreak.

“As part of routine testing, a small number of crew from the Carrier Strike Group have tested positive for Covid-19,” said the Royal Navy in a statement.

“All personnel deployed in the UK CSG have received both doses of the Covid vaccine and there are a number of mitigation measures on board including masks, social distancing and a track and trace system The Carrier Strike Group will continue to deliver their operational tasks and there are no effects on the deployment,” the statement added.

In all, about 100 sailors had tested positive for the virus despite having been fully vaccinated against it.

Not a good way to start the warship’s maiden operational deployment; the Queen herself, along with Prime Minister Boris Johnson both came aboard the carrier before she departed for the Indian Ocean. On August 2nd the HMS Queen Elizabeth had entered waters of the coast of Southeast Asia.

In addition to COVID aboard the Queen Elizabeth, Royal Navy officials are also investigating a suspicious death aboard a Type 23 frigate, HMS Kent, which is also part of the current task force Carrier Strike Group.

The warship outbreak comes as Boris Johnson and British health officials consider making it mandatory to have a COVID passport in order to move about freely in society — meaning, vaccines would essentially become mandatory for anyone in the UK who doesn’t want to live as a second-class subject.

But the scheme is being met with pushback, especially from British clergy after it was reported last week that the passports would perhaps also be required for churchgoers.

In a letter to Johnson, about 1,250 clergy implored the prime minister to reconsider forcing parishioners to get a vaccine passport out of fear it would create a situation they describe as “medical apartheid.” Now that secret reports have leaked out that the UK is going to resume national lockdown at the end of the month expect things to get violent in the UK. It has in Australia and New Zealand where the army has been brought in to enforce lockdown.

The “introduction of vaccine passports would constitute an unethical form of coercion and violation of the principle of informed consent,” the clergy said in a letter to the PM.

Noting that there are many Christians who do not want to take the vaccine due to “serious issues of conscience related to the ethics of vaccine manufacture or testing,” the letter also says that vaccine passports could go towards “creating a two-tier society, a medical apartheid in which an underclass of people who decline vaccination are excluded from significant areas of public life.”

“This scheme has the potential to bring about the end of liberal democracy as we know it and to create a surveillance state in which the government uses technology to control certain aspects of citizens' lives. As such, this constitutes one of the most dangerous policy proposals ever to be made in the history of British politics," the clergy warned.

The letter comes after business minister Paul Scully responded to LBC radio host Nick Ferrari over the question of whether requiring passports could be expanded beyond where they are currently mandated to include a ban on unvaccinated churchgoers, "We're not ruling anything out."

Except liberty — they are all ruling liberty out.

Mike Adams of Natural News.com destroyed the entire vaccine theory OBLITERATED as Biden promises you can't catch Covid if you get the vaccination, so then how can unvaccinated people be any threat to the vaccinated?

If the Covid vaccines really work, then everyone who gets them should not ever be worried about catching it from anyone who doesn't get the jab. The installed fake president Joe Biden said, "You're not going to get Covid if you have these vaccinations." So if vaccines protect you 100 percent, why does it matter if others around you aren't vaccinated? Joe Biden needs to explain how fully vaccinated UK sailor caught Covid again. The claim that unvaccinated people are somehow a risk to the vaccinated just got obliterated. This means there really is no science behind preventing Covid using vaccinations, or every vaccinated person and the government would simply laugh off anyone who chooses not to get them, and say to go about things "at your own risk."

How worried were all the vaxxers each year, before Covid was released, about catching the flu after getting the flu shot? The CDC reveals data about influenza every year, and before Covid was engineered to spread to humans, there were 35 million sicknesses, tens of thousands of deaths, half a million hospitalizations, and about 16 million medical visits. That's just in the USA. Yet, 190 million Americans get the flu shot every year, and nobody was freaking out about anyone who chose not to. They must have believed that the shots worked, so what changed?

Talk about "faith-based" medicine. These people have no clue about anything science-related when it comes to these deadly Covid jabs. Even their president is telling them that NO PERSON can catch Covid after vaccination, so why the big push and the ostracizing of all un-vaccinated people? Their own vaccine theory is officially obliterated.

It is time to ban China Joe from all social media platforms and YouTube for "misinformation" about Covid, its risks, vaccinations, hospitalizations and deaths. Joe has put millions of people at severe risk of infection and death.

Covid vaccines are not backed by science-based evidence and that's why they must be given away for free and promoted with so many lies and such propaganda

Lying Joe Biden appeared on a CNN (fake) town hall meeting in Ohio recently, displaying all of his expertise in everything Covid, including “uptake of vaccinations” and the propaganda-saturated promotion of these dirty inoculations for the engineered and planned pandemic. When asked if the Covid pandemic is receding, Resident Joe answered by claiming there’s only a pandemic for the unvaccinated, saying “If you’re vaccinated, you’re not going to be hospitalized, you’re not going to be in an ICU unit, and you are not going to die.” MSM is now scrambling to lessen the blow of Senile Joe.

Imagine, just imagine, if Trump was still in the oval office and said that. The press would go absolutely insane. Impeachment proceedings would begin immediately, hinged on just that sentence alone. You will not be hospitalized for Covid if you get the vaccine, he’s saying. What if the vaccine causes blood clots and heart attacks? How about then, Joe?

“China-Cove” Joe is so sure of himself that he’s telling every American right now that nobody can catch Covid if they’ve been vaccinated, which means nobody who has been vaccinated should care AT ALL if other people don’t get vaccinated. Period. Nothing to worry about. Move on. No more campaigns to reach those unvaccinated “pockets of resistance,” and no more blaming the unvaccinated for spreading Covid to the vaccinated. All done. case closed. Joe said it. Nobody who gets fully vaccinated for Covid will die from Covid, according to Big Joe.

To the contrary, the CDC states on their website: “Vaccine breakthrough cases are expected”

The CDC says that there has never been a vaccine that’s 100 percent effective, so what is China Joe talking about? There is always a “percentage of fully vaccinated people” that still get sick, are hospitalized, and who die from Covid-19, as it states on the CDC’s very own website. The CDC, as published in ‘Newsweek’, is reporting that over 5,300 patients with Covid had already been fully vaccinated against it and they were either hospitalized and/or died (it’s really over 17,000 dead). So, Joe, you were saying?

If you already got jabbed with the blood-clotting Covid inoculations, and you are suffering from CoVax Syndrome, then report it to VAERS. Also, check out Pandemic.news for updates on these crimes against humanity and the upcoming vaccine holocaust.

President Joe Biden said Tuesday that unvaccinated Americans are “not nearly as smart” as those who’ve received the jab, amid the possibility that his administration mandates vaccines for all federal employees.

Biden decided to call out unvaccinated Americans when asked whether he’d consider instituting a mask and vaccine mandate across federal agencies. The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) announced its own vaccine mandate Monday.

POLL: Americans' optimism about the future plummets 20 points

garyvarvel.com

"That's under consideration right now, but if you're not vaccinated, you're not nearly as smart as I thought you were," the president said.

Joe Biden is an embarrassment to the United States of America. His smart ass remarks confirm that he is not a leader but rather a mere shell of a man going down with the ship. He sold out the empire to the CCP that is going down the tubes with it.

The truth will become obvious one day real soon that Covid-19 was nothing more than a psy-op to hide the real danger of 5G wireless energy.

I was getting ready to close this off when I received a post on July 30th, 2021 of another outbreak of Covid-19/5G. Today, a half-dozen passengers on the Adventure of the Seas tested positive for COVID-19. The ship is one of several dozens of cruise ships with either passengers or crew members who have tested positive for COVID-19. The 'Miami Herald' covered the story (by Taylor Dolven). USA TODAY published an article by Morgan Hines who is aboard the ship.

On Thursday, the six passengers on the Adventure of the Seas tested positive for the virus. The positive test occurred at the end of the week-long, round-trip cruise which left Nassau last Saturday. The 'Herald' indicated that "four of the positive passengers are vaccinated and are traveling separately. Two of the positive passengers are unvaccinated and traveling together.”

The Royal Caribbean ship stopped in Cozumel, Mexico and the cruise line’s private Bahamian island before arriving in Freeport today.

Six passengers sailing on Royal Caribbean International's Adventure of the Seas, which departed from Nassau Saturday, have tested positive for COVID-19.

— USA TODAY (@USATODAY) July 30, 2021

Adventure of the Seas is one of dozens of cruise ships with COVID-19 on board. As reported by the ‘Miami Herald’, “one in three ocean cruise ships operating in U.S. waters or planning to come into U.S. waters soon have reported a COVID-19 case on board in the last seven days, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Nine of the 21 ships that have reported COVID-19 cases have passengers on board.”

1 in 3 ocean cruise ships in US waters or planning to come into U.S. waters soon have reported a COVID-19 case on board in the last 7 days, CDC data shows. 9 of the 21 ships that have reported COVID-19 cases have passengers on board.

Over a month ago, it was reported that two passengers, both under the age of 16 and unvaccinated, tested positive while on Royal Caribbean’s Adventure of the Seas. On June 25th, we reported that at least nineteen other people on cruise ships owed by Royal Caribbean have tested positive in the last 30 days:

- 13 crew members on the Odyssey of the Seas on March 24th and June 10th;
- 4 crew members on the Anthem of the Seas on June 20th; and
- 2 passengers on the Celebrity Millennium, owned by Royal Caribbean, who tested positive on June 10th.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)’s color coded status system shows seven cruise ships operated by Royal Caribbean, with either orange or yellow designations, indicating the presence of COVID-19, including the Allure of the Seas, Brilliance of the Seas, Explorer of the Seas, Freedom of the Seas, Independence of the Seas, Ovation of the Seas, and Serenade of the Seas.

The outbreaks occurring on the Royal Caribbean ships are mirroring COVID outbreaks ashore, including vaccinated people who have breakthrough infections. It is less than clear how many of the shipboard outbreaks involve the alleged highly contagious Delta variant which has been permitted to mutate due to the large number of people who refuse to become vaccinated.

The ‘Miami Herald’ article point out the Dr. Fauci line:

“Florida is experiencing a surge in COVID-19 cases as many people eligible for the vaccine have still not been vaccinated. On Wednesday, Florida recorded its fourth highest single-day spike in COVID-19 cases since the pandemic began 16 months ago, reporting 17,589 new cases to the CDC.”

A particularly ominous development is the fact that vaccinated people who contract the COVID-19 Delta variant can spread the virus just as easily as unvaccinated people, according to the CDC.

The optimism that vaccinations would permit cruising to return to “normal” has evaporated and replaced with the reality that selfish anti-vaxxers, aided by the likes of Florida Governor DeSantis prohibiting cruise lines from requiring proof of COVID-19 vaccinations, have permitted the virus to mutate into the Delta variant which is now being reported as contagious as chickenpox. No surprise there with over 2,000 5G base stations in Florida. There are over 82,000 5G stations worldwide. The last time I noted a figure for worldwide, it was right around 18,000 5G stations, and I believe that was eight months ago. Covid-19 will have a perpetual life of its own so long as they ignore the roll out of 5G stations, small cells, and orbiting satellites beaming down the invisible harmful wireless energy.

To clearly understand what we’re dealing with, 3G and 4G wireless technologies use between a 1 to 4 gigahertz frequency. 5G uses between 24 to 90+ gigahertz. This means up to 90 billion electromagnetic waves hit the cells of the human body per second.

The collective minds of over 230 scientists from over 40 different countries have accumulated clinical evidence of the harmful exposure to EMFs (Electromagnetic Frequencies) generated by electric and wireless devices before the additional 5G roll out.

Once fully operational, 5G towers would unleash DNA-damaging levels of radiation on schools, parks, hospitals and residential areas. Despite widespread denial, the evidence that radio frequency (RF) radiation is harmful to life is already overwhelming.

5G antennas with the same capabilities of military grade weapons are being installed on playgrounds, schools, farms, in residential neighborhoods and public areas. The most susceptible to this harmful radiation are fetuses in utero and children. EMFs impact birds, bees, farm animals, wildlife and the environment. This is a serious issue that affects all life.

5G small cell towers are popping up everywhere without proper testing for safety by the telecommunication companies or any government agencies. More importantly, public consent was never considered before launching this experimental cellular science.

Wireless radiation from older technology has already been linked to cancer, heart disease, diabetes, miscarriages, birth defects and infertility. Due to their external anatomy, male testicles are especially susceptible to radiation, which lowers sperm count. Similarly, cellular radiation kills off irreplaceable eggs in females. But that is fine with advocates for depopulation!
