WASHINGTON — Dr. Ben Carson warned that many of the decades-long goals of communism have come to fruition in the United States as he urged the American people to have courage and fight back against efforts to subvert the nation's Judeo-Christian heritage.

Carson, a former neurosurgeon and presidential candidate who served as the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development during the Trump administration, addressed the crowd at the Family Research Council's Pray Vote Stand Summit Friday. He told the audience that troubling events in American society "have been going on for quite a while."

During his speech, Carson read aloud a portion of the Congressional Record from Jan. 10, 1963, which included a list of “Current Communist Goals” as laid out in an excerpt of a book titled ‘The Naked Communist’. He drew particular attention to the goal to “capture one or both of the political parties [in] the United States,” lamenting that it “seems like they’ve done a good job there.” Carson’s analysis reflects the belief that communism has taken root in the Democratic Party.

Carson also highlighted how communists sought to “get control of the schools” and “use them as transmission belts for socialism and current communist propaganda.” He read about how communists worked to “soften the curriculum,” “get control of teachers’ associations” and “put the party line in textbooks.” He identified another one of the goals as to “infiltrate the press, get control of book review assignments, editorial writing, policymaking positions.”

After he outlined another one of the communists’ goals to “gain control of key positions in radio, TV and motion pictures,” he encouraged the audience to “think about that.” The Congressional Record from 1963, as shared by Carson, identifies the 32nd communist goal as being to “support any socialist movement to give centralized control over any part of the culture — education, social agencies, welfare programs, mental health clinics.”

The 40th installment of the list of “Current Communist Goals” consisted of an effort to “discredit the family as an institution” and “encourage promiscuity and easy divorce.” The 41st item on the list emphasized “the need to raise children away from the negative influence of parents” and “attribute prejudices, mental blocks and retarding of children to suppressive influence of parents.”

“Does any of that stuff sound familiar?” he asked. “This is all the things that are happening in our society today,” he added, noting that “we think we won the Cold War.” Carson surmised that allies of communism “had a longer plan.”

Carson mentioned that this plan involves “driving wedges between us on the basis of race, income, age, gender, political affiliation, religion, you name it” as part of an effort to make people view each other as “enemies.” He encouraged the audience to reject that line of thinking, maintaining that “We are not each other’s enemies.”

The retired neurosurgeon then pointed to an effort to “fix it” and cause people to think that “this system doesn’t work, therefore we need something else.” After citing statistics finding that 23 public schools in Baltimore, Maryland, had zero students who could perform math at grade level, he suggested that such abysmal academic performance by public school students was by design.

“This is not a new phenomenon. This has occurred historically in other countries, too, particularly before they became socialist and communist countries. It’s called dumbing down the population because if people are ignorant, it’s easy to tell them anything.”

"You know what it's going to require for us to get back on the right track?" he posited, declaring that the answer is "courage." "It's going to require us to understand what our history is."

"This is a country that was founded on Judeo-Christian values and principles," he added. "Our founding document, the Declaration of Independence, says that our rights come from God and not from government."

"If our system is going to be fixed, it is going to be we the people," he added, encouraging those assembled to "be courageous" and "vote the right way." Courage, he said, "comes from God."

Carson concluded his remarks by proclaiming, "If we're going to be the land of the free, we must also be the home of the brave."

While this is all well and good, unfortunately the time has passed to change the "system". I was alive and kicking when this information was read into the Congressional Record. Of all the goals of the communist party that stood out to me as the most dangerous was #11 and it was to use the UN as the world body to achieve its overall agenda of global government. Everything related to Prince Charles "Sustainable Development" SDG's has been the means and method to corral 194 countries of the world to submit to global government, governance,

I have always admired Dr. Ben Carson however in his heart I suspect he recognizes that it is a lost cause and his words fall on deaf ears. I say this because history is not something that gets much attention today in our school system, from elementary school to any first college degree of college education. My point is that if you do not know from whence you came you are unlikely to not know where you are headed. Dr. Carson has most likely read Alex Haley's 1958 book 'Roots' and I believe it was President Ronald Reagan who also said that freedom was only one generation from extinction.

Step into the gripping world of The Naked Communist: Exposing Communism and Restoring Freedom by W. Cleon Skousen—a riveting exploration of one of the most influential ideologies of the 20th century. With its rich historical analysis and revelatory insights, this non-fiction masterpiece takes readers on an unforgettable journey into the heart of the Cold War era.

Dr. Ben Carson read from W. Cleon Skousen's book 'The Naked Communist'. Skousen masterfully uncovers the hidden truths behind communism, stripping away its façade to reveal its true essence. Through meticulous research and a profound understanding of the era, he unearths the ideological underpinnings that fueled communism's rise and its enduring impact on the world stage.

'The Naked Communist' unveils the covert tactics employed by communist regimes to subvert and infiltrate societies, offering readers a deep dive into the art of ideological warfare. Skousen's gripping storytelling transports us to the frontlines of the Cold War, where nations clashed, spies operated in the shadows, and the battle for supremacy raged on.

One wonders how many high school or college students were required to read 'The Naked Communist' in any civics or history class. I would venture to guess not many. For the record #11 on the list read into the Congressional Record of 1963 is about to come to pass as the UN and Prince Charles has led to where we are today when the upcoming COP28 gathering of nations will become a reality of embracing the words of surrender to UN global control. For that better part of the year you may have noticed how they are trying to drive fear into the public through an almost daily diatribe of reports of aliens, real, ours, theirs, and imagined. The WEF and its minions working out of the UN have pulled out all the stops to the point that even Dr. Steven Greer faces the inevitable capitulation to the emotional frenzy; they're coming for your children.

When Abraham Lincoln said "a house divided against itself cannot stand," he wasn't talking about the kind of political divisions common today. Americans may differ sharply on issues like immigration and abortion, but there is no single issue that geographically and economically divides the country in the same way that slavery did in the 1850s.

Back then, the U.S. was so divided that many feared it would break out in civil war—a fear that Lincoln unwittingly stoked.

Lincoln's now-famous "house divided" line, which is drawn from the Bible, was actually part of a campaign speech he delivered at the 1858 Illinois Republican State Convention. Lincoln, then a relatively unknown politician, had just won the nomination to run for U.S. Senate against one of the most important politicians in the country, Stephen A. Douglas.

The communist teachings of Marx and Engels were so astute in understanding the basic needs of humanity to be, let us say prophetic. As a student of history and particularly political and religious history, I and others of my age knew what was coming.

In three days' time, on Wednesday September 20th, our representatives meeting at the United Nations will sign off on a 'Declaration' titled: 'Political Declaration of the United Nations General Assembly High-level Meeting on Pandemic Prevention, Preparedness and Response.'

This was announced as a "silent procedure", meaning that States not responding will be deemed supporters of the text. The document expresses a new policy pathway for managing populations when the World Health Organization (WHO), the health arm of the UN, declares a future viral variant to be a "public health emergency of international concern". The WHO noted in 2019 that pandemics are rare and insignificant in terms of overall mortality over the last century. Since then, it decided that the 2019 old-normal population was simply oblivious to impending annihilation. The WHO and the entire UN system now consider pandemics an existential and imminent threat.

"That, you know, I'd say— ah— will get attention this time."

The democidal maniacs are ramping up their follow up COVID-19 fear-mongering, but that will merely serve as their ingenious head fake.

The next "pandemic" will be one that scant few are expecting, with the requisite brand new Modified mRNA DEATHVAX™ offerings.

The PSYOP-23 Follow up will go something like this:

This upcoming outbreak will be the Nipah virus, which is yet another lab created bioweapon brought to us courtesy of the Gain of Function all-star team of Fauci, Gates, NIH, CIA, DoD, Pentagon, CFR, UN, WHO, WEF, Rockefeller Foundation, the Wuhan Institute of Virology, et al.

According to a research study from 2021 entitled, Nipah virus vector sequences in COVID-19 patient samples sequenced by the Wuhan Institute of Virology, the latest franken-virus was sequenced at the very same lab that released C-19.

Multiple remote viewers and Clif High's half-past human project all predict a major catastrophe in about 90 days. These guys were dead on with predicting several events, including 9/11 and the 2008 financial crash. This is not meant to instill fear. The work these men have done is legit. And they are sharing the info in hopes of stopping this. Greg Reese said, I don't often share other people's work here on my SubStack, but this should be watched. <https://youtu.be/4lg9-egVCKU>

The bottom line of all this is to, say good bye to your God-given rights as with the UN's actions this week and following you will be left behind, unless you have chosen the better choice of becoming a believer in the Lord Jesus Christ. You will own nothing and like it!

Blessings,
