Through the Hegelian Dialectic!

Part 1

Get ready for the next phase of the Masters of the Planet brilliant use of the Hegelian Dialectic strategy. If you are not familiar with the “Dialectic” it is time you learn now or become its victim tomorrow!

I first learned about the “Dialectic” in my college Western Civilization History course back in 1966. It is more commonly known as “Problem – Reaction – Solution”.

The “Dialectic” academic construct is known as “Thesis – Anti-Thesis – Synthesis”. In the 1950s the “father of management” Industrial Management expert Peter Drucker became known for his so-called (“win-win”) or consensus management philosophy based upon German philosopher Georg Wilhelm Hegel. Drucker used the “Dialectic” in negotiating strikes in the railroad, coal, and steel industries in the 1950s and it has been used in nearly every labor strike threat since the existence of modern-day trade unions. I had to read two of Peter Drucker’s books in business management courses in college.

Hegel, the giant of the XVIII-XIX centuries German philosophy

Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel (1770-1831) is almost uncontested in the area of philosophical power and influence in our society today. He followed and agreed with many of the ideas of Plato, Rousseau, Aristotle, Kant, and so on. However, he was not just a mere follower; he took ideas and made his own, taking problem solving to a whole new level and proving other philosophies which the original philosophers themselves couldn't prove properly. His two most important works were the “Phenomenology of Mind” (1807) and “The Encyclopedia of the Philosophical Sciences” (1817).

Main problems Hegel tried to solve and explain were:

- ❖ freedom of man in society;
- ❖ development and substantiation of objective idealism theoretical system;
- ❖ dialectics was created both as a method and theory;
- ❖ determination of inner sources of motion with contradiction as a core of the whole system of his philosophy;
- ❖ identity of thinking and being;
- ❖ universality of connections;
- ❖ principle of development.

The world underwent a transformation beginning in the latter months of 2019 by world leaders executing the “Dialectic” into practice on a global scale and most if not all of you never knew what it was that actually disrupted your life the past four years.

When I was a seminary graduate student doing Doctoral studies one of the interesting source documents required was Hegel’s ‘Philosophy of Right’ contains S.W. Dyde’s English translation of ‘Elements of the Philosophy of Right’. This work is Hegel’s complete and mature theory of the state. Hegel argues that individual free will only realizes itself, realizes complete freedom, through its interactions with the various aspects of the life of the state (property rights, contracts, moral commitments, family life, and economy). He argues that individual states are subsumed within the grand scope of world history. Following his dialectic, Hegel argues that states rise, conflict with other states, and eventually fall, only for other states to arise. Hegel argues that this dialectical process would lead to increasing personal freedom.

Hegel's "Dialectic" as the illustration above notes "was created both as "a method and a theory." As most students of political history will note the "Dialectic" is perhaps the most powerful impetus of history but it so much more. We have been under the influence of the "Dialectic" the past four years, and probably for much longer but in selected and more specific aspects of culture.

David Cloud of Fundamental Baptist belief and the Way of Life publishing has provided an excellent analysis of this process ~ theory about the Hegelian Dialectic:

The Hegelian dialectics is being used around the world as a tool to break down traditional beliefs with the objective of replacing them with something new.

Georg Wilhelm Hegel (1770-1831) was a liberal German philosopher who led the German Idealist movement, turning his back on orthodox Christianity and holding to a type of pantheism. He denied that there is such a thing as absolute truth. He said it is “narrow” and “dogmatic” to assume that of two opposite assertions, one must be true and the other false. He rejected the Bible and proposed that man is on an evolutionary journey and that human history is the record of a process of conflict and synthesis that he referred to as the dialectical process of Spirit, believing that man would eventually reach his highest state, ultimately arriving at “the Absolute Idea” which would be so perfect it could not be challenged or synthesized.

The Hegelian system is described as follows:

“It was Hegel’s view that all things unfold in a continuing evolutionary process whereby each idea or quality (the THESIS) inevitably brings forth its opposite (the ANTITHESIS). From that interaction, a third state emerges in which the opposites are integrated, overcome, and fulfilled in a richer and higher SYNTHESIS. This synthesis then becomes the basis for another dialectical process of opposition and synthesis. Hegel believed that the creative stress of opposing positions was essential for developing higher states of consciousness. In the moment of synthesis, the opposites are both preserved and transcended, negated and fulfilled” (Corinne McLaughlin and Gordon Davidson, Spiritual Politics, 1994, p. 88).

Hegel believed that this process has a life of its own, in an evolutionary sense, but since the days of Karl Marx and Frederick Engels it has been used as a guided process toward a desired end.

The objective of Hegelian dialectics in this sense is to replace something old with something new (e.g., capitalism with communism, traditional Bible doctrine with theological modernism, a traditional educational system based on moral absolutes with a new one based on relativism, an old age with a new).

Used like this, Hegelian dialectics cannot produce the new thing, but it can destroy the old. Other processes and techniques come into play in actually producing the new thing that is desired.

Hegelian dialectics is used today to create a “paradigm shift” by replacing an old “paradigm” (prevailing belief system) with a new one. It is a technique of “social evolution” and “political transcendence.”

It is not an innocent process. It is used by “change agents” and “facilitators of transformation.” Hegelian dialectics is “the framework for guiding our thoughts and actions into conflicts that lead us to a predetermined solution” (Niki Raapana and Nordica Friedrich, “What Is the Hegelian Dialectic?” October 2005, <http://www.crossroad.to/articles2/05/dialectic.htm>).

Speaking religiously and spiritually, it is an ever-evolving system that never arrives at absolute truth. All is relative and negotiable and the end justifies the means.

It employs a wide range of tactics: dialogue, compromise, consensus forming, conflict resolution, divide and conquer, deceit, redefinition of words, giving new names to objectionable things, crisis creation, obfuscation (concealment of meaning by making something confusing and hard to interpret or by otherwise hiding its true meaning).

It requires non-judgmentalism, tolerance, acceptance, relativism, group mentality.

It is the opposite of and the avowed enemy of dogmatism, absolutism, exclusivism, and separatism.

It is very elitist and complex.

HEGELIAN DIALECTICS IS EMPLOYED BY COMMUNISTS to tear down law-based capitalistic, democratic societies that grant the right to private ownership of property and replace them with communist ones. Karl Marx and Frederick Engels' take on the Hegelian philosophy is called "dialectical materialism," because it focuses on the evolution of economics (materialism) rather than the spirit, as in Hegel's system. In older communist terms the thesis was CAPITALISM and the antithesis was the PROLETARIAT (workers exploited at the hands of owners and the capitalistic system in general who rise up in resistance). The process of conflict and resolution is supposed to continue until it produces the ultimate synthesis which is allegedly pure communism but in reality is a New World Order of severe communitarianism (collectivism, the politics of community, the individual cared for by the state while his individuality is subservient to the will of society).

HEGELIAN DIALECTICS HAS BEEN EMPLOYED BY EDUCATORS in America since the 1920s to move the educational system from the old concept of moral absolutism and submission to a higher authority to the new philosophy of relativism and constant change. "The collective moulding begins early in life, sustained and refined throughout one's formal education; a universal curriculum of manipulation can transform and achieve a complete paradigm shift for a whole generation" (Terry Melanson). The influence of the New Age public school system is incalculable.

HEGELIAN DIALECTICS IS EMPLOYED BY THE EMERGING CHURCH to break down the old church "paradigm" so that it can be replaced with the emerging one.

HEGELIAN DIALECTICS IS EMPLOYED BY ECUMENISTS to break down the walls of separation between denominations, between liberals and evangelicals, between Protestants and Catholics, to create Christian unity, and it is used BY INTERFAITH DIALOGUERS to tear down absolute truth and replace it with broadminded religious tolerance.

Dr. Robert Klenck describes how Hegelian dialectics works within the ecumenical setting, and he reminds us that the ecumenical dialectics is not a mere process of chance; it is “facilitated” toward a desired end. Otherwise, the group process could result in faith in dogmatic truth and an absolute Bible, but that is not going to be allowed to happen!

“Briefly, the Hegelian dialectic process works like this: a diverse group of people (in the CGM [Church Growth Movement], this is a mixture of believers and unbelievers), gather in a facilitated meeting (with a trained facilitator/‘teacher’), using group dynamics (peer pressure), to discuss a social issue (or dialogue the Word of God), and reach a pre-determined outcome (consensus or compromise). When the Word of God is dialogued between believers and unbelievers, and consensus is reached--agreement that all are comfortable with--then the message of the Word of God has been watered down, and the participants have been conditioned to accept (and even celebrate) their compromise. This becomes the starting point for the next meeting. The fear of alienation from the group is the pressure that prevents an individual from standing firm for the truth of the Word of God.”

“A traditional thinker, when proven wrong with factual information (i.e., Biblical moral absolutes) yields to the facts, and admits that he/she is wrong, and then aligns him/herself to those facts. Because Biblical moral absolutes do not change, traditional thinkers who align themselves to those unchanging absolutes are labeled as ‘resistant to change.’”

On the other hand, transformational thinkers, when proven wrong with factual information, have been conditioned to process that information differently. They automatically question it and dialogue it within themselves; their (deceitful) hearts rebel against it, and then they begin to justify (to themselves and others) why it is that they no longer have to attend to the facts. The natural result of the dialectic process is the searing of the conscience (1st Timothy 4:1-2). These people are then able to justify to themselves why they are no longer bound to Biblical moral absolutes. ...

“... through the process of continual incremental change (using the Hegelian dialectic over and over with the last synthesis becoming the new thesis--the ‘new fact base,’ or ‘new reality’), the Word of God is gradually/incrementally changed from its original intent, and eventually it is interpreted to mean something contrary to its original intent. ...

“The rebellion is subtle at first--simply moving away from the traditional way of ‘doing’ church; later, the ordaining of female ‘pastors’; and eventually it gets to the point of ordaining lesbian ‘pastors.’ Barriers to change must be broken down, and eventually, for the sake of peace and unity, interdenominational barriers and interreligious barriers will be broken down, paving the way for a worldwide ecumenical movement--a one-world church. ...”

“A recent example of this paradigm shift in processing factual information was when the ‘Rev.’ Richard Mouw, the President of the Fuller Seminary in Pasadena, California (a strong promoter of the church growth movement), was quoted in the San Gabriel Valley Tribune on January 22, 2000: 'Mouw said he supports rights and benefits for committed same-sex domestic partners, but believes the sacrament of marriage should be confined to heterosexual couples in the Judeo-Christian tradition.' When leaders of this movement are making statements like this, then we can be sure that the movement is not from God, and is headed in the opposite direction of God's will. Mr. Mouw already is thinking in the transformational mode. He is able to justify (to himself) a teaching that is contrary to the Word of God" ("What's Wrong with the 21st Century Church," August 8, 2000, <http://www.crossroad.to/News/Church/Klenck1.html>).

Observe, again, that deception is inherent in the dialectic process. Those who initiate and oversee the process have an objective, and they know that it will be resisted, so they resort to deception, especially at the beginning, to break down resistance to the goal. In the case of theological modernists, they present the new theology as a minor issue at first, hiding their real agenda. In the case of Marxists, they describe their desired political system in deceptive terms. They make promises that they have no intention of keeping; they hide the fact that liberties will be curtailed.

Those who use this methodology know that once the process of dialectics has been carried out, the resistance will have been broken down and an atmosphere created for the implementation of the original goal. They adopt the Jesuit philosophy that "the end justifies the means."

Consider how that Robert Schuller's January 2008 Rethink Conference employed Hegelian dialectics to further his New Age objectives of syncretizing religion and creating a new type of Christianity and ultimately a new world through the power of human potential.

The conference was "A CONVERGENCE of some of the most influential Christian and global thinkers" (Rethink Conference announcement, Oct. 15, 2007). These great thinkers were also described as "respected icons in media, politics, faith, science, business and technology." The important fact is that they represented contradictory ideas, and their contradictory ideas were to be the stepping stones to something new. They included evangelicals such as Lee Strobel and Rick Warren's wife, Kay, Emerging Church leaders Erwin McManus and Dan Kimball, Evangelicals and Catholics Together proponent Charles Colson, media mogul and pornography purveyor Rupert Murdoch, and agnostic Larry King.

The Rethink Conference was clearly described in terms of the Hegelian methodology, though of course the term itself was not used. The idea of the conference was "bring all the different thoughts and ideas and create something cohesive and meaningful" ("Interview with Erwin McManus, Christian Post, January 22, 2008). The process first involved hearing what each speaker said in a 20-minute lecture. The participants were then instructed to "wrestle with it, dialogue about it, agree or disagree with it--then take it a step further and make it your own" (Rethink Conference announcement, Oct. 15, 2007).

Schuller also described his Hegelian methodology in the book 'Don't Throw Away Tomorrow: Living God's Dream for Your Life':

"We need to learn the healing quality of wise compromise. ... Perhaps the only way to deal with contradictions is to combine them creatively and produce something new. That's ingenious compromise." (New Age leader Gerald Jampolsky's endorsement is on the back cover of this book.)

To seek to combine contradictions into something new is Hegelian dialectics. It is a key principle of the emerging church.

If some believe that Jesus is God and others believe he was merely a great teacher, and if some believe that man is a fallen sinner separated from God and others believe he is essentially good and one with God, and if some believe that God is the Almighty who created all things but is not a part of the creation and others believe that God is the sum total of all things -- those are the old contradictions and we must move beyond such things. This is what they are saying.

HEGELIAN DIALECTICS IS EMPLOYED BY THEOLOGICAL MODERNISTS to replace old doctrine with new.

A Lutheran pastor describes how the Hegelian dialectic works in the field of theological training:

"I had fully accepted this 'New Theology or Thinking,' having first gone through a traumatic time in which the Christian faith with which I had arrived there [at seminary] was 'challenged.' The reason presented for this 'challenging' was to bring us to really 'think through' our theology, to 'stretch' our faith, to 'move us to a deeper understanding of the faith.'" This was the rationale which was presented when more conservative members of the constituency in the synod would question about what was going on when they would hear from outspoken students and vicars what was being taught.

"THIS REALLY WAS DECEITFUL BECAUSE THE AIM AND INTENTION, AS I CAME TO KNOW LATER AS A MORE SOPHISTICATED INITIATE, WAS NOT TO 'STRETCH OUR FAITH' BUT TO MOVE US FROM THE HISTORICAL FAITH INTO THE 'NEW THINKING.'" "We all knew this was a great shift; that's why it was so traumatic; but we presented it as representing only minor doctrinal differences. It actually involves an entirely different way of thinking. I have said many times to my conservative friends: You don't understand; they think in an entirely different way. You think in terms of one thing which is true and the opposite which is false. They have adopted a dialectical way of thinking in which there is no true and false, only thesis, antithesis, and synthesis. They have effectively adopted Hegel's dialectical way of thinking. There truly are no absolute truths within their system. They will discuss things with conservatives in a way that gets their opponent to think that they are discussing which of two positions is right. All the while the real issue for them is that there is no certain answer" (The Christian News, April 29, 1985, pp. 1, 3, 4).

We see, again, that the dialectic process is a guided process and that it employs deception to reach its objectives.

Dean Gotcher describes how Hegelian dialectics works in a general setting as well as in the type of egalitarian, non-authoritative Bible classes that are popular in many churches today:

“There is thesis, which is simple; that’s you and your position and facts based on what you believe. Antithesis is somebody who’s different than you. The moment the two of you who are different are in the same room, there’s a potential relationship there. However, the only way you can get to it is synthesis. You and the other person have to put aside your differences for the sake of a relationship and try to find facts or elements of your belief systems that are in harmony. ...”

“In seminary I took the equivalent of a total quality management course where I learned how to survey the congregation and find out ‘what do you think and how do you feel?’ ... The moment you go into the dialogue [the dialectic process]--which now is in Sunday School materials as well--about what do you think and how do you feel over what is being taught, you are now allowing the [student] to be a scientist on God, to question the authority of God’s Word, instead of looking at it as it is, and saying, ‘Okay, I don’t understand it; Lord, reveal it to me.’ This has to be what we do instead of gauging how we think and feel. ...

[The dialectic process] makes faith into a tool to be changed to our human understanding, to change it to meet our felt needs for the sake of a relationship. The agenda that the Berean church revealed to Paul, was that they weren’t hung up on Paul. They weren’t hung up on a relationship. They were hung up on truth. So when the Apostle Paul shared the Gospel, they went to the Word of God and checked him out. Try that with ministers today and they’ll get bent out of shape because you’re not supposed to question their ‘I think and I feel.’ ...

“Theology students drive me nuts because they say, ‘Jesus is a team builder.’ I say, ‘Wait a minute. No, He wasn’t a team builder. Each one of those disciples could stand on their own. They didn’t need the group to make a decision. They died alone as martyrs. They realized there wasn’t a group grade on the day of judgment. They didn’t say, ‘I think and I feel.’ You don’t find that in their ministry. They saw the truth and proclaimed it. They encouraged us through their work to continue to proclaim the truth.’ Jesus’ ministry was not built on ‘I think and I feel.’ It was built on ‘I know’” (Interview with Dean Gotcher, Women’s International Group Newsletter, Sept.-Oct. 1999).

HEGELIAN DIALECTICS IS EMPLOYED BY ONE WORLDERS AND NEW AGERS to prepare the way for world harmony. It is employed to break down national sovereignty and create a globalist mindset, to tear down the old contradictory religious and political systems and replace them with a new syncretized one. Speaking at the UN Conference on Human Rights in 1993 in Vienna, UN Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali spoke of the “challenging dialectical conflict” that required people to “transcend ourselves” and “to find our common essence beyond our apparent divisions, our temporary differences, our ideological and cultural barriers” (Interview with Dean Gotcher, Women’s International Group Newsletter, Sept.-Oct. 1999).

The late New Ager M. Scott Peck, whose books have sold by the millions, believed that man could become God through a process of spiritual evolution. He promoted the religion of scientific “skepticism,” of rejecting the religious faith of one’s parents, regardless of what that faith is, and building one’s own personal religion, of questioning everything.

In his books ‘The Different Drum’ (1987) and ‘A World Awaiting to Be Born’ (1993), Peck applied this evolutionary process to world peace. He taught the concept that a new age has arrived in man’s evolutionary process and a spiritually evolved generation can create unity, solve the world’s problems, and bring in an age of peace. The front cover of ‘The Different Drum’ describes the book’s objective as “the creation of true community, the first step to world peace.” The back cover says, “Dr. M. Scott Peck believes that if we are to prevent civilization destroying itself, we must urgently rebuild community on all levels, local, national and international, and that is the first step to spiritual survival.” ‘The Different Drum’ has the following dedication: “To the people of all nations in the hope that within a century there will no longer be a Veteran’s Day Parade...” This refers, of course, to the hope of world peace.

Peck described the process whereby the world can allegedly experience peace, and it is the Hegelian dialectic at work. It requires creating New Age communities all over the world in which differences can be resolved and the world transformed. In these communities there is no leader but all are leaders, decisions are reached by consensus, there are no “sides” and everyone is respected and heard (‘The Different Drum’, pp. 71, 72). In these communities the individual is allowed to express any belief or doubt and to act out in his own individual way, to live as he pleases. The New Age community must be a “safe place.” He says the “healing” will only happen when “its members have learned to stop trying to heal and convert” (p. 68). He says true community means that “everyone is welcome” and there is “no pressure to conform” and that “all human differences are included” and “appreciated” and even “celebrated” (pp. 61, 62). True community must incorporate “the dark and the light, the sacred and the profane” (p. 65). Those who believe in homosexual marriage and abortion and evolution and human divinity are to live in harmonious community with those who don’t. He calls this process the politics of “transcendence” (p. 63).

In the New Age community, the only real sin is the sin of exclusiveness and theological dogmatism.

Peck says, “It is not only such ideological and theological rigidities that we need to discard, it is any idea that assumes the status of ‘the one and only right way’” (p. 96). He says that the greatest hindrance to world peace is “exclusivity” (‘The Different Drum’, p. 61). He warns about “groups that exclude others” because they are “doubters” or “sinners” and that are “defensive bastions against community.” He says that even the refusal to join a group because you don't agree with it is "destructive to community" (p. 62).

Peck personally conducted scores of community-building workshops to further his objective, and he is only one of many who are involved in this process.

It is easy to see how unacceptable the practice of dogmatic Bible preaching and exclusive evangelism is in such a context! It simply cannot be allowed, because it will disrupt the sense of world community!

For a Bible-believing Christian to say that salvation is through regenerating faith in Jesus Christ alone and to separate his children from the public school system and to disagree with evolution and to refuse to "celebrate" homosexuality is considered a great evil by New Agers, because they think it is hindering the evolutionary progress of the entire world. Dogmatic biblical thinking is the chief obstacle to the establishment of the New Age.

What Saith the Scripture?

From a biblical perspective Hegelian dialectics is gross disobedience to God.

Hegelian dialectics is contrary to the Bible's teaching that we have been given absolute truth from God and we are not to allow any contradiction. The Bible claims to be the sole divine revelation that God has given mankind and we are to believe it and judge everything by it (2nd Timothy 3:16-17). We are to allow "no other doctrine" (1st Timothy 1:3). We are to "earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered to the saints" (Jude 3), which means we are forbidden to give contradictory doctrines any credence.

For the Bible believer, the Bible is THE infallible thesis, and every antithesis is to be rejected and no synthesis allowed!

Hegelian dialectics is contrary to the Bible's teaching that God's people are to separate from darkness.

"Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them" (Romans 16:17).

"Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you" (2nd Corinthians 6:14-17).

“Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away” (2nd Timothy 3:5).

“And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness. And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life. Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen” -(1 John 5:19-21).

The Bible asks rhetorically, “Can two walk together, except they be agreed?” (Amos 3:3). The Ecumenical, New Age, Emerging Church crowd brazenly replies, “Sure, we can make that work.”

But it won't work. It never has and it never will.

Well does the Bible describe the great departure of the faith as those who are “ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth” (2nd Timothy 3:7).

The above analysis by David Cloud on the Hegelian Dialectic is spot on why it is so dangerous.

To put it in simple terms, Hegelian Dialectics is an anti-Christ Communist technique where some assertive proposition (thesis) is necessarily opposed by an equally assertive and apparently contradictory proposition (antithesis), the mutual contradiction being reconciled by a third proposition (synthesis), which is most often a false conclusion.

By offering contradictory statements, the people are conditioned that both are true. Take for example, “Segregation in South Africa is evil (thesis); segregation in Israel is fine (antithesis); we must support Israel (synthesis).

Hegelian Dialectics gets people to believe both as equally true, though they contradict each other – otherwise known cogitative dissonance. This is actually a mental disorder, which is considered normal in society today.

Keep in mind that when you hear all this news about the coronavirus and the conflicting reports that we are told each day. Remember when you hear Hegelian Dialectics on ANY news subject, you are being lied to! You are being manipulated to do something you would not do otherwise unless you were being manipulated to do.

I saw this within a few days of early 2020 from the propaganda that held people glued to the TV about the “Diamond Princess” cruise ship that was sequestered and not permitted to dock and allow its passengers to see health care sources. The “Diamond Princess” story dominated the TV and media for nearly a month. During that period of time we were pummeled with reports of passengers being locked in their cabins sickened and dying from a “rogue novel virus”. This was a classic example of the Hegelian Dialectic in operation. The powers behind the scam used the media to fear-monger the world into believing that people were dying of this “rogue novel virus”.

As the days dragged on, reports were coming out as the numbers of sick and dying began to grow. Port cities up and down along the Pacific coast from Japan to Vietnam refused to allow the “Diamond Princess” to dock. Pictures of health workers dressed in toxic sealed rubber suits were a routine image. By the time the near month-long event had passed, 740 crew and passengers were sickened. 14 passengers, aged 60 to 80 had died aboard the “Diamond Princess” from what the Chinese referred to as the Coronavirus. A 15th passenger subsequently died after the ship was permitted to disembark passengers. Any mention of the fact that the cruise ship had only weeks prior had been equipped with new 5G transceivers which enable the passengers to be able to receive phone, data, and video communications from anywhere in the world was downplayed as a cause of sickness and death. Yet the facts are that the “rogue novel virus” had the seven exact symptoms of what is associated with Wi-Fi EMR/EMF radiation poisoning.

I have chronicled this entire story beginning from a point when China “turned-on” their 5G “Smart Cities” on October 31, 2019. My point here is that the first phase of the Hegelian Dialectic “Problem” was created and put into motion through the media coverage. All they had to do was simply sit back and wait for the public panic level to explode and gain traction and spread throughout the world to a point when the public was calling, begging and pleading for a vaccine to save them from a slow death from this “rogue novel virus”. The Rothschild-owned and controlled media facilitated that task handily. With the World Health Organization declaring it was a “Pandemic” on March 10th, 2020, we were hearing reports that pharmaceutical drug companies would have a vaccine ready by late fall 2020. The first shots were administered by the beginning of December and granted Emergency Use Application.

The world quickly moved to the second phase of the Hegelian Dialectic of “Reaction” Measures and policies governments rolled out worldwide since Operation Coronavirus are in fact aspects of occult initiation ritual cleverly adapted to the current fake pandemic and disguised as genuine public health strategies. This pandemic was a 9-11 type event which has been meticulously planned for decades.

The people who run the world are black magicians, and they are running this live exercise in a similar fashion to how they run their secret Satanic rituals. The goal: take initiates out of their normal mode of existence, break them down, engender submission, remold them in the likeness of their leaders, and return them to a new normal. The media beat the drum that we were not going to ever return to the old normal. Note the steps of this “Reaction” phase.

Corona-Initiation Ritual: Lockdown and Quarantine (Isolation)

Good ritual requires preparation. The first part of an initiation ritual is isolation. This isolation serves to separate the initiate from the mundane (“of the world”) affairs of his life. It is often done by cutting all ties with the outside world. Nowadays this isolation also requires separation from technology and everything that comes with it (phones, computers, emails, social media, etc.). The sensory deprivation sends the initiate afloat where she is less tethered to beliefs and behaviors.

In Operation Coronavirus, the lockdown and quarantine were the isolation aspect of the ritual. Those aware of the situation noticed that quarantining an entire community of healthy people was a contradiction in terms, because the very word quarantine means “a state, period, or place of isolation in which people or animals that have arrived from elsewhere or been exposed to infectious or contagious disease are placed.” Thus by definition one cannot quarantine uninfected, healthy people; one can only quarantine infected, sick people. However the agenda was to isolate people by any means necessary to achieve the first step of initiation.

Corona-Initiation Ritual: Hand-Washing (Rejection)

Another element of the ritual has been obsessive and compulsive focus on hand washing. While hand washing in general is a good hygienic activity, Operation Coronavirus has taken it to a completely new level of OCD anxiety (by design). Symbolically, the washing of hands is reminiscent of the story of Pontius Pilate from the Bible, who washed his hands of the matter regarding the fate of Jesus of Nazareth, and refused to either punish him or set him free. From this perspective, hand-washing is about rejection of the ‘old normal’ of freedom.

Corona-Initiation Ritual: Mask-Wearing (Censorship, Submission, Dehumanization, Alternate Persona)

Firstly, masks connote censorship, the covering of one’s mouth, gagging and the suppression of a free voice. Censorship has been a massive part of this agenda, even before it officially happened, with all the Event 201 aficionados practicing their simulation for hours about how they would control the official narrative and censor alternative viewpoints.

Secondly, masks symbolize submission, the giving up of unrestricted access to oxygen. This entire agenda is not about the virus; it’s about control. It’s about forcing people to submit to the will of the NWO manipulators, even when it is legally and medically unwarranted.

Thirdly, masks are reminiscent of robots. They are dehumanizing. They remove one’s ability to see fully into another person’s face. They create distance and separation in people, make it harder for us to communicate via body language and make it harder for us to have empathy for others, since that empathy is often based on truly seeing another person.

Fourthly, masks are often used by the elite themselves at their parties and rituals. Remember the Satanic sexual orgy scene from Kubrick’s Eyes Wide Shut? Masks hide identity. They hasten the 'death' of the old identity. Masks create an alternate persona. This ties in with the incredibly important theme of Satanic Ritual Abuse (SRA) and mind control.

In mind control, a 'handler' uses torture and abuse to force the victim to dissociate. This is where their minds split off and detach from reality in order to deal with the tremendous pain which is being inflicted upon them. It's an inbuilt mental defensive strategy. However, in doing so, the victim creates multiple 'alters' or personalities which are disconnected from their base personality. These alters do not know about the existence of other alters; thus the victim can be programmed to do things (e.g. become a sex slave or an assassin) and not recall doing them, because an alter can be triggered to come forward and then return to the subconscious after the event. When it comes to mind control, masks are symbolic of the hidden aspects or personas of ourselves which the NWO controllers are deliberately targeting with their subliminal propaganda.

Corona-Initiation Ritual: Social Distancing (The New Normal)

Once the ritual heads towards completion, the initiate comes out into a new mode of thinking and a new manner of behaving; remade in the image of his handlers or manipulators who conducted the ritual.

In the case of COVID, the end goal is the new normal where everyone is permanently separated and disconnected (as well as tested, tracked, contact traced, monitored, surveilled, medicated and vaccinated). Social distancing is really anti-social distancing; it's all about removing the human touch from our interactions. That touch is what makes us human.

The Overarching Goal of the Ritual: Destroying the Old and Creating the New

If I were to sum up the entire corona-initiation ritual with one concept, it would be the Masonic "Ordo ab chao" – "Order Out of Chaos". The Hegelian dialectic. Problem-reaction-solution. The phoenix rising out of ashes. All of these phrases point towards the same method: destroying the old to make way for creating the new.

This method in and of itself is not bad; it's all about how it is used. The true purpose of ritual is to alter one's mind and character, and it can be done consciously or unconsciously, wittingly or unwittingly. Ritual can be used for white magic just as much as black magic, e.g. you can use this technique to conquer destructive habits within yourself and become a better person.

In the context of the worldwide conspiracy, this method is used by the NWO conspirators to make the world a less free, less peaceful, more controlled and more hierarchical place.

People are being led along as unwitting participants without a clue as to how they are unconsciously supporting the deeper agenda (e.g. by cooperating with their own enslavement, acquiescing to ridiculous restrictions and even actively policing their fellow citizens). We can't begin to cover all the stories of people attacking each other because someone refused to wear their mask. And while the mandates have since been struck down by courts, you will still see people wearing their mask to go to church. I see it every Sunday outside my kitchen door.

The fact this fake coronavirus pandemic is a ritual is not surprising, given that the inner core of the NWO are Satanists who practice black magic. As surviving whistleblowers attest, some of their Satanic rituals involve rape, hunting humans like animals, mass orgies, drinking human blood, cannibalism and child sacrifice.

Since the roll out of the vaccines by Moderna, Pfizer, AstraZeneca, J&J:

At least 270,227,181 people or 81% of the population have received at least one dose.

Overall, 230,637,348 people or 70% of the population are considered fully vaccinated.

In the US, 984,444,295 doses have been distributed so far, with 68% or 676,728,782 of the doses used. So the numbers suggest around 170 million have received at least 1 booster shot. Canadian scientist Dr. Paul Alexander posted a report days ago in early August, 2023 stating that 98% of deaths in the UK, had received a third shot within 21 days of their death. Such data suggest those who have had three shots of an mRNA vaxx are now the walking dead! Every individual that received the jab signed a release of liability of the vaxx manufacture! In so doing they signed their own death warrant.

The vaccine was promoted heavily for the elderly, disabled, infirm, and handicapped; they deserved to be first in line for the next phase, the “Solution”. As of the government's own data, 676-million doses were given to Americans through the end of July, 2023. A new CDC Director has said a week ago that you better get your fall triplevax, a single combined shot for the yearly flu, RSV, and Covid-19.

Genocide was the end game of the Coronavirus scamdemic. Former Wall Street Black Rock portfolio investment manager Edward Dowd has written a book, 'Cause Unknown' which shows the mortality data explosion for 2021 and 2022. On July 9, 2023 – Edward Dowd posted: “Bad News...real time Disability Data from U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) rose 857,000 in June to a new all time high of 34.15 million. The rate of change is accelerating again. If this was a stock it's a break out chart and reacceleration of trend. Both employed women & men hit new highs as well. In the chart below one can see the excess death rates for all age groups, and the data does not lie.

FDA Tried to Hide Pfizer Pre-Licensure Data for 75 years!

December 8, 2021 – The US Food and Drug Administrator (FDA) asked a judge to halt for up to 75 years, a Freedom of Information request for Pfizer’s COVID-19 vaccine pre-licensure documents. Lead lawyer Aaron Siri and team representing Public Health and Medical Professionals for Transparency (PHMPT), convinced the judge to force the FDA to hand over 55,000 pages per month – READ, More from Aaron Siri –HERE

There are TOO many “smoking guns” to weed out – such as deaths, injury, miscarriage, unnecessary harm and fraud – which were evident with in the documents submitted to the FDA. Data and information which the FDA award Pfizer’s vaccine EUA in just 108 days, data which was then used to grant full BLA license for the Pfizer-BioNTech mRNA injectable product and deem it “safe and effective”. Watch Dr. Naomi Wolf present an overview of the revelations within the documents – WATCH, Read the documents yourself – HERE

This license is so important as it sets a precedent for the mRNA platform and opens the products to come.

All-Cause Mortality in working ages: 4x a 200-year catastrophe event!

Edward Dowd is a former equity portfolio manager for Blackrock and hedge fund guru. He claims to have witnessed “many frauds” in his career. Entering the COVID pandemic in 2020 he and his financial community colleagues were already wondering when the post-2008 “big global debt party would end” and they were “trying to figure out what would occur to usher it in.”

The debt has grown so big that at some point the “credit system” is at the end of its days! As one country defaults it will “set off a chain of events” that the money authorities can’t control.

“[They’d] have to provide cover for that because they can’t take the blame for the creation of the problem.”

“Nothing comes out of China unless they want it to” so as soon as the “staged” videos emerged out of China, he began to question the deadliness of the virus and the statistics and claims that followed.

In his own personal experience on Maui Island in Hawaii, COVID-19 had already passed through in Fall (Australia's Spring) of 2019, people didn't start getting COVID again until 2021, when Omicron wave hit. see [2019 timeline for clues]

What “tipped” him off that something was afoot was on April 5, 2020 when he heard James Bullard, the Federal Reserve president, state: “due to technology we could have badges that could determine someone’s immunity”. He wondered why a Fed president would have such a solution so quickly and about our health? A digital ID being justified in the name of “health”.

This pandemic is not about health...

Now well into the fourth year of Operation Covid, there is massive growing evidence that this was never about a pandemic or a “rogue novel virus”, It is all about Genocide of humanity executed by globalists through what is known as the “Hegelian Dialectic!”

We must remain vigilant to the deeper symbolic aspects of this agenda if we are to truly retain our rights and freedom in the face of this Satanic darkness.

Maxims of Law are ecclesiastical in nature and often upheld by the highest courts.

Everybody has a responsibility to speak up and take corrective action otherwise we are complicit in: Operation Covid-19

It is said that never in the history of our species has man united en mass to challenge the dark forces. Ruling entities are counting on this with COVID19.

You are encouraged to research your laws for ways to DEFEND YOUR RIGHT TO BREATH, inform family and neighbors. Take what you need from supporting evidence posted here and elsewhere.

The very fact that 194 countries were in “lock step” and instituted Draconian measures to enslave their people with little or no evidence that a “rogue novel virus” even existed is a solid indicator that the Operation Covid was instituted through the use of the Hegelian Dialectic.

Too this very day, not a single lab or medical facility in the world has confirmed the existence of this “rogue novel virus” using what is referred to as the “Gold Standard” of virus determination through the principles of Koch Postulates. The late Nobel Prize recipient for the discovery of HIV1, Dr. Luc Montagnier, declared the Covid was a "Retro-Virus", and that it had been meticulously engineered in a lab.

With all that has passed since early 2020, the world is not finished with the lies of the New World Order. The World Health Organization (WHO) has planned ten years of viruses and need for vaccines.

As part of their dark campaign to tip over the next dominoes associated with the Great Reset and massively reduce the world's population, the globalists are eagerly gearing up to unleash another Wuhan coronavirus (Covid-19)-like public health crisis, complete with harsh lockdowns and other horrors, to get the job done.

According to former Pfizer vice president Michael Yeadon, the world is "closer than ever" to the unleashing of the next manufactured crisis, which just like Covid before it will be completely contrived for the purpose of implementing maximum tyranny and terror on the masses, thus leading to a new world order with far fewer people.

"Food and fertilizer production: it's in the wrong place, and it's deliberate," Yeadon warned in a recent interview – watch below.

"They're smashing the means of manufacturing enough calories to keep 7.8 billion people alive. And where do you think that's going to end? The answer is mass starvation, war, and a global migration – that's what's going to happen if you and everybody else choose to do nothing at all."

The globalists are coming for EVERYTHING Americans hold near and dear

What we are right now living in the middle of, according to Dr. Michael Yeadon, is a massive scientific program for total depopulation of all the "useless eaters," meaning anyone who is not of some slave-like use to the "elite" globalists.

Under the guise of fighting global warming and climate change, the globalists are systematically tearing down the existing global order, a major component of which are the large-scale agricultural systems needed to keep the current global population of around eight billion people nourished and thriving.

We know that very few people are actually nourished and thriving, especially in third world countries that are no longer receiving grain shipments from Ukraine and Eastern Europe due to the Russian invasion.

"They're coming for our children; they're coming for our food; they're coming for our resources; they're coming for every form of energy; they're shutting it all down – they're not playing games," commented Jones.

"They are releasing viruses and blaming it on global warming. They're cutting off the food supply and blaming global warming. They're starting wars and blaming global warming. They're creating the economic, cultural systems of total revolution and collapse: the great reset, admitting this is their plan, only to then pose as 'saviors' to bring in their world government, a transhumanist global system on its ashes."

Yeadon says we are in the midst of the worst global crime, which will last for who-even-knows how long, and it has the intent of total control and removing everybody's freedom. He believes the plan will involve killing many more millions, if not billions, of people before it is complete.

"The components of the vaccines that they have used – you know, exaggerated PCR testing, the use of fear-based messaging throughout the media – this stuff has been rehearsed by militaries and the people whom we might think of as the 'spooks' for at least 25 years, and possibly longer," Yeadon warns.

"It's not going to return to the old normal. One, that's never their intention. So it's not going to happen passively because there isn't an actual phenomenon that is going to wear off. So if you comply with this tyranny, it will end with the loss of your liberty and probably your life."

More to come on this crime against humanity!
