

The U.S.A. Has Been Scammed No Less Than By A Pornographic Homosexual Actor To Commit National Suicide!

Part 4

Why Putin's Winter Offensive Will Prompt U.S. Entry Into the War
MIKE WHITNEY • DECEMBER 22, 2022

“The war in Ukraine is not a Call of Duty fantasy. It is an enlargement of the human tragedy that NATO’s eastward expansion created. The victims do not live in North America. They live in a region that most Americans can’t find on a map. Washington urged the Ukrainians to fight. Now Washington must urge them to stop.”—(Colonel Douglas MacGregor, ‘The American Conservative’)

Volodymyr Zelensky did not fly across the Atlantic so he could deliver a speech to the US Congress. That was not the purpose of his trip. The real objective was to produce a galvanizing event that would create the illusion of broad-based public support for the war. That is why the speech was broadcast on all the mainstream media channels and that is why Congress repeatedly greeted Zelensky with raucous applause. Once again, the cadres of voracious elites who control the political levers of power in America, are determined to drag the country to war, which is why they portray a cross-dressing “thug in a gym suit” as a Churchillian figure of unshakable principles. It’s all public relations. It’s all an attempt to garner support for a conflict which will soon involve young American men and women who will be asked to die so that wealthy elites can maintain their grip on global power.

Zelensky’s trip to Capitol Hill was timed to coincide with Putin’s winter offensive, which is expected to crush the Ukrainian Armed Forces and bring the war to a swift end. The Biden administration understands the situation but does not have weaponry or manpower to impact the outcome. That doesn’t mean, however, that Washington doesn’t have a plan for prolonging the conflict or beefing up its combat forces. It does have a plan that is evident by the way the administration has rejected negotiations at every turn. What that tells us is that Washington is still committed to defeating Russia whatever the cost. In practical terms, that means that the U.S. must create an incident that will serve as a justification for escalation. The incident could be related to Zelensky’s unexpected trip to Washington or, perhaps, it could be linked to the detonation of a nuclear device somewhere in Ukraine. Check out this excerpt from an article at RT:

The risk of Kiev attempting to build a so-called ‘dirty bomb’ remains, a senior Russian diplomat has said....

“Ukraine has the potential necessary to make a ‘dirty bomb,’ it doesn’t take much effort. Especially since Ukraine has been a nation advanced in nuclear technology since the Soviet times, [and] has many technologies and expertise,” Mikhail Ulyanov told journalists on Wednesday, as quoted by RIA Novosti...

General Igor Kirillov, the commander of the Russian military branch responsible for protecting troops from weapons of mass destruction, claimed in October that Kiev was “at the final stage” of producing a dirty bomb. (“Radioactive threat from Kiev persists – Moscow”, RT)

The means by which a false flag is carried out, is completely irrelevant. What matters is that — according to political analyst John Mearsheimer— “The United States is in this to win”, that is, the U.S. foreign policy establishment is not prepared to let the Russian army prevail in Ukraine and impose its own settlement. They’re going to find a way to intensify the conflict and bring foreign troops into the theater. That’s the objective, and that’s what they’ll do once they’ve figured out an excuse for escalation. Bottom line: The U.S. is not going to throw in the towel and call it quits. This is a long-term project that could drag on for years if not decades.

Political analyst Kurt Nimmo thinks that NATO might join the fighting. Here's a short blurb from Nimmo's latest at Global Research:

If Olga Lebedeva and Pravda.ru can be believed, NATO is on the verge of entering the war in Ukraine.

"Such announcements were heard from officials of the Polish Ministry of Defense, the General Staff of the NATO alliance, officers of the French army and (of course) the Ukrainian Ministry of Defense," according to Lebedeva.

"The main reason would be the very next Russian general offensive that NATO is planning and which according to it would decimate the Ukrainian army not only in the Donbass but also on the Kiev side (many Russian units are in combat situation in Belarus at the borders with Ukraine)," explains Rusreinfo.ru, a Russian website.

But "NATO has always been very clear: Ukraine CANNOT LOSE. For Washington, the only solution would therefore be for NATO forces to enter Ukraine, hoping that this will end the Russian offensive. The calculation is that Vladimir Putin will not want to directly face NATO with the possible (nuclear) consequences, and will therefore then retreat." ("NATO Decides to Attack Russia in Ukraine– Ukraine is unable to defeat Russia. The next step is for direct NATO involvement", Kurt Nimmo, Global Research)

Nimmo could be right but, maybe not. It appears to me that NATO is hopelessly divided on the issue. A number of NATO countries will not join in a war against Russia regardless of the circumstances or the amount of pressure from the White House. The more likely scenario was presented by Colonel Douglas MacGregor who laid it out in an article at The American Conservative on Tuesday. Here's what he said:

The Biden administration's unconditional support for the Zelensky regime in Kiev is reaching a strategic inflection point not unlike the one LBJ reached in 1965... Like South Vietnam in the 1960s, Ukraine is losing its war with Russia... The real danger now is that Biden will soon appear on television to repeat LBJ's performance in 1965, substituting the word "Ukraine" for "South Vietnam":

"Tonight, my fellow Americans I want to speak to you about freedom, democracy, and the struggle of the Ukrainian people for victory. No other question so preoccupies our people. No other dream so absorbs the millions who live in Ukraine and Eastern Europe... However, I am not talking about a NATO attack on Russia. Rather, I propose to send a U.S. led coalition of the willing, consisting of American, Polish, and Romanian armed forces into Ukraine, to establish the ground equivalent of a "no-fly zone." The mission I propose is a peaceful one, to create a safe zone in the Western most portion of Ukraine for Ukrainian Forces and refugees struggling to survive Russia's devastating attacks..."

*NATO's governments are divided in their thinking about the war in Ukraine. Except for Poland and, possibly, Romania, none of NATO's members are in a rush to mobilize their forces for a long, grueling war of attrition with Russia in Ukraine. No one in London, Paris, or, Berlin wants to run the risk of a nuclear war with Moscow. Americans do not support going to war with Russia, and those few who do are ideologues, shallow political opportunists, or greedy defense contractors. ("Washington is Prolonging Ukraine's Suffering", Colonel Douglas MacGregor, The American Conservative)

This, I think, is the much more plausible scenario. The Biden Administration will enlist a handful of countries that agree to troop deployments to west Ukraine ostensibly for humanitarian reasons. At the same time, they will allow disparate Ukrainian forces to continue the random shelling of Russia-controlled areas as well as locations on Russian soil. There will undoubtedly be an effort to control the skies over west Ukraine (no-fly zone) and to conduct attacks on Russian formations in the east. Most important, vital supply lines from Poland will remain open to accommodate the flow of men, munitions and lethal weaponry to the front. MacGregor appears to anticipate these developments given his comments at the beginning of the article. Here's what he said:

During a speech given on November 29, Polish Vice-Minister of National Defense (MON) Marcin Ociepa said: "The probability of a war in which we will be involved is very high. Too high for us to treat this scenario only hypothetically." The Polish MON is allegedly planning to call up 200,000 reservists in 2023 for a few weeks' training, but observers in Warsaw suspect this action could easily lead to a national mobilization.

Meanwhile, inside the Biden administration, there is growing concern that the Ukrainian war effort will collapse under the weight of a Russian offensive. And as the ground in Southern Ukraine finally freezes, the administration's fears are justified. In an interview published in the Economist, head of Ukraine's armed forces General Valery Zaluzhny admitted that Russian mobilization and tactics are working. He even hinted that Ukrainian forces might be unable to withstand the coming Russian onslaught." ("Washington is Prolonging Ukraine's Suffering", Colonel Douglas MacGregor, The American Conservative)

The plan to lure Russia into a war in Ukraine goes back at least a decade. And what we know now from comments by former German Chancellor Angela Merkel, is that Washington never sought a peaceful resolution to the conflict but worked tirelessly to install a Russia-hating regime in Kiev that would help it to prosecute its war on Russia. The gathering of nearly 600,000 Russian combat troops in or around Ukraine threatens to derail Washington's strategy and end the war on Russia's terms. Washington can't allow that to happen. It cannot allow the world to see that it was beaten by Russia. Thus, Washington must pursue the only option left to them, the deployment of U.S. troops to Ukraine.

Perhaps, cooler heads will prevail and the administration will pull back from the brink, but we think that is highly unlikely. We think the decision has already been made: We think the United States is going to war with Russia.

Foreign Minister Lavrov has publicly declared that "unnamed officials from the Pentagon actually threatened to conduct a 'decapitation strike' on the Kremlin...What we are talking about is the threat of the physical elimination of the head of the Russian state, (...) If such ideas are actually being nourished by someone, this someone should think very carefully about the possible consequences of such plans."

So, we have the following situation:

- For Russia this war is clearly, undeniably and officially an existential one. To dismiss this reality would be the height of folly. When the strongest nuclear power on the planet declares, repeatedly, that this is an existential war everybody ought to really take it seriously and not go into deep denial.
- For the U.S. Neocons this is also an existential war: if Russia wins, then NATO loses and, therefore, the U.S. loses too. Which means that all those SOBs who for months fed everybody nonsense about Russia losing the war to the general public will be held responsible for the inevitable disaster.

So much will depend on whether U.S. Americans, especially those in power, are willing to die in solidarity with the “crazies in the basement” or not. Right now it sure looks like they are. Don’t count on the EU, they have long given up any agency. Talking to them simply makes no sense.

Which might explain Medvedev’s recent words “Alas, there is nobody in the West we could deal with about anything for any reason (..) Is the last warning to all nations: there can be no business with the Anglo-Saxon world because it is a thief, a swindler, a card-sharp that could do anything.”

Russia can do many things, but it cannot liberate the USA from the grip of the Neocons. That is something which only U.S. Americans can do.

And here we hit a vicious circle:

The U.S. political system is most unlikely to be effectively challenged from within, big money runs everything, including the most advanced propaganda system in history (aka the “free media”) and the population is kept uninformed and brainwashed. And yes, of course, a major defeat in a war against Russia would shake this system so hard that it would be impossible to conceal the magnitude of the disaster (think “Kabul on steroids”). And that is precisely why the Neocons cannot allow that to happen because this defeat would trigger a domino effect which would quickly involve the truth about 9/11 and, after that, all the myths and lies the U.S. society has been based on for decades (JFK anybody?).

There are, of course, plenty of U.S. Americans who fully understand that. But how many of them are in a real position of power to influence US decision-making and outcomes? The real question is whether there still are enough patriotic forces in the Pentagon, or the alphabet soup agencies, to send the Neocons back down into the basement they crawled out of after the 9/11 false flag or not?

Right now it sure looks like all the positions of power in the U.S. are held by Neolib, Neocons, RINOs and other ugly creatures, yet it is also undeniable that people like, say, Tucker Carlson and Tulsi Gabbard are reaching a lot of people who "get it". This has to include REAL liberals and REAL conservatives whose loyalty is not to a gang of international thugs but to their own country and their own people.

I am also pretty sure that there are many U.S. military commanders who listen to what Col. Macgregor has to say.

Will that be that enough to break through the wall of lies and propaganda?

I hope so, but I am not very optimistic.

First, Andrei Martyanov is absolutely spot on when he constantly decries the crass incompetence and ignorance of the U.S. ruling class. And I very much share his frustration. We both see where this is all headed and all we can do is warn, warn and warn again. I realize that it is hard to believe in the idea that a nuclear superpower like the U.S. is run by a gang of incompetent and ignorant thugs, but that IS the reality and simply denying it won't make it go away.

Second, at least so far, the U.S. general public has not (yet) felt the full effects of the collapse of the U.S.-controlled financial and economic system. So flag-waving "morons" can still hope that a war against Russia will look like the turkey shoot "Desert Storm" was.

It won't.

The real question here is whether the only way to wake up the brainwashed flag-waving "morons" is by means of a nuclear explosion over their heads or not?

"Go USA" is a mental condition which has been injected into the minds of millions of U.S. Americans for many decades and it will take either a lot of time, or some truly dramatic events, to bring these folks back to reality.

Third, the U.S. ruling elites are clearly going into deep denial. All this silly talk about U.S. Patriot missiles or F-16s changing the course of the war in infantile and naive.

Frankly this would all be rather comical if it was not so dangerous in its potential consequences. What will happen once the single Patriot missile battery is destroyed and the F-16s shot down?

How soon will the West run out of Wunderwaffen? [wonder weapons]

On a conceptual “escalation scale” what would be the next step up from Patriots and F-16s? Tactical nukes?

Considering the rather idiotic notion that a “tactical” nuke is somehow fundamentally different from a “strategic” nuke irrespective of how it is used and where it is used is extremely dangerous.

I submit that the fact that the U.S. ruling class is seriously contemplating both a “limited” use of “tactical” nukes and “decapitating strikes” is a very good indicator of the fact that the U.S. is running out of Wunderwaffen and that the Neocons are desperate.

And to those who might be tempted to accuse me of hyperbole or paranoid delusions I will say the following:

This war is NOT, repeat, NOT about the Ukraine (or Poland or the three Baltic states). At its absolute minimum this is a war about the future of Europe. And at its maximum this war is about Jesuit-Vatican supremacy. Fundamentally it is a war about the complete reorganization of our planet’s international order. I would even argue that the outcome of this war will have a bigger impact than either WWI or WWII. The Russians clearly understand this.

And so do the Neocons, even if they don’t speak about it.

The current situation is much more dangerous than even the Cuban missile crisis or the standoff in Berlin. At least then both sides openly admitted that the situation was really dangerous. This time around, however, the ruling elites of the West are using their formidable PSYOP/propaganda capability to conceal the true scope what is really going on. If every citizen of the US (and EU) understood that there is a nuclear and conventional cross-hairs painted on his/her head things might be different. Alas, this is clearly not the case, hence the non-existent peace movement and the quasi consensus about pouring tens of BILLIONS of dollars into the Ukrainian black hole.

Right now, the crazies are playing around with all sorts of silly ideas, including booting Russia off the UN Security Council (not gonna happen, since both Russia and China have veto power) or even creating a “peace conference” about the Ukraine without Russia’s participation (in a remake of the “friends of Syria” and “friends of Venezuela” thing). Well, good luck with that!

Maybe, but this is by no means sure. Clearly, this is not an assumption the Kremlin makes, hence the truly immense strengthening of all of Russia's strategic deterrence capabilities (both nuclear and conventional).

It is likely that 2023 will see some kind of end to the Ukrainian war: either a Russian victory in the Ukraine or a full-scale continental war which Russia will also win, (albeit at a much higher cost!). So by the time the Chinese will be truly ready (they probably need another 2-5 years) the world will be a very different place.

The economic collapse of the U.S. over the past two years has been so dramatic that many are asking whether Barack Obama and Joe Biden are intentionally destroying the economy. These men keep saying they want to transform the country into a worker's paradise, but their fruits tell a different story. “Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?” –(Matthew 7:16) “Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.” –(Matthew 7:20).

The High Cost Of Blowing Up The World: Ukraine & The 2023 NDAA

On Monday, January 2, 2023, Tyler Durden posted a piece by Matthew Ehret which strikes at the heart of this devolving plan that will result in a nuclear winter for the world.

Will Americans wake up to the reality that they've been walking on the wrong side of history for too long or has the point of no-return been crossed?

Bi-partisan insanity was on display again this week as the U.S. congress responded to Biden's requested $37 billion in additional aid to Ukraine by giving him $45 billion bringing the total U.S. support to its Davos-managed disposable ward up to $111 billion.

The aid was part of an overall omnibus spending bill passed by both houses of Congress was a gargantuan $1.7 trillion and included $858 billion in defense spending which far exceeds any sum ever spent by a U.S. government in history.

Of that $858 billion, $817 billion is allocated directly to the U.S. Department of Defense while the remaining $29 billion will be allocated to national security programs within the department of energy.

Continuing to Weaponize Taiwan

2023 NDAA Funds will be used to “strengthen” Taiwan in the Pacific with $12 billion authorized to assist Taiwan in purchasing weapons from the U.S. military industrial complex (with the $12 billion in ‘loans’ needing to be paid back over the course of the next five years of course). Of this fund, $100 million will be given directly to contractors to fill up a “contingency stockpile” to be used by Taiwan “in case of any future conflict”.

Arc of conflict

Additionally Taiwan will be invited to participate in the next U.S.-led Rim of the Pacific Military Exercise in 2024 and thus greater “Pacific NATO” strategy encircling mainland China. This exercise and broader Pacific NATO (aka Quad) anti-China arsenal of puppet colonies will be boosted by an additional $11.5 billion will be allocated to the Pacific Deterrence Initiative ‘to counter malign Chinese influence in the Pacific’.

Just as Ukraine has suffered U.S.-directed color revolutions in 2004 and 2014, so too has Taiwan been strung through a similar NED-funded ‘Sunflower Revolution’ regime change in 2014 which saw the Kuomintang Party taken out of power just as final stages of an economic integration agreement with mainland China were being finalized.

Billions have been tagged to purchase Lockheed Martin Corp’s (LMT.N) F-35 fighter jets and ships made by General Dynamics but beyond airforce, one of the biggest and most dangerous boosts in spending this year has been absorbed by a fixation on ‘space warfare’. $5.3 billion will be directed towards ‘space force’ and the ongoing effort to militarize space as a new dimension in war making in the 21st century (which was $333 million more than originally requested by military officials at space force’).

The recent U.S.-Canada-Australia joint ‘space warfare’ drills in order to prepare for an oncoming war over Europe took place at the start of December 2022 at the Schriever Space Force Base in Colorado- which indicates that the residues of any positive memory of ‘space diplomacy’ once seen under JFK’s leadership, the 1976 Apollo-Soyuz cooperation program or even the better aspects of President Trump’s Artemis Accord.

The 2000 RAD Origins of NDAA 2023's Dark Age Doctrine

It would be a lie to say that this program for human extermination originated in 2022, or even under the previous presidencies of Trump or Obama.

If one wishes to grasp the germ seed of today's policy doctrine, it would be necessary to revisit the Project for a New American Century Think Tank's September 2000 Rebuilding America's Defenses report where the 'end of history cultists' then taking the helm of government stated:

"RAD" envisions a future in which the United States is in complete control of land, sea, air, space and cyberspace of planet Earth. It finds objectionable the limitations imposed by the ABM treaty and urges a newer rendition of Reagan's 'Star Wars' defense shield program.

On top of calling for the USA's exit from the ABM Treaty (which was promptly done in the wake of 911), the authors of RAD outline in clear detail the rationale behind the growth of the rise of a need for a new branch of the military known as space force. The authors stated that the USA must gain:

"CONTROL THE NEW 'INTERNATIONAL COMMONS' OF SPACE AND 'CYBERSPACE,' and pave the way for the creation of a new military service – U.S. Space Forces – with the mission of space control."

Outlining the doctrine of 'Full Spectrum Dominance' the PNAC report outlined on page 51:

Global Missile Defenses — "A network against limited strikes, capable of protecting the United States, its allies and forward-deployed forces, must be constructed. This must be a layered system of land, sea, air and space-based components".

Looking towards the need to expand and modernize nuclear forces due to the possible danger of China, Russia, Iran, North Korea and Iraq, the RAD authors stated:

"Today's strategic calculus encompasses more factors than just the balance of terror between the United States and Russia. U.S. nuclear force planning and related arms control policies must take account of a larger set of variables than in the past, including the growing number of small nuclear arsenals – from North Korea to Pakistan to, perhaps soon, Iran and Iraq – and a modernized and expanded Chinese nuclear force."

Possibly one of the most dangerous and revealing aspects of RAD, was found on page 60, where the authors outline a program that soon grew into obscene proportions in the wake of the 2001 Anthrax attacks which justified the later passage of Cheney's 2004 Bioshield Act as well as the growth of the 320+ international bio labs run by the pentagon. Describing the conversion of bioweapons from the realm of terror to "a political useful tool", the authors state:

“Although it may take several decades for the process of transformation to unfold, in time, the art of warfare on air, land, and sea will be vastly different than it is today, and ‘combat’ likely will take place in new dimensions: in space, ‘cyber-space,’ and perhaps the world of microbes... Space itself will become a theater of war, as nations gain access to space capabilities and come to rely on them; further, the distinction between military and commercial space systems – combatants and non-combatants – will become blurred. Information systems will become an important focus of attack, particularly for U.S. enemies seeking to short-circuit sophisticated American forces. And advanced forms of biological warfare that can target specific genotypes may transform biological warfare from the realm of terror to a politically useful tool”

Back to Ukraine

How will the $45 billion Ukraine money burning project be used? That’s not so easy to say exactly?

What we do know is that $22.9 billion will go towards that Kiev will be expected to use to buy more weapons from private U.S.-based defense contractors and much of the rest will be enjoyed by NGOs and Non Profits which will more often than not be run by figures closely tied to those same creatures in the Washington swamp who voted for these bills.

These uncomfortable facts were outlined repeatedly by the oft-slandered republican Senator Marjorie Taylor Greene whose multiple attempts to create some form of oversight and auditing of the handouts to Ukraine have been met with absurd levels of resistance since the special operation was launched in February. Even when such operations as the FTX crypto exchange (a major partner to Kiev and the World Economic Forum) was discovered to be simply a money laundering outfit infusing vast sums into the coffers of the DNC that were tied to Ukrainian operations, hardly a single western Mockingbird press outlet made a peep.

As the Pentagon Papers and Hunter Biden Laptop reminded us, not only has Ukraine been run by a coterie of money laundering grifting politicians enjoying endless skimming off foreign aid (Pandora Papers revealed that both Zelensky and his billionaire handler Igor Kolomoisky were both tied to offshore shell companies representing hundreds of millions of dollars of stolen loot), but also energy firms like Burisma which has been caught extracting revenue from the Ukrainian people the way silk worm farmers extract silk.

And what happens if you find yourself among that precious minority of Republican or Independent voices of resistance to this new plunge into world war? Just ask Representative Matt Gaetz who has been called out alongside other patriots such as Jim Jordan and Lauren Boebert for not applauding Zelensky's pathetic speech in Congress this week. For the crime of keeping their hands from slapping in lock step with the rest of the congressional herd, NBC analysts like Michael Beschloss have attempted to stir up a McCarthy witch-hunt asking why these representatives refused to clap, asking:

"I'd like to know why that was for two reasons- Number one: You're a public servant, we're allowed to know those things. You're supposed to tell us if you're serving in Congress what the reason was. Do you love Putin, or are you just opposed to democracy, or is there something else?"

The fact that these figures even dared ask where graft was going probably touched a nerve too close to home with the Pentagon itself failing its fifth consecutive audit in November 2022 with over 65% of its assets and expenditures unaccounted for. That's right, the government 'lost track' of $2 trillion in 2022.

Will enough Americans wake up to the reality that they have been walking on the wrong side of history for far too long or has the point of no-return already been crossed?

There is no doubt now that Russia will defeat Ukraine and impose its terms. As Putin said a few weeks ago, it was his mistake to think he could trust the West to come to a reasonable agreement and he had no real choice but military defeat of its Ukrainian puppet. His shrewd foreign minister Lavrov pointed out that there was no point in discussions with the current American government. They have no understanding of war and even less of diplomacy.

But how will the United States respond to its dawning understanding that the years of US/NATO planning the Ukrainian Proxy War Angela Merkel recently revealed have not led to the collapse of Russian power and the overthrow of Putin, but the destruction and partition of Ukraine and the exposure of the American and NATO military challenge as vastly inferior to its reputation? This was a fear Biden actually exposed in his White House meeting during the Zelensky visit before Christmas.

By its total control of media the US/NATO could keep its populations learning of this catastrophe to Western power and pretensions for a considerable time. But the international effects will take place immediately.

American military planning was once world class. But who would plan a proxy war against Russia, one of the acknowledged masters of artillery with far better air defense technology than any in the West, and then equip our puppet Ukraine with inferior weapons and only enough ammunition to last six months? And surely American planners couldn't help knowing that there was no longer a manufacturing base for resupply, and NATO warehouses were practically empty?

President Volodymyr Zelensky signed a new bill into law that boosts Kiev's control over the public's access to news in Ukraine. Zelensky has already used his martial law powers to nationalize Ukraine's media.

According to the 'New York Times', the law expands Kiev's control over news outlets to print and online sources. In March, Zelensky nationalized broadcast media, effectively quashing dissent.

The Kyiv Independent explains the law will allow a governmental body to give licenses to outlets, any media organization without the proper paperwork can be shut down. The Kyiv Independent noted the body handing out the permits will be under total control of Zelensky.

According to Ukraine's Institute of Mass Information, under the law, the media regulator is likely to be controlled by the incumbent authorities because its members are appointed by Zelensky and the Ukrainian parliament, where his party has an absolute majority. We are seeing the real Zelensky' Nazi Fascist persona coming to light! That should be a blatant sign confirming U.S. support for a Nazi Fascist regime.

While Zelensky's power grabs throughout the 11-month conflict have largely gone ignored in the American mainstream press, the 'Times' covered calls from human rights groups to put down the law over fears that it will crush the free press.

The Committee to Protect Journalists and the European Federation of Journalists slammed the legislation while it was being debated. Subsequently, Ukraine's legislature stripped away some of the bill's more extreme measures. However, the law Zelensky signed will still give Kiev near total control over Ukraine's news media.

America is now scouring its junk pile for obsolete weapons that can never arrive in time anyway to bulk up Pentagon Ukrainian military aid lists along with manufacturing contracts for future supplies that are irrelevant and the Ukraine is digging steam locomotives out of museums to run on what is left of its rail system.

But the United States current leadership is a bunch of total idiots, blinded by ideology, arrogance and illusions of pursuing a “rule-based” global hegemony, an opportunity long passed, as our performance in this proxy war shows. The United States may have won the Cold War but it lost the peace. Its strategic thinking and its military is obsolete and configuration of both forces and equipment is based on assumptions from the past millennium. The battle for a Great Global Reset under a unipolar American hegemony has been lost as well. The World Economic Forum is now about as relevant as the Holy Roman Empire. All they can continue to do is terrorize the increasingly authoritarian states of the West with asinine policy proposals.

The attempt to destroy Russia prodded it into a burst of brilliant diplomacy and leadership by Putin and his team that has quietly established that the rest of the world prefers sovereignty and a multi-polar world. The post-Cold War “Pax Americana” as Larry Johnson has called it, is over. Historians of the future will study this period of history with fascination. Few times in history has such immense change happened so fast.

But how will the idiots in Washington react? Will they resort to some attempt to implement Petraeus’ “coalition of the willing” fabricated from some NATO troops and some of our own? Petraeus so far has had two significant ideas in his life: As a cadet he married his boss’s, the Superintendent of West Point’s, daughter, and choosing to desert his CIA men dying in Benghazi to avoid embarrassment of Obama and Hillary Clinton. Will a desperate US/NATO fabricate some cause and actually physically intervene to try to prevent the inevitable defeat of Ukraine?

There is a possible important talking point and it comes from Putin’s tactics in the Donbas. Why, if a great offensive to take the Donbas and breakout is about to begin, would the Russians be intensely fortifying the line they already hold? Could it be after the absurd Parthian shot pinpricks the CIA has been inflicting within Russia itself, the Russians have decided the US/NATO are just out of control enough to try a tactical nuke as well as a NATO force attack?

The next six months are likely to be the most hair-raising we have seen yet.

An air base deep in Russian territory has been attacked twice with drones in less than one month. It is not some remote outlying facility either. The air base near the city of Saratov houses nuclear-capable Russian strategic bomber aircraft.

The latest attack was on December 26 in which three Russian servicemen were killed from falling drone debris after the weapon was reportedly shot down. Saratov is 730 kilometers southeast of Moscow and hundreds of kilometers from the Ukrainian border.

On December 5, the air base was also targeted, again apparently by drones. On the same day, an air base at Rayazan less than 200 kilometers from Moscow was also attacked. The next day on December 6, a military facility at Kursk was targeted.

Ukrainian forces have not openly claimed responsibility for the attacks but there have been reports in the U.S. media hinting at that. The White House and State Department have both denied any American involvement, claiming that the U.S. has urged Ukraine not to strike Russian territory. "We are not encouraging Ukraine to strike beyond its borders," said Ned Price, the State Department spokesman.

Nevertheless, there is the huge question of how are drones making their way deep inside Russian territory to launch air strikes on strategic targets.

It seems implausible that offensive unmanned aerial vehicles could travel undetected for hundreds of kilometers over Russian airspace, and then mount attacks on highly sensitive military sites. More likely, the weapons have been activated near their intended targets.

A recent separate report by investigative reporter Jack Murphy may shed some light. He does not refer to the spate of drone attacks on Russian air bases. But he cites former U.S. intelligence agents who claim that the Central Intelligence Agency is running clandestine sabotage teams inside Russia.

According to the report, the CIA is working with a European NATO ally to activate sleeper cells that have infiltrated Russia with caches of weapons. There are no Americans on the ground and the purported liaison with the NATO ally's agents gives an extra layer of plausible deniability for Washington.

The reporter claims that the extra plausible deniability is a major factor that would enable U.S. President Joe Biden to approve of such provocative covert operations on Russian soil.

Lending credibility to such a scheme is numerous reports of mysterious explosions across Russia since it launched its special military operation in Ukraine back in February. Several military facilities have been destroyed by fires which Russian media have tended to report as due to unexplained accidents.

A Russian aerospace research institute in the city of Tver was set ablaze on April 21 in which several people were reportedly killed. Several other munition depots have also been hit with apparently freak accidental infernos.

Last week, on December 23, a military center in Moscow's Eastside was badly damaged by a major fire that burned for over four hours. The day before, Russia's sole aircraft carrier, Admiral Kuznetsov, was engulfed in flames while undergoing repairs docked in Murmansk.

What we are surmising here is that it is entirely plausible that a spate of deadly incidents at military facilities across Russia over the past year is no accidental coincidence but rather has been instigated as sabotage operations aimed at sowing confusion and logistical problems for Russia's campaign in Ukraine.

That pattern ties in with the above report claiming that the CIA has been busy infiltrating Russian territory along with a European NATO ally for this very purpose.

In particular, the attacks carried out on high-security air bases deep in Russia strongly suggest that the weapons used for such raids were already emplaced in Russia by the alleged CIA sleeper cells. It seems unlikely that drones could have traversed such long distances from Ukrainian territory deep inside Russia undetected.

The use of sabotage teams behind enemy lines is nothing new for the CIA in regard to Russia. Following the Second World War, the newly formed Central Intelligence Agency recruited Nazi intelligence officers and operatives to carry out terrorist attacks in Soviet territories. Hitler's top spymaster Lieutenant General Reinhard Gehlen and the Gehlen Organization became prized CIA assets following the war.

But it is significant that the CIA reportedly took a renewed active role in infiltrating Russia after the 2014 coup it helped orchestrate in Ukraine.

According to reporting by Jack Murphy: "The first of these sleeper cells under the combined control of the CIA and the allied spy service infiltrated into Russia in 2016, according to a former U.S. military official and a U.S. person who has been briefed on the campaign... After the 2016 infiltrations, more teams slipped into Russia over the next several years. Some smuggled in new munitions, while others have relied on the original caches, according to two former military officials and a person who has been briefed on the sabotage campaign."

What this means is that the U.S. war planners were fully anticipating the current proxy war in Ukraine against Russia.

This corroborates admissions by NATO chiefs and former German Chancellor Angela Merkel that the post-coup Kiev regime was prepped for war against Russia at least eight years prior to the eruption of hostilities in February 2022.

If indeed the CIA is behind the deeply penetrating attacks on Russia and President Biden has signed off on them, then that has grave implications for how this conflict can be resolved. It suggests that the United States has been systematically planning a war on Russia and is not simply reacting to Russia's operation in Ukraine by supplying defensive weapons.

In other words, Ukraine was put on a hair-trigger, set to go off as a cover for American aggression against Russia.

The Russian military, we are led to believe, are performing poorly in Ukraine and have suffered tens of thousands of deaths and casualties, beaten back by a 'superior' Ukrainian army equipped with Western (mostly U.S.) weapons.

That's the line we're being fed from the same corporate media outlets and globalist elites who stole Donald Trump's re-election and claimed that COVID-19 vaccines were 100 percent safe.

So it should come as no surprise that a newly published analysis is not only refuting all of the nonsense regarding Russia's alleged military ineptitude, but also points out that Moscow is dramatically expanding the size of its forces and is preparing to equip them with nuclear-capable missiles that are so fast there is no credible missile defense against them, not even the vaunted U.S.-built Patriot 3 or the Israeli Iron Dome systems.

"Russia announced yesterday that it will increase its military strength from 1 million to 1.5 million. The Western Press keeps putting out the propaganda that this is all because Russia has lost momentum and many soldiers in Ukraine," Martin Armstrong of Armstrong Economics noted this week. "I reported before that sources from Ukraine, not Russia, put the death toll at over 100,000 Ukrainian soldiers. That was also in the draft speech of the head of the EU, but it was removed to keep up the image that Ukraine is winning."

He went on to discuss other developments, including the U.S./NATO plan to dramatically expand certain militaries within the alliance — countries we know will fight if they have to (i.e. not Germany).

"What is not being said here is that Poland has been instructed by the US to increase its military from 100,000 to 250,000 making it the largest force in NATO. It is only a 14-hour drive from Warsaw to Moscow. This in addition to NATO's plans to incorporate Finland and Sweden, has also played a role in this decision," Armstrong noted further.

Continuing, he pointed out that Russian Defense Minister Sergei Shoigu announced, with President Vladimir Putin's blessing of course, an increase in the size of the Russian military, from 1 million personnel to 1.5 million, a massive 50 percent increase, "to guarantee the fulfillment of tasks to ensure Russia's security."

For some perspective, Armstrong pointed out that "China has about 2 million and the USA has about 1.4 million," while "North Korea has 1,280,000 active with another 600,000 in reserve" and "Belarus has an army of only 62,000 with 344,750 in reserve."

His figures for the U.S. military are off, however; his 1.4 million figures is the current active duty component. There are about 800,000 reservists, not all of whom are 'ready reserve.'

Still, his point is taken: Russia is ramping up, and they are getting ready to deploy a legitimate super weapon that cannot be stopped.

“Currently in Russia, the regular draft calls up 120,000 to 140,000 men twice a year for a one-year tour of compulsory service,” Armstrong writes. “What is becoming very obvious is that the West wants war. There is no desire for peace whatsoever. This has changed the game.”

He then went on to lambast the corrupt Western media.

“The Western Press keeps just putting out propaganda about Ukraine winning, while it is ignoring the mobilization of NATO which is clearly anticipating war,” he said. “This is not going to be just about Ukraine as we head into 2023. You have to be blind not to see that the West is clearly preparing for war.”

“This is what Russia is now responding to. With Poland raising its army to 250,000, that presents a serious threat to Russia,” he noted further.

At the same time, Armstrong points out that Putin’s military is studying the performance of the U.S. weapons systems being given to Ukraine so as to modernize their own forces, though again, Ukraine is not getting the best systems the U.S. military possesses. Still, it’s a lesson that Putin is taking in.

Finally, he notes “that Russia will start to deploy more hypersonic weapons, noting that the first warship equipped with state-of-the-art Zircon hypersonic missiles will be commissioned by the navy next month”. There is no question that defense against Russia’s hypersonic weapons is likely not possible.

“Russia has been using some hypersonic missiles in Ukraine. It is believed among our sources that this may have been more to intimidate NATO and the United States,” he added.

The only thing that can stop a hypersonic missile is a faster one or, preferably, laser weapons, which travel at the speed of light — the fastest known mode of travel in our world.

In a previous segment of this series I shared the Cloward and Piven strategy to overload a nation to its breaking point. A significant external exploiter of the Cloward and Piven strategy has been the Vatican and the American Council of Bishops in the U.S.

Assuming that it costs $50K per year per soldier, the cost to protect a 2000 mile border with 2 twelve-hour shifts of one soldier per quarter mile of border would be $80 Billion dollars. Now add up the costs from the map, and you come up with over $85 Billion! So, it’s costing at least $5 Billion a year to subsidize illegal immigration. These numbers on both sides are conservative and the former does not necessarily take into account the social costs of illegal immigration. One soldier per quarter mile is likely more than we need, and there are probably some stretches of border that need much less coverage because of its remoteness and harsh conditions. Therefore the $5 Billion SAVINGS figure could easily balloon to $10 Billion or more, and that would conservatively save the average family over $135 a year not to mention the peace of mind of a lower crime rate, the preservation of America's culture, economy and a stronger educational system.

Now, add to that the federal cost of illegal immigration, and it's another $30 Billion dollars for a total of $115 Billion!

If drones and satellite coverage were employed, that might reduce the need for a lot of feet on the ground, It might save another $20 – $30 Billion dollars so the average family is unburdened to the tune of close to $300 a year. If our government is so corrupt – don't think for a moment this isn't engineered; then think how much more waste there is in the military, welfare, education, medical care, retirement (Social Security) etc. etc. If honest Constitutional government were restored, it would reduce the average family's tax burden by ten thousand dollars or more. Many taxes are not seen directly. Gas tax, excise tax, inflation etc.

The above chart shows what each state spends to pay for its illegal immigrants. All combined, the U.S. taxpayer pays $84-billion dollars to subsidize its illegal population. This is what I would refer to as asymmetrical warfare to overwhelm your enemy. It is the Vatican and the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops that is behind the illegal!

Throughout this series, I have provided previously unknown information and history on how the Nazi Third Reich fled Germany to new homes in the West, South America, and even the United States. The fact is Nazi Fascists and the Roman Catholic church were partners in crime in their efforts to destroy Russia and the Orthodox Church based in Russia. What follows is another thread of this morphing into the U.S. to bring about the 4th Reich that would be used to take-over the world for the Vatican. The Papacy referred to the Jesuit Order as the Pope's Marines, a well-earned title to describe his "Attack Dogs" created to stomp out the Reformation of 1513.

What if I were to tell you that Hitler's Third Reich never went away?

What if I were to inform you that all the evil dastardly things that the Nazis did to humanity back in World War II are actually being repeated today on a much grander scale? And what if I were to disclose to you that all the deceptive tactics that were used to dupe the German people the first time, are actually being used on the world today with even more devastating and mesmerizing effects? Well, believe it or not, all this and much more, including another human holocaust, is not only happening, but it's well underway.

Who would have thought, in a relatively short amount of time, that history would be repeating itself with the rise of another even larger Hitlerian Regime on the planet? What Klaus Schwab and his evil gang of Global Elites have planned for us is much grander and wider than what Hitler ever planned to do, with even deadlier results.

Modern secular historians totally fail to understand the unique Satanic phenomenon that possessed and empowered Adolf Hitler, his Nazi Religion and World War II. This video proves that Adolf Hitler was a perfect type of the coming Biblical Antichrist.

Hitler drew upon the most powerful and most destructive Satanic power which the Evil One can command. That power was unleashed through the Nordic pagan religion known as 'Blood Sacrifice of the Soil'.

Most importantly we examine what all this means for us today? We begin to connect the dots from Nazi Germany to today. How can studying the life of Hitler help prepare us for a world ruler to come. How does the Bible help us unravel the mysteries of history?

The Revelations of Otto Skorzeny
Martin Bormann: Reichsleiter in Exile & American Retiree

By Ken Adachi, Editor

<http://educate-yourself.org/cn/martinbormannphotostocompare02jul07.shtml#top>

July 2, 2007

The Revelations of Otto Skorzeny, Part 1: Martin Bormann, Reichsleiter in Exile & American Retiree \(July 6, 2007\)

Translated by native speakers:

In 1998, 29 year old Eric Berman of Florida began dating a local girl whose 6'- 4" ninety year old father possessed "the largest hands I'd ever shaken," he said. Over time, "Big Ed," as he was known locally, revealed to the younger man that his real name was Otto Skorzeny, legendary SS \(Schutzstaffel\) commando of World War II fame, personal bodyguard to Adolf Hitler, and subsequent life-long CIA operative. But that was just the beginning.

In the months prior to Skorzeny's death in December of 1999, Skorzeny revealed to Berman some of the most mind boggling information ever made available concerning the whereabouts and activities of major personalities of the Third Reich who were either declared dead by historians or otherwise reported to have been living in undisclosed locations abroad .

Skorzeny's lifelong circle of intimate associates-many living in the United States-included Martin Bormann, Josef Mengele, Alois Brunner, Walter Rauff, and Reinhard Gehlen. An even more surprising revelation from Skorzeny, however, involved two domestic Nazis operatives, both well known to the American public: Prescott Sheldon Bush and his "son", George Herbert Walker Bush, the 41st President of the United States.

To buttress his story, Skorzeny produced a shoebox filled with over one hundred photographs spanning a period of more than sixty years and gave them to Berman. The photos were of the usual family poses taken at weddings, anniversaries, holidays, or family reunions in the decades between the 1930's and the 1990's, but what made these photos highly extraordinary was the identity of the individuals seen within those photographs. The shoebox photos show Otto Skorzeny posing with the above named Third Reich personalities, along with additional photographs showing Skorzeny posing with Prescott Bush, his wife, Dorothy Walker Bush, and their son, George Herbert Walker Bush. To say that Berman was in the "right place, at the right time" and was handed what may turn out to be the biggest story to ever come down the pike, is the understatement of the century.

Following Skorzeny's death on December 31, 1999, Berman gathered additional information about Skorzeny's Nazi cohorts and put the entire story -together with 60 or 70 of Skorzeny's shoe box photos- into a copyrighted unpublished manuscript called The Bush Connection.

Skorzeny told Bermen that his motive for revealing his information was to exact revenge against George Bush, along with his former Nazi cohorts, for cheating him out of large sums of money during his lifetime. Skorzeny apparently knew he was going to die and felt that Eric Bermen- who is Jewish-would get out the story (it's hard to know for certain if this is the true and only motivation for Skorzeny's revelations. While it sounds logical and typical of human behavior, you would think that Skorzeny would be concerned about his wife and kids after he was gone. It's possible that the revenge angle may be the cover story for a much deeper plot. Considering the vast power that Martin Bormann and the Bormann Organization held with many of the biggest corporations around the globe (over 750), it could be that Bormann and the other aging Nazis may want the story out, as a testament to their Triumph of the Will, so to speak. The late Paul Manning suggested such a recognition/legacy scenario in his 1981 book, Martin Bormann, Nazi in Exile, but this is merely speculation on my part. Revenge alone may have been Skorzeny's primary motivation).

Skorzeny published books about his World War II exploits in varied editions starting in 1950. Some of the more explosive highlights of Skorzeny's revelations include:

1. The true identity and Nazi-planned subversive mission of George Herbert Walker Bush, 41st President of the United States; alleged to have been brought into America (with Skorzeny as his body guard) and covertly adopted by Trading-with-The-Enemy convicted Prescott Bush. Skorzeny claimed that GHW Bush's real birth name was George H. Scherff, Jr., son of George Scherff, Sr., German born assistant to inventor Nikola Tesla. Young George allegedly spent his first years in America snooping around Tesla's lab, helping his supposed (George Scherff Sr.) in the 1930's steal or glean whatever they could of Tesla's work and report back to Germany. Tesla had casually remarked to an artisan couple named Rey who had recently emigrated to the United States, of the mischievous and devious prying nature of a "little monkey" around his lab whom he had dubbed "curious George." This character would later become the basis of the children's book series, "Curious George"
2. Skorzeny's role (with Reinhard Gehlen) in the assassination of Nikola Tesla (suffocation) on January 6, 1943 after tricking Tesla on January 5 into revealing the full details of his most important discoveries and then stealing his most valuable inventions, along with the contents of his safe, which were delivered to Hitler,
3. The faked April 1945 "suicide" of Hitler in the Berlin bunker (corroborating the 1948 CIA interrogation of Gestapo Chief Heinrich Mueller, the Nordon Report, and the Russian 1946 Investigative Committee report to Stalin)
4. Skorzeny's pivotal role in consolidating the intelligence assets of the Nazi Gestapo and the Nazi-infiltrated OSS (Office of Strategic Services) into the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) in 1947, working with George Herbert Walker Bush (Nazi infiltrator George H. Scherff, Jr.), Nazi SS spy master Reinhard Gehlen, "Wild Bill" Donovan (compromised), and fifth columnist, Allen Foster Dulles. Skorzeny claimed central responsibility for setting up the Odessa operation to surreptitiously relocate 50,000 Nazis into North and South America with CIA complicity and protection,

5. Skorzeny's claim that Reinhard Gehlen, Josef Mengele, and George HW Bush directly participated in JFK's assassination and other Nazi-inspired plots which I won't list here, but are explored more completely in Eric Berman's The Bush Connection CD.

Don Nicoloff published an extremely thorough and well researched treatise in two parts in April 2007 in the (Idaho Observer titled "Deathbed Confessions, photos support claims that George H. Scherff\(f\), Jr., was the 41st U.S. president") Don takes the Berman/Skorzeny information to a much higher level of investigative research. In a recent phone conversation, Don told me that he was working on the Bush/Walker genealogy deception for nearly a year before discovering Eric Berman's astounding information. With Skorzeny's revelations, he was able to nail down many loose ends and has put together the most damning evidence to date that Prescott Sheldon Bush and George Herbert Walker Bush (and other members of the Bush/Walker clans) are not who they claim to be and are in fact German born infiltrators and fifth columnists secreted into America. The Skorzeny photo seen at the top of Don Nicoloff's article may prove to be the most important photo of the entire Skorzeny collection; perhaps the Photo of the Century. It's shows a circa 1929 "family" group pose taken in a home in Germany owned by the Scherff family that purports to include Martin Bormann, Reinhard Gehlen, Josef Mengele, Otto Skorzeny, George H. Scherff, Jr (aka, George HW Bush), Prescott Bush, "Mother" Scherff , and likely Dorothy Walker Bush (I will present another article, Part 2, dealing with the personalities seen within this photograph).

If you search the name "Otto Skorzeny" on the internet, historical archives will indicate that he died in Madrid, Spain in 1975, but .Skorzeny told Berman that the date of his supposed death in 1975 was faked by the CIA, as were the supposed "deaths" of many of the Third Reich's most notable names. The Third Reich intelligence apparatus, under General Reinhard Mueller, towards the end of the war, faked many "deaths" as well, in anticipation of losing World War II. Martin Bormann went so far as to have a look-alike prisoner in one of the Nazi concentration camps fitted with the exact dental work that Bormann had so that they could use this person's body to fake the "forensic dental evidence" of Bormann's death-which is exactly what was perpetrated in the news in 1972 and again in 1998.

Martin Bormann

No central figure of the Third Reich has generated more speculation and controversy than Reichleiter Martin Bormann. He proved to be the most cunning, capable, and intelligent master chess player of the Third Reich. Towards the latter half of the war, no one could get to see Hitler without Bormann's approval. Hitler invested his total trust in Bormann alone and assigned to Bormann full control of the Third Reich in his Last Will signed in the final days at the Berlin bunker. Bormann came to realize that Germany could not win the war and made extensive preparations to export Third Reich brain power, personnel, stolen assets and technological secrets out of Germany before the allies could seize them.

Comparing Third Reich Photos of Bormann to Skorzeny's Photos
The first three rows of photos below are official Third Reich photos taken off the internet of Martin Bormann in the 1930's and 1940's in which I've cropped Bormann's head to fill most of the frame. Following these nine photographs, there are five rows of head-cropped photographs from Otto Skorzeny's shoe box collection available from Eric Bermen's CD that Skorzeny claimed are photos of the same Martin Bormann. In each of Skorzeny's photos, I cropped out and magnified the head area alone of the man that Skorzeny claims is Martin Bormann. Skorzeny told Bermen that Bormann used the alias of "Ed Kobylarz".

The first thing you should note is that a smiling Martin Bormann presents a much different appearance than a closed mouth, unsmiling, serious, Aryan tough guy pose that the Nazis wanted to project in their official photographs. The last photo (3rd row) of the official, Third Reich Bormann photos shows Bormann smiling while standing next to Hitler and looking down at the papers in Hitler's hands. Notice how the appearance of his teeth -especially the gaps between his teeth (the central gap being the widest)- seem to match perfectly the gaps seen in the teeth of Bormann as a boy of 10 or 11 years of age in the first row of Skorzeny's cropped photos.

In the two Skorzeny cropped black and white photos of Bormann with glasses, you will notice that this man looks YOUNGER than the Third Reich Bormann of the 1930's and 1940's, however, Skorzeny told Bermen that Mengele and Bormann had multiple facelifts and plastic surgeries and this may account for the more youthful appearance. The gaps in Bormann's teeth seem to remain unchanged. You can decide for yourself whether Skorzeny's photos are of the Reichleiter or not, but you should bear in mind that most of Skorzeny's photos which included Bormann, also included Skorzeny, Reinhard Gehlen, Alois Brunner, Josef Mengele and Walter Rauff. Skorzeny, Brunner, and Gehlen are easy to recognize from their Nazi era photographs and apparently have not had any plastic surgery done to alter their appearance. Mengele, Rauff and Bormann are harder to identify with certainty from their Nazi era photos. All dates indicated for the Skorzeny photos are taken from Eric Bermen's CD, The Bush Connection. I cannot guarantee that they are accurate. The 21st century dates shown for Bormann photos after Skorzeny's death in December of 1999 don't make sense to me, but I'm reporting what's stated on the Berman CD.

Official Third Reich photos of Martin Bormann

from 1939 Nazi Calendar
Hitler at Berchtesgarden

April 20, 1938 birthday party for Hitler

Pose with

Skorzeny's photos below:
As a boy, perhaps 10 or 11 years old With German Navy seaman's uniform) 1930's Christmas party (with other top Nazis)

Date unknown (likely 1950s) Wedding day (late 1950s?)

Bormann's paradoxically youthful appearance following World War II: Judging from the black and white photos seen above, Bormann seems to look much younger than his Nazi era photographs. Compare his wedding day picture holding his new bride ([the original photo has automobiles in the background that look to be of mid-1950 to late 1950 vintage) and the 1930s Christmas party. photo seen in the row immediately above. There is approximately a 20 year difference between the late 1930s Christmas party photo and the wedding day photo of the late 1950s, yet Bormann looks to be about the same age.

Eric Bermen has tried to account for this paradox by speculating that Bormann was born closer to 1920 rather than 1900, but that's not possible based on reasons given below. Bermen also mentions plastic surgery courtesy of the CIA and that's always possible. However, Al Bielek may have provided the key to this mystery by mentioning in his lectures that the top players in the Third Reich had access to alien-based age regression technology as early as the mid-1930s (as well as flying saucers). This shouldn't be too hard to believe since Frenchman Antoine Prioré (with French government underwriting) had developed an age regression machine (based on reverse phase conjugation) in the late 60s and early 70s that could reverse disease conditions in animals (and later humans) by reverse aging the cells of the body back to an earlier point in time, when the cells were free of the disease. If you were to subject an entire human body to this technology, the entire body would naturally move back in time to an earlier point of youth. I'm only speculating of course, but I believe this is what happened to both Bormann and Mengele at least, as they both look much, much younger than their chronological age. Mind you, Bormann and Mengele are likely still alive today, in the year 2008. They would both be around 108 years old....Ken]

Wedding Day with new wife (ca. late 1950s) 1974 posing with wife (see full size original photo here)

1974 (standing next to his wife) 1979 (wedding reception August 11, 1979

April 3, 1983 (Easter) 1986 Boynton Beach, Florida October 23, 1989
(Boynton Beach Inlet, Florida)

October 1998

September 30, 2000

June 2003

January 2003 2003 "Ed Kobylarz" 2003

Eric Berman's Role

We wouldn't be seeing these amazing photographs, nor be privy to Skorzeny's incredible revelation had Skorzeny not revealed this information to Eric Berman. Skorzeny's revelations and photos present a sea change in our historical perceptions of what actually happened to these top echelon players of the Third Reich.

Eric spent his time between December 31, 1999, the given date of Skorzeny's death, and 2005, the year he produced the photos, to gather further details about Skorzeny's Third Reich pals. In some cases, Eric has ventured speculations concerning the birth dates of Bormann or Mengele, where he jumps to illogical conclusions. For instance, Eric speculates that Bormann was born closer to 1920, rather than 1900 (official birth date June 17, 1900, Wegeleben, Prussia, Germany). That's impossible, as Bormann was imprisoned in 1924 (for one year) along with Rudolf Hess for the brutal murder of Bormann's elementary school teacher, Walther Kadow.

(In checking Berman's text concerning Bormann from page 36 of his pdf, against material posted to the internet, I noticed that Eric often cuts and paste the text from other internet articles into his own, so you don't know what Berman originated and what he copied. As a writer whose words have often been plagiarized by internet copy cats, I have little patience with people who do that. So in fairness to the original author, I've posted the original source material below Berman's page 36 account on Bormann)

Al Bielek indicated in his lectures that the top Nazis had access to alien rejuvenation technology since the mid-1930s. It's not an accident of Nature that all of Skorzeny's Third Reich cohorts, including Adolf Hitler (alias "William Coates"), were alive and kicking in the late 20th century when many of these photos were taken. When you see Part 3 of the Skorzeny revelation centering on Josef Mengele, you will be amazed to see that Mengele looks like a man in his late 50s or early 60s from photos that were taken as late as 2003.

Excerpt about Martin Bormann from page 36 of the The Bush Connection:

"Hitler's plan was to have young SS Nazis run the Third Reich, in hopes that they would live long enough to start the Fourth Reich or New World Order in America in the year 2004."⁽²⁸⁾

Bormann was one of Hitler's "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse", George Bush, Mengele, and Gehlen were the other three. Skorzeny was the unofficial Fifth Horseman.⁽²⁹⁾ The son of a former Prussian regimental Sergeant-Major who later became a post-office employee, Bormann dropped out of school to work on a farming estate in Mecklenburg. Bormann joined the rightist Rossbach Freikorps in Mecklenburg and was connected with the so-called 'Femme' murders. He was diligent, adaptable and efficient, began his silent, imperceptible rise to the center of the power apparatus, slowly acquiring master of the bureaucratic mechanism and Hitler's personal trust. He developed and administered the Adolf Hitler Endowment Fund of German industry, a huge fund of 'voluntary' contributions by successful business entrepreneurs to the Fuhrer, which Bormann then reallocated as gifts to almost all the top Party functionaries.

By the end of 1944, Bormann was virtually Hitler's deputy and his closest collaborator, showing an uncanny ability to exploit his weaknesses and personal peculiarities in order to increase his own power. Always in attendance to the Fuhrer, he took care of tiresome administrative detail and skillfully steered Hitler into approval of his own schemes, Bormann acquired the inside track for displacing dangerous rivals like Goering, Goebbels, Speer and even Himmler whose access to the Fuhrer was controlled by Bormann.

Bormann exploited his position of trust to build a Chinese wall against reality, in which Hitler could indulge his fantasies and in which more sensible, conciliatory proposals from other members of the Party, were screened from him. Bormann reduced everything to simple, administrative formulae that freed Hitler from the burdens of paper work. He drew up his appointments calendar and decided whom he should see and whom he should not. Hitler rewarded these and other services by the trust he placed in Bormann, whom he once called 'my most loyal Party comrade'. He was made executive head of the Volkssturm, the desperate levy en masse of the German civilian population organized as the Allies stood poised to invade the Reich.

By now virtually the secret ruler of Germany, Bormann did not cease his Machiavellian bureaucratic intrigues against his rivals. As a result of his machinations Hitler dismissed Goering; and Himmler's influence was severely curtailed. It was the indispensable Bormann, the most mysterious and sinister figures in the Third Reich, who signed Hitler's political testament, who acted as the witness to his marriage to Eva Braun and (supposedly) watched his Fuhrer commit suicide in the Chancellery bunker.

Ordered by Hitler 'to put the interests of the nation before his own feelings' and to save himself, Bormann left the Fuhrerbunker on 30 April 1945. Accounts of what happened afterwards vary widely. According to Erich Kempka (Hitler's chauffeur), Bormann was killed trying to cross the Russian lines by an anti-tank shell which hit the tank in which they were trying to escape, causing it to burst into flames. Kempka, who was temporarily blinded at the time, claimed nonetheless to have seen Bormann's dead body. Hitler Youth Leader, Artur Axmann, on the other hand, believed that Bormann committed suicide and claimed to have seen Bormann's body on 2 May 1945 in the Invalidenstrasse, north of the River Spree in Berlin.

Doubts, however, have persisted and numerous sightings of Bormann have been reported, beginning in 1946 when his presence in a North Italian monastery was announced. In the same year, his wife Gerda (a rabid Nazi and daughter of Supreme Party Judge, Walter Buch) died of cancer in South Tyrol, though his ten children survived the war. It was then alleged that Bormann had escaped (like other loyal Nazis) via Rome to South America.

Rumored to have settled in Argentina where he was living secretly as a millionaire, allegedly spotted in Brazil and also in Chile, Bormann's traces proved as elusive as the anonymity in which he first rose to power. Having been sentenced to death in absentia at Nuremberg on October 1, 1946, he was formally pronounced dead by a West German court in April 1973, but his precise fate remains unknown.⁽³⁰⁾

The CIA's story is nonsense. He is alive & they are still protecting him!

Bormann is still alive and funneling billions of stolen Jewish Holocaust dollars into anti-freedom, anti-Jewish, anti-black, prolife, anti-gun, conservative New World Order Republican campaigns, like Bush Jr. Also, Neo-Nazi fundamentalist, conservative, right-wing, Christian Coalition, anti-freedom groups like the abortion doctor killer supporters "Operation Rescue", The Brotherhood of Aryan Nations "organized crime" hate group," the KKK and C.I.A. sponsored Al Qaeda Terrorist Cells.⁽³¹⁾"

ORION [Eric Berman]

Posted at: <http://www.geocities.com/CapitolHill/Congress/2106/bios/bormann.htm>

Martin Bormann

Date of Birth: June 17, 1900

Place of Birth: Halberstadt, Germany

Rank: Reichsleiter

Position: Head of the Party Chancellery and private secretary of the Fuhrer

Place of Death: Unknown

Date of Death: 1972

Martin was a son of a former Prussian regimental sergeant-major who later became a post-office employee, Bormann dropped out of school to work on a farming estate in Mecklenburg. After serving briefly as a cannoneer in a field artillery regiment at the end of World War I, Bormann subsequently joined the rightist Rossbach Freikorps in Mecklenburg and was connected with the so-called 'Feme' murders.

In March 1924 he was sentenced to one year's imprisonment as an accomplice of Rudolf Hess in the brutal, vengeance murder of Walther Kadow (his former teacher at elementary school), who had supposedly betrayed the proto-Nazi martyr Leo Schlageter to the French occupation authorities in the Ruhr.

After his release he entered the NSDAP, becoming its regional press officer in Thuringia and then business manager in 1928. From 1928 to 1930 he was attached to the SA Supreme Command and in October 1933 he became a Reichsleiter of the NSDAP. A month later he was elected as a Nazi delegate to the Reichstag. From July 1933 until 1941 Bormann was the Chief of Cabinet in the Office of the Deputy Fuhrer, Rudolf Hess, acting as his personal secretary and right-hand man.

During this period, the 'model secretary', diligent, adaptable and efficient, began his silent, imperceptible rise to the center of the power apparatus, slowly acquiring master of the bureaucratic mechanism and Hitler's personal trust. He developed and administered the Adolf Hitler Endowment Fund of German industry, a huge fund of 'voluntary' contributions by successful business entrepreneurs to the Fuhrer, which Bormann then reallocated as gifts to almost all the top Party functionaries.

In addition to administering Hitler's personal finances, buying the Berghof at Berchtesgaden and running it as well as the whole complex of properties on the Obersalzberg, Bormann acquired the power to control the living standards of Gauleiters and Reichsleiters, not to speak of members of the Fuhrer's intimate circle. Bormann's brutality, coarseness, lack of culture and his apparent insignificance led the Nazi Old Guard to underestimate his silent persistence and ability to make himself indispensable.

Rudolf Hess's flight to Britain opened the way for the 'Brown Eminence' to step into his shoes on 12 May 1941 as head of the Parteikanzlei and to gather the reins of the Party into his own hands and steadily undermine all his rivals for power. Until the end of the war, the short, squat Bormann, working in the anonymity of his seemingly unimportant office, proved himself a master of intrigue, manipulation and political in-fighting. Always the 'narrow Party man' and a fierce guardian of Nazi orthodoxy (he was an arch-fanatic when it came to racial policy, anti-Semitism and the Kirchenkampf [war between the churches]), Bormann strengthened the position of the Party against the Wehrmacht and the SS, and increased his grip on domestic policy.

Increasingly he controlled all questions concerning the security of the regime, acts of legislation, appointments and promotions, especially if they concerned Party personnel. He also established espionage in the army, getting younger officers promoted to spy on the political attitudes of their colleagues. He reopened the fight against the Christian churches, declaring in a confidential memo to Gauleiters in 1942 that their power 'must absolutely and finally be broken'. Nazism, based as it was on a 'scientific' world-view, was completely incompatible with Christianity whose influence was regarded by Bormann as a serious obstacle to totalitarian rule. The sharpest anti-cleric in the Nazi leadership (he collected all the files of cases against the clergy that he could lay his hands on), Bormann was the driving force of the Kirchenkampf, which Hitler for tactical reasons had wished to postpone until after the war.

Bormann was invariably the advocate of extremely harsh, radical measures when it came to the treatment of Jews, of the conquered eastern peoples or prisoners of war. He signed the decree of 9 October 1942 prescribing that 'the permanent elimination of the Jews from the territories of Greater Germany can no longer be carried out by emigration but by the use of ruthless force in the special camps of the East'. A further decree, signed by Bormann on 1 July 1943, gave Adolf Eichmann absolute powers over Jews, who now came under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Gestapo.

Bormann's memos concerning the Slavs make it clear that he regarded them as a 'Sovietized mass' of sub- humans who had no claim to national independence. In a brutal memo of 19 August 1942 he wrote: 'The Slavs are to work for us. In so far as we do not need them, they may die. Slav fertility is not desirable.'

By the end of 1942 Bormann was virtually Hitler's deputy and his closest collaborator, showing an uncanny ability to exploit his weaknesses and personal peculiarities in order to increase his own power. Always in attendance on the Fuhrer, taking care of tiresome administrative detail and skilfully steering Hitler into approval of his own schemes, Bormann acquired the inside track for displacing dangerous rivals like , Goebbels, Speer and even Eva Braun and watched his Fuhrer commit suicide in the Chancellery bunker. Ordered by Hitler 'to put the interests of the nation before his own feelings' and to save himself, Bormann left the Fuhrerbunker on 30 April 1945. Accounts of what happened afterwards vary widely.

According to Erich Kempka (Hitler's chauffeur), Bormann was killed trying to cross the Russian lines by an anti-tank shell which hit the tank in which they were trying to escape, causing it to burst into flames. Kempka, who was temporarily blinded at the time, claimed nonetheless to have seen Bormann's dead body. Hitler Youth Leader, Artur Axmann, on the other hand, believed that Bormann committed suicide and claimed to have seen Bormann's body on 2 May 1945 in the Invalidenstrasse, north of the River Spree in Berlin.

Doubts, however, have persisted and numerous sightings of Bormann have been reported, beginning in 1946 when his presence in a North Italian monastery was announced. In the same year, his wife Gerda (a rabid Nazi and daughter of Supreme Party Judge, Walter Buch) died of cancer in South Tyrol, though his ten children survived the war. It was then alleged that Bormann had escaped (like other loyal Nazis) via Rome to South America. Rumored to have settled in Argentina where he was living secretly as a millionaire, allegedly spotted in Brazil and also in Chile, Bormann's traces proved as elusive as the anonymity in which he first rose to power.

Having been sentenced to death in absentia at Nuremberg on 1 October 1946, he was formally pronounced dead by a West German court in April 1973 but his precise fate remains unknown.

Study these two photos very closely. Take your time and look at them carefully. The photo on the left is a cropped and enlarged section of a Christmas time photo taken in the early 1930s in a private home in Germany owned by the mother of George Scherff Sr. The boy seen in the sailor suit is around 11 years old. The photo on the right was taken on March 7, 1949 in Midland, Texas showing the family of Prescott Bush standing in front of a prop driven passenger airplane. George Herbert Walker Bush is about 30 or 31 years old in this photo. Now, ask yourself: are the same people posing in both photographs?

If your answer is "yes", then the photo on the left is the most incriminating and explosive photograph to have surfaced in the history of the United States - for reasons that will soon become apparent I used PhotoShop to erase or 'white out' the faces of three other people in the cropped photo on the left so you could concentrate on the three individuals of interest. The full sized photo from which I made this cropped section is seen further below.

I first saw this photo in early May of 2007. Someone had sent me a link to an eye-opening article written by Don Nicoloff and printed in the April edition of The Idaho Observer. Don reviewed the amazing story of Eric Bermen and how he came to possess a shoe box full of photos given to him by Otto Skorzeny: Hitler's bodyguard, super commando, intelligence agent, assassin, and co-organizer - with Allen Dulles, George HW Bush, Bill Donovan, and Reinhard Gehlen - of the Central Intelligence Agency.

I first alluded to the Otto Skorzeny photographs given to Eric in a photo essay that I posted on May 20, 2007 called "Mystery 'Person' from a September 1, 1944 Wartime Photograph \(May 20, 2007\) ." Since posting that article, I've had a chance to talk with Don Nicoloff on 4 or 5 occasions, and Mama Mia, can that guy dig up information! I've never met a person who has such an uncanny ability to ferret out widely divergent, yet incriminating and corroborative truckloads of evidence to buttress his contentions. You'd think he had access to the data banks of the NSA, CIA, and ONI combined. Don tells me that he's led by "intuitive hunches". If that's the case, then Don Nicoloff 's intuition is running on high octane-and in a Ferrari (Don Nicoloff is also now hosting his own internet radio show <http://educate-yourself.org/cn/donnicoloffradioshow26nov07.shtml>) I over-viewed the Eric Bermen/Otto Skorzeny story in greater detail in an article I titled, The Revelations of Otto Skorzeny, Part 1: Martin Bormann, Reichsleiter in Exile & American Retiree \(July 6, 2007\) posted last month. I included 24 cropped 'head shots' of Martin Borman, some of them taken from official Nazi era photos, but the majority taken from Skorzeny's shoe box photos.

The original circa 1929 "Christmas time group photo" (seen immediately below) made available by Skorzeny is somewhat washed out in color and contrast, so I enhanced (and slightly enlarged) the image in PhotoShop for greater clarity and contrast in the second copy. I then used arrows in the third copy to point out the individuals identified by Bermen.

1.

2,

3.

Otto Skorzeny told Eric Bermen that George Scherff Jr, identified in the above photo, and George Herbert Walker Bush, the 41st President of the United States, are one and the same person. After reading Don Nicoloff's article, I was initially under the impression that George Scherff Sr. and Prescott Bush were two different men, but as I look at these photos, it seems to me that Prescott Sheldon Bush and George Scherff Sr. may be the same person. And I think it's beyond coincidence that the woman sitting in front of George Scherff Sr. in the above photo, looks astonishingly similar to Dorothy Wear Walker Bush (about 37 years old in this photo), who in 1949 is photographed standing in front of an airplane with her husband, Prescott S. Bush, and her son, George H.W. Bush (or is it George H. Scherff Jr.?).

George Herbert Walker Bush's official biography says he was born on June 12, 1924 in Milton, Massachusetts. But if this photo proves that he was wearing a German academy Navy uniform, sitting in the same room with Martin Bormann, Otto Skorzeny, Reinhard Gehlen, and Joseph Mengele at Christmas time in 1929, then there's no reason to doubt that both his birth date and his birth country records had been forged.

What do you think?

The United States — as announced last month — began to send new B61-12 nuclear bombs to Italy and other European countries. A U.S. Air Force Department official document confirms this.

The document establishes “safety rules for C-17 airlift operations transporting B61-12 weapons in the U.S. European Command area of responsibility.” That area, in the Pentagon’s geography, includes not only Europe but the entire Russian Federation.

The document specifies which nuclear weapons are carried on C-17 Globemasters, the largest U.S. military transport aircraft. The airplane carries the B61-12 nuclear bombs from the United States to Europe and from Europe to the United States the bombs replacing the B61-3, B61-4, and B61-7. In fact, a single B61-12 has four power options depending on the target to be hit. The C-17 Globemaster’s — the document again specifies — also carry other nuclear weapons: the B61-11, W78, W80-1, B83-1, and W87-0.

The safety standards listed in the document confirm the dangerous nature of loading, transporting, and unloading nuclear weapons. There may be “the likelihood of fire from an aircraft with nuclear weapons on board” and a failure of the aircraft while in flight that forces “an emergency landing” or the “release of nuclear weapons”.

The deployment on our national territory of the new U.S. nuclear bombs — first-strike weapons with precision guidance and anti-bunker capabilities, with which F-35 fighter jets, in particular, will be equipped — exposes Italy to the front lines of the increasingly dangerous confrontation between NATO and Russia. In doing so, Italy violates the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons, ratified in 1975, which states, “Each of the militarily non-nuclear states undertakes not to receive from anyone nuclear weapons, directly or indirectly.”

The episode closes with an interview with Vladimir Kozin, one of Russia’s leading experts on politico-military issues, and historian Franco Cardini on the silence of the Italian government and parliament and the historical phase we are living through.

Need I say more that the U.S. “Biden” regime is weeks away at most before it launches its effort to destroy Russia and more particularly, the Russian Orthodox Church. The Orthodox Church observes Christmas on the Julian calendar, and this year it will be January 7th, 2023. The Biden regime is obviously run by Barack Hussein Obama, and not Joe Biden. I posted on January 3rd, 2023 an photo article asking who is the real Joe Biden. The link here will take you to the article and do look at the tell-tail signs that the Joe Biden is a “doppelganger” double. The ear lobes, eye color, chins, and different writing hands are proof he is a fraud or fake. Link to:

Who is the Real Joe Biden?

In all probability, the message conveyed to Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov from his American counterpart Anthony Blinken via Israel's new foreign minister Eli Cohen concerned the Ukrainian missile attack on Makeyevka (Donetsk) on New Year Day at 12.02 am killing 89 Russian conscripts.

Kiev claimed that up to 400 Russian soldiers might have been killed. Russian MOD has made a rare acknowledgment of scores of deaths — latest figure is 83. Moscow rarely releases figures for casualties in the war.

The Russian statements stressed that US-made Himars missiles were used in the attack. The site was a “a temporary deployment facility” (a vocational school temporarily used as barracks for scores of recently mobilized troops sent by Moscow.

The incident sparked renewed public criticism over the state of Russia's military and the decision to use civilian infrastructure to house soldiers. The First Deputy Head of the Main Military-Political Department of the Russian Armed Forces Lieutenant General Sergey Sevryukov told reporters:

“It has already become obvious at present that the main cause of the occurrence was activation and large-scale use, contrary to the ban, of personal phones by personnel within the reach of enemy's destruction means. This factor enabled the enemy to take the bearing and determine coordinates of servicemen location to deliver a missile strike. Required measures are being taken at present to exclude such tragic incidents in the future.” [This acknowledged remark about personal cell phones were being tracked by the Ukrainian military is much greater in significance than most people realize. This requires satellite triangulation which infers U.S. telecommunications were used to target the Russian barracks it by 6 Himars missiles.]

Apparently, the blame game has begun — that the “main cause” of the tragedy was the unruly behavior of soldiers who used mobile phones on the warfront. But there are going to be consequences.

Public pressure may increase demanding maximum use of force to end the war quickly. There is always the danger of escalation if certain unwritten, unspoken red lines in the conduct of the war are crossed.

It is entirely conceivable that there could be Cold-War style “strategic deconfliction” parameters worked out between the general staff in Moscow and the Pentagon aimed at avoiding miscalculation or any set of actions (by either side) that could lead to unnecessary conflict. The U.S. and Russian forces have been operating in Syria for years and a communications line, used daily, has helped the two sides avoid direct conflict.

Now, the New Year attack comes as the Biden administration is trying to provide billions in weaponry to Ukraine while also claiming that avoiding a direct clash with Russia has been a top U.S. priority.

At any rate, although Russian intelligence would have a fair idea of the location of NATO officers conducting the Ukrainian operations, they have not been so far targeted. That is why, the Russian MOD's decision on Monday to highlight that U.S.-supplied Himars missiles have killed scores of Russian soldiers on Sunday night would have caused some uneasiness in Washington.

The big question is whether Moscow will also now go up the escalation ladder and directly target American military personnel deployed in Ukraine.

Of course, any killing of American military personnel in Ukraine will make very damaging headlines in the U.S. news cycle for the Biden Administration. So far, there has not been a single instance of a body bag arriving from Ukraine. The Russian generals probably ensured that.

The Russian reports often mention publicly that the highly advanced HIMARS missile systems supplied to Ukraine are in reality operated by the U.S. personnel. Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov told Tass news agency as recently as last week:

"The Kiev regime is deliberately flooded with the most advanced weapons, including samples that have not yet been put into service in the Western armies, apparently in order to see how they will do in combat conditions... Meanwhile, Westerners are saying they prefer to remain 'above the fray' and find a direct face-off between NATO and Russia unacceptable, which is unadulterated hypocrisy. Already now, NATO members have de facto become parties to the conflict: Western private military companies and military instructors are fighting on the side of the Ukrainian forces. The Americans transmit satellite and other reconnaissance data to the Ukrainian command almost in real time and participate in planning and carrying out military operations."

Neither Washington nor Brussels ever endeavored to refute these damning Russian allegations. Instead, they choose to tread warily since a public discussion may jeopardize the delicate "strategic deconfliction" arrangement / understanding worked out with the Russian general staff.

It comes as no surprise if Washington distances itself from the dastardly attack on New Year Day in Donetsk, which drew Russian blood. Quoting an unnamed Israeli diplomat, the Times of Israel reported that the U.S. Secretary of State Anthony Blinken had a call with the newly appointed Israeli foreign minister Eli Cohen on Monday and asked him "to pass messages on to Lavrov but did not say what they were."

The Russian readout of Cohen's phone conversation with Lavrov on Tuesday mentioned that the latter "informed his Israeli counterpart about certain aspects of the situation in Ukraine in the context of Russia's special military operation."

Lavrov probably had his say on Blinken's charade that the U.S. had nothing to do with the killing of 89 Russian soldiers. The fact that as many as six deadly HIMARS missiles were fired in rapid sequence at a single target at 12.02 am shows a high level of certainty on the part of the Ukrainian side and/or their western mentors that maximum damage would be inflicted.

The intelligence inputs in real time show direct American participation in the horrific operation targeting the Russian conscripts' New Year party just when the toasts began. Of course, whipping up public sentiments in Russia against Putin is a core American objective in the war.

We are entering a grey zone. Expect “surgical strikes” by the Russian forces, too. After all, at some point soon enough, it will emerge that what’s sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

“For decades, the idea of dismantling the Soviet Union and Russia has been constantly cultivated in Western countries. Unfortunately, at some point, the idea of using Ukraine to achieve this goal was conceived. In fact, to prevent such a development, we launched the special military operation (SMO). This is precisely what some western countries –led by the United States– strive for; to create an anti-Russian enclave and then threaten us from this direction. Preventing this from happening is our primary goal.”
–(Vladimir Putin)

We are, most of us unwittingly, bearing witness to a momentous development: the end of the thousand-year ‘Drang nach Osten’ —the relentless eastward march of the reanimated corpse of the Western Roman Empire, with the Pope as its symbolic head and Vatican as its symbolic capital—known as the Crusades. Of these, the Southern Crusades are far better known in the West, while the Northern Crusades, launched in 1147, are far less widely known. But they were kept going the longest—until February 22, 2022—because, unlike China, India and just about every other non-Western country, Russia has never surrendered to anyone.

The gauntlet was thrown down in 1252, when Alexander Nevsky accepted an official document, called yarlyk, from Khan Batyj of the Golden Horde (part of the Mongolian Empire), allowing him to reign as the Grand Prince of Kiev (and thus the ruler of all of Russia), rather than ask for a blessing from the Pope in Rome, as was required of all Western kings. To these Western potentates, their claim to be ordained by God was based on approval by His head office at the Vatican; to the Russians, the Pope was just some heretic usurper. The religious distinction played itself out over time, but the notion that there is an exclusive club of Western nations who deserve to wield authority over the rest of the world has remained to this day.

There followed a series of onslaughts on Russia spanning many centuries, all stemming from the same simple principle: that which the West cannot control must be destroyed. The Germans and the Swedes kept on attacking it until 1709. Then the French attacked again in 1812; and then the Germans in 1941. The Americans were poised to attack in March of 2022, via their Ukrainian/NATO proxies, but were preempted by Russia’s Special Military Operation. Thus, the last Crusade has been aborted and further attempts seem unlikely, since, at this point, there is no question of destroying that which the West cannot control, and not just Russia but also much of the rest of the world. Even tiny North Korea can stand up to the collective West and wag a finger in its face. The thousand-year show is nearly over.

Over the previous centuries, every time after Russia expelled yet another crusader, some other Western nations would take the lead and attempt to march on Moscow: it was the Germans (as the Teutonic Knights, then the Swedes, the Poles, then some more Swedes, then the French under Napoleon, then the Germans under Hitler, and now the Americans (disguised as some hapless, clueless Ukrainians) under Biden. (Yes, the last act of this drama is most definitely a farce.) But who could possibly rise up as the next crusader du Jour? Nobody! There isn't anyone left in the West to continue the project.

Blessings,

Pastor Bob, EvanTeachr@aol.com
www.pastorbobreid.com