

Sinking in Debt of Over $73,000,000,000: The Big Three Cruise Lines Move to Abandon COVID-19 Vaccination and Testing Requirements

By Jim Walker, J.D.

As the ‘Miami Herald’ reported this week in an article titled Top U.S. Cruise Lines Set to Allow Passengers Without COVID-19 Shots on Most Voyages, “Royal Caribbean and the other major cruise lines are moving to soon allow passengers to board most voyages without COVID-19 shots.”

The “big three” cruise companies, Carnival Corporation, Royal Caribbean, and Norwegian Cruise Line Holdings, have also recently rolled back their policies of requiring pre-cruise COVID-19 testing for most guests boarding their cruise ships.

Not coincidentally, all cruise lines have announced an explosion in the sale of cruises.

The Miami Herald reports that:

“Carnival said its sales nearly doubled on Aug. 15 — the first business day after announcing that unvaccinated people would be welcomed aboard sailings shorter than

16 nights starting Sept. 6 — compared to bookings the same day in 2019. (emphasis added)

Officials of Norwegian, which will permit passengers on all sailings regardless of vaccination status beginning Sept. 3, told investors in a recent quarterly earnings call that announcement was ‘an instant catalyst’ for a deluge of reservations.”

The ‘Washington Post’ recently published Welcome Aboard, Unvaccinated Cruise Passengers where the newspaper reported that as cruise lines drop vaccine and testing rules, companies are seeing a ‘huge spike’ in bookings.

CCL, RCL and NCLH Are Imploding With Over $73,000,000,000 in Debt – Is Bankruptcy on the Horizon?

While reporting that most cruise lines are dropping vaccine requirements, the Herald did not report on the obvious fact that all three of these large cruise companies are struggling with enormous debt which places their continued viability in jeopardy.

One analyst (Motley Fool) recently explained the stark financial reality which cruise lines are now facing:

“Cruise companies are laden with debt — $36.4 billion at Carnival, $23.8 billion at Royal Caribbean, and almost $14 billion at Norwegian Cruise. Interest rates are climbing, and the higher they go, the more expensive it gets for cruise stocks to service their debt — and the longer it will take these companies to return to profitability (if they even can).”

The same analyst further explained that the cruise lines’ cost of servicing the over $73,000,000,000 in combined debt which CCL, RCL and NCLH are facing, is over 11% a year in interest, an amount which no cruise line has ever netted in profits in a year:

“Royal Caribbean confirmed that its new $1 billion + debt will cost 11.625% in annual interest. That’s more than triple what the old debt that gets rolled over used to cost, inasmuch as that old debt was paying (interest) only between 2.875% and 4.25%.”

Royal Caribbean will incur expenses to service its $23.8 billion debt load in future years. . . . If Royal Caribbean spent $1.3 billion on the interest on its debt in 2021, a tripling in interest rates would indicate interest on debt would be $3 billion or even $4 billion a year.

Given that even in its most profitable year ever — 2019 — Royal Caribbean didn’t generate even $2.1 billion in operating profit, the potential for interest costs rising past $3 billion calls into question Royal Caribbean’s ability to ever return to profitability (without even considering the effects of future inflation).

Meanwhile, if Carnival and Norwegian Cruise sail a similar route, their interest costs could soar toward $4.5 billion and $1.8 billion, respectively. And — you guessed it — neither Carnival nor NCL have ever earned that amount of pre-interest costs operating profit, either, potentially putting those two in a similar bind.

“Carnival Corporation: The Perfect Storm”

Another analyst (Seeking Alpha) concludes that although revenue has increased at Carnival Corporation, the cruise giant suffers from a “continuous deterioration” and its financial structure is now “completely compromised after 2 years of huge losses.” He suggests that Carnival’s $35,000,000,000 in debt has more than tripled, and there are stringent covenants limiting corporate maneuvering. Meanwhile, “COVID-19 difficulties are still persisting.” He writes of the continuing effects of COVID-19 on the cruise line:

“To date, what is left of the 2019 Carnival is very little. The cruise industry has been hammered by repeated difficulties and there is still no end in sight. In 2020 COVID-19 destroyed the entire industry . . . ”

The Cruise Industry Has Opted to Improve its Bottom Line at the Expense of the Health and Public Safety of its Employees and the Traveling Public

Faced with the extreme financial pressures created by crippling debt and the ongoing difficulties presented by COVID-19, the cruise industry has decided to try and improve its bottom line by essentially abandoning its COVID-19 vaccine and testing protocols and inviting unvaxxed customers aboard.

When the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) stopped reporting to the public COVID-19 cases on cruise ships in July, 100% of the approximately 100 ships sailing from U.S. ports had at least 3% of the guests and crew testing positive for COVID-19. For the last six months, we have reported that there are routinely cruise ships with between 100 to 200 passengers and crew positive for the virus.

The Washington Post reported this week that cruise ships “reported nearly 15,000 cases between Dec. 30 and Jan. 12, the agency said.” This averages more than 150 infected passengers and crew per cruise ship.

In the aforementioned Washington Post article, over 100 readers left comments bemoaning the cruise industry’s dropping of vaccine and testing policies. Here are just a few:

“ . . . It’s very foolish for the cruise lines to drop the vaccination requirement – and dangerous. We always sail on the smaller more expensive luxury lines and feel very safe. But now I have read that even our favorite line will be dropping the vaccination requirement – if that is the case, we are so disappointed that they will lose our business. We’ll not cruise with them or anyone again until we see how this disastrous change of policy works out. Goodbye cruising for now.”

“Just got off a European river cruise where everyone was required to be vaccinated. Nonetheless 1/3 of passengers came down with COVID on the 15 day cruise. Things are about to get worse.”

“They may have had a pent-up demand surge for a couple of days after the announcement, but once the next big outbreak happens lots of people will join me in finding safer ways to travel.”

You can read all of the comments here.

Cruise Lines: Cooperating with the COVID-19 Virus?

The Miami Herald quoted Dr. William Greenough, an infectious disease specialist at The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, who advocated continued COVID-19 testing of everyone on a cruise ship. Dr. Greenough talks about COVID-19 and its new co-dependent friend, the cruise industry:

“It’s adapted to not kill us and to have us go out into crowds so it can spread; that’s what the virus wants, so the cruise ships are cooperating with the virus . . . ”

Double-Whammy: Cruise Lines Scrap COVID-19 Rules while Hiding the Number of Infected on Their Ships

Members of the public who are considering taking a cruise are now facing a double-whammy: cruise lines (and the CDC) are refusing to disclose the number of passengers and crew infected with COVID-19. At the same time, the cruise lines are, in most situations, scrapping their vaccination and testing policies. As this point, the cruise lines' financial desperation has resulted in a brazen gamble to forego basic disease prevention and monitoring simply to attract new income to their fast-sinking businesses.

ABOUT JIM WALKER

“Everything the cruise lines don’t want you to know” is the motto of this award winning maritime law blog authored by Miami lawyer Jim Walker.

Jim Walker posts all kinds of related cruise industry news, from passengers overboard to insider crew members' complaints, poor service, etc. but has never made the connection between Covid-19 and the 5G transceivers that were installed back in 2019 by the cruise industry. I have written upwards of a dozen articles on Covid-19 being the death-knell of the cruise industry. Last year the largest cruise ship ever built was moved from its construction berth and into storage after its owner decided to delay its first sailing.

Royal Caribbean took delivery of its newest ship, which has become the largest cruise ship in the world. The 'Wonder of the Seas' was delivered to Royal Caribbean at some point a few months ago, and departed the Chantiers de l'Atlantique shipyard in Saint-Nazaire.

The newest cruise ship in Royal Caribbean's fleet was headed to Marseilles, France, where she will spend some time to get additional work done. While the ship now belongs to Royal Caribbean, her first sailing was not scheduled until March 2022.

Construction on Wonder of the Seas began in April 2019 with a steel-cutting ceremony. Wonder's debut was pushed back from 2021 to 2022 due to the global health crisis. The impact of worldwide port and shipyard closures has created delays in the construction schedule and delivery of Wonder.

The pandemic not only impacted Wonder's delivery date, but also where she would sail from. Instead of sailing from Shanghai, China to become the first Oasis Class cruise ship to be homeported in Asia, she will now sail from the United States and Europe initially.

Chantiers de l'Atlantique General Manager, Laurent Castaing, celebrated the delivery of Wonder, "At our yard, we are aware that we have designed and built one of the most exceptional ships in the history of the cruise market."

"Wonder of the Seas is a unique synthesis of innovation, state-of-the-art technologies, and savoir-faire of thousands of engineers and skilled workers. This splendid ship is really a symbol of the faithful and fruitful partnership we have established with Royal Caribbean International for nearly four decades."

At 236,857 gross tons, 'Wonder of the Seas' is the fifth Oasis Class cruise ship and takes the title from Symphony of the Seas as the biggest in the world. Wonder of the Seas is 1,188 feet in length and has a maximum passenger capacity of 6,988 passengers, in addition to 2,300 crew. In fact, Wonder has 100 cabins more than Symphony of the Seas.

Noting Jim Walker's report about the cruise lines and the CDC scuttling safety issues on Covid-19 was not a real surprise. I suspected in January of 2020 that the day would come when the cruise ship operators would be pulling their hair out to get back into operation ASAP. Now with the CDC in disruption and Dr. Fauci resigning, it was clear they were going to be hell-bent to get back to sea and resume operations regardless of the costs or abandoning of all regulations that the CDC had put on cruise ships.

With more than 15,000 cases of Covid-19 outbreaks between December 30th and January 12th, 2022, we cannot dismiss the fact that these infections are likely to include re-infections as well. About every week there has been a report on what the cruise operators are doing to alleviate their paying customers and employees fears of the alleged virus.

I still believe that despite the uptick in anxious customers wanting to go on a cruise, the cruise industry is a dying business, partly of their own doings and reluctance to face the facts of 5G EMF installed on the cruise ships for customers to be able to send photos back home of the waters off Alaska or exotic places at the other end of the South Pole. Cruise ships operating north of +51-degrees latitude or south of the Equator at -51-degrees have no choice but to operate their equipment at 60-GHz, for the principal reason to maintain a strong signal strength. The down side of that is it is a medical fact that at 60-GHz the energy will consume 98% of the oxygen in a person's lungs.

The fact is that what you cannot see can still hurt you in ways never thought possible. Most of you probably do not remember but back in the late 1940s and early 1950s, when your parents took the kids for new shoes after the shoe sales clerk put a pair of new shoes on the kids, he would have the youngster get up on a machine called a fluoroscope. We would put out feet inside openings at the bottom and there were three viewing boxes at the top for mom and dad as well as the sales clerk to look at the x-ray image showing the fit of the foot in a pair of new shoes.

Below is a picture of a shoe-fitting fluoroscope machine used between 1920 and as late as the early 1970s. For years these unshielded x-ray machines damaged hundreds of thousands of users and customers, causing cancer and breaking of human DNA cell structures. My family physician died of cancer in the 1950s from use of an unshielded x-ray machine in his office.

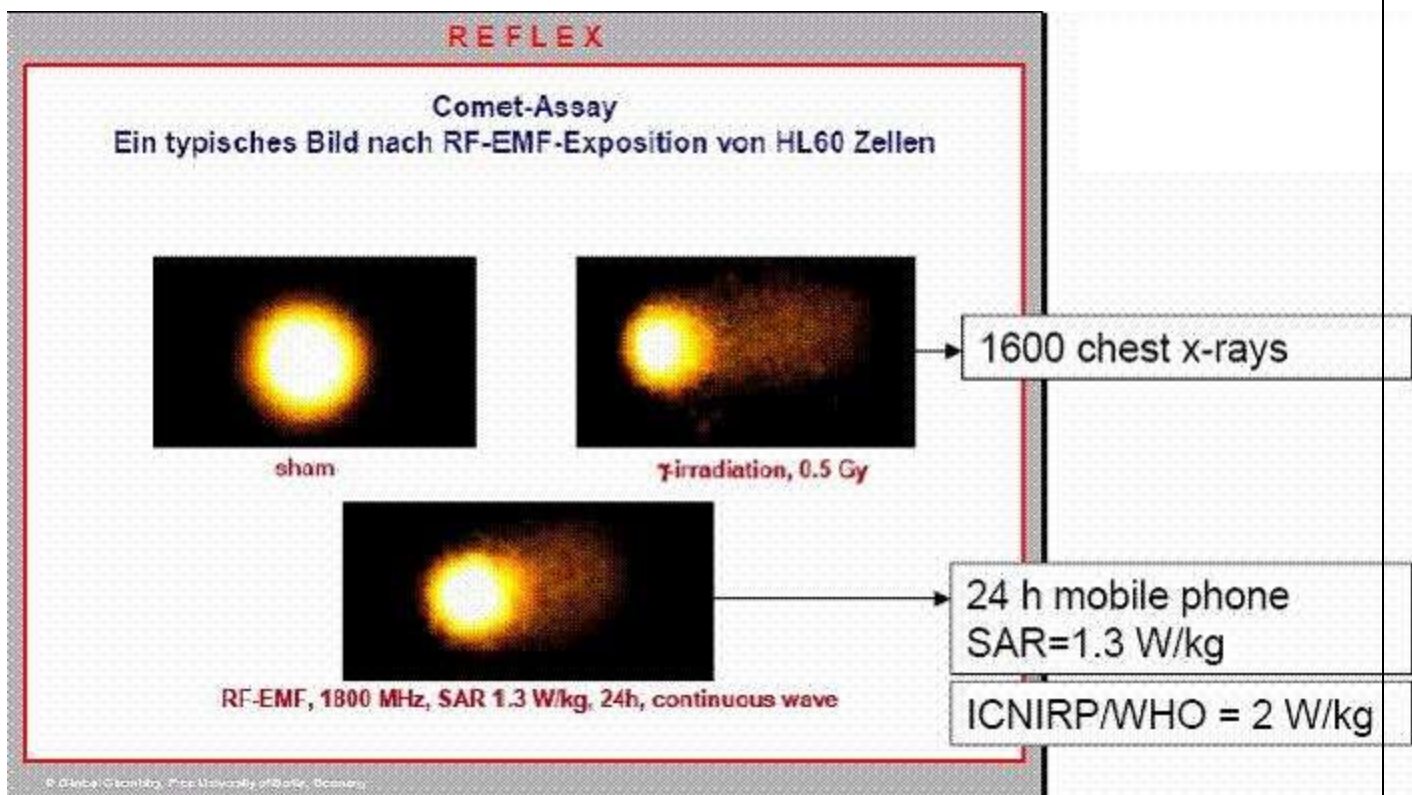

Fluoroscopy is similar to radiography and X-ray computed tomography (X-ray CT) in that it generates images using X-rays. The original difference was that radiography fixed still images on film whereas fluoroscopy provided live moving pictures that were not stored. However, today radiography, CT, and fluoroscopy are all digital imaging modes with image analysis software and data storage and retrieval.

Most of the public do not want to acknowledge the danger of cell phone use, but Cell phones as bad as x-rays.

Would you allow 1600 chest x-rays for yourself or your child?

Some scientists say that's what 24 hours of cell phone use amounts to. Here's visual proof.

Slide one (top left) shows a normal healthy cell under magnification. This cell is a bright energetic little orb with its DNA and other genetic materials safely inside the cell membrane.

Slide two (top right) shows a living cell exposed to 1600 chest X-rays. This cell is shrunken and has lost its energetic brightness. There is a comet trail of fragmented DNA particles, visible streaming out of the cell. These DNA fragments are called micronuclei, typical mutations from excessive X-rays, or from gamma waves of nuclear detonation.

Slide three (bottom) shows a cell exposed to 24 hours of cell phone radiation. Its comet tail of micronuclei damage is virtually identical to that of 1600 chest x-rays.

The frequency used was 1.8 gigahertz (1800 megahertz), typical cell phone frequencies are around 1.9 gigahertz (and also from many household cordless phones).

The power level used to micro-nucleate this photograph was 1.3 W/kg Specific Absorption Rate (SAR). SAR is the calculated amount of energy absorbed by the human body from microwave phones. Many cell phones produce MORE power than that.

KIDS SHOULD NEVER BE ALLOWED CELL PHONES. Instead, they live with them like a second appendage.

Russian scientists responsible for public health have issued an urgent warning about wireless health damage, recommending that children under 18 limit the use of cell phones to emergency calls only.

The Russian National Committee on Non-Ionizing Radiation Protection says that we may expect kids who use cell phones to suffer not only brain tumors and dementia, but also increased epileptic readiness and depressive mental illness.

No sane parent would submit his child to 1600 chest X-rays over a 24 hour period. Yet a mere 24 hours of wireless phone radiation can inflict the same damage to a child's tissues as 1600 chest X-rays. This is the crux of studies completed by 12 groups of researchers from seven European countries who collaborated in the REFLEX study project to gauge the effects of wireless radiation on human health. The truth of what they found is shown in a series of images above.

The U.S. government allowed wireless phones to be put on the market in the 1980s with absolutely no safety testing.

The truth is that tissue damage from wireless microwave radiation is known to be as cumulative as that from ionizing X-radiation. If we divide the tissue damage of 1600 chest X-rays by 24 cell phone hours, you could argue the following:

For each minute a child presses a microwave phone to his head, he may suffer radiation damage equivalent to approximately 1.1 chest X-rays.

For each hour a child uses a transmitting wireless phone or wireless laptop to communicate, watch videos/TV or play games, he may be exposing his developing brain, eye and gut tissues to radiation damage equivalent to 66.6 chest X-rays.

Ionizing X-radiation, like that used for chest X-rays and other medical procedures, is on carcinogen "List One," compiled by the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC). IARC is an intergovernmental agency forming part of the World Health Organization. IARC ranks X-radiation on par with gamma radiation, plutonium, dioxin and benzene, all known to induce cancer in both animals and humans. There is no “safe” dose determined for any substance or exposure on IARC’s List One.

It’s sobering that microwave radiation, blasting from an entire generation’s wireless phones, inflicts the same kind of DNA damage as ionizing radiation on IARC’s carcinogen List One. What REFLEX studies prove is how quickly that devastating damage takes place.

So the latest studies reveal what no one wants to hear: Kids who endlessly cell-phone socialize, even sleep with perpetually transmitting wireless devices (to keep intermittent conversations on line), are doing immense damage to their tissues, especially the brain and setting up a storm of problems which they will reap in later life. The profiteers or corporate America don’t care. They want their money NOW; to Hell with the future of these kids.

Radiation researcher Dr. Milton Zaret told congressional investigators years ago that the dangers of non-ionizing radiation cannot be overstated because “most non-ionizing radiational injuries occur covertly, usually do not become manifest until after latent periods of years, and when they do become manifest, the effects are seldom recognized.”

The hundreds of types of human cancers have one thing in common—they all begin at the cellular level when genetic material in one or more cells becomes damaged. This damage can be passed from parents, or caused by the effects of an environmental carcinogen. “...Genetic mutations in one single cell are sufficient to lead to cancer,” says Dr. Henry Lai. Dr. Lai is a celebrated scientist at the University of Washington who has years of genetic and bioenergetics research to his credit.

But long before epidemic cancers, young cell-phone users are destined to suffer the symptoms of neurasthenia, or what the Soviets used to call “radio-wave sickness.” The symptoms include headache, fatigue, skin rashes, weakness, tinnitus, dizziness, moodiness and sleeplessness. These warning signs are just the beginning of a long, downward spiral of general deterioration, including circulatory ailments, immune dysfunction, allergies and premature aging.

Immune System Dysfunction.

A child’s body, kept in chronic allergic stress by wireless phone radiation, may end up with an exhausted immune system which no longer responds effectively. European experts prognosticate that many people heavily exposed to wireless radiation may eventually suffer the manifestations of electro-hypersensitivity (EHS). EHS is a devastating allergic, auto-immune-like condition in which over-irradiated persons become severely sensitive to both chemical and electromagnetic pollution. Similar to fibromyalgia and chronic fatigue, EHS symptoms can be so disabling that victims are often forced to isolate themselves from even the smallest electromagnetic fields.

Within two minutes of microwave phone exposure, the electrical activity of a child's brain is abnormally altered for up to one hour. British radiation expert Dr. Gerald Hyland reported that cell phones which use repetitive, pulsing 2 Hz and 8.34 Hz frequencies can badly disrupt the delta and alpha stabilization process in a child's developing brain.

Dr. Hyland confirmed that cell phone energy can cause radical changes in human mood and behavior. This is the case because microwaves at cell phone levels can unleash a cornucopia of radical damage to all parts of the brain, including the cortex, the hippocampus (memory center) and the basal ganglia. To wit:

Scientists have demonstrated that cell phone radiation causes immediate blood flow changes in the brain, and also deregulates calcium efflux from brain cells, causing cell membranes to weaken and leak.

Researchers in Finland have shown that one hour of cell phone radiation causes brain cells to shrink, indicating permanent damage to cell structure as confirmed by REFLEX studies.

The Max Planck Institute in Germany reported that cell phones can blast heat spikes into the brain which may flash burn cell membranes to the boiling point of water.

British researchers have shown that weak microwave radiation can change the shape of brain proteins into formations resembling pathological fibrils associated with Parkinson's and Alzheimer's Disease.

Swedish scientists demonstrated that cell phone radiation makes holes (lesions) in rat brains and they predict a wave of early-onset Alzheimer's in young cell phone users.

And what about environmental microwave transmitters?

Millions of American kids, struggling with physical disabilities and mental manias, are heavily irradiated not only with Wi-toys, but also by ubiquitous environmental transmitters needed to feed those toys. Nearly 200,000 cell tower and roof top transmitters continuously saturate American cities, playgrounds and passing vehicles with DNA-damaging waves equivalent to ionizing radiation. Living in transmitter-zapped neighborhoods where microwaves pass easily into homes, millions of infants and small kids have no respite from daily, deadly radiation assault.

Unregulated Wi-Fi systems, wireless local area network routers, security monitors, cordless phone systems and other types of wireless transmitters X-ray the interiors of malls, airports, offices, schools, hospitals and millions of homes 24/7. Many commercial and retail enterprises are switching to wireless inventory systems. These and retail inter-personnel push-to-talk radio systems literally "cook" stores and malls where kids congregate.

Many public transport systems are being wired for Wi-Fi. Soon, commercial aircraft will offer Wi-Fi computer services, compelling all passengers to absorb the toxic rays of mid-flight entertainment. Many vehicles are wired with GPS navigation and/or tracking systems. These rolling hotspots zap not only passengers, but people passing by.

The federal government has never developed adequate safety standards for long-term environmental exposure to this barrage of wireless radiation. U.S. standards are antiquated and calculated for short term exposure only. In 2002, the EPA's Radiation Protection Division confirmed that the FCC's current exposure guidelines are thermally (burn) based and do not apply to chronic exposure of non-thermal wireless pollution which now enshrouds the nation.

In 2007, 14 world-class public health experts and radiation researchers announced in their BioInitiative Report on Electromagnetic Radiation that current public microwave exposure standards are thousands of times TOO LENIENT. Having compiled the weight of evidence from thousands of studies, these experts conclude that current exposure standards must be drastically revised because they are absolutely NOT protective of the public health.

I have provided only a small sampling of the scientific studies and findings regarding wireless energy and the human body. Over the past forty years the accumulating evidence suggests unequivocally there is a cumulative effect at which the human body is subjected to. By that I am saying a little exposure to wireless energy at any frequency level is just as important or dangerous as is the total a human body can absorb before DNA damage takes place.

The cruise industry as reflective in their recent decisions are showing, they are unwilling to confront the problem by removing the 5G transceivers. And since the cover story of Covid-19 has run out of its propaganda lifeline, it is now caught up in its own trap of complicity or ignorance in order to make the problem go away! They are willing to risk the safety of their employees and paying passengers by assuming a cruise is only 3, 7, or 10 days in length and therefore treated as a cost of doing business to entertain the cruise public.

The evidence heretofore suggests the problem is not going away but can only get worse with the passing of time. Half of the industry's revenue comes from those 60 years of age and older, people at the age when physical health and life style converge and begin to exhibit manifestations of health issues; and by the way did not exist before the days of widespread use of electricity. Dr. Arthur Firstenberg, author of 'The Invisible Rainbow' points out that diabetes, cancer, heart issues, were unheard of before the mid-1800s.

The Petri Dish case of the "Diamond Princess" cruise ship of early January 2020 is your proof-positive evidence that 5G wireless EMF/EMR energy was falsely labeled Covid-19 as the cover story to hide all the unexplained sickness and deaths that have followed since China activated their 5G "Smart Cities" program on October 31, 2019, and the incremental activation of 5G networks around the world. The roll out of 5G began with Wuhan, China, Seattle, Washington, New York City, Milan, Italy, and around the world within the window where the public lived in fear of this alleged virus known as Coronavirus. The fear was manufactured by those active in the world of bioweapons, conducted by the likes of Dr. Anthony Fauci, director of the NIAID in the U.S.

Dr. Fauci and his colleagues early on called this as a “novel rogue virus”, and those words were repeated daily in the media such that the real pandemic was Dr. Fauci’s message you are going to die from “fear”. The nation was lectured daily by Dr. Fauci and his colleagues Dr. Birx, and the Surgeon-General. The world was glued to their television with the daily infections on the “Diamond Princess”. All the public heard about was those sequestered on the “Diamond Princess” and no country with a port city would permit them to dock lest they spread the virus to locals. You were a live witness as well as victim of the Hegelian Dialectic being used as the greatest Psy-Op in world history. The drama of the “Diamond Princess” passengers was the only news millions of people were attentive to for the duration of this created crisis, and, I might add for two years running.

James Perloff wrote a pdf eBook entitled ‘COVID-19 And The Agendas To Come Red-Pilled’. For those who might not know, "red-pilled" is a metaphor taken from the 1999 film “The Matrix”. Taking the "red pill" means to awaken to reality; taking the "blue pill" means to continue living in an illusion. In 2020, COVID-19. (The acronym's meaning, officially, is-"CO" stands for Corona, "VI" for virus, "D" for disease, and "19" for 2019.)

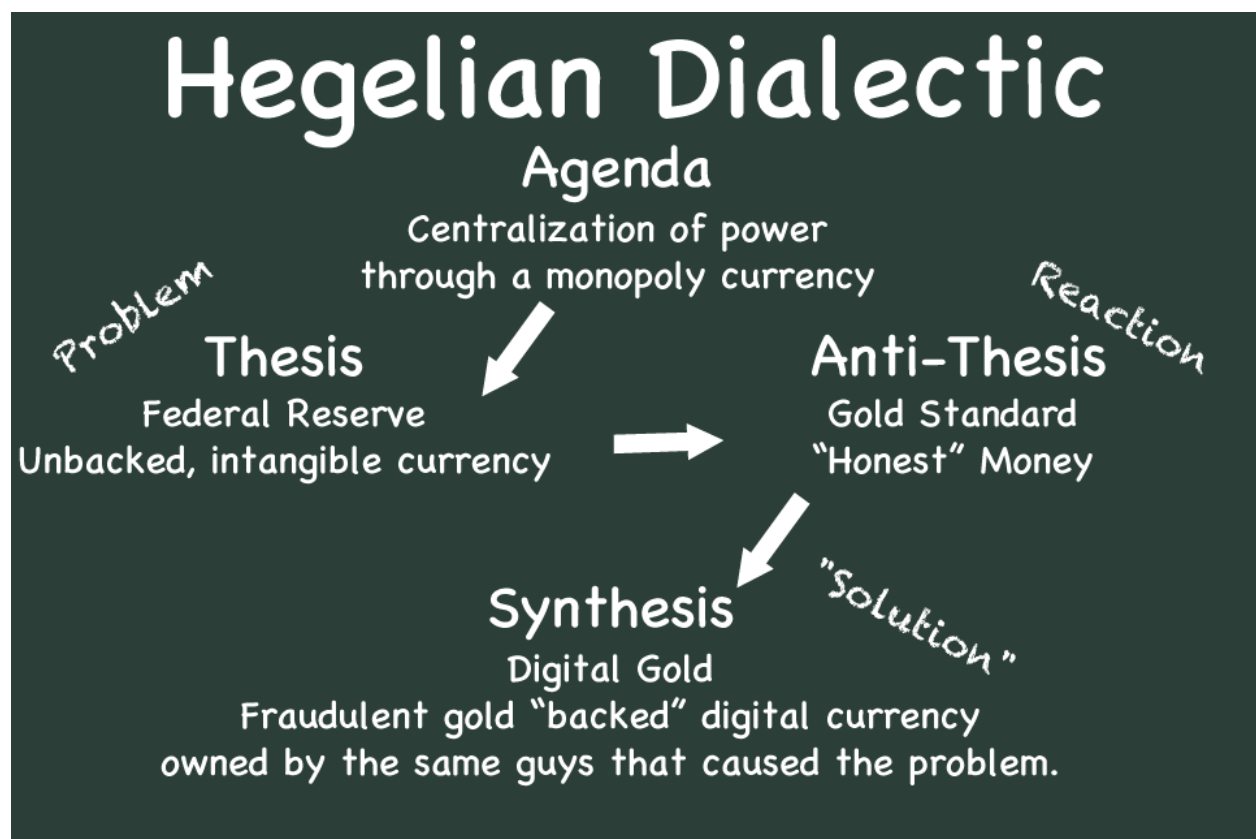

Now nearly three years later the world still lives in a state of fear. This is seen in the hundreds of school districts that are being sued for not requiring their students to be masked and hundreds more for the opposite. The Washington, DC school district has required their students to mask as they go back to school this week. Jesuit’ Georgetown University is requiring their students in the classroom to wear masks. A Federal Judge banned the State of New York’s plan for detainment camps for the unvaxxed.

Unfortunately, the madness of it all goes to show that the Covid crisis was an event people at the very highest levels of leadership did not want to go to waste. Remember Rahm Emanuel, former mayor of Chicago and former White House Chief of Staff. Today, he is the Ambassador to Japan in the Biden administration. Rahm Emanuel was the politician who coined that memorable expression and said “Never leave a good crisis go to waste!”

The conspirators behind Covid had this plan organized long ago, even before Johns Hopkins held its Event 201 in 2019, seeing that patents on related Covid vaxxes go as far back as 1998. Event 201 was a high-level pandemic exercise performed on October 18, 2019, in New York, NY. The exercise illustrated areas where public/private partnerships will be necessary during the response to a severe pandemic in order to diminish large-scale economic and societal consequences.

Like the Hegelian Dialectic, when it is played out in what I refer to as “war-gaming” and introduction of the “problem” is only after the other aspects of the Dialectic are worked out in detail. When you look back President Trump did not call it a National Emergency until exactly 5 people died of what is thought to be Covid. Then the World Health Organization called it a Pandemic on March 11th, 2020; setting the world into a global frenzy. With nearly three years of data, the average age of death for the alleged Covid has been 73 years of age for much of 2022, and it had been 74.6 years from 2020 up through all of 2021. The CDC no longer reports its weekly VAERS report of virus adverse effect reactions from Covid. It has ceased to even be a problem.

Once the curtains are pulled back from this “Wizard of Oz” drama, you will discover that the world has been played with the oldest Psychological Operation in the books.

Study the above chart well as this is what is soon to replace those Federal Reserve Notes in your wallets and purses. The only thing we do not know at this point is just how the transition process will take or required to phase out the FRNs. December 13th, 2022 is the date of the President Biden’s Executive Order #14067 takes place.

Information has come to light in the past week that shows President Donald J. Trump was controlled opposition for the Pilgrim Society of Britain by his signing his “Warp Speed Vaccine Program in early 2020. President Donald J. Trump is a Traitor to the USA! The team of investigators for American Intelligence Media has documented a time line of the events that precipitated the so-called Covid Pandemic.

There are so many facets to this ruse it would require months to lay out the full scam. With nearly 80,000 documents in my files, it boggles my mind as to where does one begin to organize and categorize all the different chapters to this huge story. Without a doubt, it is the greatest Psy-Op of human history, exceeding the huge story of the attacks on 9-11.

Way back in 2017 and earlier, I knew when the censors began to block all information on 5G wireless EMF/EMR energy and its problems there was something larger in the works. Alarms were starting to go off when the “Diamond Princess” cruise ship story first broke. Preceding the “Diamond Princess” mystery virus outbreak the Chinese had set into motion their so-called “Smart Cities” 5G technologies program and the hosting of the 7th CISM World Military Games in Wuhan, China that ran from October 17-28, 2019.

The event was also the nation’s largest military sports event ever with 9,308 athletes from 109 countries competing in 329 events and 27 sporting disciplines. The multisport event included 25 official and 2 demonstrative sports. Six sport disciplines such as badminton, tennis, table tennis, women's boxing, and men's gymnastics made their debuts in the event.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, conspiracy theories emerged in China that the SARS-CoV-2 virus originated in the United States and was brought to China by an American participant in the Military World Games. One version of the conspiracy theory states that the virus was created by the CIA. A Chinese government official supported and helped spread one of the conspiracy theories. Athletes Élodie Clouvel and Matteo Tagliariol stated they developed a severe illness around the time they attended the games. A U.S. Army athlete who attended the games was accused of being "patient zero" of the novel coronavirus outbreak in Wuhan, and was harassed on social media, despite never having symptoms or testing positive. A coronavirus public health exercise in the United States called Event 201 was held at the same time as the games, and this was cited by conspiracy theorists as further evidence of misconduct.

It was revealed that UK military used a 5G satellite orbiting over Wuhan, China to hijack their base stations by modulating the energy beaming to levels that would cause health problems with participants at the games. This was all conducted remotely at what is known as “The Farm” on property of the Pirbright Institute located in Surrey, UK some 25 miles from London, UK. The Pirbright Institute (formerly the Institute for Animal Health) is a research institute in Surrey, England, dedicated to the study of infectious diseases of farm animals. It forms part of the UK government's Biotechnology and Biological Sciences Research Council (BBSRC). “The Farm” is home to more than 25 satellite transmitter antenna of various sizes, including one in particular that was identified as a 5G transmitter. In previous articles that I have written, I included photos of the command center monitoring station as well as the more than two dozen satellite antenna dishes.

The web site “State of the Nation” ran an original article by American Intelligence Media that provides a great deal of the information that I posted two years ago in regard to the mission of “The Farm” at the Pirbright Institute in Surrey, UK.

I shared that information two years ago. It does not take much more too soon realize that the Rothschild's are behind a plan to eliminate billions from the planet.

You can read the complete article posted in March of 2020 about the Rothschild's involvement with bioweapons technology tied to 5G technologies masking as the Covid-19 virus. The link to the article is here:

A related article discusses Dr. Anthony Fauci and his effort to run damage control of the Covid-19 virus program. The link is just below:

The global elite have the benefit of cutting-edge technologies through their network of patent theft and deep pockets to buy off those who know what is going on. The House of Rothschild and the Pilgrims Society are behind the plan to reduce the world's population. Through the World Economic Forum, the UN, and the World Health Organization, their goal is to bring in the New World Order. Their slogan of the Great Reset is “You will own nothing and like it” will not last seven years based upon what the Bible has to say about all this!

In the meantime, my advice is to get right with the Lord and don't make any plans beyond the end of September, 2022.

Blessings,
