

The Satanic Roots of Modern Medicine - The Mark of the Beast

by Brian Shilhavy
Editor, Health Impact News

All the symbols and emblems for modern medicine have one thing in common: a serpent.

Some, like the Caduceus, have two serpents around a staff, while others, like the rod of Asclepius, have only one serpent.

There are various interpretations as to the difference in meaning between the two, as well as the history of their origins, but the oldest reference to the serpent and its role in human suffering or healing, is contained in the earliest records of the Bible, in the writings of Moses, who is credited with writing most of the first 5 books of the Old Testament portion of the Bible around 3500 years ago.

Since these writings pre-date anything written in Greek mythology by almost 1000 years, I am going to base this article on the Bible, the oldest and the most widely circulated and most frequently translated collection of ancient writings in the world, by far, with no serious competitors in ancient or modern literature.

If that bothers you, no need to read further.

We will see from the ancient wisdom of the Bible, that the serpent representing Satan is the ultimate anti-Christ, that he is weaker than Jesus Christ who is portrayed in the Bible as both the Son of Man and the Son of God, and that the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ broke the power of Satan over sickness and death.

Satan has yet to be judged and sent to his eternal punishment in a place called Hell, and there awaits a final battle between Jesus Christ, the ruler of the Kingdom of God, and Satan, the current ruler of the World System.

The Kingdom of God originates in Heaven, but also extends to earth and exists in the lives of the true believers of Jesus Christ.

In addition to the physical world, there exists a spiritual world (or universe), and every living human being currently inhabiting the planet either resides in the spiritual Kingdom of Darkness ruled by Satan, or in the spiritual Kingdom of Light ruled by Jesus Christ.

(For more on this topic, see: Re-Creation: The Rebirth.)

Revelation Chapter 13 talks about the “mark of the beast,” where “beast” could also be translated into the English word “serpent.”

He also forced everyone, small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on his right hand or on his forehead, so that no one could buy or sell unless he had the mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of his name. –(Revelation 13:16-17)

I am not going to delve into the controversial topics of prophecy or theology in this article. Instead, I am going to show just what the image of the “serpent” represents, its place in modern medicine, and how if one wants to resist being part of the Satanic system that may require everyone to accept some kind of “mark,” then you are probably going to need to prepare yourself to stop using the medical system completely.

I realize that we have been conditioned to believe that we cannot survive without pharmaceutical drugs and the medical system, but I assure you it is possible. I have not used the medical system in many years, and have not carried health insurance (by choice) for over 20 years, and I have survived!

It is my belief after many years of research and teaching on this subject, that for every patented pharmaceutical drug making billions of dollars for the medical system, that there are natural remedies created by God found in nature that are actually more effective, especially if we stop believing in the allopathic germ-theory of disease, and realize that health is much more than just the condition of our physical bodies.

The Serpent Represents Satan

From the earliest record in the Bible in the opening chapters of the book of Genesis, to the closing chapters in the last book of the Bible, the book of Revelation, the serpent is identified as Satan, or the Devil.

“The great dragon was hurled down—that ancient serpent called the devil, or Satan, who leads the whole world astray. He was hurled to the earth, and his angels with him.” -(Revelation 12:9)

He first appears in the 3rd chapter of Genesis, where he deceives Adam and Eve, which results in sin entering the human race. One of the key passages of this chapter is verses 14 and 15, which basically lays out a prophetic blueprint for human history, and the cosmic struggle between good and evil:

“So the LORD God said to the serpent, “Because you have done this, cursed are you above all the livestock and all the wild animals! You will crawl on your belly and you will eat dust all the days of your life. And I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and hers; he will crush your head, and you will strike his heel”.” -(Genesis 3:14-15)

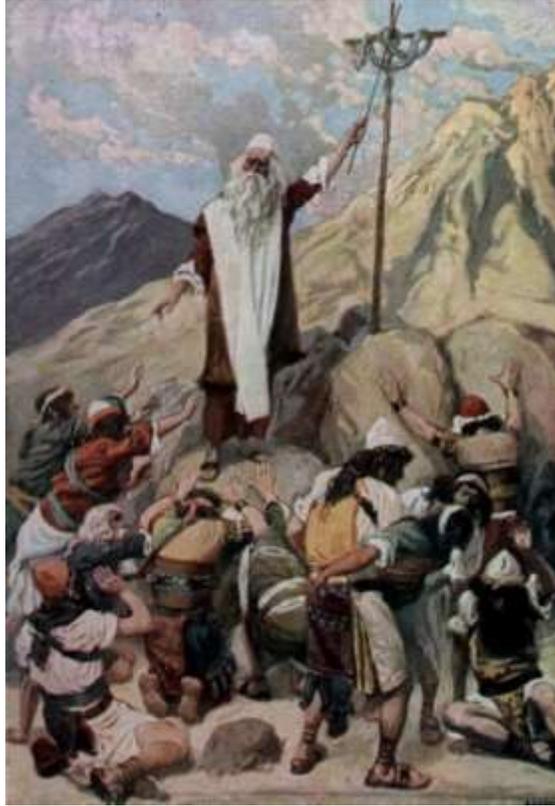

The key event in human history that saw the culmination of this prophecy, was the death of Jesus Christ on the cross, and his triumphal rising from the dead and walking out of the grave, defeating the power of sin and death that the serpent caused in the Garden of Eden.

One of the best summaries of this event is found in the letter that the apostle Peter wrote:

“To this you were called, because Christ suffered for you, leaving you an example, that you should follow in his steps. “He committed no sin, and no deceit was found in his mouth. When they hurled their insults at him, he did not retaliate; when he suffered, he made no threats. Instead, he entrusted himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, so that we might die to sins and live for righteousness; by his wounds you have been healed. For you were like sheep going astray, but now you have returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls”.” -(1 Peter 2:21-25)

But this was not yet the end of Satan. To understand the events unfolding before us today, we need to review the history of the seed of the woman, and the seed of the serpent.

Moses' Bronze Serpent Hung from a Pole

Artist interpretation of the bronze serpent hung on a standard. Source unknown.

One of the next places we see the serpent appear is in the Bible is in the life of Moses. The “seed of the woman” is traced through the Patriarch Abraham, the father of the Hebrews. To escape years of famine God had led Abraham’s descendants, the Hebrew people, to take up residence in Egypt. There they became too numerous and were seen as a threat to the Egyptian culture, and we see one of the first recorded instances of infanticide, the destruction of children being born to the Hebrew women.

This will become a common theme throughout human history, as Satan works hard to reduce human population by killing children.

Moses was spared being killed and was actually raised in the royal palace, but soon is banished from Egypt for trying to deliver the Hebrews.

He spends 40 years in the wilderness where he settled down, got married, and started raising his family.

But the time had come for God to deliver his people from the oppression of the Egyptians, and he chose Moses to lead them, by appearing to him in a burning bush that did not burn up.

Moses is reluctant and fearful. Satan is thoroughly entrenched in Egyptian culture by this time, and a common shepherd like Moses figured he didn't have a chance to lead a revolution, so God gave him some help.

Moses answered, "What if they do not believe me or listen to me and say, 'The LORD did not appear to you?'"

Then the LORD said to him, "What is that in your hand?"

"A staff," he replied.

The LORD said, "Throw it on the ground."

Moses threw it on the ground and it became a snake, and he ran from it.

Then the LORD said to him, "Reach out your hand and take it by the tail."

So Moses reached out and took hold of the snake and it turned back into a staff in his hand.

"This," said the LORD, "is so that they may believe that the LORD, the God of their fathers—the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob—has appeared to you."

-(Exodus 4:1-5)

Here we have the rod of Moses that miraculously turns into a serpent at the command of God.

It was something the magicians of Pharaoh, King of Egypt, also had the power to do. But God was clearly demonstrating his power over Satan, and changing the course of human history.

"Then the LORD said to Moses, "See, I have made you like God to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron will be your prophet. You are to say everything I command you, and your brother Aaron is to tell Pharaoh to let the Israelites go out of his country.

But I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and though I multiply my miraculous signs and wonders in Egypt, he will not listen to you. Then I will lay my hand on Egypt and with mighty acts of judgment I will bring out my divisions, my people the Israelites. And the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD when I stretch out my hand against Egypt and bring the Israelites out of it."

Moses and Aaron did just as the LORD commanded them. Moses was eighty years old and Aaron eighty-three when they spoke to Pharaoh.

The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "When Pharaoh says to you, 'Perform a miracle,' then say to Aaron, 'Take your staff and throw it down before Pharaoh,' and it will become a snake."

So Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and did just as the LORD commanded. Aaron threw his staff down in front of Pharaoh and his officials, and it became a snake.

Pharaoh then summoned wise men and sorcerers, and the Egyptian magicians also did the same things by their secret arts: Each one threw down his staff and it became a snake.

But Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs." -(Exodus 7:1-13)

As the story unfolds in the Book of Exodus, Moses continues to perform miracles where plagues afflicted the Egyptians who were under the domain of Satan, until finally, after the first-born of all the Egyptians died while none of the first-born among the Hebrews died during what was called “The Passover,” the Hebrews looted the wealth of the Egyptians and took off for the desert.

In the desert God gave them the Law, represented by the Ten Commandments, in order to start a new life as God’s chosen people, freed from the bondage of Satan.

But the slave mentality was thoroughly entrenched in these Hebrews who grew up in Egypt, and even though they had seen the miracles of God inflicting plagues against their enemies the Egyptians, they complained to God about their condition in the desert, which leads us to the next occurrence of Satan being represented in the image of the serpent, and the roots to that symbol in modern medicine.

“They traveled from Mount Hor along the route to the Red Sea, to go around Edom.

But the people grew impatient on the way; they spoke against God and against Moses, and said, “Why have you brought us up out of Egypt to die in the desert? There is no bread! There is no water! And we detest this miserable food!”

Then the LORD sent venomous snakes among them; they bit the people and many Israelites died.

The people came to Moses and said, “We sinned when we spoke against the LORD and against you. Pray that the LORD will take the snakes away from us.”

So Moses prayed for the people.

The LORD said to Moses, “Make a snake and put it up on a pole; anyone who is bitten can look at it and live.” So Moses made a bronze snake and put it up on a pole. Then when anyone was bitten by a snake and looked at the bronze snake, he lived.” -(Numbers 21:4-9)

This passage has been greatly misinterpreted throughout history, because most of the medical images you see today, such as the Caduceus or the rod of Asclepius, really have their origins from this historical event.

Modern medicine views the image of the snake in this passage as having curative, or medical properties.

But a bronze snake hanging from what this English translation I chose says “pole,” which in the original language is some kind of “standard” or “banner,” is not what cured the people.

It was their “looking” to it, presumably in faith that God would do what he said he would do, which was to heal them.

God healed them, not an inanimate man-made metal object fashioned in the image of a snake.

And remember the prophecy God proclaimed on the serpent in Genesis 3: “Cursed are you above all the livestock and all the wild animals! You will crawl on your belly and you will eat dust all the days of your life.”

By lifting an image of the serpent high up into the air, God was signifying His power over the serpent, just as the staff of Moses and Aaron also did, when it became a serpent and consumed the serpents of Pharaoh’s magicians.

It was a symbol of defeat for Satan, by being lifted up where he himself could not go.

It took me a while to locate an artist’s interpretation of this that I believed was close to what really happened, like the one above that is at the beginning of this section. Because most of the images of Moses and the bronze serpent lifted up in the desert had something more similar to a living snake slithering up a pole, as we see in the medical symbols, suggesting that the serpent had power to do this on his own.

But this “pole” in reality had to display a dead snake, not a live one, so some kind of cross beam was necessary to drape the image of the dead snake over it, making the “pole” probably look more like a cross.

Also, we find out later that this remedy for the Hebrews in the desert was apparently specific to that time and place in history, before they entered the “Promised land.”

The bronze serpent was kept for several generations after they left the desert, and eventually took on the opposite meaning of what it was originally intended, representing some kind of demon that was named Nehushtan.

This is recorded during the days of King Hezekiah, who was a good king and led the people back to worshiping God instead of demonic images, which included the bronze serpent crafted during the days of Moses in the desert.

“He removed the high places, smashed the sacred stones and cut down the Asherah poles. He broke into pieces the bronze snake Moses had made, for up to that time the Israelites had been burning incense to it.” (It was called Nehushtan.)
-(2 Kings 18:4)

The name “Nehushtan” is only used here, and its history is not known. The etymology of the Hebrew word means “bronze” or possibly a derivation of the Hebrew word for “serpent,” but it was definitely a proper noun referring to some entity, probably demonic.

The bronze serpent that God had the Hebrews construct was a symbol of Satan’s defeat, not his curative powers.

Only God heals, and he clearly demonstrated that when he delivered the Hebrews from Egypt, by inflicting plagues on the people of Satan, while the people of God were not affected.

Jesus Replaced the Serpent in the Desert for Healing

But if there was ever any doubt as to the meaning of serpent and its place in healing, the words of Jesus erase all doubt:

“I tell you the truth, we speak of what we know, and we testify to what we have seen, but still you people do not accept our testimony. I have spoken to you of earthly things and you do not believe; how then will you believe if I speak of heavenly things?

No one has ever gone into heaven except the one who came from heaven—the Son of Man.

Just as Moses lifted up the snake in the desert, so the Son of Man must be lifted up, that everyone who believes in him may have eternal life.

For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him.

Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe stands condemned already because he has not believed in the name of God’s one and only Son.

This is the verdict: Light has come into the world, but men loved darkness instead of light because their deeds were evil.

Everyone who does evil hates the light, and will not come into the light for fear that his deeds will be exposed.

But whoever lives by the truth comes into the light, so that it may be seen plainly that what he has done has been done through God.” -(John 3:11-21)

Therefore, the use of the image of a serpent to represent healing is in direct contradiction to the words of God and of Jesus.

The image in the desert was a sign of the defeat of Satan, but that sign was ultimately fulfilled in the death and resurrection of Jesus, and to trust in anyone else for healing today, is idolatry.

What is “Idolatry?”

Child Sacrifice in temple worship with the god Molech. William Blake (1809), The Flight of Moloch. One of Blake's illustrations of On the Morning of Christ's Nativity, the poem by John Milton. Source.

I have been writing on the idolatry of modern medicine for over 13 years now, with articles that expose the evil and corruption in pharmaceutical industry on the Created4Health.org website.

An article I wrote about 5 years ago and is a bit dated now, but is probably more relevant today than it ever has been, is:

Medicine: Idolatry in the Twenty First Century

Excerpts from that article:

Idols were looked to for guidance, power, and healing. It seems strange to us today that people would create idols out of man-made objects created by their own hands.

But the reason it seems strange to us today is because the people trusted in the spirits or spirit world represented by the idols, or in some cases they may have believed that the idol itself was inhabited by spirit beings. Our materialistic culture, by contrast, believes primarily only in the physical world, either denying or ignoring the spiritual world.

The heart of idolatry is looking to sources outside of God for our basic needs and desires in life. The idols that are erected flow out of our experiences in life, and the idol is an attempt to explain life apart from the Creator.

The typical things people have historically looked to idols to provide for them are: guidance, wealth, fertility, and health. God, the Creator of heaven and earth, presents himself to his people as the sole source of these things we need and desire. God does not act like a “magician” by providing these things for us out of thin air, but most of the time he works through his natural order of creation which is upheld by his power. (See Hebrews 1:3 & Colossians 1:17 which explain that God holds together the universe through his energy.)

The creation, however, is not a closed system, and God himself is not bound to its laws. He operates outside of it also, and in the person of Jesus, especially, we saw the power of the Creator in human form interact and overcome the limitations of the physical creation in many instances. Jesus walked on water, turned water into wine, immediately healed people’s diseases, and even raised people from physical death back to life.

But the decision as to when supernatural events happen always originates with God, and not the created beings. The prophets and other leaders at times were used by God to perform miracles, but the miracles were performed by God through them.

“Magicians” on the other hand, those who truly perform magic (not just illusions), are interacting with the spiritual world being controlled by their own thoughts and desires, or those of the spirits who are also created beings.

The ancient world was full of competing religions that practiced real magic in the spiritual realm through idolatrous practice.

One specific form of idolatry that was condemned in the Old Testament writings of the Bible was child sacrifice to the god Molech:

Any Israelite or any alien living in Israel who gives any of his children to Molech must be put to death. The people of the community are to stone him.

I will set my face against that man and I will cut him off from his people; for by giving his children to Molech, he has defiled my sanctuary and profaned my holy name. If the people of the community close their eyes when that man gives one of his children to Molech and they fail to put him to death, I will set my face against that man and his family and will cut off from their people both him and all who follow him in prostituting themselves to Molech. I will set my face against the person who turns to mediums and spiritists to prostitute himself by following them, and I will cut him off from his people.

Consecrate yourselves and be holy, because I am the LORD your God. Keep my decrees and follow them. I am the LORD, who makes you holy. (Leviticus 20:2-8)

Are things any different today in terms of idolatry?

It has taken on a different form, but it is in essence the same thing it has always been – trust in idols rather than God to supply our needs and desires.

Modern-day culture has changed dramatically since the theory of Darwinian evolution came on the scene and dominated academics in western culture, so that today the physical world is exalted above all other realities.

The spiritual world is either denied or ignored.

Hence, creation of physical idols out of basic elements such as wood or metals is very uncommon, because current culture ignores the unseen world that could be represented by such physical manifestations.

What has replaced those idols, however, are beliefs in new ones.

The most common idol in western culture today, by far, is medicine – the new “magic.” Modern day medicine has existed for a relatively short period of human history, and the creation of a body of licensed “physicians” can be traced back to the start of the vaccine movement in Europe in the 1800s, when health officials wanted more control over the population and what they perceived as threatening diseases like smallpox.

Today, medicine is seen as the solution to almost all of life’s problems. A pill or vaccine exists now for just about every ailment or problem in life, and for those problems that don’t have a medical solution yet, billions of dollars are spent on research to find one.

The belief system currently in place is that physical science and medicine can solve all problems in life.

The people who control the medical system are trained and licensed and given great authority to control our lives. Currently they have the authority to take children away from their parents, to declare someone “insane” or mentally disturbed and have them committed to an institution, force people (especially children) to use their products via vaccinations, and make sweeping laws and regulations that affect the lives of everyone.

It is believed that life itself is dependent on medicine, and this belief system is used to justify the authority and power the medical system has in our culture.

Pharmaceutical Drugs as Witchcraft or Sorcery

One of the more interesting Greek words that is usually translated as “witchcraft” or “sorcery” in the English translations of the Bible is “pharmakeia”, from which we get such English words as “pharmacy” or “pharmaceutical.”

Outside of the Biblical texts, this Greek word would probably most often be translated into English as “medicine,” or “drugs.”

It is used in Galatians 5:20:

“The acts of the sinful nature are obvious: sexual immorality, impurity and debauchery; idolatry and witchcraft; hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage, selfish ambition, dissensions, factions and envy; drunkenness, orgies, and the like. I warn you, as I did before, that those who live like this will not inherit the kingdom of God.” -(Galatians 5:19-21)

Can you imagine using the English word “medicines” in place of “witchcraft” in the list of sins in the verses above? Obviously the modern translators of the English Bible could not, and yet that was the word the ancients would have used for our modern day word “medicine.”

It is also used in the book of Revelation in a couple of places:

“The rest of mankind that were not killed by these plagues still did not repent of the work of their hands; they did not stop worshiping demons, and idols of gold, silver, bronze, stone and wood—idols that cannot see or hear or walk. Nor did they repent of their murders, their magic arts, their sexual immorality or their thefts.” -(Revelation 9:20-21)

In this verse the word pharmakeia is translated “magic arts.” It is used below in referring to Babylon:

“The light of a lamp will never shine in you again. The voice of bridegroom and bride will never be heard in you again. Your merchants were the world’s great men. By your magic spell all the nations were led astray.” -(Revelation 18:23)

Here the word pharmakeia is translated “magic spell.” Again, “medicine” did not seem appropriate to the translators in these verses, because of the current acceptance and understanding we have in the word and concept of “medicine.”

Is Big Pharma Medicine the Primary Tool of the Globalists and the New World Order?

World Health Organization

Current events here in July of 2020 show that there is a massive effort in place to usher in a New World Order by the Globalists, where the agenda is to reduce the world's population.

I have identified who is ultimately behind this agenda, which is no longer a “conspiracy theory,” but is actually being published now. See:

Unmasking Who is Behind the Plandemic and Rioting to Usher in the New World Order

As I show in this article, which is a must-read if you truly want to understand what is happening today, the entity controlling events today is the Serpent, Satan, and he has two main goals in the time he has remaining before Christ returns. He wants to control the world by controlling the world's financial system, and he wants your children.

The pharmaceutical industry is the primary tool he is using today to accomplish this goal.

Most of the world's wealth has already been transferred from the middle class to the pharmaceutical industry through the COVID Plandemic. See:

Biggest Bailout of Wall Street in U.S. History was Planned Months before the Plandemic Virus Crisis – “Big” Pharma now HUGE Pharma
New World Order Continues to be Published: The “Great Reset” – Transhumanism and the 4th Industrial Revolution
The New World Order: Creating a Crisis so the Rich Get Richer While Millions Lose Their Jobs

And as I am writing this, BILLIONS have been spent on developing a COVID vaccine with the goal of inoculating every single person on the planet.

I have been one of the leading voices in the Alternative Media for the past decade or so warning people about the dangers of vaccines, as it has been the most censored topic in the corporate Pharma-funded “mainstream” media, and we have an entire website devoted to the topic: VaccineImpact.com.

Two of the leading doctors and scientists in the world who understand the devastating effects that vaccines can have, are now warning the public that this COVID vaccine being developed is a new kind of DNA vaccine never before brought to market, and in the U.S. alone they are predicting up to 50 million people will be killed by the vaccines. Dr. Judy Mikovits and Dr. Sherri Tenpenny: A New COVID Vaccine Could Kill 50 Million People in the U.S.

Most of the deaths that are currently being attributed to COVID have happened among our elderly population, and yet mostly only those of us in the Alternative Media are exposing this massive holocaust that has already happened! See: Dr. Vernon Coleman: Your Government Wants You Dead – BANNED from YouTube

So what's next?

Most Americans are opposed to mandatory vaccines, especially for adults, but even if laws or emergency orders are not put in place to mandate that everyone must get the COVID vaccine, you can expect that, like the current measures being put in place in some states that require masks to be worn in order to enter a store to buy something, or visit a hospital, etc., that there will probably be some kind of COVID-ID or “mark” also required to prove you have received the COVID vaccine. See: Virginia Has Provided the Nation with the Template for Mandatory Vaccines: Democracy Sacrificed for Medical Tyranny

Hence, we are already very close to seeing the principle of Revelation 13 fulfilled, as I quoted above:

“He also forced everyone, small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on his right hand or on his forehead, so that no one could buy or sell unless he had the mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of his name.” -(Revelation 13:16-17)

As I stated in the beginning of this article, I am not going to get bogged down in the literal details of how this all might unfold regarding Biblical prophecy, in terms of dates, times, and other specifics, but instead I am taking the words of Jesus himself seriously, as recorded in Matthew 16:

“When evening comes, you say, ‘It will be fair weather, for the sky is red,’ and in the morning, ‘Today it will be stormy, for the sky is red and overcast.’ You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, but you cannot interpret the signs of the times.” -(Matthew 16:2-3)

As I also stated in the beginning of this article, the day may soon be here where the only way to resist Satan and the Globalists under his control, is to completely stop participating in the Government-run medical system.

Many of us have been warning the public about this for years, and there are a few of us who have not depended upon the pharmaceutical industry for our health for quite some time now, because we recognized that it was an evil system responsible for untold, countless deaths and destruction of lives. It is also the largest criminal organization in the world, by far. See:

Pharmaceutical Industry is the Leading Cause of Death in U.S., and the Largest Criminal Group in the World

So if you plan on resisting the Serpent, and his marks, the time has come to start detoxing yourself of pharmaceutical products, and learning as much as you can about natural health, and even supernatural health as taught in the Bible.

We ought to be thankful for Brian Shilhavy's article here. I came across it two days ago when I was researching material for my "Depopulation" series. Since I have followed very closely the entire issue of global government, and the issue of "Depopulation" as outlined in The Georgia Guide stones, not to mention Paul Ehrlich's book, 'The Population Bomb', Chemtrails or Geoengineering, it should be understood that this is not 'Conspiracy Theory' but Conspiracy Evidence. The global elite are meeting as I key this right now in Davos, Switzerland, and planning their next phase of the faked virus. I could have written a better article on who is behind the vaccine agenda. Since it is unlikely that any of the readers of this are familiar with Agenda 21 and Agenda 2030, it is necessary to wake people to the reality that “Depopulation” as a plan has been around for a very long time. It is incredible how almost 30 years have elapsed since I first began writing about the Rio Summit held in Brazil in 1992. That reality had been printed in the document found on an old IBM copier being sold for scrap. It was a typed presentation from an early Bilderberg Group meeting entitled: ‘Silent Weapons for Quiet Wars’.

This becomes more alarming by the fact that our new Presidential administration has wasted no time to announce its return to the WHO, the Paris Accords, a 100 day mandate for the wearing of masks, even though Covid-19 has been in decline, and so now we are being fear-mongered with another strain from Brazil this time, last week it was South Africa, there will be no let up to the propaganda about vaccines and face masks in the media. There is no need for fear; precaution and recognizing what the author has stated above. Vaccines are the creation of Jesuits in the early 1800s as a means to control people; and in the current era became a money-making scam.

I can’t say it loud enough or long enough, NO VIRUS HAS EVER BEEN PROVEN TO HAVE BEEN CONTAGIOUS because of the “Germ” theory. It has always been the “Terrain” issue. We have been lied to by the so-called “professionals” but fortunately there are some professionals who have not sold out for a pay check and proclaim the truth at great risk, character assassination, career blackballing, censorship and blocking on the Internet. The Internet censorship and deplatforming confirms that truth advocates are right on target. Why else would the elite silence truth and true health care if it did not expose their fraud and fakery?
