More cities jump on the climate bandwagon, banning ads for meat, gas-fueled cars, airline tickets and other products deemed 'bad' for environment. It's all part of the anti-human globalist agenda to starve the planet into submission

LEO HOHMANN

NOV 14, 2023

The city councils of two Dutch cities, Bloemendaal and Utrecht, have voted to ban the advertising in public spaces of gasoline-powered cars, airline tickets, meat and dairy products.

These two woke cities join the Dutch city of Haarlem, whose council voted last year to take the same bizarre action, which takes effect in 2024. Yes, it's a violation of free speech. But it's more than that.

Pay attention to this and don't think it can't or won't happen in the U.S., Canada and other nations of the formerly free world. What happens in self-destructing Western Europe typically always makes its way to America, first to California usually, and then to other blue states and eventually to red states as well.

Citing a number of Dutch outlets, Vegconomist reports that “the Municipality of Bloemendaal, a majority formed by the coalition parties D66, VVD, and PvdA recently agreed to prohibit meat and dairy advertisements on billboards, posters, and other advertising spots managed by the municipality.”

The ban includes not just meat and dairy but “fossil fuels-dependent products such as combustion-engine cars and airline tickets.”

The City Council of Utrecht's ban is similar, which also includes alcoholic beverages and gambling advertisements. Vegconomist wrote:

“The municipality said in a statement that it is committed to taking the necessary actions to reduce CO2 emissions and that growing and transporting livestock feed results in deforestation and the release of greenhouse gases, thereby contributing to global warming.”

Growing and transporting livestock feed is now considered evil by these zealots. Gone are the days when farmers were admired for their ability to feed the masses.

Remember, this is the same country, the Netherlands, that has been enacting laws to seize large swaths of farmers' land, and giving incentives for farmers to cull their livestock herds, all in the name of an insane climate agenda that strives for “net zero emissions” by 2030 or in some cases 2035 or 2050.

Whenever you hear the words “net zero,” think starvation. That’s the real goal, not any sort of phony environmental cause. If that dirty little secret ever manages to get out to the masses, the globalist elites would have a real problem on their hands. But their lackeys in the corporate media make sure to keep a lid on this information, perpetuating the scam of climate change and the need to enact “net zero” emissions. If we don’t do this, they say, we will all die within the next 10 or 20 years.

The truth is they want us dead and it’s their net zero policies — not eating meat, farming the land, heating our homes, or driving gas vehicles — that will accomplish this dark agenda. We really are heading into a dark winter, and potentially a new dark age, if these globalist elites are successful in forcing their evil agenda on the decent people of the world.

If the globalists get their puppet politicians to allow the implementation central bank digital currencies, or CBDCs, it’s game over. They will then have access to a tool that can be used to track and monitor every transaction that takes place in real time. Such a tool will inevitably lead to new provisions for punitive actions against those who buy too many of the “bad” eco-unfriendly products, like meat, dairy, gasoline and diesel, ammunition, wood stoves, etc. Your social-credit score dips below a certain level and suddenly your credit and debit cards get turned off, or you bank account gets frozen. This is where things are heading.

Net zero emissions is the agenda of the globalist death cult, otherwise known as Luciferians, to consolidate their power and deprive us of our basic human rights. This agenda is driven by the United Nations and its 17 “Sustainable Development Goals,” and backed by the World Economic Forum (public private partnerships), World Health Organization (medical tyranny), the Club of Rome (depopulation and eugenics), and all the governments of the world that are run by their puppet politicians.

All governments are owned by the central banks of the world and the largest multinational corporations. For that reason we will never vote our way out of this emerging global system that wishes to make us into obedient serfs. They hate humanity as much as their father, the devil. They want at least a third of us dead, maybe more, which is why these globalists are so cozy with the military-industrial complex, arming themselves with bigger and more efficient killing machines while stripping the people of the world of their God-given rights to self-defense.

Don't believe me? Listen to the words of their leaders, folks like Klaus Schwab, Yuval Harari, Henry Kissinger, Dennis Meadows (author of Limits to Growth for the Club of Rome), and the list goes on. Globalism is a death cult. The sooner you understand that, the sooner you can join us in the hard work of spreading the truth, stripping the veneer of altruism off of their dark agenda, and take back ownership of our lives from these psychopaths who think they own us.

Many are awake now to what Leo Hohmann is telling us: "Whenever you hear the words 'net zero,' think starvation." Leo Hohmann does not reveal enough to help the reader come to an awareness of what is happening around the world.

For most people nowadays, the study of the old pagan "nature" religions, myths, deities, gods and goddesses from ancient Babylon, Egypt, Greece and Rome, seem complex and confusing because there are so many of them. As the result of this, more often than not they are simply disregarded by the general masses as 'irrelevant' or 'harmless' old myths coming from a bygone era having no relevance to the modern world today. Of course, this is absolutely not the case at all, and today they are still alive and well as ever they were, even more so, and now subtly form the very basis for the "green" New World Order, Masonic, one world "environmental" religion and government.

At the time of Christ and the apostles it was these "mythological" "nature" deities and beliefs that were the primary inspiration responsible for crucifying Christ, persecuting and murdering Christians. The Bible mentions them under different names, but the chief ones in the New Testament, are the Roman sun god, Jupiter, and his consort, the mother earth goddess, Diana.

While Paul and Barnabas were in Lycaonia, Acts 14:11-19 records, that Paul was stoned for challenging these very beliefs:

"And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker. Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people. Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out, and saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein ..."
Jupiter, the Roman sun god, is again mentioned in Acts 19:35.

While at Ephesus, the center of mother earth goddess Diana (Greek name, Artemis) worship, Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines for Diana, when threatened by Paul's preaching, said:

“So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.” -(Acts 19:27)

At the time of Christ and the apostles, the “whole world” worshipped this goddess apart from the small remnant of genuine Christians. Even the Ephesian town-clerk said:

“... Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?” -(Acts 19:35)

Diana is mentioned in Acts 19:24, 27, 28, 34, & 35. Diana's great temple and shrine at Ephesus was considered one of the wonders of the ancient world and was a place of devout pilgrimage. Worshipers at Ephesus adored her so much, that even the Christian church there couldn't totally give up the worship of her completely, so she was gradually assimilated into their beliefs.

In 380 AD, her shrine was re-dedicated to the Virgin Mary, whose old age and death in subsequent Roman Catholic Church legend, was and still is, erroneously claimed to be at Ephesus. Later, in 431 AD, many of the former great goddess titles of Diana were taken by the church declaring “Mary” to be the new “God Bearer,” “Queen of Heaven,” “Divine Virgin,” “Mother of God,” and “Mother of All.” Of course, they conveniently omitted her more “darker side” as the “Queen of Witches” and “Death-Bringing Goddess” who, with Apollo, used poisoned arrows to kill the Niobids, (which will be explained in greater detail later). Most depictions of the death-bringing Diana show a bow, arrows and a “dead beast” of some sort with her.

In the Old Testament, the worship of the sun god and the mother earth goddess was Israel's greatest sin. In Jeremiah 7:18, Israel made “cakes to the queen of heaven” in much the same way as pagans and apostate Christians do today in worshipping her at the pagan feast of Easter named after the Egyptian/Babylonian mother earth goddess Ishtar (Egyptian name, Isis) – by baking and eating hot cross buns. The bun (and Easter eggs also) represents her as the fertility goddess producing cereals and food, and the cross on top is one of the ancient symbols for the Babylonian sun god impregnating her. During the time of Jeremiah, the Jews living in Egypt were all worshipping her as the Egyptian “queen of heaven.” For this great sin in worshipping the mother earth goddess, God through Jeremiah promised:

“...Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the LORD, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord GOD liveth.” -(Jeremiah 44:26).

This curse and promise still remains in force today. It is no coincidence that the spurious “Egyptian” Ben Asher Hebrew Text of the Old Testament is still used by all Orthodox Jews today, and tragically many Messianic Jews and Christians as well. This is also the same text from which all corrupt modern New Age bible Old Testaments are translated. It is also no coincidence, that all of the corrupt modern bible New Testaments in the church today is translated from the spurious “Egyptian” Alexandrian Greek Text of the New Testament. In contrast, the King James Bible is translated from the genuine Ben Chayyim Hebrew Text (not from Egypt) and the Textus Receptus Greek Text (also not from Egypt). This great curse (and now deception) on most Jews and apostate Christians has occurred through one major reason only – the turning away from worshipping the true Creator and God of the Bible – and commencing to worship the sun god and his consort, this “green” “mother earth goddess.”

In ancient times in Babylon, Egypt, Greece and Rome, this supreme deified pagan sun god was deemed to be incarnated in the king or pharaoh. In other words, the king or pharaoh was believed not to be just “a man.” He was believed to be a literal god himself. It follows, then, that the soon-coming, deceptive, world leader most Christians now refer to as “Antichrist” will be such “a man” masquerading as a similar god. This is what the Penultimate event is all about.

In Matthew 24, Jesus prophetically summarized details to his disciples about future cataclysmic events which would wax worse and worse in the last days and lead up to and 6 transpire during a period of “great tribulation” (vs. 29) at the end of the world (vs.13) heralding the rise of Antichrist, and Jesus’ second coming (vs. 27). The main feature of this period would be “deception,” and Jesus started off by warning his disciples by saying, “Take heed that no man deceive you” (vs. 4).

The beginning of this period leading up to this time of “great tribulation” would be characterized first by wars and rumors of wars (i.e., WW1, WW2, Korea, Vietnam, Iraq etc.) then followed by famines, pestilences and earthquakes in many places (which are dramatically increasing now). This period is called “the beginning of sorrows” (vs. 8).

It is then quickly followed by the introduction of severe persecution of genuine Christians, which leads up to the start of the time of “great tribulation.” (vs. 21). Man will become so wicked during this period that “except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved” (vs. 22). Immediately after the tribulation (vs. 29), Christ’s second coming occurs (vs. 30) and all the elect are gathered together to be with him (vs. 31). Following this event, God then brings His judgment on the wicked and those who would destroy the earth.

In Revelation chapters 6-13, Jesus revealed to John in much greater detail what was going to happen during this debilitating period, which would lead up to the enthronement of a man who would become a Satanic world “leader” (German: Fuehrer) who Christians refer to as Antichrist. This wicked man would cause his satanic mark to be placed in the right hand or forehead of every living person in the world for buying and selling who do not have Jesus Christ as Lord -(Revelation 13:16-18).

In WW2, how an entire, great, cultured nation like Germany could be deceived by such an obscure, “weasel” of a man like the Fuehrer, Adolph Hitler has always been a deep mystery for many people, almost beyond comprehension. If his almost trance-like adoration by the masses and subsequent reign of terror was anything, it surely was a “final warning” to the world never again to be deceived. But will most people ever heed the warning? Obviously the true Antichrist character will be much more subtle and cleverer. Jesus warned in Matthew 24:24 that, “if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.” Paul too, in 2nd Corinthians 11:14 warned, “And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.”

The title, “Prince of Wales,” in Welsh is Tywysog Cymr. The verb tywys means to lead. The literal translation of Welsh Tywysog is “Leader,” in German, Fuehrer.

Revelation chapter 6 prophetically summarizes some of the key “opening events” which lead up to this diabolically deceptive and evil period where this man/god/prince becomes universally worshipped. The prophecy in Revelation 6 is commonly referred to as ‘The Four Horses of the Apocalypse.’ (‘Apocalypse’ is simply Greek for ‘Revelation’).

One cannot properly understand this key prophecy in Revelation 6 without first understanding the Old Testament prophecy of the “Four Chariots and Horses” in Zechariah 6, which “foreshadows” Revelation 6, and readers are encouraged to read this prophecy as well. The “fourth chariot” in Zechariah 6:3 contained “grisled and bay horses,” and the Hebrew word translated “grisled” (Strong’s Hebrew #1261 – ‘barod’ comes from Hebrew #1258 “barad” – ‘hail’). It’s a big subject, and for the sake of brevity, this study will only concentrate on the “fourth horse” of the Apocalypse and its relationship specifically to Prince Charles as the coming Antichrist. It primarily involves about two or three key verses of Scripture centered around Revelation 6:8, so let’s start by reading this verse.

“And I looked, and behold a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with the sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.” -(Revelation 6:8)

In this verse the KJV translators controversially translated the word ‘pale’ from the Greek word ‘chloros’ (Strong’s Greek #5515) which means either ‘green or pale.’ The only other place in the New Testament where this Greek word chloros is used is in Mark 6:39, Revelation 8:7, and Revelation 9:4. In all these verses the word chloros is translated as ‘green.’ Because of this apparent discrepancy or contradiction, some modern bible scholars now claim that the KJV translation of the word chloros to ‘pale’ is an error, and the correct word should be ‘green.’ Their reasoning for this is that modern words derived from the Greek word chloros such as ‘chlorophyll’ (the green pigment involved in photosynthesis in plants), ‘chlorine’ (a common chemical element that as a gas is greenish yellow), ‘chlorosis’ (in botany is a condition in which plant foliage produces insufficient chlorophyll) and the Greek name ‘Chloe’ (literally ‘a green shoot’- another name for Demeter the Greek goddess of agriculture) are all directly associated with the color green – not pale. As a result of this reasoning some modern bible translators have changed the text in Revelation 6:8. The Phillips Translation has ‘sickly green in color.’ The Contemporary English Version (CEV) has ‘pale green’ etc. So who is correct? – The King James Bible translators or the modern version editors? So let’s explain.

The normal translation of the Greek word chloros into English definitely should be green. The modern bible version editors are partly correct there is no doubt. But why did the KJV translators translate chloros as ‘green’ elsewhere in the New Testament, yet in Revelation 6:8 so abruptly depart from the standard rendering and mysteriously change it to ‘pale’?

The etymology (history of the formation of words) of the Greek word chloros is much deeper than most people realize. For example, the word chlorosis derived from it, is not only a botanical term for a condition in which plant foliage produces insufficient chlorophyll, it is also a medical term for anemia that is characterized by a green color to the skin, also known as ‘greensickness.’ The Greek word chloros – ‘green’ ‘pale,’ in turn, originally is derived directly from the name of the Greek nymph/mother earth goddess Chloris (sometimes spelled Chloros, Khloros or Khloris). Chloris in Greece was originally the goddess associated with the new, green, spring growth.

In ancient Greek mythology, Chloris’s name was originally Meliboea, who was one of Niobe and Amphion’s fourteen children, seven male and seven female, called the Niobids. Meliboea was the only one, or one of two children, spared when Artemis (Roman name, Diana) and Apollo killed the Niobids in retribution for Niobe’s insult to their mother Leto, bragging that she had many children and Leto had only two. Meliboea was so frightened by the ordeal she turned permanently pale, changing her name to ‘Chloris’ which in Greek literally means ‘pale one.’ She is referred to in Homer’s Odyssey, (Book11, lines 281-296). This is why, in Greek, Chloros or Chloris can be translated either as ‘green’ or ‘pale.’ In the context of Revelation 6:8, this is why the KJV translators chose to call the fourth horse of the apocalypse ‘pale’ rather than green, because the whole chapter is describing a “frightening ordeal” – not like a pleasant one that would normally be associated with the color ‘green.’

It is important to remember that all of the world’s pagan sun-gods and mother-earth goddesses, no matter what their manifestation, aspect, or personification, have their primary beginnings in the Bible’s characterization of Adam and Eve. All pagan mother-earth goddess myths can be traced right back to the original account of Adam and Eve in Genesis chapters 1-3, and involve primarily a woman, a serpent (Satan) and a tree. Thus, the ancient Greek name for the goddess Athena (after which Athens today is named) was originally Athana. The Greek name ‘Athana’ is a shortened form of ‘A-Thanatos’ which means ‘deathlessness,’ and is simply the pagan Greek representation of the serpent’s lie to Eve that she would never die – but would become a god, knowing good and evil. All of the ancient Egyptian, Babylonian, Greek and Roman mother-earth goddesses, no matter what their individual personification or names, are all pagan masquerades of Satan in the original Garden of Eden.

The opposite of A-Thanatos is 'Thanatos' (Strong's Greek 2288) from which the capitalized word in Revelation 6:8 'Death' is directly translated. Thanatos capitalized is the literal Greek god of Death. 'Hell' is also capitalized in Revelation 6:8 and is translated from Hades the literal Greek god of the Underworld. In ancient Greece, both these gods were represented as men.

In ancient Greek art and sculpture the god Thanatos is usually shown as a naked winged man or boy with a huge scabbard and sword hanging over his left hip. In Greek mythology he was looked on less as a god, but more as the Angel of Death, who inherited from Zeus his role as a judge of who shall live and who shall die. He did this by weighing the living on a balance-scale. The Greeks got their pagan ideas about Thanatos from the ancient Egyptians. In the Egyptian Book of the Dead, Anubis engages in the 'Weighing of the Heart,' in which he decides the fate of the dead by balancing on a giant scale his or her heart against a feather – the feather of Justice, the feather of Maat. Two of these feathers, bound around a central element woven from 'green' plant stems represented the Egyptian trinity, and were shown on the triple Atef Crown of Osiris, the great sun-god of Egypt, worn by Pharaoh, from which today the "three ostrich feathers" emblem of the Prince of Wales is originally derived.

The Roman Catholic Church "Christianized" the god Thanatos and changed his name to St. Michael, now the protector of the Roman Catholic Church. This is why Roman Catholic artists often depict the Archangel St. Michael at the Last Judgment wielding a sword in one hand and in the other a balance-scale weighing the souls of the dead! In truth, the Roman Catholic Archangel St. Michael is the Angel of Death.

In Revelation, 'Death' and 'Hell' are often linked together, as they are in Revelation 6:8 in relation to the pale horse. Revelation 9:11 explains; "And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue his name is Apollyon." Abaddon and Apollyon both mean 'destroyer.' In Revelation 9, Abaddon/Apollyon is both the angel of the bottomless pit and the king of the locusts (masters of green plant destruction). In Greek, Apollyon is just another name for the Greek god Apollo.

In Strong's Hebrew and Chaldee Dictionary of the Old Testament the first 24 words in Hebrew are largely associated with terms like 'father' ('ab' #1), 'green,' or 'a green plant' ('eb' #3), 'destroy' or 'perish' ('abad' #7), 'perishing' or 'destruction' [Greek :Abaddon] ('abaddown' #11), and the Hebrew month 'Abib' [Nisan] ('abiyb' #24), – meaning 'to be tender green' i.e. 'a young ear of grain' 'ear,' 'green ears of corn.' The Hebrew meaning is much deeper than just "destruction" and is closely associated with the color 'GREEN.' The full name of this "king" or "angel of the bottomless pit" is therefore not just "destruction." It is more correctly: "Green plant destroyer" or, "Father of Green Plant Destruction."

In ancient Greece, the locust was the emblem of Apollo who brutally poisoned his victims. His emblem, the locust, typified his power in destroying agriculture through bringing on pestilence and thus – starvation. He was also the god of healing, but also the god of "sending of plague and pestilence." His arrows, it was believed, could send plague, as happened in the Iliad Book I. In the first book of the Iliad, Apollo is angry with the Greeks for refusing to return the daughter of his priest Chryses. To punish them, Apollo showers the Greeks with arrows of plague, possibly bubonic, since the plague-sending Apollo is a special aspect connected to mice.

The locust emblem of Apollo was probably the Desert Locust, which is normally green. Interestingly, when these locusts are crowded together they enter a gregarious phase of activity when their color changes from green to black, yellow or orange. If a black hopper is separated from its swarm at a sufficient early stage it can be induced to turn green again. When swarming, a medium size plague can contain a billion locusts and cover an invasion area of 20 square kilometers, and consume 3,000 tons of green vegetation or crops per day. When swarming they will eat every green thing in their path.

Wind tunnel tests have shown that a locust can fly continuously for 17 hours, and there is evidence of an actual recorded flight of locusts from the Canary Islands to the British Isles in 1954, a distance of 1,600 miles. In Africa, swarms can travel 2000 miles in a month. They usually fly at about 10-12 miles per hour and move down-wind. Locust pheromones or hormones produced during mating, in combination with scales that come off their wings and cuticle can act as allergens to humans causing severe respiratory illnesses such as asthma, Lung Eczema or Laboratory Animal Allergy. These respiratory diseases can occur one or two years after initial exposure. In insect rearing laboratories dealing with locusts, there are therefore strict rules on wearing face masks, in much the same way as there are today for Avian and Swine Flu outbreaks. John the Baptist ate locusts.

The apostle John wrote the book of Revelation in 96 AD during the reign of the Roman Caesar Domitian (reign: 81-96 AD), who banished him to Patmos, severely persecuted Jews and Christians, and who believed he was the literal incarnation of Apollo. Remember? It was Apollo in Greek mythology who killed the Niobids and saved the mother-earth goddess Meliboea, who was originally the “green goddess” of spring who changed her name to Chloris, who in fear turned pale – from which is derived the name of the “pale horse” of the apocalypse in the book of Revelation! Well, in Rome, Satan changed her name again! The implications are larger than life when it comes to how Satan has groomed HRH Prince Charles to bring about so much death in his life time! It has connections to one of his knighted minions. It may seem too many that Charles pictured here at a 75th birthday party taken on 11/13/23 couldn't be the Antichrist and yet the evidence is unquestionable that HRH Prince Charles is the Man of Sin!

Bill Gates buying up land, threatening small farms under guise of saving planet, author claims

By Brianna Herlihy, Fox News

Published Nov. 14, 2023

A new book aimed at “exposing the billionaire class” says Microsoft co-founder Bill Gates’ investments in patented fertilizers, fake meat and U.S. farmland aren’t saving the planet but rather enriching his bank account.

“Controligarchs,” which hits bookshelves Tuesday, examines billionaires like Bill Gates and how their wealth controls the levers of power that dominate the everyday life of average Americans.

Author and investigative journalist Seamus Bruner — who led teams whose findings sparked multiple FBI investigations and congressional probes into the Clinton and Biden families — says that his research uncovered Gates’s efforts to buy up American farmland and invest in synthetic dairy and lab-grown meats in the name of preventing climate change.

In the process, Bruner says, Gates is doing more to inflate his net worth than eliminate carbon emissions.

“First, it was patented seeds and patented fertilizers, and now they are patenting meat alternatives. Banning cattle would grant effective monopolies to the alternative protein companies and benefit investors such as Bill Gates, Jeff Bezos, Mark Zuckerberg and even BlackRock. Fake meats are about controlling the food market, not saving the planet,” Bruner said in an interview with Fox News Digital.

An author says that Bill Gates research uncovered Gates’s efforts to buy up American farmland.

Peter Schweizer, author of “Red-Handed,” “Clinton Cash” and “Profiles in Corruption,” wrote the forward to “Controligarchs” in which he said the book “peers into the future and provides a haunting and revelatory exposé of the leftist elite’s playbook for the next five years.”

One chapter of the book focuses on “the war on farmers” and makes the case that tech giants like Gates are monopolizing the nation’s food supply.

“The takeover of the food system, like so many other control schemes in this book, began with the Rockefellers and was advanced by Bill Gates. Like most of their monopolies — from oil to software and eventually biotechnology — the takeover of food is all about controlling the intellectual property of food production through trademarks, copyrights, and patents,” the book states.

Bruner outlines Gates' connection to "the Green Revolution" – a series of agricultural advances made possible by Rockefeller-funded research and design in the 1940s to help solve the crises of poverty and starvation at the time.

The author also says Bill Gates is doing more to inflate his net worth than eliminate carbon emissions.

"The Green Revolution was simultaneous proof that problems like poverty and famine could be solved through human innovation and that the solutions, such as genetically modified pesticide-resistant crops, can present new problems like pollution, resource exhaustion and the consolidation of small-scale and family-owned farms into giant corporate-controlled farms," it reads.

"But rather than take responsibility for the new problems, the Rockefellers took all the credit for the crop abundance while blaming the new problems on the convenient scapegoat of climate change," Bruner writes.

Bill Gates' efforts are tied into investing in synthetic dairy and lab-grown meats in the name of preventing climate change. "Now, the Controligarchs claim they can solve the climate crisis with new patented miracle products that happen to make themselves even richer and, once again, at the expense of small-scale independent farmers," he adds.

Bruner documents the outrage of farmers around the world after the push to ban more traditional and affordable crop nutrients, and he notes that restrictions on traditional fertilizer that the farmers said would bankrupt them were only put into place "after Gates and his buddies had secured the intellectual property for the replacement fertilizers."

Bruner continues that “for more than a decade, as he was targeting the fertilizer industry, Bill Gates has also been quietly buying up large swaths of American farmland.”

“All told, Gates has spent over $1 billion dollars on farm acquisitions and the Agenda 2030-compliant technologies they now employ,” Bruner says. Agenda 2030 is a United Nations initiative purported to target “eliminating extreme poverty, reducing inequality, and protecting the planet.”

“When Gates buys tens of thousands of acres, he is not just buying the land — he is also buying the rights to water below ground. In addition to farms (and the irrigation) and fertilizer, Gates has been hunting for sizable interests in water and water treatment — a crucial component when seeking to control the agricultural industry,” Bruner notes.

Another section of the book warns Gates’ next target is synthetic meat companies like Beyond Meat and Impossible Foods, which have received more than two dozen patents for their fake meat (and fake dairy) products and have more than 100 patents pending. Gates has already invested millions in such companies, although the consumers at large are not yet keen on the products.

Bill Gates was targeting the fertilizer industry but has now been quietly buying up large swaths of American farmland. Remember that Bill Gates was knighted by Prince Charles in 2004 for his service to the Crown! It’s all about Net Zero!

Bruner notes that that Gates’ foray into the fake meat market comes as the Microsoft inventor warned that cow flatulence is a significant contributor to climate change.

“And it should come as no surprise that while the peasants are expected to eat fermented fungi, lab-grown meats, and maggot milkshakes, the Controligarchs — with their private chefs — have no intention of doing the same if recent behavior is any indicator,” Bruner says.

“Bill Gates and Warren Buffett famously love eating beef burgers and steaks when Gates visits his mentor in Omaha. Zuckerberg likes smoking beef brisket and grilling pork ribs (from real cows and pigs) and says meats taste ‘doubly better when you hunt an animal for yourself,’” Bruner writes.

Fox News Digital reached out to the Gates Foundation but did not receive a response in time for publication.

CENSORED DOCTOR WARNED OF COVID VACCINE ‘DECIMATION OF POPULATION’ YEARS BEFORE PRESENT EXCESS DEATHS MASS CASUALTY EVENT

NOVEMBER 14, 2023 PUBLIUS

The raw numbers don’t lie. Nearly 20% more people are dying each year than normal around the world, including the US. The least affected is Africa, where vaccine uptake was the lowest. COVID only accounts for less than a third of these global deaths.

Meanwhile NBC reports that Covid vaccine injury and death claims are overwhelming government compensation programs:

This is a story bigger than all the mass casualty event stories of the past 200 years or longer, even going back to the Plague.

Why is the “if it bleeds it leads” media suddenly not interested in mass death and destruction?

Why is the media silent about over 20 million mysteriously dead people?

Sources: Total COVID Deaths: Worldometers.info

Total World Deaths: DeadorKicking.com

There is no room for doubt any longer that these mass deaths are vaccine-related, see: “Smoking Gun Evidence That the COVID Vaccines Are Behind Skyrocketing Excess Deaths.”

What is less well-known is that many doctors and scientists, many of them distinguished, have long been warning of possible deadly effects of the mRNA-based COVID gene manipulators, incorrectly referred to as vaccines, who have called passionately for a halt to the novel drugs. Moreover, these scientists have been harshly censored and targeted as agents of “misinformation.”

But what can no longer be hidden is the sheer number of unexplained deaths worldwide, greater even than the tragic Holocaust, can no longer be ignored by media and governments intent on ignoring them. The site Worldometers.info estimates about 7 million total dead from COVID since it began. But COVID deaths have plunged, and since the mRNA roll-out over 20 million people have died of non-COVID causes, a nearly 20% increase in non-COVID deaths from what would be expected given otherwise fairly constant death rates. The number of deaths over what is expected in a year is called “excess deaths.”

In the U.S. in the last quarter of 2021, excess deaths were up 40%, mostly among working age people. Life insurance executive Scott Davison, CE of insurance giant One America, said in January 2022:

“Just to give you an idea of how bad that is, a three-sigma or a one-in-200-year catastrophe would be 10% increase over pre-pandemic...So 40% is just unheard of.”

The subject of the tsunami of excess deaths is the subject of a book by former Wall Street whiz kid Ed Dowd, “Cause Unknown”: The Epidemic of Sudden Deaths in 2021 & 2022.”

At the height of the mRNA roll-out, as mandates forced by the Biden administration on US service members became hardline on penalty of expulsion, on December 15, 2021 Dr. Sucharit Bhakdi, Professor emeritus of the University of Mainz, former chair of the department of medical microbiology, Editor in Chief of Medical Microbiology and Immunology, Aronson Prize for achievements in microbiology and immunology, and world renown pathology professor Dr. Arne Burkhardt, MD, PhD, Universities of Hamburg, Berne and Tübingen, wrote in a joint statement at Doctors for COVID Ethics:

“We herewith present scientific evidence that calls for an immediate stop of the use of gene-based COVID-19 vaccines...we show that the vaccines can trigger self-destructive processes that lead to debilitating illness and death....”

In October 2020 Prof. Bhakdi and his wife Dr. Karina Reiss PhD released their book Corona False Alarm: Facts and Figures, which detailed concerns that governments and media were creating a crisis, which later became the basis for vaccine mandates.

In February, 2021, Prof. Bhakdi, and a number of his colleagues warned the European Medicines Agency about the potential danger of blood clots and cerebral vein thrombosis in millions of people receiving experimental gene-based injections.

In this exclusive interview with The New American magazine’s Senior Editor Alex Newman, world-renown German-Thai-American microbiologist Dr. Sucharit Bhakdi warns that the COVID hysteria is based on lies and that the COVID “vaccines” are set to cause a global catastrophe and a decimation of the human population.

In an interview with The New American in April 2021, Dr. Bhakdi warned that the COVID hysteria was based on lies and that the COVID “vaccines” were set to “decimate world population,” over two year ago when the shots were just ramping up.

Dr. Bhakdi even then called for criminal prosecutions of the people responsible.

In the Fall of 2021 Dr. Bhakdi's colleagues, pathologists Professor Dr. Arne Burkhardt and Dr. Walter Lang, presented their findings at the Pathological institute in Reutlingen, Germany, that the COVID vaccines were directly responsible for many of the sudden, unexpected deaths of people whose families had asked the pathologists to independently perform autopsies of their loved ones.

Dr. Burkhardt died suddenly just weeks after he gave a presentation at the European Union on his findings.

Without actually calling for a halt to the vaccines, in May 2022 17,000 doctors and scientists formed themselves into the Physicians and Medical Scientists to end the National Emergency, Restore Scientific Integrity, and Address Crimes Against Humanity, and wrote that:

"We declare that Pfizer, Moderna, BioNTech, Janssen, Astra Zeneca, and their enablers, withheld and willfully omitted safety and effectiveness information from patients and physicians, and should be immediately indicted for fraud."

In August of 2021, a US Army Flight Surgeon Lt. Col. Dr. Theresa Long, recommended that all vaccinated pilots under her care be grounded, due to serious and well-known effects on the heart muscle which could cause heart attacks in flight. Many other doctors joined Lt. Col. Long's 2021 lawsuit against the Biden administration for mandating the shots.

These startling statistics have led to rising concerns and debates regarding the safety and long-term impacts of the COVID-19 vaccines. The correlation between the increased mortality rates among the vaccinated and Deagel's prediction of a drastic population reduction presents a scenario that is as concerning as it is controversial.

Unraveling the Truth Behind the Numbers

The emergence of such data inevitably leads to questions about the nature of COVID-19 mRNA and viral-vector vaccines and their role in public health.

While correlation does not necessarily imply causation, these figures undeniably demand a thorough and unbiased investigation into the vaccine's impact on health and mortality.

The idea that COVID-19 vaccines could potentially increase mortality and be harmful, as implied heavily by the official Government data, adds a complex layer to the already heated debate surrounding vaccine efficacy and safety.

Navigating a Path Forward

This scenario underscores the necessity for transparent, rigorous scientific inquiry and open discourse. It challenges the global community to look beyond the surface of public health policies and predictions, urging a deeper understanding of their potential implications.

As we edge closer to 2025, the predictions of Deagel, though shrouded in controversy, call for a vigilant examination of emerging health trends and a critical assessment of our responses to global health crises.

In conclusion, while the correlation between the reported increased mortality among the vaccinated and Deagel's grim depopulation forecast for 2025 remains a subject of intense debate and scrutiny, it highlights a pivotal moment in our contemporary history.

It beckons us to navigate these complex times with a balanced approach, grounded in scientific integrity and a commitment to uncovering the truth.

And even if Deagel's 2025 depopulation forecast turns out to be largely overstated, we still have to worry about the fact that U.S. Centers for Disease Control data officially confirms that COVID-19 vaccination can reduce your lifespan by at least 24 years.

This means billions of people have been injected with a poison that is killing them slowly. The chart above on page 14 demands an answer for which the different public health agencies are stonewalling the public hoping that the questions can be gagged!

We the Exploited: The U.S. Government Buys and Sells Its Citizens for Profit and Power

Guest Post by John W. Whitehead

Americans have become easy prey for hackers, scammers, snitches, spies, and con artists.

But don't be fooled into thinking the government is protecting you.

To the contrary, the U.S. government is selling us (or rather, our data) to the highest bidders.

By the way, those highest bidders also include America's political class and the politicians aspiring to get elected or re-elected. As the Los Angeles Times reports, "If you have been to a political rally, a town hall, or just fit a demographic a campaign is after, chances are good your movements are being tracked with unnerving accuracy by data vendors on the payroll of campaigns."

Your phones, televisions and digital devices are selling you out to politicians who want your vote.

“Welcome to the new frontier of campaign tech — a loosely regulated world in which simply downloading a weather app or game, connecting to Wi-Fi at a coffee shop or powering up a home router can allow a data broker to monitor your movements with ease, then compile the location information and sell it to a political candidate who can use it to surround you with messages,” writes journalist Evan Halper.

In this way, “we the people” have been reduced to economic units to be bought, bartered and sold by all and sundry.

On a daily basis, Americans have been made to relinquish the most intimate details of who we are—our biological makeup, our genetic blueprints, and our biometrics (facial characteristics and structure, fingerprints, iris scans, etc.)—in order to navigate an increasingly technologically-enabled world.

Those intimate details, in turn, have become the building blocks of massive databases accessed by the government and its corporate partners in crime, vulnerable to data breaches by hackers, cyberattacks and espionage.

For years now, and with little real oversight or restrictions, the government has been compiling massive databases comprised of all manner of sensitive information on the citizenry.

Biographical information. Biometric information. Criminal backgrounds. Travel records. There is not a single person in the U.S. who is not in some government database or another, and these databases are increasingly being shared between agencies, fusion centers, and the police.

The government has also, with little oversight and few guidelines, been adding to its massive trove of data on Americans by buying commercially available information (CAI) from third-party sources. As a report by the Office of the Director of National Intelligence revealed:

“[Commercially purchased data] can reveal sensitive and intimate information about the personal attributes, private behavior, social connections, and speech of U.S. persons and non-U.S. persons. It can be misused to pry into private lives, ruin reputations, and cause emotional distress and threaten the safety of individuals. Even subject to appropriate controls, CAI can increase the power of the government’s ability to peer into private lives to levels that may exceed our constitutional traditions or other social expectations.”

In other words, this is the diabolically sneaky way in which the government is attempting to sidestep the Fourth Amendment, which requires that government agents have probable cause and a warrant before spying on Americans or searching and seizing their private property.

It's bad enough that the government is building massive databases comprised of our personal information without our knowledge or consent, but then they get hacked and we suffer for it.

Earlier this year, for instance, several federal agencies, state governments and universities were targeted in a global cyberattack that compromised the sensitive data of millions of Americans.

Did that stop the government's quest to keep building these databases which compromise our privacy and security? Of course not.

In fact, the government has also been selling our private information. According to Vice, Departments of Motor Vehicles in states around the country have been selling drivers' personal information "to thousands of businesses, including private investigators who spy on people for a profit."

Where there's a will, there's a way, and the government has become a master at finding loopholes that allow it to exploit the citizenry.

Thus, although Congress passed the Driver's Privacy Protection Act (DPPA) in 1994 to prevent the disclosure of personal information, it hasn't stopped state DMVs from raking in millions by selling driver data (names, dates of birth, addresses, and the cars they own) to third parties.

This is just a small part of how the government buys and sells its citizens to the highest bidders.

The why is always the same: for profit and power, of course.

Welcome to the age of surveillance capitalism.

Have you shopped at Whole Foods? Tested out target practice at a gun range? Sipped coffee at Starbucks while surfing the web? Visited an abortion clinic? Watched FOX News or MSNBC? Played Candy Crush on your phone? Walked through a mall? Walked past a government building?

That's all it takes for your data to be hoovered up, sold and used to target you.

Incredibly, once you've been identified and tracked, data brokers can travel back in time, digitally speaking, to discover where you've been, who you've been with, what you've been doing, and what you've been reading, viewing, buying, etc.

Once you've been identified in this way, you can be tracked endlessly.

No one is spared.

In this regard, we are all equals: equally suffering the indignity of having every shred of privacy stripped away and the most intimate details of one's life turned into fodder for marketers and data profiteers.

This creepy new era of for-profit surveillance capitalism—in which we're being listened to, watched, tracked, followed, mapped, bought, sold and targeted—is made possible with our cooperation.

Correction to Blessed Hope #235

In my article on HRH Prince Charles I noted that Charles heads 17 charity or not-for-profit entities or organizations. In the British Daily Mail for November 14th, 2023, it stated the number is really 520 charities or not-for-profit organizations. It seems that no single person could oversee this many charities. The tax-free or not-for-profit foundations are historically speaking, some of the most powerful and yet evil entities in the world. Some of the largest include:

- Rockefeller Foundation (Standard Oil)
- Ford Foundation (Ford Motor Co.)
- Duke Endowment (Duke family fortune)
- John A. Hartford Foundation (Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea)
- W.K. Kellogg Foundation (Kellogg Cereals)
- Carnegie Corporation (Carnegie Steel)
- Alfred P. Sloan Foundation (General Motors)
- Moody Foundation (W. L. Moody's oil, realty, newspapers, and bank holdings)
- Lilly Endowment (Eli Lilly Pharmaceuticals)
- Pew Memorial Trust (Sun Oil Co. or Sunoco)
- Danforth Foundation (Purina Cereals)
