Diamond & Nugget #270

Betraying Sacred Trusts: Ganoune Diop Tells Interfaith Leaders Gathered at the WCC Headquarters that Ecumenism's Ultimate Goal is to Unite the Whole World Under the Lordship of Christ

World Communions and Director of Public Affairs and Religious Liberty for the Worldwide Seventh-day Adventist Church.

There is an inherent problem with this for that “the Lordship of Jesus Christ” and “Ecumenism” are a contradiction of terms and meanings. As an example of the arrogance of Pope Francis was noted in Blessed Hope #268, where Pope Francis has granted or allowed the World Economic Forum the right to (fact check) re-write the Bible using Artificial Intelligence. Furthermore, it reflects growing apostasy and heresy in the only denomination that was once solidly anti-Vatican; anti-Roman Catholic.

The World Council of Churches (WCC) hosted the Conference of Secretaries of Christian World Communions at the Ecumenical Institute at Bossey from October 30–November 3. During this meeting of top Protestants and Roman Catholics, Seventh-day Adventist Ganoune Diop told the group of ecumenical leaders that the work they were all engaged in, ecumenism is designed to gather the world under the Lordship of Jesus Christ. On November 6, 2023, the World Council of Churches reported the following words spoken by Ganoune Diop:

"Rev. Dr. Ganoune Diop, secretary of the Conference of Secretaries of Christian World Communions, said: 'This unique yearly gathering is a space where distinguished leaders of Christian world communions engage in bilateral and multilateral dialogues, each communion sharing on their own terms about their ecclesiastical life, and work as witnesses to the sovereignty of the triune God and His ultimate purpose to gather the whole world, oikumene, under the lordship of Christ. The core of the meetings consists in reports, and conversations on each report. This group does not sign resolutions, engage in common strategic planning or plan of actions. The focus is on relations, on being, rather than doing things together. Mingling with one another helps dispel prejudices and helps us focus on our respective participation in what God is doing in the world'." [1]

The purpose of ecumenism is not to bring the world under the "lordship of Christ" but to heal the deadly wound -(Revelation 13:3) and to bring all of the Christian churches under the authority of the Roman Catholic Church. This is what Rome teaches. This is mandated by the Second Vatican Council's decree on ecumenism, called "Unitatis Redintegratio," which translates to "Restoration of Unity." This decree, promulgated in 1964, emphasizes that God founded only the Catholic church under Peter and the apostolic college and that the so-called separated brethren must fully be incorporated into this church in order to embrace salvation. This is what Rome calls ecumenism.

- "The restoration of unity among all Christians is one of the principal concerns of the Second Vatican Council. Christ the Lord founded one Church and one Church only." (Decree on Ecumenism, Section 1). [2]
- "Everywhere large numbers have felt the impulse of this grace, and among our separated brethren also there increases from day to day the movement, fostered by the grace of the Holy Spirit, for the restoration of unity among all Christians. This movement toward unity is called ecumenical” (Decree on Ecumenism, Section 1). [2]

- “For it is only through Christ’s Catholic Church, which is the all-embracing means of salvation, that they can benefit fully from the means of salvation. We believe that Our Lord entrusted all the blessings of the New Covenant to the apostolic college alone, of which Peter is the head, in order to establish the one Body of Christ on earth to which all should be fully incorporated who belong in any way to the people of God” (Decree on Ecumenism, Section 3). [2]

Doesn't Ganoune Diop know what Rome teaches about ecumenism? Of course he does. So the truth is that this movement is not leading people to Christ but to the Antichrist. Throughout history, the Roman Catholic Church has sought to bring the entire religious world under her power and influence. This is no secret. No longer able to openly force people to submit to its popes under the threat of death and persecution, the Vatican has changed its strategy to win the world over to her side. Since the close of the Vatican II Council of 1965, the Roman Catholic Church is now urging all faiths to come back home to her.

Whether it is through social justice, ecumenical dialogue, or interfaith cooperation, Rome is taking a reconciliatory course through ecumenism to promote church unity, foster greater cooperation, ignore theological differences, seek common ground, overcome historical divisions, and seduce our people. Can we not grasp the magnitude of what is happening? We are witnessing an attempt to completely surrender our prophetic faith and mission.

However, in praising the ecumenical movement, General Conference PARL director Ganoune Diop asserts that God is using it to bring the world together for Christ. What an abhorrent act of treason! This is a man whose loyalty is to Rome. By attributing the ecumenical movement—which aims to bring the churches to Rome—as a fulfillment of Christ's will, he betrays his sacred trusts. Diop is endorsing Rome's ecumenical endeavors, which are viewed as counterproductive in the great conflict between Christ and Satan. He's expressing admiration for the other side. In the General Conference, we have a leader who has openly aligned himself with Rome.

Today, many are embarking on a journey that is leading us into the arms of the Papacy. They ignore the prohibitions of the Bible and the Spirit of Prophecy. They betray our Protestant and ignore the errors of Rome that ruptured the church during the Reformation—errors she has never forsaken. They sign away our religious liberties. They even betray our charity work! Acts of mercy, charity work, and helping the downtrodden are never justifications to enter into a partnership with Rome.

Has unity with Rome by any means and at all costs become the new virtue today? Yes, it has, but it is not God's virtue; it's the goal of the man of sin. Should interfaith worship and partnerships with the papacy become our new mission? These are the same questions that our Protestant forefathers rejected 500 years ago. What has changed?

Who has changed? Not Rome. Today, interfaith leaders lament the lack of unity among the churches and work to restore it while ignoring the sins and abominations that created the disunity in the first place.

"But Romanism as a system is no more in harmony with the gospel of Christ now than at any former period in her history. The Protestant churches are in great darkness, or they would discern the signs of the times."

We, as a people, have lost our urgency. We don't see the danger that God has revealed in his word about this power. We should have an urgency to share the final warning messages of Revelation 14 with the entire world—and especially with the fallen churches. This urgency is predicated on the fact that God is about to bring "punishments" and judgment upon all these churches. Where is our love for them? Where is the urgency to warn them about the coming danger?

If we refuse to give this message and instead embrace the Antichrist's agenda of joining together with them into a false, compromised, fallen witness, then we are betraying the sacred calling and sacred trust that have been given to us. May the Lord help us to instead stand alone in the power of God and proclaim these messages in their fullness. Under the power of the Holy Spirit, we can have a much more powerful and effective witness to the truth. God's own appointed agencies will enlighten the earth with the glorious truths for this time. If we refuse, we will perish with the "nominal churches" who oppose the law of God:

What most Christians today do not understand is that Vatican II was a Jesuit event. Before Vatican II, Protestants were considered heretics; and post Vatican II, Protestants were considered as lost brethren. The Jesuit-controlled Vatican began its ecumenical movement to woo Protestant denominations back into the fold of Rome. It worked individual denominations and ecclesiastical bodies into talks of unity. The National Council of Churches and World Council of Churches have been engaged in regular meetings and studies for the purpose of establishing a common ground to achieve Papal dominion.

I immediately recognized the address when I began my research information on HRH King Charles when he made his announcement a few weeks ago. 1221 Avenue of the Americas is the former McGraw Hill Publishing headquarters. It is located in the heart of Rockefeller Center in Mid-town East and close to the Theater District of Manhattan. The building was originally known as the McGraw Hill building that opened in 1972. McGraw Hill was formerly located on 330 West 42nd St. next to the City Bus Terminal in what was called the Green Building for its exterior marble exterior covering. I left M-H the year the new building opened for corporate rentals. M-H is a large corporation with many divisions and subsidiary operations.

Looking at the illustration with the name White & Case on the top right corner suggests that HRH king Chuckie has begun executing the run up of a plan that will bring about the greatest changes to the world as we have known it. HRH king Chuckie has trillions at his disposal to literally steam roller the world's corporations, states, governments, and NGOs. With a staff of 2,500-3,000 attorneys at his disposal, we can only speculate at the bottom line price tag. Our days of departure are imminent given what Scripture says is in store for humanity.

Digital Twin Development Through The Healthcare System - Total Surveillance Via Smart Phones And WBAN?

By ANA MARIA MIHALCEA, MD, PHD

DEC 26, 2023

The Role of Digital Twin in Healthcare

This white paper really caught my eye. The Smart Phone is integral to the development and enforcement of the Digital Twin. IEEE discusses it for health prevention purposes, however, we know that the same technology can be used for tracking purposes and other weaponized applications. Please note the massive amounts of sensors that are on Smartphones for surveillance. I had written about the fact that I got rid of mine and had my environment screened for any possibility for weaponizable antennas. Lessons In Cybersecurity And Electromagnetic Radiation Mitigation - Or How We Are Surrounded By Weapons Systems. I have had a marked improvement in my health and energy since then.

Here is the above white paper. Please note the IEEE encourages its members to have the association create their digital twin. This is to allow the AI digital twin do research on behalf of the physical self that then can be downloaded to the physical twin to be able to have a knowledge advancement. This implies that WBAN digital twin has the capacity to neurologically enhance humans. Please listen to his lecture describing this here: The Role of Digital Twins in the digital transformation

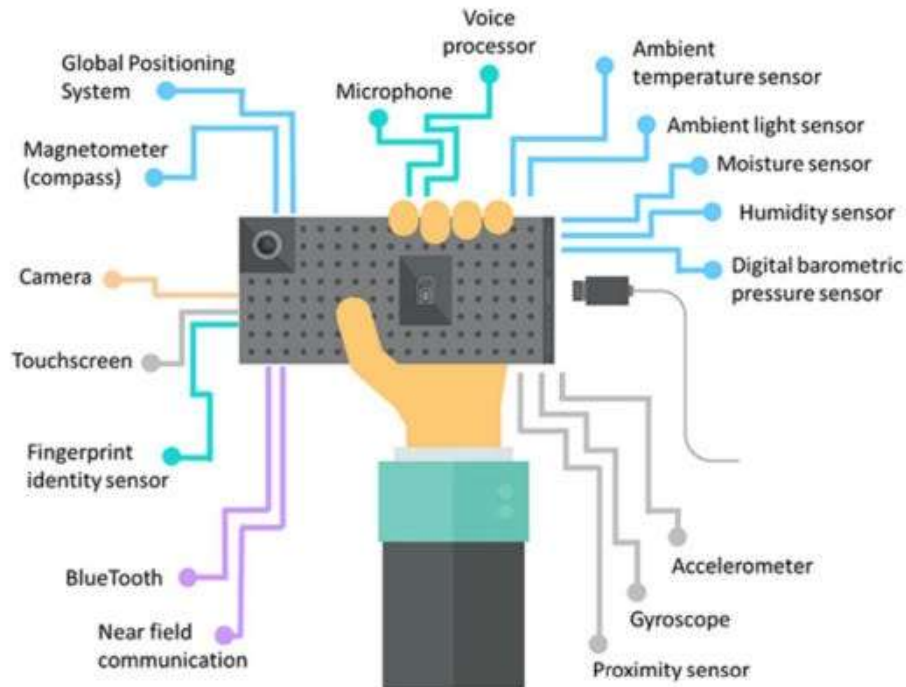

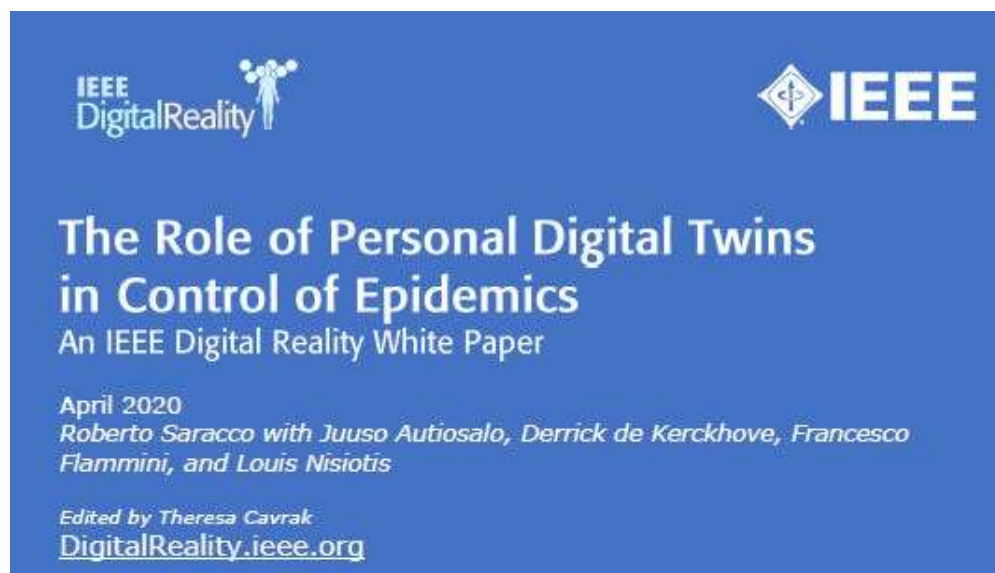

Figure 2 A smartphone is brimming with sensor,s and their number keeps growing. The data generated by these sensors can be used to identify and analyze the person's activity and health status with a growing sensitivity and precision. These data become useful in the monitoring of epidemics and in enacting control protocols. Image credit: B. Cheung

Please note this passage of the Cyborg 2050 military paper I had written about in May. It is the health care system that will make the development of Cyborgs palatable to the public - uploading your digital twin in the metaverse for augmented reality is exactly that: Cyborg Soldier 2050: Human/Machine Fusion and the Implications for the Future of the DOD

The global healthcare market will fuel human/machine enhancement technologies primarily to augment the loss of functionality from injury or disease, and defense applications will likely not drive the market in its later stages. The BHPC study group anticipated that the gradual introduction of beneficial restorative cyborg technologies will, to an extent, acclimatize the population to their use.

Please note they themselves know this technology can be abused by totalitarian systems:

Social networks can indeed be used as sensors but their sensitivity and in particular their resolution is not optimal. This is where personal digital twins (PDT) may play a role. A PDT is a representation of various aspects of a person that might include the movement of the person, the interactions that person has in physical space with other people, and her health status (like presence of fever or coughing). These data can be accrued by the PDT using a few sensors already available: position and movement can easily be monitored by extracting data from her smartphone and health status can be monitored through wearable sensors, such as smartwatches measuring body temperature, heart rate, and other health markers.

Personal Digital Twins

1. All PDTs are informed (prescriptive analytics) by the health institution of the need to report specific conditions, like presence of fever above 37.5 C, increased heartrate, and shortness of breath at rest as possible indicators of infection;
2. The health institution acquires the data by all PDTs and activates global analytics taking into account the location and the emergence of patterns. Based on this it signals to those PDTs presenting a suspicious pattern or with high probability of having suffered an exposure to request their physical twin (the person) to undergo a test;
3. The test result becomes both the trigger for action (quarantine) and a situational update that may lead to an updated reporting request and analytics to all PDTs affected;
4. In case of positivity the PDT is asked to report the history of contacts and movements of its physical twin;
5. Each PDT acquires an environmental awareness, dynamically updated both from the healthcare institution and through continuous communications to PDTs of nearby physical twins. This can result in warning signs like "DO NOT APPROACH/GET CLOSE" that can be generated in case of potential risk.

The advantages of the PDT approach are:

- Self-generation of red flags, alerting the person of a possible critical situation;

- Extensive community and nationwide analytics with the possibility of detecting weak links, thus anticipating any significant spread;
- Lower cost;
- Increased focus, leading to less restrictions where there is very low risk and enforcement of stronger restrictions where risk is higher;
- Dynamic, just-in-time reactions to emerging situations;
- Increased personal awareness thus stimulating appropriate behavior.

It should also be noted that a PDT might be hijacked by the healthcare institution/government transforming it into a police enforcement agent. Any deviation of behavior by the physical twin from one instructed to the PDT can be immediately reported to the authority. This is clearly in the Orwell path and may raise more than one brow. China has followed that path.

Image credit: Raymond Zhong, NY Times*

Smartphones have been used in China to trace movements, and an app was deployed in Wuhan to let people know if a person at high risk of being infected was getting close (in this case the smartphones in the vicinity started to ring). There are a number of initiatives, and more are likely to develop under the pressure of this ongoing epidemic, to develop apps that can track and create awareness, like CoEpi. The challenge is to balance societal benefits/needs with personal privacy and to be able to create an awareness that does not result in fear. All in all, it is a matter of creating trust.

Although current technology is not perfect it is sufficient to pursue a PDT based approach to epidemic management. Research will surely make better technology available with this decade but what is really needed is a regulatory framework supporting it. The use of data from smartphones, credit card transactions, and security cameras should not be seen as a temporary measure that can be taken just by releasing privacy rights. Rather it should be a starting point that has to lead to a framework where data accessibility and privacy are both valued. A first shell of PDT can be embedded in all smartphone as part of the OS, but data shall be managed not by the OS providers but by apps in the smartphone under the control of the smartphone owner. A back up copy of the PDT shall reside in the cloud, by a trusty provider, but the access to data shall be under the control of the data owner. Policy/authority may impose the (temporary) disclosure of data to specific authorized parties (like healthcare institutions or police), and these will need to be responsible on the use of such data and derived information. Each person should have the option to opt out, i.e., do not allow the access to his data but this can be open to prosecution by authority. It is like today where we are free to buy a Lamborghini, potentially pushing it to 300kmh but at the same time we can be prosecuted for doing that. This scheme may be thwarted in an authoritarian political framework leading to a Big Brother situation, however this should not be a reason to not foster a PDT approach since there are Big Brother regimes even without PDTs.

Digital Transformation In Healthcare

Augmented Reality in the Operating Room

Augmented reality is slowly, but definitely, entering the operating rooms in many hospitals around the world to help the surgeons and the operating team. Surgeons have used Google Glass (you can find a comprehensive review of their use here) and as technology evolves, both in terms of devices and software, additional applications are being developed.

Philips, a major player in the provisioning of advanced equipment in operating rooms, has teamed up with Microsoft to use their HoloLens 2 technology to assist and actually augment surgeons in the OR. HoloLens 2 supports multiple interactions, gesture recognition, voice control, and eye tracking, thus letting the surgeons' hands free. Interestingly, HoloLens 2 software supports cooperation among the surgical team by letting each team member see the same image. Actually, the team members can choose to see exactly the same image or different images of the same object from different points of view. When delivering information (data) it makes sense to present the same view to all members of the team but when layering images, like blood vessels, it makes much more sense to present each person with a view that is linked to that person's position. This requires intense software and sensors to determine the exact position of each person.

AI in Healthcare

There is basically no segment in the healthcare area where AI is not expected to play a role, from genome sequencing to drug creation, from diagnosis to surgery, from patient care in hospitals to home care.

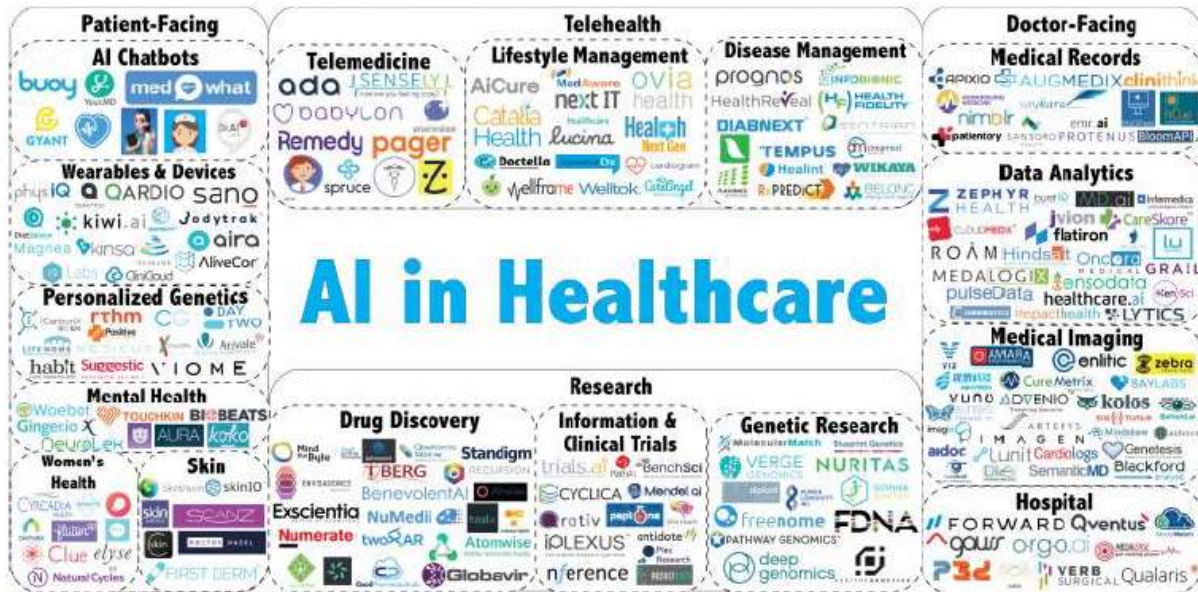

Figure 9 A (not exhaustive) industry landscape of AI in Healthcare. Image credit: Emily Kuo, Techburst

Summary:

Recent advances in using the digital twin in healthcare poses many questions regarding security risks and surveillance concerns.

The Smart Phone is central to this WBAN surveillance grid. Considering discarding one's smartphone could be entertained for those who do not wish to have their digital twin developed in the metaverse. Getting a phone with a removable battery and no 5G capability should be considered, since all sensors are bi-directionally accessible and hence remotely controllable, even in the off position. The emergence of Artificial Intelligence in healthcare poses many risks, given that genetic research and subsequent gene modifications, extensive data analytics of every aspect of the medical record for augmented reality, mixed reality and metaverse upload all builds the data for the digital twin, which is capable of modifying the physical person via the WBAN nano-sensor network and the smart phone.

I have extensively explained that the WEF goal by Juval Harrari, "to make the soul and the spirit a thing of the past" is related to exactly this technology. Once you allow your physical self and thought processes to be modified even more than they are now, people become automatons, directed via their artificial intelligence counterpart that is altered artificially by AI. That modifies your own soul. If you do not think that is possible, please read what the CIA/ DARPA developer of the AI surveillance software says about this:

Project Soul Catcher By Dr. Robert Duncan - CIA Capabilities Of Mind and Soul Hacking Project Soul Catcher By Dr. Robert Duncan - CIA Capabilities Of Mind and Soul Hacking

This technology advancement is sold to you "for your own comfort and good."

Your smart phone is a weaponized surveillance tool interfacing with the self-assembly nanotechnology in the C19 bioweapons and inhaled smart dust via geoengineering.

The "devil" is an artificial intelligence quantum computer.

Literally.

As supplemental information to the above by ANA MARIA MIHALCEA, MD, PHD, you might find this to be of huge importance. The technology advances in leaps and bounds! The drawing on page 9 shows a total of 17 sensor points that which we know of. There may be additional sensor points unbeknownst to users of their cell phone.

Until now, you likely are unfamiliar with WBAN or "Wireless Body Area Network." I began reading about this when the new "Smart" cell phones were being introduced to the market place. From what I can tell you, if you have a 4G LTE or 5G "Smart" phone, your phone is far more than just a receiver and transmitter of data, voice, and video. However, beyond that, such devices can become a silent "bullet". In the WBAN system, wireless induced energy can be used to eliminate a person, shut down their access, or effectively cause a heart attack, or other digital frequency activated disorders. All wireless devices have an individual IP Address and since the human body is both bio-electric and bio-chemical it can be "hacked".

You may scoff but before you do let me remind you that many dead people buried in cemeteries around the world are still emitting or giving off MAC ID signals from their Bluetooth devices.

By activating and deactivating Bluetooth on the grave of newly interred body for a while, sometimes it takes 3 seconds, but sometimes it takes longer 10 to 20 seconds, It depends of Graphene Oxide in the dead body and the Bluetooth circuit and how it was self-assembled and how many circuit etc...

As you see in the video Mac-address appeared on the phone like in this order A1:B2:33:C4:E5:FF ( six pairs of numbers or letters separated by points) "Psychopaths/satanic cult love number 6" Link:

FINLAND: The Corpses of recent dead are giving off ...

A MAC address, short for media access control address, is a unique identifier assigned to a network interface controller (NIC). It is a 12-digit hexagonal number that is a physical address used to identify any network devices connected to your wireless network, including the router itself and network adapter. MAC addresses are used as network addresses in communications within a network segment, and are common in most IEEE 802 networking technologies, including Ethernet, Wi-Fi, and Bluetooth1. Each device that connects to a local area network (LAN) or a wide area network (WAN) is assigned a MAC address.

MAC addresses are always a 12 digit hexadecimal number, with the numbers separated every two digits by a colon or hyphen. So a MAC address of 2c549188c9e3, for example, would be displayed 2C:54:91:88:C9:E3 or 2c-54-91-88-c9-e3.

When data packets from the internet hit your router, that router needs to be able to send them to the right device on its network. It does this using MAC addresses, assigning a private IP address to each network-connected device based on that device's MAC address. This is different from the IP address your internet service provider (ISP) assigns you---that's your public IP address.

Your router tracks outbound data requests so that when the data comes back, it can attach the correct private IP to the data packets, then send them along to whichever device's MAC address matches that private IP.

By activating and deactivating Bluetooth on the grave of newly interred body for a while, sometimes it takes 3 seconds, but sometimes it takes longer 10 to 20 ...seconds. This is not a hoax, and videos posted from all over the world have confirmed this happening. Every wireless device by law has a MAC address code, (media address code). Do a search on dead bodies giving off wireless or MAC Bluetooth signals. It may take a few pages of links to get past the Fake news rebutting this issue, but it is real. ## WEF Demands World Leaders Advance 'Great Reset' Agenda

By Frank Bergman December 25, 2023

The World Economic Forum (WEF) has issued an alert to its globalist members and demanded that global leaders begin advancing the roll-out of the unelected organization's "Great Reset" agenda.

The WEF issued an urgent summons to world leaders to develop strategies to expedite its globalist agenda.

The corporate-led group of powerful world influencers will meet later this year to "accelerate the implementation" of WEF founder and chairman Klaus Schwab's plans.

The agenda involved creating a Marxist-based society in which ruling governments and globalist power elites will control every aspect of public life.

Access to food and other commodities, as well as housing and transportation, would all be controlled by bureaucrats and corporate elites.

After the "Great Reset" is ushered in, the public will "own nothing" and everyone will work for the "common good."

The WEF and the United Nations stressed that, while the Great Reset, also known as "Agenda 2030," is nearly halfway to completion, a meeting is "urgently needed" to speed up its implementation.

The organization lamented that progress has been hampered in recent years by "unforeseen setbacks due to the COVID-19 pandemic, major negative impacts of climate change, and the rising cost of food and fuel everywhere due to the conflict in Ukraine.”

However, the pandemic was later seen as a test bed for future restrictions while “climate change” is a tool for achieving this goal through “Net Zero” targets.

Frustration over these delays has prompted a call for a meeting to “strategize” methods to expedite what the Geneva-based organization has touted as “arguably the greatest-ever human endeavor undertaken to create peaceful, just, equal, and sustainable societies.”

The WEF is also actively pushing for “civic participation” to advance its Great Reset plans.

This will advance the Marxist elements of the scheme by targeting “economic inequality, gender imbalances, corruption, and environmental degradation.”

WEF Founder and Executive Chairman Klaus Schwab has referred to his “‘Great Reset’ of capitalism” as a means of ushering in the world’s “Fourth Industrial Revolution.”

This so-called “revolution” will bring in a new era of artificial intelligence-driven industries that have little use for the general public.

The organization revealed its desired end game in 2018 with several “predictions” for a future communist utopia. The WEF is nothing more than the World Revolutionary Movement of a few centuries before. Historically it is the rise of the Nazi Fourth Reich that went underground before Germany collapsed in 1945. The Bible defines it as the revival of the Roman Empire.

In the WEF’s vision for humanity, “You’ll own nothing and be happy...whatever you want, you’ll rent.”

“Meat will be a special treat.”

WEF leader Schwab’s father reportedly worked for the “Nazi party apparatus.”

He founded his elite Marxist army of the world’s most powerful leaders in business, academia, politics, and the arts in 1971.

The group is shrouded in mystery — press access is strictly limited — and appears to be accountable to no individual or entity other than itself.

A 2023 Global Sustainable Development Report \(GSDR\) publication authored by The U.N. Department of Economic and Social Affairs stated that “solutions that can accelerate progress on the [Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations (SDGs)] will be urgently needed.”

The 17 SDGs of Agenda 2030 were set forth at the 2022 Rio+ 20 summit in a document titled: "The Future We Want."

The SDGs were created in 2015 and "agreed upon by 191 UN Member State governments, though not necessarily their voting publics."

Using a term that may sound eerily familiar to many, the WEF said that in its "quest to build back better, civil society is proposing new ways of achieving the SDGs and creating a better post-pandemic world."

This world is envisioned as one in which everyone will work for the "common good" and willingly forgo the freedoms and opportunities of capitalism that offer financial independence and liberty. In reality it will be a nightmare for all the world.

On Monday, King Charles III, who we sometimes refer to as the "WEF King" (because he's one of the world's most prominent anti-humans), dedicated a significant chunk of the Royal Family's annual Christmas broadcast to the climate narrative.

Charles began with a unifying, apolitical message about having compassion for others, along with a plethora of unifying slogans, before quickly turning heel and going full Klaus Schwab mode, under the guise of presenting a cause that is greater than ourselves.

"We care for the Earth for the sake of our children's children," said Charles, who earlier this month flew on his very spacious private aircraft to the 2023 United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP 28).

The king and queen traveled to Kenya using RAF Voyager. The aircraft is an Airbus 330 modified for the Royal family's worldwide travels.

"During my lifetime I have been so pleased to see a growing awareness of how we must protect the Earth and our natural world as the one home which we all share," said Charles, who has been serving as king since September 2022.

During the climate narrative portion of his address, the feed displayed video footage of Charles going full "white savior" mode in Africa. However, the depraved anti-human is an avowed proponent of depopulation, having on multiple occasions called for robust population control measures within the developing world.

For several years if not decades, Charles has acted as a full blown climate catastrophist and an advocate for the depopulation agenda. At the 2021 U.N. climate change summit, he demanded a "war-like footing" in pursuit of the sabotage of reliable energy resources.

(GALLUP) 29% have gotten latest ineffective Covid shot; 47% have gotten annual flu shot

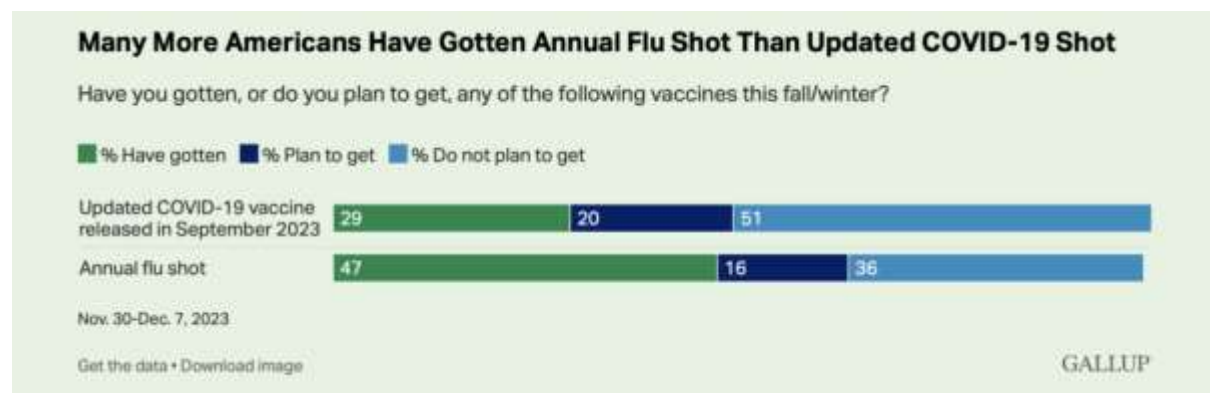

DATED: DECEMBER 25, 2023 BY SHARYL ATTKISSON

After initially promising that the Covid vaccine would prevent Covid, then promising it would at least prevent transmission, then promising it would prevent illness, public health experts have had to admit all three promises are untrue. The government and pharmaceutical industry continue to press even healthy people and children to get formulations of Covid vaccines, each of which carries potential risks both known and unknown.

The following is from Gallup News.

Less than one-third of Americans, 29%, have gotten the new Covid-19 vaccine that was released this fall. In contrast, 47% of U.S. adults say they have gotten the annual flu shot this year.

Another 20% of U.S. adults indicate they plan to get the new Covid-19 shot, which could bring the level of current vaccination against Covid-19 to close to half of Americans, but that still falls below the combined 63% who have gotten or plan to get the flu shot.

These results are based on Gallup's latest Covid-19 survey update, conducted Nov. 30-Dec. 7 with more than 6,000 adult members of Gallup's probability-based panel.

Gallup had found that over seven in 10 U.S. adults had received the earlier versions of Covid-19 vaccines, which were first available to the public in late 2020 and early 2021.

The past two years, booster shots to those initial vaccines were made available. The new shot can be given to people regardless of whether they have been previously vaccinated against Covid-19.

Older Americans, those aged 65 and older, are getting the updated Covid-19 shots at higher rates than the general population -- 46% have already done so.

However, seniors are still more likely to have gotten the annual flu shot, with 68% saying they had.

This year, public health officials have also recommended that older Americans get vaccinated against respiratory syncytial virus, or RSV.

To date, 22% of U.S. seniors have gotten an RSV vaccination.

In addition to age differences, vaccine intentions for both Covid-19 and flu differ by party identification, but more so for Covid-19.

Whereas nearly half of Democrats (48%) have gotten the updated Covid-19 shot, 20% of political independents and 10% of Republicans have.

Eighty-two percent of Republicans say they will not get the updated Covid-19 shot.

Sixty-one percent of Democrats, 38% of independents and 35% of Republicans have gotten the flu shot this year. Half of Republicans, 52%, say they will not do so.

[The tragedy of this is that none of the yearly flu shots over the years ever prevented a single case of the flu. The evidence is never shared by the media and getting a flu shot weakens your natural God-given immune system. I myself have never gotten a flu shot and have never had the flu. Dr. Judy Mikovits a defamed research scientist and author of four books has publicly stated that no vaccines are safe; they have been the cause of millions of deaths and personal injuries.

Judy Mikovits had worked on human retroviruses at the National Cancer Institute throughout the late 1980s and early 1990s with her mentor, Frank Ruscetti. She had published steadily, if unremarkably, mainly on the activity of the aforementioned promoter sequences of the retroviruses human T cell leukemia virus and HIV-1. After changing fields and moving into the private sector, Mikovits became the scientific director of a small private research institute, the Whittemore Peterson Institute (WPI), in Reno, Nevada.<sup>7</sup> The WPI had been set up by a local millionaire businessman and his wife to investigate the causes of “neuroimmune diseases” and particularly myalgic encephalomyelitis (ME), also known as chronic fatigue syndrome (CFS), that had stricken their daughter. ME/CFS was a controversial area. It lacked a robust case definition, its symptoms varied widely but could be incredibly debilitating, often associated with mental health problems. And although similar symptoms can be seen in people recovering from a number of serious infections, ME/CFS sufferers complained of not being taken seriously and being accused of malingering. Mainstream medical opinion was divided, but psychiatrists had found that some ME/CFS sufferers benefitted from cognitive behavioral therapy. These findings were hugely controversial with ME/CFS activists resistant to their (erroneous) interpretation that the disease was “all in their head.” On the extremes of the ME/CFS community, some were asking whether there was an unknown agent causing their suffering that was being covered up.

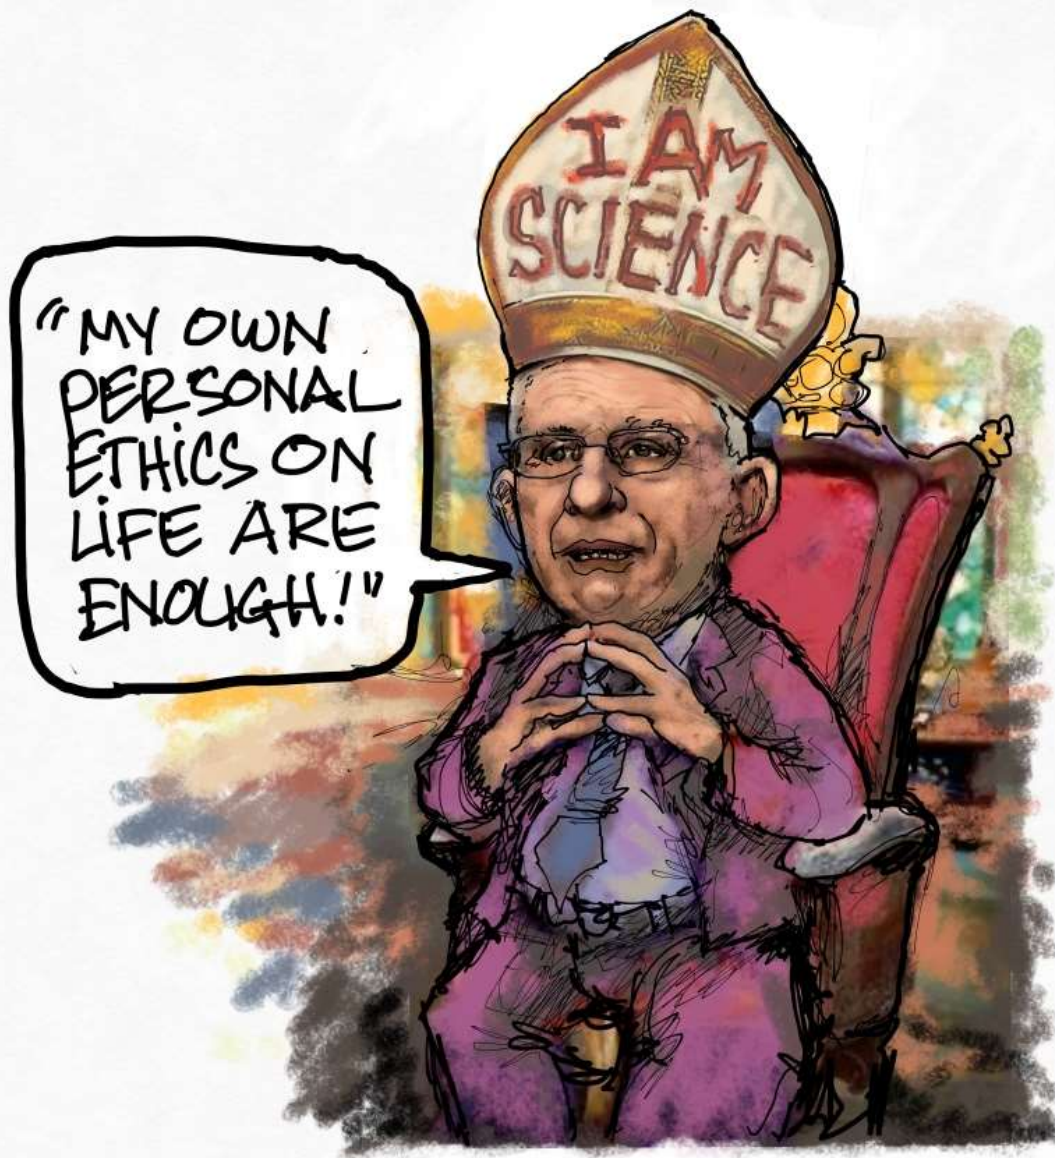

The story broke in 2009 in a now infamous article authored by Mikovits's team and published in Science. In it they claimed to have found stunning evidence of XMRV in the majority blood samples of people with ME/CFS. Upon finding these initial results, Mikovits apparently contacted the Silverman group in Ohio to ask for some of their XMRV DNA to help them confirm their findings. Mikovits also then sent the WPI ME/CFS and control samples to Silverman to reproduce the detection of XMRV independently. Even more surprising data followed. The purified white blood cells of the ME/CFS sufferers were chock-full of XMRV proteins. Finally, not only could Mikovits detect the XMRV genome in the blood of ME/CFS samples, but a minority of healthy control bloods also appeared to have detectable virus. If true, the implications of this study were huge. First, ME/CFS was potentially caused by a novel human retrovirus, opening up whole new avenues for studying and treating the condition, while also validating the campaigners' notion that it was a “real” illness. Second, picking up 2 positives in 50 healthy controls, if extrapolated to the U.S. population, meant millions of people were harboring an undiagnosed retrovirus infection that now was associated with prostate cancer and ME/CFS. What else might XMRV cause? And importantly, given the sad history of HIV/AIDS and hepatitis C, concern was raised that XMRV had contaminated blood banks.

Dr. Judy has been silenced and discredited in order to protect the name and reputation of Dr. Anthony Fauci. Dr. Fauci and Dr. Robert Gallo conspired to make millions on vaccines such as AZT which killed hundreds of thousands of HIV1 infected men during the 1980s. AIDS and AZT became a huge scandal in the late 1980s.

Lastly, she claims to have accumulated this evidence over the years, but it has been suppressed by political forces led by Dr. Fauci. She claims he has had it in for her since she and her mentor Frank Ruscetti isolated HIV-1 in the 1980s but were prevented by Fauci from publishing because another NIH laboratory led by Bob Gallo (who had discovered two previous human retroviruses) was already on the case. Dr. Anthony Fauci as director of the NIAID for a half century controlled the funds and anyone wanting research funding dared not to cross Dr. Fauci. Senator Rand Paul of KY has filed criminal charges with the Justice Department and the Justice Department has yet to bring the case to prosecution any time soon.

Dr. Judy Mikovits has more than a few occasions stated that 55 million Americans will die from the Vaxxes because they are already carrying the XMRV gene in their body from previously contaminated blood. Suffice it to say, Dr. Fauci was well protected by his office, daring to claim he is the science, and not to be challenged. Upon his retirement as director of the NIAID he was rewarded with a position as a distinguished science at Jesuit Georgetown University at a lucrative six-figure salary. He was not listed as a teaching member of the faculty for the 2023-24 school year.]

Over a dozen critical issues for society have been converging for decades and suggest that a massive event is on the horizon, particularly the de-dollarization by many nations no longer willing to purchase our National Debt; and I would submit to the reader that God has reached the point where His intervention is needed. It was reported today that Russia's Alexander Dugin: "Apocalypse is now"

The man often referred-to as "Putin's Brain" in Russia, Alexander Dugin, published an ominous message on Social Media hours ago: "The apocolypsis is now."

Referring to the ongoing Israel-Hamas conflict, and the involvement of Iran throughout the Middle East, Dugin made clear how he sees developments taking place that will bring "the big war."

There genuinely are forces behind the scenes very determined to "make scripture happen" . . . and we're not talking the fun parts... The destruction, if they're allowed to have their way, will be immense. For the past year, a lot of us have had a nagging feeling in our gut that something wicked this way comes.

Developments over the past year made clear there is a sinister, and very influential power at work in this world, and this power is taking the planet to the worst imaginable situation. Now, one of Russia's sharpest and most influential minds, is saying it openly. This is not good.

Albert Pike received a vision, which he described in a letter that he wrote to Giuseppe Mazzini, dated August 15, 1871. This letter graphically outlined plans for three world wars that were seen as necessary to bring about the One World Order, and we can marvel at how accurately it has predicted events that have already taken place.

The Third World War must be fomented by taking advantage of the differences caused by the 'agentur' of the 'Illuminati' between the political Zionists and the leaders of Islamic World. The war must be conducted in such a way that Islam (the Moslem Arabic World) and political Zionism (the State of Israel) mutually destroy each other. Meanwhile the other nations, once more divided on this issue will be constrained to fight to the point of complete physical, moral, spiritual and economical exhaustion. We shall unleash the Nihilists and the atheists, and we shall provoke a formidable social cataclysm which in all its horror will show clearly to the nations the effect of absolute atheism, origin of savagery and of the most bloody turmoil. Then everywhere, the citizens, obliged to defend themselves against the world minority of revolutionaries, will exterminate those destroyers of civilization, and the multitude, disillusioned with Christianity, whose deistic spirits will from that moment be without compass or direction, anxious for an ideal, but without knowing where to render its adoration, will receive the true light through the universal manifestation of the pure doctrine of Lucifer, brought finally out in the public view. This manifestation will result from the general reactionary movement which will follow the destruction of Christianity and atheism, both conquered and exterminated at the same time.

Since the terrorist attacks of Sept 11, 2001, world events, and in particular in the Middle East, show a growing unrest and instability between Modern Zionism and the Arabic World. This is completely in line with the call for a Third World War to be fought between the two, and their allies on both sides. This Third World War is still to come, and recent events show us that it is not far off.

We are called to be watchmen on the wall, not prophets. Prophets see visions of the future, whereas watchmen watch; constantly alert, looking for signs and indications that trouble is brewing. I do not believe it is possible to 'see the future' without assistance from the spirit world, which I do not seek and do not receive.

I am not a prophet and will never claim to be one; however, my own predictions, which are based on scientific inquiry and observations are often validated. Predictions can be proven either right or wrong. These predictions are purely written to highlight dates in the future that appear to bear the all-too familiar Illuminati signature. I use the by now familiar Occult Numerology to identify patterns in world events. The Freemasons are well known for their predictive programming that tells us what they plan to do.

Occult Numerology is the study of the occult meanings of numbers and their influence on human life. The study focuses on key numbers, and all names, events, dates, etc can be reduced to patterns of key numbers. The most venerated occult numbers are: 6, 11, 13, and multiples thereof, especially 22, 33, 44, 55, 66, 77 and 26, 39, etc. A triplication of numbers is also considered sacred (possibly even more sacred) to the occultist: 111, 222, 333, etc. Very often, triplicated numbers are hidden as other numbers. The best known example is 666 which is often hidden as 18, which is simply 6+6+6 or 3x6. I have shown abundant evidence of who the man of sin is, that orchestrates and plans what he has in store for the world. The name Prince Charles of Wales equates to 666 in Hebrew, Greek, and English! For fifty years I have said Revelation 13 one day in the future would be our proof of God's Word as Truth! That time is now!

We are living in a period I would define as the calm before the storm!

I believe that the Lord Jesus Christ will thwart HRH King Chuckie's agenda by removing us shortly by those words of the Apostle John in Revelation 4:1 ~ "After this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither,"
