

The Blessed Hope!

“Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ;” –(Titus 2:13)

Diamond & Nugget #280

Could This Be The Covenant of Daniel 9:27?

The document presented below is a “formal roadmap for 2030” and lays out an all-inclusive plan for the next “seven” years between the UK and Israel; it presents what has to be the most optimistic plan for HRH Prince (king) Charles as the Anti-Messiah of Revelation 13 and the prince of Daniel 9:27! “And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week:....” -(Daniel 9:27). I have read the document four times and have noted especially the repeating of terms such as “peace”, “safety”, and “security” among other “flattering” progressive terms as well. As was stated only 2 copies have been published. This document was published on March 21, 2023 and signed at One Carlton Gardens, London. Number One Carlton Gardens is an official ministerial residence normally used by the Foreign Secretary.

The photo on page 2 is One Carlton Gardens, London. Boris Johnson was in the process of moving out of his home he enjoyed as foreign secretary - three weeks after quitting the role when the photo was taken.

One Carlton Gardens, which is less than half a mile from Trafalgar Square, is an official ministerial residence normally reserved for the foreign secretary. The palatial home is but a stone's throw from Buckingham Palace. That said it seems an appropriate venue to quietly and discretely fulfill the prophecy of Daniel 9:27. The comprehensive nature found in the document fulfills all of what we might expect to find in such a prophecy of great significance. Given the ingenuity and craftiness of The Biblical Antichrist, it seems highly unlikely that he would give the world an open invitation to the signing of the 'Covenant with the Many!' Beyond what Daniel 9:27 states there is little tangible information. This may seem to be a surprise in many ways as we all have speculated as to the parties' identity, its timing, and what Daniel 9:27 was telling us 2,600 years ago. I see this as example of the Creator's awesome exhibition of writing skill that spans 2,600 years and the collective evidence in identifying Mr. "666"! Of the 8,362 verses of prediction or history told in advance, upwards of 100 refer to this man in particular!

After reading the document four times, I don't believe that I am out on a limb here by suggesting this could be the end times proverbial 'Covenant with Death' for Israel. I say that because the document reeks of Utopia or should I call it more a Dystopian Hell on Earth when most of us know that Peace will only come when the True Messiah, Jesus Christ the Lord assumes His role as King of kings, and Lord of lords. This document is unequivocally Antichrist propaganda and promises of grandeur.

The final seven years begin when the Antichrist makes a peace covenant with the nation of Israel. Three and one-half years into the final seven the Antichrist breaks the covenant. He puts an end to sacrifices and offerings in the temple; and, indwelt by Satan.

2030 roadmap for UK-Israel bilateral relations [Or a Covenant with Death]

Published 21 March 2023 (European spelling has not been changed)

Signed at One Carlton Gardens, London, on 21 March 2023, in 2 copies in the English language, both being equally authentic.

For the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the State of Israel

For the Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland

VISION

The bilateral relationship has never been stronger. Our 2 countries complement each other's strengths. As freedom-loving, innovative and thriving democracies, Israel and the UK are proud of our deep and historic partnership. We are firm friends and natural allies.

In November 2021, the British government and the Israeli government, signed a Memorandum of Understanding elevating the UK-Israel bilateral relationship to a strategic partnership. This represented a signal of intent for both countries to cohere, deepen and expand cooperation across our mutual priorities for our mutual benefit. This roadmap outlines how this strategic partnership will continue to serve our collective interests.

This roadmap, which defines our bilateral cooperation until 2030, will serve as a 'living' document. Through regular high-level engagement, our bilateral relationship will continue to evolve as a more modern, innovative and forward-looking strategic partnership.

Our strategic partnership is underpinned by extensive security and defence cooperation that continue to safeguard the UK and Israel's national security. Throughout this roadmap, Israel and the UK will continue to cooperate, both bilaterally and through international fora, jointly to counter global challenges and threats. We will cooperate in improving Palestinian livelihoods and Palestinian economic development. We remain united in our shared concern towards Iran's nuclear activities and tackling Iran's destabilising and malign activity in the Middle East, whether engaged in directly or through proxies and terrorist groups.

The UK joins Israel in acknowledging the historic significance of the Abraham Accords, which have the potential to enable profound advancements for security, co-existence, prosperity and peace for the region and its peoples. The UK will work with Israel to both deepen and expand these developments, and build upon the progress of the historic Negev Summit, in March 2022 to explore opportunities for regional cooperation and development in coordination with the emerging regional architecture in both security and civilian spheres.

Israel and the UK will showcase the best that our combined strengths have to offer. Through the Britain-Israel investment group (BIIG), we will aim to combine UK and Israeli innovation and expertise to solve regional technology and sustainability issues across the Middle East and south-east Asia. The Israeli-British partnership in BIIG will promote and demonstrate the benefits of cooperation with Israel.

As 2 innovation and technology leaders, our strategic partnership will help ensure that we remain at the forefront of the technological revolution. Together, we will continue to push new frontiers of innovation, scientific and academic collaboration. Through new, ambitious science and technology partnerships, including an industrial R&D programme, we are partnering between the best of UK and Israeli expertise to continue innovating for our mutual benefit. Based on this roadmap, we will supercharge science and technology through priority areas of cooperation, and continue innovating and maximising the potential of future technologies for our mutual benefit.

Our nations can do so much more together to create jobs and fuel economic growth. The UK is a major trade partner of Israel's in Europe, with a c. £5 billion/NIS 21 billion trading relationship. We are committed to deepening our trading relationship through a new, more ambitious free trade agreement that will facilitate increased trade in priority areas such as services and technology.

We will also work to safeguard our planet and build a more environmentally sustainable and inclusive future together. At COP26, the UK and Israel both introduced ambitious pledges to tackle the shared challenge of the climate crisis. The UK and Israel commit to increasing bilateral cooperation on climate innovation. As the 'start-up nation', Israel has an international reputation for technological innovation, with over 750 sustainability-related tech companies and is ranked sixth on the Global Cleantech Innovation Index.

The vision for our 2 nations also includes health cooperation. We will explore the development of a dialogue between the UK and Israel to address the challenges faced by our healthcare systems, and building on the launch of the pan-Northern UK-Israel health-tech gateway earlier this year. We will also collaborate in order to materialise a pilot program in the north-east of England, which will focus on digital health, telemedicine and expanding health cooperation focus on those areas and other tailor made Israeli technological solutions. Our ambition for closer, mutually beneficial ties is limitless.

We are equally determined to increase cooperation to tackle the global scourge of antisemitism. There is simply no place for antisemitism in this world. Israel and the UK will be front and centre in leading efforts to tackle this reprehensible phenomenon, as well as efforts to de-legitimise or demonise Israel, wherever and whenever it occurs.

1. PARTNERSHIP

Israel and the UK are united in the common belief that a democracy – which empowers citizens with the opportunity to innovate, create, and fulfil their dreams – is the finest form of government. We are clear that democratic norms are the mainstay for maintaining a rules-based international system and respect for universal human rights. As outward-looking patriotic nations, we know that a mutually prosperous future lies in stronger economic, technological and security ties with likeminded partners. In order to meet our ambitions, we will upgrade the institutional mechanisms that enable us to set and achieve goals across our mutual priorities.

a. Strategic dialogue: enhancing high level and ministerial contact through an annual strategic dialogue at Foreign Minister-level. This will monitor the implementation of the roadmap, and report back on progress to our respective Prime Ministers.

b. Diplomacy: enhancing the close diplomatic cooperation between the MFA and FCDO through a mechanism of annual political consultations (DG, Political Director, DDG for International organizations, DDG for Strategic Affairs among others). The consultations will focus on bilateral relations, regional security, counter terrorism, proliferation, global issues and increased cooperation in the multilateral arena.

c. Parliamentary: promoting and facilitating regular exchanges between our parliamentarians to foster deeper mutual understanding, and to strengthen our democratic and institutional partnership.

d. Academic cooperation: promoting dialogue between our think tanks and academic institutions on various aspects of our strategic relationship.

e. Regional cooperation: enhancing convergences and regional cooperation to further peace, stability, security, safety, prosperity, food security, environmental protection and sustainability in the Middle East. Working to improve Palestinian livelihoods and Palestinian economic development. Ensure joint approaches towards counter terrorism, counter incitement including on social media, and non-proliferation.

f. Multilateral cooperation: strengthening cooperation and coordination in the UN and other multilateral fora, in line with national interests and priorities, and advancing Israel-UK alignment on key global challenges.

2. ANTISEMITISM, DELEGITIMISATION, AND ANTI-ISRAEL BIAS

Antisemitism is evil and must be challenged wherever and whenever it occurs. Tackling the scourge of antisemitism with full determination and force as well as fighting Holocaust denial and distortion is an integral part of our bilateral relationship. We are clear that victims should be supported, and that people who commit hateful anti-Semitic attacks should feel the full force of the law. The UK is proud of its longstanding track-record of standing up for the rights of members of all faiths and beliefs internationally, including the Jewish community. Israel and the UK will continue to combat antisemitism in all its forms.

a. Holocaust memorial: the UK will open a new national Holocaust memorial and learning centre to stand as a reminder of why we must be relentless in the fight against Holocaust denial and distortion, and antisemitism.

b. Multilateral cooperation: strengthening cooperation and coordination in multilateral fora to confront antisemitism, delegitimation and anti-Israel bias including:

i. promoting resolutions and actions that tackle the global scourge of antisemitism and Holocaust denial and distortion, both on and offline.

ii. Tackling the disproportionate focus on Israel in the UN and other international bodies, including attempts to delegitimise it or deny its right to self-defence. All states have a duty to comply with their obligations under international law, but scrutiny must be measured, impartial and proportionate. The UK and Israel will work together to tackle the singling out of Israel in the Human Rights Council as well as in other international bodies. In this context, the UK and Israel disagree with the use of the term 'apartheid' with regard to Israel.

The UK and Israel believe that the latest ICJ referral on the Israeli- Palestinian conflict represents an inappropriate recourse to the Advisory Opinion mechanism as this undermines the efforts to achieve a settlement through direct negotiations between the parties, which remains the only viable path to a lasting peace.

c. International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance (IHRA):

i. The UK will use its position as chair of the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance in 2024 to promote fact-based knowledge about the history of the Holocaust and strengthen media and information literacy. Israel and the UK will also continue to encourage the adoption of the alliance's working definition of antisemitism as well as the definition on Holocaust denial and distortion. Israel has submitted its candidacy for presidency of IHRA in 2025. In this capacity both Israel and the UK may cooperate as part of the IHRA 'troika'.

ii. Israel and the UK will explore opportunities to work with governments, civil society organisations and tech companies to address the proliferation of antisemitism and Holocaust denial and distortion online. Both sides agree to conduct a yearly dialogue on antisemitism and Holocaust remembrance. The goal of these meetings will be to exchange knowledge and explore possible cooperation.

iii. Combatting de-legitimation: both countries are committed to fighting all forms of antisemitism including in its modern form of de-legitimation of the State of Israel, as elaborated in the IHRA definition.

d. The UK reaffirms its objection to Boycotts, Divestment and Sanctions campaigns. Such campaigns are at variance with UK government policy, and not only unfairly single out Israel and undermine efforts to advance Israeli-Palestinian dialogue and reconciliation, but can contribute to the deplorable rise of antisemitism in the UK. The UK is committed to ending any such campaigns by public bodies, including through legislation.

3. DEFENCE AND SECURITY

The UK and Israel enjoy a close strategic partnership, with extensive defence and security cooperation to tackle shared threats, protect our mutual security interests and develop stronger capabilities. For both the UK and Israel, this is one of the most important defence and security relationships, encompassing a broad range of activities. We will continue to work together to keep our people safe from cyber, criminal and terrorist threats.

a. Bilateral defence cooperation: the UK and Israel have a strong and evolving defence relationship through strategic dialogue and professional working groups between the defence ministries and an agreement for military cooperation signed by the respective Chiefs of Defence in December 2020. It brings together defence engagement activity between the 2 countries, covering a range of topics including defence medical training, organisational design concepts and defence education. It also enshrines ongoing joint training and exercises that will continue to benefit both countries through strengthening military ties.

b. Force build-up, research and development: conduct joint research and development to identify transformational defence and security capabilities in order to tackle shared threats.

c. Counter-terrorism (CT) dialogue: strengthening cooperation to take decisive and concerted actions against globally designated terrorists and terrorist entities. This will ensure a coordinated approach to CT issues that impact both countries' national security, including what steps we will take to counter entities and individuals involved in terrorism.

d. Iran: we work closely to counter the current threat from Iran, including the IRGC. We will work to ensure Iran never has nuclear weapon capabilities; we will seek to counter Iran's destabilising regional activity, including weapons transfers, conducted either by itself or through proxies; and we will confront the threat posed to us both domestically. We support a stable, secure and peaceful region where all can benefit from the rapid advances taking place and closer social, economic and technological ties.

4. TRADE AND INVESTMENT

As 2 technologically advanced service economies, Israel and the UK are committed to maximising opportunities to create shared prosperity and deliver greater trade and investment opportunities for UK and Israeli businesses and entrepreneurs alike. Our trade and partnership agreement, which entered into force on 1 February 2020, has supported our c. £5 billion bilateral trading relationship, but there is significant scope to extend and deepen trade and investment, particularly in priority sectors such as services and technology; our bilateral trade in services grew by 73% between 2010 and 2020. As an independent trading nation, the UK is committed to maximising trade with Israel through an enhanced, higher ambition free trade agreement. By lowering barriers and championing free trade, the shared entrepreneurial spirit of British and Israeli businesses can thrive.

a. UK-Israel free trade agreement (FTA): we will negotiate an upgraded free trade agreement, with negotiations commencing in 2022. Our aim is for the UK-Israel FTA to be an advanced agreement focusing on ambitious outcomes which enhance our trade in services, financial services, and innovation reflective status as technology superpowers.

b. Britain-Israel Investment Group (BIIG): through the BIIG Israel and the UK will partner on joint technology projects in both the Middle East and south-east Asia. Through capacity building and the provision of technical expertise, the BIIG will promote and demonstrate the benefits of cooperation with Israel. BIIG has the potential to foster developments in specific areas across the Middle East and south-east Asia, drawing them closer into the orbit of free-market economies. BIIG will aim to advance unique Israeli-UK capabilities to tackle regional challenges, particularly in the fields of food and water security.

c. UK-Israel innovation and investment summit: the UK and Israel will co-host an innovation and investment summit in London. This will promote trade and investment links between the UK and Israel.

5. CYBER

With increasing threats in cyberspace, cooperation between Israel and the UK is vital in order to counter efforts by malign forces. We commit to further strengthen our already deep cooperation on cyber to promote international security and stability in cyberspace, including through bilateral cooperation on critical national infrastructure and collective efforts to increase our mutual resilience against cyber threats. We share the belief that our public sectors should lead by example on cyber, operating models and standards for our own security that we would want the private sector to follow. As cyber security is increasingly important to the global economy, these efforts are vital in safeguarding prosperity and enabling growth. Israel and the UK recognise and appreciate the importance of mutual cooperation on cyber security and resilience, with the UK recently elevating Israel to a 'tier 1' cyber partner and unlocking the potential for further cooperation.

In addition to countering cyber threats, Israel and the UK are committed to maximising the opportunities that cyber presents through greater prioritisation of cyber skills.

a. Cyber dialogue: committing to an annual high-level dialogue on cyber security and resilience.

b. Global governance: working towards a more closely aligned vision on the global governance of cyberspace.

c. Cyber skills: deepening cooperation on developing cyber skills and encouraging a diverse workforce.

d. Cyber start-ups and prosperity: prioritising increased links between Israeli start-ups and the UK ecosystem. Promoting the Golden Valley development in Gloucestershire – a DIT high potential opportunity (HPO) programme with Israeli investment and direct collaboration, working towards the creation of a cyber central hub in Be'er Sheva. Continuing the CybHER competition, linking female Israeli cyber entrepreneurs with UK investors and partners, as an annual event.

6. SCIENCE, INNOVATION AND TECHNOLOGY

The UK-Israel Tech Hub – the first of its kind – epitomises what can be achieved through partnering British businesses with cutting-edge technology from Israel. Since its inception in 2011, the hub has facilitated over 250 partnerships, with an estimated £1.2 billion economic impact to the UK.

We have also cultivated a robust framework for supporting our academic and research and development (R&D) ties. We are committed to deepening further our bilateral science and technology partnership through new and ambitious initiatives. This will include the delivery of joint projects, totaling more than £20 million:

a. UK-Israel science, research and innovation framework: launching a new and updated bilateral scientific partnership to stimulate greater science, research, innovation and technology. On May 11, 2022 the Planning and Budgeting Committee of the Council for Higher Education of Israel approved £7 million for this partnership, which will be matched by the UK.

b. UK-Israel industrial R&D: innovate UK and the Israel Innovation Authority have jointly launched, through 'Eureka', a UK-Israel R&D collaboration scheme. With funding up to £6 million of joint collaborations, this scheme champions UK and Israeli businesses to develop new innovative products, industrial processes and services. The first round of the scheme has now closed and there will be a second round in the near future.

c. UK-Israel Innovation researcher mobility scheme: the UK government has launched a project with Universities UK International, which will fund UK innovators and researchers to travel to Israel to collaborate and partner with leading Israeli institutions, businesses and academics fostering strong links between our respective innovative ecosystems.

d. UK-Israel tech gateway: Launching the UK-Israel tech gateway to increase the number of high-growth Israeli tech firms setting up substantial operations in the UK. The tech gateway will support regional and sector-based alliances in the UK, building on the launch of the pan-Northern UK-Israel health-tech gateway. The tech gateway will also explore further opportunities across a number of sectors such as automotive manufacturing in the Midlands, energy and smart mobility in the West Midlands, cyber-security in Cheltenham and fintech in London.

e. Venture capital (VC): Increasing the flow of Israeli and British tech capital investment to the UK and Israel respectively, including through continued development of the VC club and additional programmes.

7. CLIMATE

a. The United Nations Framework for the Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC): Committing to the implementation of the UNFCCC and the Paris agreement. Our nationally determined contributions will represent a progress reflecting the highest possible ambition, compatible with the goals of the Paris agreement.

b. Bilateral cooperation in cleantech: advancing cooperation with Israel's clean-growth sector through the UK-Israel Tech Hub and the UK Science and Innovation Network, including on food tech regulation, flood management, and supporting technology solutions which combat climate change or mitigate/adapt to the challenges of climate change.

c. Wohl clean growth alliance: maximising cooperation on clean growth through the Wohl clean growth alliance – established in 2021 by the British Embassy Tel Aviv, British Council and Wohl Foundation. Facilitating UK-Israel cooperation between researchers and policymakers on clean growth.

d. Academic collaboration: to consider how the UK and Israel can strengthen academic collaboration around climate and environment through increased research funding and student exchange programmes.

e. Global efforts to halt and reverse biodiversity loss: working together in the framework of global initiatives such as the Global Ocean Alliance, the High Ambition Coalition for Nature and People, and the Leaders' Pledge for Nature, as well as the UN decade on restoration.

8. HEALTH

As a global force for good in the field of health, with a strong track-record of cooperating effectively to tackle global health issues, Israel and the UK are committed to leveraging our combined research and innovation strengths to address global health challenges. We will further strive to create broad cooperation in the fields of the planning and financing of public health systems, the structuring of future medical facilities including hospitals and community based comprehensive clinics.

Israel is a significant partner for Britain's NHS, supplying 1 in 7 of all medicines and saving the UK taxpayer billions of pounds. During the COVID-19 crisis public health teams from both countries developed strong working relationships enabling us to share information and strategies. We want to build on these relationships with regular discussions on surveillance and information-sharing so we can create strategies in the areas of early detection and response to public health threats.

a. COVID-19: continuing cooperation and information sharing to effectively tackle COVID-19, sharing best practices through partnering the best of UK and Israeli expertise to share best practices and increase pandemic preparedness.

b. Pan-Northern health-tech gateway: building on the UK-Israel health-tech gateway that was launched in May 2022 we pledge to work together to tackle major healthcare challenges. Establishing a long-term partnership with organisations in the region, aligned to needs of the region and supporting the possible developments of Israeli healthcare innovation into NHS. Looking into initial model in Leeds in 2022 with the aim of expanding to additional sites across the north of England. Also collaborating in order to materialize a pilot program in the north-east of England, which will focus on digital health, telemedicine and other tailor made Israeli technological solutions to current challenges.

c. Global health insurance: updating our bilateral reciprocal healthcare agreement to include the global health insurance card.

d. Future health systems: creating a bilateral steering committee with all the relevant government and non-government agencies and departments for ongoing cooperation and dialogue between the UK and Israel address the challenge of health systems in the year 2030.

e. Lifescience collaboration: enable UK-Israel fundamental life-science collaboration for the future of healthcare. Fund at least 6 collaborative research projects via BIRAX (~£1.2 million) and develop a life-science pillar as part of the Britain-Israel partnership, exploring research in areas such as: AI in healthcare, engineering biology and biotech.

f. Strategising improved preparedness and competency in the healthcare system pertaining to pandemic responses in the future.

g. Planning and budgeting for improved efficiency and streamlined services for community healthcare service providers.

9. CULTURE

Israel and the UK are guided by their desire to deepen and strengthen the existing friendly relations between the 2 countries and to promote the cooperation in the spheres of culture, arts, media, education, higher education, sports and youth. Israel and the UK shall strive to expand the contact, cooperation and exchange of visits between relevant institutions and organizations, experts, policy makers and artists.

10. EDUCATION AND HIGHER EDUCATION

The UK and Israel will promote exchange of information and constructive contacts between the 2 countries, in various aspects of education and higher education, and will encourage the development of cooperation between educational institutes of both countries.

We will strive to increase and ease the mobility of talent and academics between the countries.

11. DEVELOPMENT

Building UK-Israel cooperation to support development of low- and middle-income countries.

a. International development cooperation framework: identifying avenues for increased coordination of shared development efforts between the UK and Israel's Agency for International Development Cooperation, MASHAV.

12. GENDER

a. Developing a bilateral agenda on gender equality and women empowerment in general and in the context of UN Security Council resolution 1325.

b. Innovation: continuing to promote women in technology and innovation through Israel-UK women-leading innovation initiatives.

c. Gender balance: ensuring a gender balance in events, activities and delegations by aiming for 50% female representation, with an emphasis on senior visits.

On the part of Israel, references to academic collaboration are without prejudice to the autonomy and authority of the Council of Higher Education and the autonomy of higher education institutions. For Israel, The Planning and Budgeting Committee of the Council for Higher Education is responsible for approving the specific details of the joint programming.

Since COP28 ended their gathering on December 12th, we have been anticipating any news or statements relative to their 2030 Agenda and all of the propaganda about only having “seven” years to “Save the Planet” and HRH Prince (king) Charles Sustainable Development SDGs. The 2030 roadmap for UK-Israel bilateral relations document clearly stands apart from the larger issues of COP28. Many of us were wondering how a covenant/treaty with Israel would materialize and come together given the size of the COP28 agenda of 80,000 attendees.

Israeli Foreign Minister Eli Cohen and British Foreign Secretary James Cleverly signed an agreement in London on Tuesday March 23rd, 2023 setting the agenda for bilateral economic, security and technology ties. The 2030 roadmap is tagged as the Balfour Project for reference purposes. The document has all the characteristics and tenor of what reflects HRH Prince (king) Charles role and thoughts in the roadmap to 2030. While he may not have written the document word-for-word it likely contains the goals and objectives of HRH Charles relative to any treaty with Israel. With as many charities and ventures where he is the major patron it becomes incumbent for speech writers to make their boss look good!

To be brutally honest, very few leaders or heads of state write their own speeches and statements, that person makes his or her thoughts in draft form from which paid speech writers then hash out the content for further revision and polishing. At the end of the day, it is the paid speech writers and word smiths who finalize the output. Even HRH Charles likely had speech writers assist him in his Christmas Day address to the world.

At this juncture in attempting to answering my opening rhetorical question and weighing all that we know, along with all that I have shared over several years about HRH Prince (king) Charles in many previous articles, it is perhaps statistically strong enough to believe we are witness to the fulfillment of Daniel 9:27. My intuition says it is so, and yet it could still be possible that it is not the fulfillment of Daniel 9:27.

Let me first point out and cite reasons and events that overshadow the entire Middle East scenario. These are all inter-connected. As of 5pm Thursday, the UK, and the U.S. hit the rebels in Yemen following the Houthis attacking terrorist willing to die for honor. Iran captured a U.S. oil tanker, with a million barrels of oil in the region around the straits of Hormuz. In the attacks on Thursday a hundred drones and cruise missiles were launched against Yemen targets inside the Red Sea. Even a U.S. nuclear submarine was launching munitions. A U.S. Air Force F22 Raptor was alleged to have been brought down by the Houthis.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu is on the verge of opening up a war on Lebanon and Hezbollah. U.S. military experts are saying that Israel cannot win a war with Lebanon. The West Bank and Jordan are on the verge of collapse. Russia is likely to engage in Syria to protect its assets of sea ports and half dozen air bases in Syria. Iran is a life-line with Russia and sixty targets at sixteen bases in Yemen. As noted in Blessed Hope #277 the Ezekiel 38/39 war looms ominously on the horizon. You can guess the UK, NATO, U.S. are up around the clock strategizing and war gaming their assets and chess moves. Think about what might happen if Iran decides to shut down the Straits of Hormuz. Oil will easily jump to $200 a barrel and the U.S. is unable to prevent it from happening if a regional war does break out!

Israel is defending itself against the South African claim that Israel is conducting genocide measures at the International Criminal Court. For the first time in decades, the International Court of Justice, complete with 17 Judges, is seated to hear a charge of Genocide levelled against a Government at the Hague. Israel has been charged with Genocide in the Gaza Strip, and this court will take action on that charge.

It is vital for Readers to understand this court is different from the International Criminal Court, which many nations in the world DID NOT agree to. THIS International Court of Justice derives its powers from the 1948 Geneva Convention; signed by every country on earth.

The four Geneva Conventions, actually consisting of seven treaties, have been signed and ratified by 196 states, including all members of the United Nations, the two present non-member observers (the Holy See and Palestine), and the Cook Islands.

Thus, the actions of THIS court are enforceable.

The court can order the SUSPENSION of Israel from the United Nations. The court can order Economic sanctions upon Israel. The court can order halting of all commerce with Israel. The court can order UN Military action!

This is the single most serious situation the "state" of Israel has seen since its inception. The wars that Israel has fought do not even come close to the level of legal jeopardy it finds itself in, before this court.

The world has gone upside down and there are more than enough flash points to go around that could set off a nuclear extinction event. We are on the threshold of what certainly can go south in a hear beat. I have been a student of history since the Cold War era of the 1950s and never have I seen such global instability in the world as we see it now. The world craves strong leadership and are ready to let this man come to power.

I come back to my reference point the Apostle Paul's words in 2nd Thessalonians 2:3-8. In previous segments I have unpacked the Greek text, correcting the thinking that led to the confusion in the modern era of the meaning of the word apostasias. We have been down that road before and I simply remind you that seven English Bibles published back to the early 1300s before the 1611 KJV all translated it as "Departure" but the KJV translators were influenced by their Roman clergy brothers to suddenly change it to "Falling Away". The translating teams involved with the KJV Bible were more Roman Catholic than they were Reformers by choice. Even the Vatican has publicly owned up to the fact the KJV Bible was produced by men loyal to Rome and wanted to bring the Church of England back to the fold of Rome.

With that said, most Christian believers will be raptured off this planet before the world recognizes that HRH Prince (king) Charles becomes a household name as The Antichrist, or Mr. "666". The evidence is there for anyone seriously wanting to confirm HRH Charles is the man of Revelation 13. In my thinking along with what I have said above convinces me that I will not be here very much longer. Our waiting can wear down our patience, but the blessings to come will soon replace impatience with joy. This is why Jesus noted in Revelation 3:10 that "Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth."

For me it is a reminder that the "Finish Line" is in view and we will make it!

The King James Bible Is The Only Version That Accurately Predicted The War And Restrictions On Eating Meat

by Jacob M. Thompson

As the title reflects, the King James Bible (KJB or KJV) is the only version of the scriptures that has accurately predicted, and is currently fulfilling, the prophecy that there would be a war on meat consumption and commands to not eat it. All other popular, modern new versions that were released or revised a number of times alter the text which erases the prophecy.

This will not be an exhaustive study but rather just an observation that you can put in your back pocket.

Here is the passage in question, first written down approximately 2,000 years ago by the apostle Paul, as he neared the end of his ministry and life before his execution:

[1] Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; [2] Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron; [3] Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth. [4] For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving: [5] For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer. [6] If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained. -(1st Timothy 4:1-6)

Now, unless you have been living under a rock, you know that the media, governments, mainstream healthcare and authorities, have railed against meat, urging you to vastly lower your consumption of it if not even outright; with endless claims that it is bad for your health, it's bad for the environment and all those cow farts are a major contributing factor to "climate change," apparently.

As indicated by the passage and the semicolons in the first three verses – which means that all the clauses are related to one another and are describing the continuing thought – the “Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron;” is very much on display when having this discussion, for the insane arguments and “science falsely so called” -(1st Timothy 6:20) given are indeed littered with endless hypocrisies and brazen lies, in order to justify the masses from eating meat, and by extension dairy.

These lies and propaganda perpetuated have been going on subtly for a long time now, as during the 20th century there was a concerted move to demonize eating saturated fats and cholesterol, claiming that it would stop your heart, clog your arteries, ruin kidney health, and so forth; along with all the other lies spoken in hypocrisy, that demonized that big great ball of heat in the sky, telling us that we’d get skin cancer, so you need to stay inside and be a pale-skinned ghost, and if you do go outside for more than 5 minutes then you need to slather on that Banana Boat sunscreen that will give you skin cancer.

I mean, in September, 2022, the Biden administration and a bipartisan coalition of senators came together to host this food and health conference; which cultivated into this stooge who is funded by Bill Gates to lead the charge, who he and his team want people to think that ultra-processed cereals, sugary deserts, and even Almond M&Ms are actually healthier than ground beef, eggs, and cheddar cheese; of which they say need to be minimized. I digress, but that demonstrates the devilish logic at play, of which our tax dollars went. SEE: Head Of Biden’s Nutrition Conference Summit Says Highly-Processed And Sugary Junk Food Is Better Than Beef And Eggs

And laying aside the blatant hypocrisies of all this false science that has been regurgitated for decades now, and how modern agricultural practices, the chemicals and toxins sprayed on crops, and laced with in the final product, packaged in plastic containers, and all the energy needed to house the food at grocery stores, along with mass interconnectional shipping – we know have this even more comical and hypocritical push for people to eat bugs; or, even ‘better’ yet, these hypocrites who have followed seducing spirits and doctrines of devils, now want people to call this ultra-processed plant-based slop “meat;” or to adopt eating cell-cultured and lab-grown meat, instead just eating the real thing.

Regulars of The WinePress know that I constantly harp on these developments around the world, and the constant push by the elite class and stakeholder groups for people to embrace them, as the reduce the consumption of the actual thing.

Just recently, at the time of writing this, in the leadup to the COP28 climate summit, the United Nations published a report that again urged nations to throttle back animal husbandry and reduce meat consumption, insinuating that upwards of 50% of production cuts will be needed globally. Moreover, World Health Organization Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, said during that week of COP28 that the world must slash their meat consumption. 159 nations also signed a pact agreeing to further the transition on their people.

Our food systems are harming the health of people and planet. Food systems contribute to over 30 percent of greenhouse gas emissions, and account for almost one-third of the global burden of disease. Transforming food systems is therefore essential by shifting for this healthier, diversified and more plant-based diets.

The WHO head said

Multibillionaire investors like Bill Gates are urging the public to adopt faux meats as well. The World Economic Forum prophesizes that the masses living in smart cities will be eating plant-based and lab-grown meat by 2030.

Countries such as The Netherlands, Ireland, Germany, and cities such as New York have also made extreme moves to culling livestock and sequestering land and pastures, and not serving meat in public venues.

Some have even go so far as to suggest that people be genetically reengineered to not like the taste of meat anymore. SEE: Scientist Wants To Engineer Humans To Not Like Meat Anymore. Even the media and some of the radical vegans have pushed the idea that cannibalism is not actually bad, and could be viable for the future!

But you get the point. 1st Timothy 4:1-6 – a roughly 2,000-year-old prophecy – is playing out right before our eyes, and will intensify as the years roll by, as mandates, taxes, and regulation will come in.

As I said in the beginning of this post, the modern new versions have altered the text of 1st Timothy 4:1-6 to whitewash or completely remove the key distinctive warning given, among other changes to the sentence structure, punctuation, and keywords. The KJB is habitually mocked and ridiculed for being too hard to understand, out-of-date with the times, inaccurate and mistranslated, and yada, yada, yada: I've heard all the alibis. And yet, I want you to examine what these new versions have down to butcher the text of this particular passage. Ubiquitously they remove 'meats' and instead replace it with 'foods', which is far less specific, among other incorrect alterations that were made.
