Biden Declares Easter As The “Transgender Day of Visibility”

by Jacob M. Thompson

Yesterday President Joe Biden decreed that March 31st is the official “Transgender Day of Visibility,” which happens to land on Easter this year.

Biden issued a lengthy proclamation to commemorate this new national day:

On Transgender Day of Visibility, we honor the extraordinary courage and contributions of transgender Americans and reaffirm our Nation’s commitment to forming a more perfect Union — where all people are created equal and treated equally throughout their lives.

I am proud that my Administration has stood for justice from the start, working to ensure that the LGBTQI+ community can live openly, in safety, with dignity and respect. I am proud to have appointed transgender leaders to my Administration and to have ended the ban on transgender Americans serving openly in our military. I am proud to have signed historic Executive Orders that strengthen civil rights protections in housing, employment, health care, education, the justice system, and more. I am proud to have signed the Respect for Marriage Act into law, ensuring that every American can marry the person they love.

Transgender Americans are part of the fabric of our Nation. Whether serving their communities or in the military, raising families or running businesses, they help America thrive. They deserve, and are entitled to, the same rights and freedoms as every other American, including the most fundamental freedom to be their true selves. But extremists are proposing hundreds of hateful laws that target and terrify transgender kids and their families — silencing teachers; banning books; and even threatening parents, doctors, and nurses with prison for helping parents get care for their children. These bills attack our most basic American values: the freedom to be yourself, the freedom to make your own health care decisions, and even the right to raise your own child. It is no surprise that the bullying and discrimination that transgender Americans face is worsening our Nation's mental health crisis, leading half of transgender youth to consider suicide in the past year. At the same time, an epidemic of violence against transgender women and girls, especially women and girls of color continues to take too many lives. Let me be clear: All of these attacks are un-American and must end. No one should have to be brave just to be themselves.

At the same time, my Administration is working to stop the bullying and harassment of transgender children and their families. The Department of Justice has taken action to push back against extreme and un-American State laws targeting transgender youth and their families and the Department of Justice is partnering with law enforcement and community groups to combat hate and violence. My Administration is also providing dedicated emergency mental health support through our nationwide suicide and crisis lifeline — any LGBTQI+ young person in need can call “988” and press “3” to speak with a counselor trained to support them. We are making public services more accessible for transgender Americans, including with more inclusive passports and easier access to Social Security benefits. There is much more to do. I continue to call on the Congress to pass the Equality Act, to codify civil rights protections for all LGBTQI+ Americans.

Today, we send a message to all transgender Americans: You are loved. You are heard. You are understood. You belong. You are America, and my entire Administration and I have your back.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim March 31, 2024, as Transgender Day of Visibility. I call upon all Americans to join us in lifting up the lives and voices of transgender people throughout our Nation and to work toward eliminating violence and discrimination based on gender identity.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of March, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-eighth.

AUTHOR COMMENTARY

“^[5]There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler: ^[6]Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place.”
-(Ecclesiastes 10:5-6)

Beyond the blatant abominations this demoniac is setting up in great dignity, with Easter falling on March 31st this year, I have no doubt this is designed to enrage the Trad Cats and many on the Right, seeing as most people of course attribute Easter as being the day Jesus Christ rose from the dead, so they will see this as an overt attack and mockery against Christ and the Bible; and it undoubtedly is, make no mistake about it, even if Easter is not the day our Lord was resurrected from the grave.

“^[7]Who goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? ^[8]Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also? ^[9]For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen? ^[10]Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that thresheth in hope should be partaker of his hope.” -(1st Corinthians 9:7-10).

8 States Now Say Complete Ban on Gas-Powered New Car Sales Coming

By Samuel Short

March 31, 2024

The war on gas-powered vehicles continues.

While the White House recently released new rules to phase out gas-powered vehicles by 2032, several states have gone further.

Eight states plan to completely ban the sale of new gas-powered cars by 2035, the U.K.'s Daily Mail reported. Who's leading the charge, you might ask?

Why, it's California, of course!

They are joined by Rhode Island, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, and Washington. Washington, D.C., has also committed to the ban, according to Money.

If you live in one of these states, you won't be forced to take your gas-powered car off the road and can still buy these automobiles used or secondhand.

But what does this mean for consumers in those states?

Electric vehicles already cost more to buy than gas-powered vehicles. And while the argument has repeatedly been made that charging can save consumers money over time, there are countless stories of charging nightmares: from homes catching fire, to broken charging stations, to long charging times, to power grids unable to support the charging infrastructure.

All of the above issues cost consumers more money and time, not to mention how much replacing a battery in an EV can cost.

Also, when looking at the manufacturing of these vehicles — the mining to produce the lithium-ion batteries, the factory production of the vehicles — pollution still exists, and it doesn't seem to reduce much of anything. In fact, per Earth.org, “Almost 4 tons of CO2 are released during the production process of a single electric car and, in order to break even, the vehicle must be used for at least 8 years to offset the initial emissions by 0.5 tons of prevented emissions annually.”

But despite all of these issues, the left keeps pressing on full steam — or, I guess, full lithium-ion battery — ahead.

If massive U.S. carmakers can't stave off government overreach, what hope do the rest of us have?

This plan is yet another great example of the left's priorities being out of step — and more importantly, it highlights their totally backwards definition of freedom.

Take California for instance. According to the ACLU of Southern California, “Pregnant people in California have a fundamental right to choose to have an abortion, and you do not have to provide any reason or medical justification for getting one. This right is protected under California's Constitution and state law.”

So a woman, although the left can't even define woman instead using the term “pregnant people,” has the freedom to murder her unborn child, and the government should have no say whatsoever in that decision in the state of California. But that same state can force you to drive only an electric or hybrid vehicle in the name of what is best for the environment.

What about when New York Gov. Cathy Hochul signed an executive order to protect giving “gender affirming care” to minors?

Again, New York can provide freedom to underage children to mutilate their bodies on the altar of the transgender movement, but it is a step too far to allow citizens to drive a gas-powered vehicle — because that goes against the “religion” of climate change.

Obviously, I don't have the space here to provide an exhaustive list of all the abhorrent things these states are doing in the name of “freedom.”

I'm sure the reader is well aware of anything I could say.

The point is how the left views freedom. We should have the freedom to pick what type of car we purchase. Children in the womb should have the freedom to live. Youth should have the freedom to grow up without the malicious influence of transgender ideologues causing lifelong damage to their bodies.

Do you want to kill an innocent child on a whim? California will protect you in doing so.

Do you want to give children puberty blockers and mutilate their bodies only for them to revile you when they become adults and realize you've butchered them? Gov. Hochul has you covered.

Do you want to keep purchasing new gas-powered vehicles into the late 2030s and beyond? That is off the table.

Our nation is bound together by a system of roads and highways. Cars make life possible. The war on gas-powered cars in favor of expensive unreliable EVs is going to make life gradually harder.

Abortion and transgender “care,” on the other hand, only destroy life.

If the left cares about the freedom to “choose” as they often frame arguments in favor of abortion and transgenderism, why not let people choose what cars they drive?

Christian couple sues Washington for forcing foster parents to take children to LGBT ‘pride’ parades

Woke, pro-LGBT bureaucrats’ rejection of willing and experienced foster parents comes at a time when Washington is facing a serious shortage of foster homes.

TACOMA, Washington (LifeSiteNews) — A Christian couple in Washington state has filed a federal lawsuit against officials responsible for not renewing their foster care license over their objection to extreme state regulations about affirming children’s gender confusion, which their Alliance Defending Freedom (ADF) attorneys say go so far as to require taking them to LGBT “pride” events.

Shane and Jennifer DeGross have been foster parents since 2013, during which they have cared for four girls, ranging from a newborn to two three-year-olds. They “have a heart for serving children in [their] community” and their “faithful ministry to children in Washington has been a blessing,” according to Olive Crest, the foster care licensing agency that was representing them.

When seeking to renew their license in August 2022, they were informed of regulations that had since been adopted by the Washington Department of Children, Youth, & Families (DCYF), concerning “care that is appropriate for the child’s age, SOGIE [Sexual Orientation & Gender Identity & Expression], and development.”

The requirements include “[a]ctivities that promote the development of each child” such as “cultural and educational activities in your home and the community,” i.e., “pride” events; “connect[ing] a foster child with resources that supports and affirms their needs [sic] regarding race, religion, culture, and SOGIE”; and “support a foster child’s SOGIE by using their pronouns and chosen name, and respecting the child’s right to privacy concerning their SOGIE.”

“To assess whether a caregiver will support a child’s SOGIE, an agency asks whether the caregiver will use chosen pronouns, display ‘Pride flags or similar indicators,’ or take a child to [homosexual]-pride parades,” Alliance Defending Freedom’s brief states.

The couple responded that they would love and support any child in their care but could not in good conscience reinforce falsehoods about their sex, so DCYF denied their application for renewal despite multiple appeals.

*“Washington state officials are putting their own ideological agenda ahead of children who just need a loving home,” says ADF attorney Johannes Widmalm-Delphonse. “Despite the DeGrosses’ faithful service as foster parents for nine years, the state disqualified them simply for having views that Washington does not like. As a federal court has already affirmed in Blais v. Hunter, this exclusion is unconstitutional—religious beliefs about human sexuality are not a legitimate or constitutional reason to categorically bar citizens from helping children. Washington is putting families like the DeGrosses to an impossible choice: speak against your faith and lie or give up the opportunity to care for hurting children. That is illegal and wrong.”*

ADF’s brief notes that Washington is turning away the DeGrosses at a time when the state cannot afford to spare anyone willing to provide for children in need. “As of June 30, 2021, 6,959 children and youth ages zero to seventeen were placed in out-of-home care,” yet “Washington suffers from ‘a shortage of caregivers willing and able to be a respite or placement resource.’”

According to the Washington State Family and Children’s Ombuds 2023 annual report, “due to a chronic lack of placement resources, particularly for children with complex needs, for years DCYF has housed children in unlicensed placements such as hotels or night-to-night licensed foster homes until an appropriate placement became available.”

Further, contrary to the Washington government’s pretense of acting in children’s best interests, a significant body of evidence shows that “affirming” gender confusion carries serious harms, especially when done with impressionable children who lack the mental development, emotional maturity, and life experience to consider the long-term ramifications of the decisions being pushed on them, or full knowledge about the long-term effects of life-altering, physically-transformative, and often-irreversible surgical and chemical procedures.

Studies find that more than 80% of children experiencing gender dysphoria outgrow it on their own by late adolescence, and that even full “reassignment” surgery often fails to resolve gender-confused individuals’ heightened tendency to engage in self-harm and suicide — and may even exacerbate it, including by reinforcing their confusion and neglecting the actual root causes of their mental strife.

The pro-LGBT Biden administration’s own Substance Abuse & Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) released a since-deleted report last year acknowledging that “lesbian, gay, and bisexual adults are more likely than straight adults to use substances, experience mental health conditions including major depressive episodes, and experience serious thoughts of suicide.”

Moreover, homosexuality results in serious physical harms. Practitioners of sodomy face a nearly 30-times higher risk of HIV and a 80-times higher rate of anal cancer, as well as elevated risks of other cancers and STDs, as Catholic pro-family organization Fieles a la Verdad has detailed.

Washington is among the most socially liberal states in the Union. Its laws protect traveling from other states for abortions and underage gender “transitions,” its schools mandate “LGBT history” and distribute cross-sex hormones, and it forces religious entities to hire personnel who reject their values.

SHOCKING: USA Has Recorded Over 1 Million Excess Deaths Among the Over 65's Since the FDA “Approved” the COVID-19 Vaccine

The staggering number of excess deaths reaching over one million in three years is more than enough evidence that the COVID-19 vaccines are far from safe and effective. Shocking statistics, quietly published by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control (CDC) reveal over one million excess deaths have been recorded among people aged 65 and over ever since the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) gave Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) for the COVID-19 vaccine to be offered to the public. [Be sure to read my analysis at the end of the report –Pastor Bob]

The FDA granted Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) for the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine on December 11, 2020, making it the first COVID-19 vaccine to receive such authorization in the United States.

Following that, the Moderna COVID-19 vaccine received EUA on December 18, 2020, and the Janssen (Johnson & Johnson) COVID-19 vaccine received EUA on February 27, 2021.

The elderly were offered the COVID-19 vaccine first and the number of excess deaths recorded was astounding. During the first 20 weeks of 2021 150,085 excess deaths were recorded among people aged over 65's compared to the 2015 to 2019 five-year average.

Then from week 21 to week 40 of 2021, an astounding 165,387 excess deaths were recorded among people aged 65 and over. This brought the total excess deaths from week 1 to week 40 of 2021 to 315,472 among those most likely to get the COVID-19 vaccine.

The remainder of 2021 saw 133,268 excess deaths recorded. Bringing the total excess deaths for the year among the over 65's to 448,740.

This means nearly half a million more people died than expected who were aged 65 and over during a period where excess deaths were supposed to be reduced dramatically because an apparently safe and effective vaccine was being administered to stop a wave of deaths supposedly caused by a deadly pandemic.

The year 2022 improved slightly, but still saw a shocking amount of excess deaths with 371,466 recorded among those aged over 65.

And in the year 2023, 257,415 excess deaths were recorded among those aged 65 and over, with the most recent data released by the CDC confirming 5,482 excess deaths were recorded in week 1 of 2024.

This means that in total, 1,069,943 excess deaths were recorded among people aged over 65 from the first time they were offered the COVID-19 vaccine to week 1 of 2024.

This is a shocking amount of excess deaths compared to the 2015-2019, five-year average. The COVID-19 vaccines were supposed to reduce the number of people dying, not increase it.

The staggering number of excess deaths reaching over one million in three years is more than enough evidence that the COVID-19 vaccines are far from safe and effective. The quietly published figures prove that they are extremely dangerous.

In the USA, individuals over the age of 65 have been offered several COVID-19 vaccines under Emergency Use Authorization (EUA).

These vaccines were initially prioritized for older adults, among others, due to their alleged higher risk of severe illness from "COVID-19".

Over time, booster doses have also been recommended because the jabs clearly don't work. If they did would over one million excess deaths have been recorded among those who have had more injections than any other age group?

[[You don't have to be a math genius to see who benefits from this excess death number. In Blessed Hope #311, I reported on what the CDC estimates:

1 shot reduced the life expectancy of 30-year-old men by 13 years
2 shots reduced the life expectancy of 30-year-old men by 18 years
3 shots reduced the life expectancy of 30-year-old men by 20 years
4 shots reduced the life expectancy of 30-year-old men by 23 years
5 shots reduced the life expectancy of 30-year-old men by 24 years

The U.S. government states that 230,637,348 Americans are fully vaccinated, 70% of the national population.

The 1,069,943 who died prematurely were receiving social security, and they received an average monthly social security payment of $1,767 per month. This works out to $1,890,589,281, or just shy of $2-billion a month the government does not have to issue every month going forward. This monthly wind fall savings is prima facie evidence for crimes against humanity.

The implications of this report are profound and supports Dr. David L. Martin's allegations from June of 2020 was correct all along and implies that this was intended to reduce the number of individuals receiving Social Security and Medicare benefits now and going forward into the future years of the Social Security Act.

The social security fund was expected to be depleted by 2033, however, a significant percentage of those fully vaccinated are unlikely to live to see their first social security check.

230,637,348 fully vaxxed working Americans will be robbed of what they paid into the social security payroll withholdings. Note: All numbers in this article are from U.S. government sources. I have simply extrapolated the government raw data to explain that our government had the means, motive, and opportunity to commit this crime. They even promoted the poisoned vaxxes to the older population before making it available to the rest of the working age population.]]

Pope Francis Remembers Those Affected by Climate Change in His Easter Sunday Address While Ignoring Abortion, Euthanasia, and the Radical Gender Ideology

As is customary, Pope Francis gave his benediction from Saint Peter's balcony early on Easter Sunday, March 31, 2024. This has once again proven to be a politically contentious statement given by the pope. This year, Pope Francis joins the New World Order's ideological indoctrination campaign by pushing the climate change message to the world without saying one word about abortion, euthanasia, or the radical gender ideology, which are real problems facing society.

During his speech, the Pope said, in part:

• “May the risen Christ open a path of hope to all those who in other parts of the world are suffering from violence, conflict, food insecurity and the effects of climate change. May the Lord grant consolation to the victims of terrorism in all its forms. Let us pray for all those who have lost their lives and implore the repentance and conversion of the perpetrators of those crimes.” [1]

The biblical gospel has long since been abandoned by these contemporary religious leaders. Where is the outcry against gender ideology, abortion, and the breakdown of the biblical family? There are none. Instead, the church today is obsessed with the climate message. Regretfully, efforts to modify God's message have always existed, much like the changes in the weather.

The modern Christian church is doing the opposite of what Jesus commanded. They want to save the planet while sending souls to hell by neglecting to share the biblical gospel with them. The Pope is leading the churches by making people believe that the world will come to an end due to the devastating effects of climate change. But where are the biblical preachers of righteousness who will stand up and tell this generation about the real crisis that is coming to the world? No, it is not climate change; it is the mark of the beast, as described in Revelation 14:9-23.

“And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name. Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.” –(Revelation 14:9-12)

This is the mission of God’s people at this very moment. This is what the world needs to hear right now, starting with these religious leaders who have sold themselves to the globalists. If you accept the solutions presented by Pope Francis, you will receive the mark of the beast when the test comes.

The mission of the church today is to announce Jesus Christ as the atonement for sin and the salvation of mankind. This is the time to confirm people in the true biblical faith, not with the environmental propaganda of Rome.

Isaiah 17:1 Looming on the Horizon!

Iran threatens Israel with retaliation for Damascus strike amid international condemnation. Israel raises alert level in embassies around the world

All Israel News Staff | Published: April 2, 2024

The Iranian regime is threatening retaliation one day after seven members of its Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC), including a high-ranking general, were killed in a strike near the Iranian embassy in Damascus that was widely blamed on Israel.

“The Islamic Republic reserves its rights to take reciprocal actions and will decide the type of reaction and punishment of the aggressor,” Nasser Kanaani, Iran's Foreign Ministry spokesman, said in a statement.

Iranian President Ebrahim Raisi said the Israeli attack on the consulate wouldn't "go unanswered."

"After repeated defeats and failures against the faith and will of the Resistance Front fighters, the Zionist regime has put blind assassinations on its agenda in the struggle to save itself," Raisi said according to his office.

Iran's Supreme Council for National Security also announced that "appropriate decisions were made" during an emergency meeting.

Hezbollah, the Iranian regime's main proxy in Lebanon, confirmed that one of its operatives was also killed in the strike and vowed to punish Israel for the "crime."

Israel raised the alert level in its diplomatic missions worldwide, out of concern that Iran might attack Israeli embassies and institutions, as it has done in the past, to retaliate for the alleged Israeli strike.

On Tuesday afternoon, an apparent airstrike flattened a building adjacent to Iran's embassy in the Syrian capital of Damascus, with Syria and Iran immediately accusing Israel.

The IRGC later confirmed that seven of its members were killed, including Mohammad Reza Zahedi and his deputy, Mohammad Haj Rahimi, both of whom commanded the unit responsible for coordinating Iran's activities against Israel from Lebanon and Syria.

Contrary to earlier reports, the attacked building wasn't an embassy or a consulate but the local headquarters of the IRGC, IDF Spokesman Brig.-Gen. Daniel Hagari told CNN, without taking responsibility for the strike.

"In the last 6 months, Iran has been dragging the region into escalation," Hagari added. "It is the main player, and it uses its proxies in Lebanon, Syria, Iraq and Yemen."

The strike near the Iranian embassy drew international condemnation, including from Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Egypt, Jordan and Qatar, as well as Russia and China. Following a Russian request, the UN Security Council will meet on Tuesday to discuss the issue.

Soon after the strike, the U.S. sent a message to Tehran denying any involvement or prior knowledge of the attack, U.S. officials told the Axios news outlet, indicating that the Biden administration is deeply concerned that an Iranian response could cause further turmoil, and possibly lead to attacks against U.S. troops in the region.

While Israel didn't ask the United States for a green light, it did notify its main ally while its planes were already in the air, Israeli and U.S. officials told Axios.

Later on Monday evening, several drones attempted to enter Israel from Syria and were shot down by IDF aerial defenses. Another drone attack was detected and thwarted by U.S. troops at the at-Tanf base in Syria, a U.S. defense official said.

Zahedi's elimination followed the killing of Razi Mousavi, who served under him, in Damascus last December and represents the most significant loss for the Iranian regime since last October. Zahedi was among several senior Iranian military figures sanctioned by the U.S. in 2010 as a supporter of terrorism.

As of late Tuesday, the Iranian death toll had risen to 11 high ranking IRGC commanders.

Major Events Surrounding the April 8th Solar Eclipse

Masonic rituals planned worldwide to usher in New World Order

APRIL 2, 2024

The solar eclipse on April 8th is becoming a major event. The National Guard is being deployed and the people are being advised to have two weeks of food and to fill their fuel tanks. This could all be explained due to the fact that tens of thousands of visitors are expected along the path of totality. But many people believe they could be preparing for possible earthquakes due to the Devil comet aligning with the April 8th eclipse, and due to the fact that in 1811, a comet also appeared in the skies during a solar eclipse on the same path and was followed by the biggest earthquakes in American history.

Known as the New Madrid earthquakes, around 10,000 earthquakes occurred in just three months' time. The biggest being measured at 8.8 magnitude. They were the most devastating series of earthquakes in recorded history. But it was a different comet. And while some claim that a solar eclipse can trigger earthquakes, this scenario seems unlikely.

This eclipse season is however, a very rare event. The recent eclipses in August of 2017, and October of 2023, along with the upcoming one on April 8th, forms an Aleph and a Tav over the United States. The Aleph and Tav are the first and last letters of the Hebrew alphabet. The Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. These eclipses mark the end of the Great Year, a twenty-six thousand year period that starts anew with the dawning of Aquarius and a new golden age.

Manly P. Hall wrote that high level Masons designed America for a "peculiar and particular purpose." A secret destiny to bring about a new Atlantis, or a New World Order, where in a King descended of a divine race will rule over all. In rituals, this King is symbolized as Apollo, Horus, or Nimrod, the father of Freemasonry. And is thought to be a descendant of the biblical Nephilim, or the Sumerian Anunnaki. According to Thomas Horn, this will happen in 2025. Which corresponds to several documents published by Intelligence agencies, such as, Global Governance 2025, Global Trends 2025, and the 2025 Deagel Forecast on world population.

NASA is notorious for performing Masonic rituals based on the Egyptian Mystery Schools. Apollo being the same character as Horus. Sirius representing Isis. And Atlantis being the new golden age they hope to restore. And during the eclipse on April 8th, NASA will fire three rockets named after Apep, the Egyptian serpent god whose goal was to devour Ra, the sun. And when the sun re-emerges after three minutes of darkness, it will be likened to the rebirth of Horus. Their new King of the golden age.

CERN, known for practicing occult rituals at a statue of Shiva, the Hindu god who symbolizes death, destruction, and the end of an age, will be firing up their Large Hadron Collider to full power during the solar eclipse.

And Israel, who is in the midst of committing Genocide, is preparing to sacrifice a Red heifer. A ritual sacrifice to prepare them for taking back the Temple Mount.

“Red heifers, to be precise. Some Jews and Christians believe they're the key to rebuilding the historic Jewish temple in Jerusalem. And to beckoning the Messiah. To understand, you have to go back nearly 2000 years when the ancient Romans destroyed the last temple in the city to rebuild it. These believers point to the Bible's Book of Numbers. It commands the Israelites to sacrifice a red heifer without defect or blemish, and that has never been under a yoke. Only then can the temple rise again. Those sacred cows were showcased in Washington at a recent prayer gathering. Many evangelicals believe these red heifers will usher Christ's second coming.”

~ Chris Livesay (CBS News)

“We need the Messiah to come, right? So for me, the red heifer, it's red for the blood of Jesus Christ.”

~ Evangelical leader

“A massive altar already awaits where the heifers are to be burned. According to some believers, the ceremony needs to be performed right here on the Mount of Olives looking directly into where the temple once stood. But something else now stands in its place.”

~ Chris Livesay (CBS News)

Once they forcibly take the Temple Mount away from billions of Muslims worldwide, it will predictably thrust the world into the peak of chaos that these secret societies have been designing for centuries. And their plan is to bring order out of this chaos with their divine King to rule over the world.

[[Greg Reese does not understand fully what is happening as the world closes in on Great Tribulation. He does understand the superficial overview of what Freemasonry has to do with the plan to bring about a Global New World Order and their fake Messiah. That fake Messiah is the leader of Freemasonry worldwide!]]

Is the Deagel Report's 2025 Depopulation Nightmare Unfolding?

In October, 2020, Swiss lawyer Michael Lusk wrote an article on his LinkedIn page urging that, in the wake of the coronavirus “pandemic,” Deagel’s 2025 Forecast be given serious attention. Lusk’s article focused on the economic well-being of people comparing citizens of NATO and non-NATO countries.

Based on Deagel’s Forecast 2025, Lusk wrote: *“In Deagel’s [] image of 2025, Russia flowers while Europe is ruined. Deagel.com’s infamous 2025 population forecast was removed from their website in April 2021 but the content was reproduced by Nobul Art for reference purposes. In a September 2021 article, Metallicman – who described the Deagel corporation as a minor branch of US military intelligence – explored what the population reduction in the 2025 Deagel Forecast could mean in terms of what we were witnessing at the time.

“There are all sorts of people slicing and dicing these figures,” he wrote and then went on to discuss some theories. While Metallicman didn’t agree with these theories he conceded: “Nevertheless, they do point out something interesting. That there is a direct correlation between the nations that are giving mRNA vaccinations and those that do not.”

While the forecast population reduction raises many questions, Lusk’s analysis adds another perspective considering what we are witnessing two and a half years later with the splitting of the world into two – NATO and BRICS. Below is Lusk’s article.

Premonition of 2024 By Michael Lusk, originally published on LinkedIn on 13 October 2020

Deagel.com (“Deagel”) has self-identified as a guide to military aviation and advanced technologies. Since 2014 it publishes Forecast 2025, which notoriously predicts a “western collapse.” Under cover of a long-planned political event vigorously promoted by the WHO, governments and media as a “coronavirus pandemic,” western governments presently engage in a systematic campaign to destroy citizens’ life, liberty and property. The formerly implausible Forecast 2025 now warrants serious attention.

This note provides an overview of the content of Deagel’s current Forecast 2025. It comprises two charts illustrating population and economic prospects for a wide range of countries, according to Deagel’s present indications. Broadly speaking, Deagel continues to foreshadow grim prospects for the U.S. and the NATO-complex, incorporating non-NATO US allies (e.g., Australia and New Zealand) and NATO-vassal States (e.g. Libya). By contrast, Deagel foreshadows positive prospects for China, parts of Latin America and Southeast Asia, and especially for Russia.

The charts show change in each country's position from the modelled perspective of 2025 relative to the same country's position in 2017. This does not necessarily match countries' modelled positions relative to each other in 2025. Each chart plots a selection of countries drawn from a common subset of 77 out of the 179 countries presented in the current Forecast 2025. In making the selections I aimed to ensure legibility by allowing only peripherally overlapping entries. In each chart, the selection has a European bias, and otherwise usually shows the more populous rather than the less populous country in case of overlap. Within the scope of the selections made, the charts accurately reflect the content of Forecast 2025. Countries are identified by codes according to ISO 3166-1 alpha-2, with common surrounding symbols indicating common regions; e.g. where a country code is placed within a violet square, the violet square signifies South Asia.

Geopolitical relations, or at least perceived similarities, among countries are indicated by colored clouds. NATO-complex countries are indicated by blue clouds. Purple clouds unite NATO-complex countries which, having regard to Deagel's Forecast 2025, seem to be breaking away from the NATO-complex in the context of the foreshadowed "western collapse." Countries outside the NATO-complex are encompassed by yellow clouds. Countries in the latter category may have no other similarity to each other.

Deagel apparently comprises a think tank informed by the CIA, NSA and others inside the beltway. Accordingly, it seems that Washington insiders persistently signal the imminent demise of the US empire including NATO, with China and Russia emerging as hegemon [with dominant influence or authority over others]. The picture painted by Deagel may be contrasted with the cartoon map published in the 1890 special Christmas edition of Henry Labouchère's weekly journal Truth. Presumably the work of British insiders, the then bizarre map foreshadowed the emergence of European "republics" and the reduction of Russia to a "desert," each being a transformation substantially achieved by the end of World War I. In Deagel's contrasting image of 2025, Russia flowers while Europe is ruined. Deagel signals that Great Britain, i.e., the principal architect of the "Russian desert," is to be ruined most comprehensively. Boris Johnson's government apparently is determined to deliver that particular outcome ahead of schedule.

On the other hand, Deagel indicates Finland, Hungary and The Netherlands may navigate the foreshadowed European upheaval with relatively little loss.

Readers are welcome to message me – Michael Lusk on LinkedIn – to request a copy of the Excel file containing data for the charts shown in this note. I would be delighted if others would extend this line of inquiry, especially with a regional focus on Africa, Asia, or Latin America.

A Startling Correlation with Shocking Quadruple Vaccinated Mortality Rates Certainly Suggests So...

In April 2021, the enigmatic intelligence firm Deagel.com quietly erased its staggering 2025 global depopulation forecast, a document forecasting a dramatic decline in populations of key countries like the United Kingdom, United States, Canada, Germany etc. The archived Deagel depopulation stats can be found HERE

This drastic prediction, which vanished from the public eye after garnering huge attention during the alleged COVID-19 pandemic, has since been shrouded in whispers and theories, only to resurface amidst startling new health data.

More Deagel Report information including archived links with depopulation stats can be found HERE

The latest official Government figures suggest an alarming pattern: significantly higher mortality rates in vaccinated individuals compared to the unvaccinated, echoing the ominous tones of Deagel's predictions. But what's even more concerning is that the disparity in mortality rates increased ten-fold the more Covid-19 vaccinations that an age group was given.

This means we are now seeing quadruple vaccinated teenagers up to 318% more likely to die than unvaccinated teenagers,

As we delve into this mysterious intersection of prediction and present reality, a question arises:

Could the once-dismissed forecast of Deagel.com be an unfolding truth hidden in plain sight?

The Shocking Forecast of 2025 by Deagel.com and Its Disappearance

In an age where forecasting and data analysis hold significant sway over public perception and policy, Deagel.com, a renowned global intelligence and consulting firm, made headlines with its startling prediction concerning global depopulation.

Particularly, its 2025 population forecast captured widespread attention. This prediction, which was suspiciously removed from their website in April 2021, once it garnered attention in the middle of the Covid-19 pandemic has thankfully been preserved by Nobul Art, allowing continued access to this troubling piece of depopulation forecasts.

The Stark Numbers: United Kingdom and Germany's Predicted Plight

According to Deagel's 2020 forecast, the United Kingdom was on course to witness an extraordinary decrease in population by 77.1% by the year 2025.

Similarly, Germany was expected to see its population diminish by 65.1% within the same timeframe.

Meanwhile Deagel predicted in 2020 that the United States would see its population decline by 68.5 % by the year 2025.

While predicting that Australia would see its population decline by 34.6% by the year 2025.

Such figures, unsurprisingly, sparked intense debate and speculation regarding the underlying causes and the accuracy of these predictions.

A Chilling Correlation with Vaccine-Related Mortality?

In an unexpected twist, recent health data appears to lend a disturbing credence to Deagel's dire predictions.

According to a dataset released by the UK Government's Office for National Statistics \(ONS\), there's an alarming trend observed in mortality rates among different vaccination statuses.

This data indicates that Four-Dose COVID-19 COVID-19-vaccinated teens and young Adults have up to a 318% higher likelihood of death compared to their unvaccinated counterparts.

In every single month, four-dose vaccinated teenagers and young adults were significantly more likely to die than unvaccinated teenagers and young adults.

The difference in mortality rates was so stark that the unvaccinated only managed to reach a mortality rate of 31.1 per 100,000 person-years in January, whereas the four-dose vaccinated managed to reach a shocking mortality rate of 106 per 100,000 person-years in the same month.

For the remaining months, unvaccinated teens and young adults mortality rate remained within the 20-something per 100,000 person-years. Whereas four-dose vaccinated teens and young adults' mortality rates only went as low as 80.9 per 100,000 in April and remained within 85 to 106 per 100,000 for the remaining months.

Moreover, the mortality rate for one-dose COVID-19 Vaccinated Adults aged 40 to 49 shows a 185% higher risk of death than those unvaccinated within the same age group.

While the mortality rate for four-dose COVID-19 COVID-19-vaccinated adults aged 40 to 49 shows a 104% higher risk of death than those unvaccinated within the same age group.

Both one-dose and four-dose vaccinated adults aged 40-49 were significantly more likely to die than unvaccinated adults of the same age every single month since the beginning of 2023.

January was the worst month for both vaccinated groups as a mortality rate per 100,000 of 411.3 was recorded among the one-dose vaccinated and a mortality rate of 258.5 per 100,000 was recorded among the four-dose vaccinated.

Whereas a mortality rate of just 144.5 per 100,000 was recorded among the unvaccinated.

The January to May average mortality rates were 132.08 per 100,000 among the unvaccinated, 264.14 per 100,000 among the one-dose vaccinated and 225.2 per 100,000 among the four-dose vaccinated. Meaning, on average, over five months the one-dose vaccinated were 100% more likely to die than the unvaccinated, and the four-dose vaccinated were 71% more likely to die.

These startling statistics have led to rising concerns and debates regarding the safety and long-term impacts of the COVID-19 vaccines. The correlation between the increased mortality rates among the vaccinated and Deagel's prediction of a drastic population reduction presents a scenario that is as concerning as it is controversial.

Unraveling the Truth Behind the Numbers

The emergence of such data inevitably leads to questions about the nature of COVID-19 mRNA and viral-vector vaccines and their role in public health.

While correlation does not necessarily imply causation, these figures undeniably demand a thorough and unbiased investigation into the vaccine's impact on health and mortality.

The idea that COVID-19 vaccines could potentially increase mortality and be harmful, as implied heavily by the official Government data, adds a complex layer to the already heated debate surrounding vaccine efficacy and safety.

Navigating a Path Forward

This scenario underscores the necessity for transparent, rigorous scientific inquiry and open discourse. It challenges the global community to look beyond the surface of public health policies and predictions, urging a deeper understanding of their potential implications.

As we edge closer to 2025, the predictions of Deagel, though shrouded in controversy, call for a vigilant examination of emerging health trends and a critical assessment of our responses to global health crises.

In conclusion, while the correlation between the reported increased mortality among the vaccinated and Deagel's grim depopulation forecast for 2025 remains a subject of intense debate and scrutiny, it highlights a pivotal moment in our contemporary history. [[Swiss lawyer Michael Lusk's report corroborates the contention that I raised on pages 9 & 10 above.]]

It beckons us to navigate these complex times with a balanced approach, grounded in scientific integrity and a commitment to uncovering the truth.

And even if Deagel's 2025 depopulation forecast turns out to be largely overstated, we still have to worry about the fact that U.S. Centers for Disease Control data officially confirms that COVID-19 vaccination can reduce your lifespan by at least 24 years.

This means billions of people have been injected with a poison that is killing them slowly.

The countries of the western alliance are massively affected; other countries less so.

TruNews discussed something I have been aware of since early last year, the secret speech of Gen. Haotian to his CCP comrades laying out a plan to win living space for the superior, but overpopulated Chinese population by removing the people of America in one hit.

If you have not yet seen it I recommend taking the time out to watch.

They returned to something today that I discussed back last October in my article HERE (deleted by Google)

Now listen to what they have to say:

<https://www.deagel.com/>

Today on TruNews, we discuss a new prediction by the publishers of military-analyst outlet Deagel.com, forecasting that 233 million Americans will leave or be killed by 2025, and societal collapse, and nuclear and biological war with Russia and China will cause this dramatic end to the United States as we know it.

We also compare this projection with the war plan shared by Communist General Chee Haotin, which argued for the extermination and occupation of the West by Beijing's billions after "cleaning out" the current population with a bioweapon first strike.

Here is the disclaimer discussed in detail on the website deagel.com

Disclaimer*

In 2014 we published a disclaimer about the forecast. In six years the scenario has changed dramatically. This new disclaimer is meant to single out the situation from 2020 onwards. Taking about the United States and the European Union as separated entities no longer makes sense. Both are the Western block, keep printing money and will share the same fate.

After COVID we can draw two major conclusions:

The Western world success model has been built over societies with no resilience that can barely withstand any hardship, even a low intensity one. It was assumed but we got the full confirmation beyond any doubt.

The COVID crisis will be used to extend the life of this dying economic system through the so called Great Reset.

The Great Reset; like the climate change, extinction rebellion, planetary crisis, green revolution, shale oil (...) hoaxes promoted by the system; is another attempt to slow down dramatically the consumption of natural resources and therefore extend the lifetime of the current system. It can be effective for a while but finally won't address the bottom-line problem and will only delay the inevitable. The core ruling elites hope to stay in power which is in effect the only thing that really worries them.

The collapse of the Western financial system – and ultimately the Western civilization – has been the major driver in the forecast along with a confluence of crisis with a devastating outcome. As COVID has proven Western societies embracing multiculturalism and extreme liberalism are unable to deal with any real hardship. The Spanish flu one century ago represented the death of 40-50 million people. Today the world's population is four times greater with air travel in full swing which is by definition a super spreader. The death casualties in today's World would represent 160 to 200 million in relative terms but more likely 300-400 million taking into consideration the air travel factor that did not exist one century ago. So far, COVID death toll is roughly 1 million people. It is quite likely that the economic crisis due to the lockdowns will cause more deaths than the virus worldwide.

The Soviet system was less able to deliver goodies to the people than the Western one. Nevertheless Soviet society was more compact and resilient under an authoritarian regime. That in mind, the collapse of the Soviet system wiped out 10 percent of the population. The stark reality of diverse and multicultural Western societies is that a collapse will have a toll of 50 to 80 percent depending on several factors but in general terms the most diverse, multicultural, indebted and wealthy (highest standard of living) will suffer the highest toll. The only glue that keeps united such aberrant collage from falling apart is overconsumption with heavy doses of bottomless degeneracy disguised as virtue. Nevertheless the widespread censorship, hate laws and contradictory signals mean that even that glue is not working any more. Not everybody has to die migration can also play a positive role in this.

The formerly known as second and third world nations are an unknown at this point. Their fate will depend upon the decisions they take in the future. Western powers are not going to take over them as they did in the past because these countries won't be able to control their own cities far less likely countries that are far away. If they remain tied to the former World Order they will go down along Western powers but won't experience the brutal decline of the late because they are poorer and not diverse enough but rather quite homogenous used to deal with some sort of hardship but not precisely the one that is coming. If they switch to China they can get a chance to stabilize but will depend upon the management of their resources.

We expected this situation to unfold and actually is unfolding right now with the November election triggering a major bomb if Trump is re-elected. If Biden is elected there will very bad consequences as well. There is a lot of bad blood in the Western societies and the protests, demonstrations, rioting and looting are only the first symptoms of what is coming. However a new trend is taking place overshadowing this one.

The situation between the three great powers has changed dramatically. The only relevant achievement of the Western powers during the past decade has been the formation of a strategic alliance, both military and economic, between Russia and China. Right now the potential partnership between Russia and the European Union (EU) is dead with Russia turning definitively towards China. That was from the beginning the most likely outcome. Airbus never tried to establish a real partnership but rather a strategy to fade away the Russian aerospace industry. Actually Russia and China have formed a new alliance to build a long haul airliner. Western Europe (not to mention the United States) was never interested in the development of Russia or forming anything other than a master slave relationship with Russia providing raw materials and toeing the line of the West. It was clear then and today is a fact.

Russia has been preparing for a major war since 2008 and China has been increasing her military capabilities for the last 20 years. Today China is not a second tier power compared with the United States. Both in military and economic terms China is at the same level and in some specific areas are far ahead. In the domain of high-tech 5G has been a success in the commercial realm but the Type 055 destroyer is also another breakthrough with the U.S. gaining a similar capability (DDG 51 Flight III) by mid of this decade (more likely by 2030). Nanchang, the lead ship of the Type 055 class, was commissioned amid the pandemic and lockdown in China.

Six years ago the likelihood of a major war was tiny. Since then it has grown steadily and dramatically and today is by far the most likely major event in the 2020s. The ultimate conflict can come from two ways. A conventional conflict involving at least two major powers that escalates into an open nuclear war. A second scenario is possible in the 2025-2030 timeframe. A Russian sneak first strike against the United States and its allies with the new S-500, strategic missile defenses, Yasen-M submarines, INF Zircon and Kalibr missiles and some new space asset playing the key role. The sneak first strike would involve all Russian missile strategic forces branches (bombers and ground-based missiles) at the different stages of such attack that would be strategic translation of what was seen in Syria in November 2015. There was no report that the Russian had such a capability of launching a high precision, multiple, combined arms attack at targets 2,000+ kilometers away. Western intelligence had no clue. The irony is that since the end of the Cold War the United States has been maneuvering through NATO to achieve a position to execute a first strike over Russia and now it seems that the first strike may occur but the country finished would be the United States.

Another particularity of the Western system is that its individuals have been brainwashed to the point that the majority accept their moral high ground and technological edge as a given. This has given the rise of the supremacy of the emotional arguments over the rational ones which are ignored or deprecated. That mindset can play a key role in the upcoming catastrophic events. At least in the Soviet system the silent majority of the people were aware of the fallacies they were fed up.

We can see the United States claims about G5 being stolen from them by China or hypersonic technology being stolen by Russia as the evidence that the Western elites are also infected by that hubris. Over the next decade it will become obvious that the West is falling behind the Russia-China block and the malaise might grow into desperation. Going to war might seem a quick and easy solution to restore the lost hegemony to finally find them into a France 1940 moment. Back then France did not have nuclear weapons to turn a defeat into a victory. The West might try that swap because the unpleasant prospect of not being Mars and Venus but rather a bully and his dirty bitch running away in fear while the rest of the world is laughing at them.

If there is not a dramatic change of course the world is going to witness the first nuclear war. The Western block collapse may come before, during or after the war. It does not matter. A nuclear war is a game with billions of casualties and the collapse plays in the hundreds of millions.

This website is non-profit, built on spare time and we provide our information and services AS IS without further explanations and/or guarantees. We are not linked to any government. Take into account that the forecast is nothing more than a game of numbers whether flawed or correct based upon some speculative assumptions.

As TruNews points out no one knows who is behind deagel.com. However, their projected figures for the human population are based on a particular view of the world, that from the language I deduce to be far from any intelligence or official agencies.

Part of their viewpoint includes the following:

The Great Reset; like the climate change, extinction rebellion, planetary crisis, green revolution, shale oil (...) hoaxes promoted by the system; is another attempt to slow down dramatically the consumption of natural resources and therefore extend the lifetime of the current system. It can be effective for a while but finally won't address the bottom-line problem and will only delay the inevitable. The core ruling elites hope to stay in power which is in effect the only thing that really worries them.

I both agree and strongly DISAGREE with this assessment as from 30 years of following global warming I know that climate change (as well as the mass extinction and the destruction of the natural world, both by the Greenhouse effect and geoengineering, is very real. I would be quite willing to eat humble pie and accept that I have had the wool pulled over my eyes were it not for the fact that I can see the signs, as clear as day, not least by the rapid melting of the ice in the Arctic.

The other part of the above quote I deem to be quite correct.

So, the statistics are based on numbers crunched based on certain assumptions and therefore are speculative.

However, one would have to be a special sort of fool to dismiss the bulk of the ideas contained above.

The TruNews provide some speculation of their own as to how this might play out. I feel more open-minded about things and don't mind saying that I don't know how things might play out.

However, I was very affected by what I heard from Harry Vox and borne out by others about the vaccines (and they didn't get onto the controversial question of modification of our genome.

In short there is a range of possibilities and none of them look good for the people in the western alliance or for humanity as a whole.

2024 Eclipse & America's Prophetic Destiny

By T.W. Tramm

ON APRIL 8, the moon will pass in front of the sun, turning daylight into darkness across a large swath of the US.

With around 180 million people living in or near the path of totality, it will be the most watched eclipse in the nation's history—and likely all of history.

But the "Great North American Eclipse" of 2024 is more than just an historic astronomical event. For a variety of reasons, it is considered a prophetic event:

- It occurs on the eve of the biblical New Year, Nisan 1.
- Its path runs diagonally opposite of an eclipse seven years ago, to form a giant 'X' across the continental US.
- Its path crosses over a large number of cities with biblical names.
- Its path crosses through an area that will see a plague-like explosion of insects that has not occurred in two centuries.
- Visible next to the eclipse will be an unusually bright comet that last appeared 70 years ago.

And more.

To appreciate the prophetic significance of the eclipse, a review of America's history and role in God's redemptive plan for Israel is in order.

Let's start at the beginning.

COLUMBUS'S DIVINE MISSION

According to the history books, Columbus discovered the Americas by accident, while seeking a new sea route to Asia. But facts not typically found in the books suggest that it was Providence:

- Columbus, a devout follower of Jesus Christ, believed that his voyage was ordained by God to spread the Gospel to the ends of the earth before the Lord's return. The explorer was so convinced of his role in end-times prophecy that he wrote a work entitled "Book of Prophecies" in which he cited Scripture to show how God had planned his expedition to the new world, and would be doing great things for the Church through his discovery.
- Scholars believe that the Spanish explorer was actually of Jewish descent, and that his voyage was in part a quest to find a new 'promised land' at a time when his people were being expelled from Spain. Supporting this view, Columbus's journey was largely financed and supported by Jews. Some also cite the date that Columbus set sail as evidence of his Jewish background: it was Av 10, the day after Jews traditionally mourn both exiles from the Land, that he departed Spain.
- The duration of Columbus's expedition to parts unknown, which no man could have orchestrated, has a profound typological significance. After a series of mishaps at sea—including a broken rudder, a faulty compass, and a near mutiny of the crew who feared they would never make it back to Spain—Columbus sighted land and went ashore at the Americas on the 70th day of the voyage, which happened to mark the final day of the Feast of Tabernacles. Thus, the journey to the new promised land began on the day associated with Jewish exile, Av 10; it lasted for exactly 70 days, denoting a period of exile (Jer. 29:10), and ended at the festival associated with God's provision and a temporary dwelling place (Lev. 23:42, 43).

America would indeed turn out to be a new promised land, a nation rooted in and accommodative of Hebrew values and aspirations:

- The Puritans living in America saw themselves as a new 'chosen people' dwelling in a 'new Israel.' Their fast and feast days, including Thanksgiving, were based on Jewish observances such as Yom Kippur and Tabernacles.
- One of the original designs for the US Seal depicted the Israelites crossing the Red Sea, with Pharaoh in pursuit.
- The Hebrew language was a prerequisite for early American scholars. Many universities even required it in their curriculum.
- From the late 1800s to early 1900s, millions of Jews fleeing antisemitism in Europe immigrated to the US, making America home of the largest Jewish diaspora population. Around the same time, Zionism, the movement to create a Jewish state in the Land of Israel, gained momentum in the US.

Later, the US would become a vital ally to the Jews in Europe and Israel:

- America's defeat of Nazi Germany in World War Two thwarted Hitler's plan to exterminate the Jews.
- After the Holocaust, the US played a key role in securing support for the UN resolution to create the modern State of Israel.
- When Israel declared itself a nation on May 14, 1948, the US was the first country to grant recognition.
- From 1948 to the present, the US has provided more financial, political, and military support to Israel than to any other nation.

With our summary in view, two things are clear: the US has been uniquely supportive of the Jews, and was instrumental in the prophetic replanting of the "fig tree" in the Land of Israel (Isa. 11:11, 12; Matt. 24:32–34). One could even argue that without the US, there would be no modern State of Israel.

JUBILEE NATION

Another clue as to America's prophetic destiny is the fact that she was founded on the Jubilee principle of "liberty" (Lev. 25:10). From the original ideologies and charters, to the nation's iconic symbols and currency, the theme of liberty, or Jubilee, is ever-present:

- Patrick Henry's battle-cry in the run-up to the Revolutionary War was, "Give me liberty, or give me death!"
 - The US Declaration of Independence cites "liberty" as the first God-given right, next to the fundamental right to life.
 - The US Constitution states that no person shall be deprived of "liberty" without due process of law.
 - The US Pledge of Allegiance concludes with the words, "with liberty and justice for all."
 - The Statue of "Liberty" greets immigrants arriving in New York Harbor.
 - The iconic symbol of American independence is the "Liberty" Bell, which is engraved with the Jubilee pronouncement, "Proclaim Liberty Throughout all the Land unto all the Inhabitants Thereof" (Lev. 25:10).
 - The one-word motto stamped on US coins is "Liberty."
- Seeing how the US is the nation founded on the biblical principle of Liberty, or Jubilee, it is striking that it is also the nation comprised of 50 states, the number of Jubilee.

But America's Jubilee connection goes deeper still. According to the Sabbatical chronology favored by scholars, the US's first full year as a nation, 1777, was a Sabbatical year. The next year, 1778, was a Jubilee. (See notes for calculation).

Significantly, during America's first Jubilee, on June 24, 1778, the first total solar eclipse recorded in the US darkened a path from the lower Carolinas to New England, the area of the original colonies. Thus, America's first total solar eclipse was a Jubilee eclipse.

It gets more interesting. Counting forward Jubilee periods from 1778, we find that 2024, the year of the current American eclipse, marks the nation's fifth Jubilee. This is significant because the number five signifies God's favor and grace toward man.

While God has certainly "shed his grace" on the US during its five Jubilees, the symbolism around the 2024 eclipse suggests that the grace period is ending.

'X' MARKS THE SPOT

As noted earlier, the 2024 eclipse completes a giant 'X' across America on the eve of Nisan. Besides marking the turn of the biblical year, Nisan is called the "month of redemption," as it is when the Hebrews' departure from Egypt, or Exodus, occurred.

What is interesting is that there are 17 locations in the US named "Egypt," and all are found in or near the 'X' formed by the eclipse paths. What's more, at the center of the 'X' is the lower part of Southern Illinois, an area just south of I-70 called "Little Egypt."

Images:

<https://tinyurl.com/yckapypy>

<https://tinyurl.com/2vztfyfu>

Thus, the 'X' formed by the eclipse paths literally has "Egypt" written all over it.

That there are 17 US locations named Egypt is significant because in Scripture the number 17 denotes a period of dwelling in Egypt:

- The first Hebrew to reside in Egypt, Joseph, was age 17 when he was sold into slavery there (Gen. 37:2).
- Nisan 17 is when the Hebrews departed Egypt, by crossing the Red Sea (Ex. 3:18; 5:3).
- Nisan 17 is when the Hebrews (freed from Egypt) first ate the fruits of the Promised Land (Josh. 5:10–12).

With the Exodus, or 'X'-odus, theme in view, it is interesting to note that the eclipse 'X' also marks ground zero of what is predicted to be a plague-like explosion of cicada insects across 17 states this April, a rare double brood that has not occurred in 221 years.

Image: <https://tinyurl.com/2t5vb3jz>

It is a remarkable coincidence that a once-in-two-century irruption of cicadas—which has been compared to the insect plagues in the Book of Exodus—occurs across 17 states, and in the same month and year as our Exodus-themed eclipse.

But there is more.

Another feature of the 'X' drawn by the eclipse paths is that it corresponds to the Hebrew letter Tav, which is a picture of two crossed sticks. This is significant because, speaking of Israel's redemption in the last days, God says He will join the "stick" of Ephraim, representing the scattered tribes of Israel, with the "stick" of Judah, the tribes who dwell in the Land of Israel, where they will be cleansed of all their idolatry and worship Him as one:

"I am going to take the stick of Joseph—which is in Ephraim's hand—and of the Israelite tribes associated with him, and join it to Judah's stick. I will make them into a single stick of wood, and they will become one in my hand I will take the Israelites out of the nations where they have gone. I will gather them from all around and bring them back into their own land. I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel" [There] I will cleanse them. They will be my people, and I will be their God" (Ezek. 37:19, 21–23).

How does the prophecy about the return of scattered Ephraimites relate to America as a type of Egypt?

For starters, in contrast to the other heads of Israel's tribes who were born in Canaan, Ephraim was born in Egypt. Furthermore, Ephraim was born during the seven years of forewarning that preceded the seven years of famine in Egypt (Gen. 41:50). The seven years of forewarning parallel the seven years between the eclipses that form the 'X.'

In addition to the Egypt connection, there is a presumed genealogical link between Ephraim and the US. A popular view is that the US, home to nearly half the world's Jews, is where many descendants of Ephraim today reside. This view is based on the fact that when the Assyrians conquered and deported the 10 tribes of the Northern Kingdom, including Ephraim, in 722BC, many never returned but were assimilated into other groups. These "lost" tribe members migrated to Europe; and when antisemitism flared up there, they fled to America.

Seeing America as home to the scattered Ephraimites, it is fascinating to consider another feature of the eclipse paths. When we combine the 'X,' or Tav, paths with a third (annular) eclipse path in 2023, they form the Hebrew letter Aleph, which is a picture of a bull.

Image: <https://tinyurl.com/47eevfpx>

This is striking because the bull is the animal associated with the tribe of Ephraim (Deut. 33:17).

Another uncanny bull correlation relates to the comet that will be visible during the 2024 eclipse: Comet 12P/Pons–Brooks, which passes by Earth every 70 years, is known for its distinctive bull-like “horns.” Furthermore, the horned comet reaches perihelion, or maximum brightness, as it enters the constellation Taurus—the bull. Thus, we have a bull comet, appearing above the bull nation, which is marked with the Hebrew letter that depicts a bull!

Finally, if the Exodus theme of the 2024 eclipse is not comprehensive enough, the Sun is eclipsed by the Moon in the constellation Pisces, the sign that depicts God’s people in bondage. More precisely, the eclipse occurs on the Band that binds the fish, thus signifying a severing of the Band, or a release from bondage.

Image: <https://tinyurl.com/bdzfnw3e>

To appreciate the unlikelihood of a solar eclipse occurring on the Band of Pisces, consider that the Sun is found at this location only one day each year. In 2024, this day happens to coincide with the new moon that marks the beginning of Nisan, the month of the Exodus.

With the above correlations in view, the question is begged: could the impending solar eclipse be a sign pointing to the ultimate exodus and homecoming of scattered Jews, as foretold in Ezekiel?

SUMMARY AND FINAL THOUGHTS

From Columbus’s discovery in 1492, to the prophetic eclipse of 2024, God’s fingerprints are all over the US:

- The voyage to America lasted 70 days, and ended at the biblical festival associated with a temporary dwelling place.
- The US, the nation comprised of 50 states, was founded on the biblical principle of Liberty, or Jubilee.
- The US’s first full year as a nation, 1777, was a Sabbatical year preceding a Jubilee.
- America’s first Jubilee, 1778, saw a total solar eclipse darken the area of the original colonies.
- As of 2024, the US has existed for five Jubilees, denoting a period of God’s favor or grace.
- America’s 17 Egypts are clustered around the ‘X’ formed by the eclipses. The number 17 denotes a period of dwelling in Egypt.
- The plague-like explosion of cicadas across 17 states occurs in the same ‘X’ location as America’s 17 Egypts.

- The US is home to nearly half the world's Jews, and presumably many descendants of Ephraim.
- The seven years of forewarning in Egypt, during which Ephraim was born, parallel the seven years between the American eclipses.
- The 2024 eclipse occurs on the Band that binds the fish of Pisces, denoting a release from bondage.

Understanding that history repeats (Ecc. 1:9), it is fascinating to consider how America, like ancient Egypt, began as a safe haven for God's people, a place of flourishing. Over time, however, the US has, like ancient Egypt, devolved into a place of mounting oppression. The growing disregard for God and His word, as evidenced by waning US support for Israel, does not bode well for the nation previously blessed:

"[God said to Abraham] ... I will bless those who bless you, and I will curse him who treats you with contempt" (Gen. 12:3).

If we are reading the signs correctly, America's prophetic destiny is nearly fulfilled. She has been a place of refuge for Jews. She has facilitated the replanting of the "fig tree" as a prerequisite for Jesus' return. And now, five Jubilees after her founding, an 'X' drawn across the US on the eve of Nisan suggests that God is about to call His people out of spiritual Egypt, presumably by some calamitous event, and bring them home.

Could the calamitous event be the collapse of the US, triggered by the sudden 'exodus' of Christians at the Rapture?

It is an awesome possibility to consider.

1. About the 2024 solar eclipse:

<https://science.nasa.gov/.../how-is-the-2024-total-solar.../>

2. Of all the signs of Judgment Day in Scripture, the most frequently mentioned is a darkened sun, or total solar eclipse (Rev. 6:12; Joel 2:31; 3:14, 15; Isa. 13:9-10; Matt. 24:29; Mark 13:24; Luke 21:25-27; Acts 2:20, 21; Ezek. 32:8).

3. In addition to its 'X' connection to the 2024 eclipse, the solar eclipse of 2017 was considered a biblical sign because:

- It occurred on Elul 1, a date that in Judaism marks the start of a period of warning and repentance.
- It traced a path exclusively across the US, which had not occurred since before the nation's founding in 1776.
- Its 70-mile-wide path crossed over seven US cities named Salem, an alternate name for Jerusalem.

- Its path crossed through the center of three of America's most notorious seismic hotspots: The Cascadia Subduction Zone on the West Coast, the Yellowstone Caldera in Wyoming, and the heart of the New Madrid Seismic Zone centered around Southern Illinois' Little Egypt.
- It occurred on the same day that President Trump's peace team flew to the Middle East to begin work on a plan that divides Jerusalem.
- It occurred 33 days before the Revelation 12 alignment of September 23, 2017.

<https://edition.cnn.com/.../garcia-columbus.../index.html>

5. 2024 marks, simultaneously:

- 76 Sabbatical weeks since Columbus discovered America in 1492.
- 76 years since Israel became a nation in 1948.

Coincidentally, Strong's #76 (Hebrew) is the word ababuah, referring to the plague of "blisters or boils" in Exodus chapter 9: <https://biblehub.com/hebrew/76.htm>.

6. The number 70 denotes a period of bondage or a release from bondage:

- There were 70 Hebrews who initially migrated to Egypt (Deut. 10:22).
- After being redeemed from Egypt, the Israelites camped at an oasis of 70 palm trees (Ex. 15:27).
- The Jews were redeemed from Babylon after 70 years (Jer. 29:10).
- God's plan of redemption encompasses 70 weeks (Dan. 9:24–27).

7. Sabbatical-year chronology (see "WH" for Wacholder): <https://www.pickle-publishing.com/.../sabbatical-years...>

8. 2024 Jubilee calculation:

There have been exactly 70 Jubilee periods since the Israelites first entered the Promised Land, and began counting the 49-year cycle:

$1407 \text{ BC} + 70 \text{ Jubilees (3,430 years)} = 2024$

The 2024 Jubilee calculation is corroborated by the 70 Weeks Prophecy:

"From the time the word goes out to restore and rebuild Jerusalem until Messiah the prince comes, there will be seven sevens" [one Jubilee period] (Dan. 9:25).

According to the prophecy, a Jubilee period begins after the Jews return to Jerusalem. Since the Jews returned to Jerusalem in June 1967, the count of "seven sevens," or one Jubilee period, begins at the first Sabbatical week after 1967:

$1974 + 49 = 2023 + 1 \text{ (Jubilee)} = 2024$

9. Another indication that 1778 and 2024 are Jubilees is the fact that the preceding Sabbatical years (Hebrew 5537 and 5782) are divisible by 49, a characteristic unique to Sabbatical years preceding Jubilees.

10. America's first Jubilee eclipse in 1778 occurred in the Constellation Gemini, the sign that depicts the wedding union between God and man.

11. Seeing how the second (2024) eclipse occurs on the Gentile date 4/8, it is interesting that in Exodus 4:8, where God is imparting to Moses the signs to convince pharaoh to release the Hebrews, He says: "If they do not believe you or pay attention to the first sign, they may believe the second."

14. Joseph's two sons born in Egypt were Manasseh and Ephraim.

15. A fascinating connection between Ephraim (America) and the Hebrew letter Tav, or 'X' is as follows: Because Joseph's sons Ephraim and Manasseh were born in Egypt, their grandfather Jacob said a special blessing over them to make clear that they were not Egyptians, but were of the family and inheritance of Abraham (Gen. 48). Significantly, when Jacob blessed Ephraim and Manasseh, he crossed his hands (forming the Hebrew letter Tav, or 'X'), placing his right hand on the head of the younger boy, Ephraim, and his left hand on the head of the older boy, Manasseh, thus bestowing the greater blessing on the younger son, Ephraim, and reserving a lesser blessing for Manasseh, the firstborn. Jacob's blessing is believed to be prophetic of two major world powers, the British Empire (Manasseh) and the US (Ephraim).

IMPORTANT MESSAGE: No one knows the day or hour of Jesus' return (Matt. 24:36). However, a convergence of biblical signs and timelines suggests it is near. To escape the judgment reserved for a God-rejecting world, one must be in a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. If you have not yet done so, call on His name and believe that He is the Son of God who died for your sins and was raised from the dead (Rom. 10:13). Do it today. Time is running out.

Blessings,
