

The War With China

Is in the 2nd Phase

Get Ready for Phase 3

You will find it in Revelation 9:15-16

We begin this article with comments from Clif High's post of a couple days ago. I will add to it with important details, some from Martin Armstrong's interview with Greg Hunter posted four days ago. Clif High is a crusty sixty+ twice a cancer survivor, and his language is as salty as that of any sailor. He is not a Christian but his intelligence does offer some insights of diamonds and nuggets nonetheless.

“And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men. And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.” -(Revelation 9:15-16).

Clif High began by saying that the CCP attacked the U.S. (and the world) with the bioweapon and cyberattacked the 2020 Election and by rights, the U.S. could have started nuking China months ago, except that it's much more complex than that, because the CCP is really a proxy of the Globalists and the Chinese people are also victims of these same control freaks. U.S. military intel confirmed the CCP released a bioweapon at the World Military Games held in October, 2019.

Moreover, the CCP/Globalists have completely infiltrated our civilian command structure and all of our institutions, such as the media to such a degree, that most people don't even know that we are in the middle of a global unconventional war.

KNOW THINE ENEMY: THE GLOBALISTS

He says, "We're in World War III now and it might be a couple of years before most of the Normies will actually recognize it. This is how peculiar this situation is. But in my way of thinking, the bad guys, here are really not the Chinese people. The Chinese people are slaves of the CCP. And so I always eliminate the slave class, unless they're willingly fighting for the masters."

"I think of it as the Globalists and this would include Bill Gates, Warren Buffett, the Rockefellers, the Tavistock Institute, all the Royals on the planet."

"There's various different ways we could categorize who it is. It would include the Pope. It include almost all of the heads of all of the religions. It's going to include all of the heads of all of the big cults. It's going to include all of the big God men in India, because they're all working with the Central Banks."

"So all the Globalists around the world are all Central Bank tied-in. That's one way of defining them. You could almost say...an easy way to consider the Globalists is to say that anybody who has a private jet is within that group, OK? Anybody who has a private jet is a Globalist. That's one of the criteria, because you've got to be global, you gotta fly around a lot."

"Anybody that takes private jets rental and takes private jets in charters is easing their way up into that category. That would be the outer fringes of it. It's just a really simple way to define it, because they are having impacts, even if they aren't ideologically aligned with these people. We know that it was Epstein's private jet that facilitated the pedophilia. Charlie Ward transferred money on jets, in which young, underage women were being trafficked. So that's the understanding. The...private jet world also houses this elite cadre within the Globalists."

SCHISM BETWEEN THE CCP THE GLOBALISTS

"So, you have the Globalists and they are allied with the CCP. They don't particularly want to be. They were going to try and take them over. The CCP double-crossed them and now, they're in deep (expletive). Globalists were transferring all of their wealth to China and they were going to just live like kings in Asia, instead of living like kings in the Western World. But the CCP, they took the wealth in and then they started doing things that basically double-crossed the Globalists and kicked 'em out."

"Now, the Globalists have to come back to the Western World and they've already polluted all the Western World, in destroying the Western Empire, to move their money over into China. And so now, the Globalists are like, 'Uh-oh!' They're a bit caught out. They don't have a home base, anymore. They've exposed themselves, by these rapid movements in the West, so...even all the Normies are starting to wise up to some of the (expletive) going on, more and more people gaining it – we're reaching a critical tipping point, this weekend, I think."

"As more Normies get involved in it, it'll just gain. It'll start doubling every day, as the amount of people that are awakening. And it's just going to race through humanity and just go really, really fast."

"So the Globalists are really caught in a really tenuous position. They've exposed themselves in the West. They're visible. We know who our enemy class is and we can start identifying who it is, as individuals. And we can debate about certain individuals that are fringe level but we can easily identify all the hardcore cadre of Globalists that are causing us problems and creating unconventional warfare that we have to participate in, instead of living nice, happy lives."

"And we're all real (expletive) about that, so we're all gonna change it. And then, we'll go on to living nice, happy lives and not have to deal with unconventional warfare with the Globalists – because, we're gonna basically eliminate 'em, because this is the time."

THE AGE OF KNOWLEDGE

I found Clif's discussion about our current location, in the Precession of the Equinoxes to be astounding, because I'd recently had an insight that the new "final frontier" is about becoming fully aware of that which has been under your nose your entire life. The sense I had was exactly as he describes the energies of the Age of Aquarius.

He explains the woo-woo reasons for this: "So, now, we're in the Age of Aquarius, which is the Age of Knowledge." There are distinct, different environmental conditions that affect our Solar System and each of the astrological ages. In each of those astrological ages, the frequencies that we're bombarded with are entirely different and humanity is different...

What makes Clif's discussion so interesting is that if you have ever read the writings of Douglas B. Vogt, he says the Sun is the real cause of global warming and in October, 2046 the Sun will Nova, the Earth will stop its rotation for approximately eight hours and then rotate in the opposite direction. Mr. Vogt explains that our Sun nova's on 12,068-year time cycles! Current global warming is caused by our Sun's increase in output before the Nova occurs. He believes our government knows this and guard it secretly. As interesting as that is to me, it is not my focus here. You can find out more about Douglas B. Vogt's theories in his You Tube videos. I will tell you they are incredibly interesting and challenging. Continuing Clif's comments:

"So we're in the Age of Aquarius and this is the Age of Knowledge. In knowledge, you find knowledge, you discover knowledge. You don't invent knowledge. You don't create knowledge. It is entirely a discovery process and we are in the process of discovering who we are in this new age and how we wish to behave."

"And we know that we don't wish to behave like these (expletive), the Globalists, with the lockdowns and the masks...and that COVID is (expletive). If you have your immune system boosted up, you're not going to be ill from it, we can weather this and it will just disappear, if we do things correctly."

"The Globalists don't want us to believe that, the CCP doesn't want us to believe that. These are both control freaks. They're allied because they both have a central tenet; that they want to control everything and so, they felt themselves to be simpatico. They are not and there's been this schism."

"And now we, as the rest of the world, Global Pop have to deal with these two real problems to us; that have tried to kill us – still trying to kill us. Still trying to kill vast quantities of us. But I think we've turned it on that."

"The CCP is embedded within China. The Globalists are embedded within the world...All the Globalists are basically Communists but they're Communists among themselves and exclusionary to everybody else. So they're Animal Farm-kind of Communists, so they're the pigs. They're the War Pigs. True appellation. Globalists = War Pigs."

"And the War Pigs want everything for themselves and nothing for you but they don't want you to go away 100%. They want enough of you to go around to be able to serve them and to suffer for their pleasure."

"Embedded in our population, we have Globalists. The United States is in the process of dealing with that. The Globalists have left themselves very vulnerable, due to the election theft. As we discover how the theft was done, we also discover who does the theft. And so, we're going to come up with a list of names of the thieves of the election and we're going to find some Globalists."

TEMPLATE FOR A GLOBAL REVOLUTION: THE END OF 'ENDLESS WARS' & THE END OF COMMUNISM

"So, we'll be routing out Globalists here. As we do this, we'll be setting up a model for routing out the Globalists in other countries. So, it's my conclusion that what will happen is, the United States will route-out the Globalists, as we go through and find out who stole the Election – and by the way, part of who stole the Election – the election theft was facilitated by the CCP, by the COVID, by the vaccine – of this (expletive) is tied into the theft of the Election, so we're going to route-out all of this stuff, right here [CCP, COVID and Vaxx]."

"Also tied into the election theft is the media. So, we're going to find out who, in all of our media is tied to the CCP and find out who are the grinning, vampiric (expletive) that have been manipulating society for years and have pushed us to the point where the media is responsible for everyone that has died from the vaxx. Media 100% responsible. CCP 100% responsible. They are responsible for everybody around the planet who's died from the vaxx."

"Without the media pushing it, would any of the people you know have taken it? No. They were all mind controlled into taking it."

"So the media is going to have to be excoriated...It's going to have to be totally upended and redone. It is in the process of dying now of its own weight and all of the lies."

"I think a lot of the media people are culpable and need to stand trial, along with the Globalists, as part of the theft of the election. And in the United States, we have a real nationalistic tool, here, in that this is Treason – Capital Crime – and so these people are going to be (expletive) themselves for fear we're going to put them to death – and thus, they will spill much beans...It won't be too hard to get a complete accounting of who did what, when, why and at whose behest. That's how we have to approach it.”

“Now, at some point, having done that, we have to deal with outside agents; the CCP and all the other foreign parties in here. So that brings up this international thing. BUT - we're also now allied with Global Pop, who is doing the same damned thing with their version of the Globalists over the same thing. Because, once our election is shown to have been stolen and we find out the How of it, we can show that their elections are also being stolen by that same How and by that same Who. The same Globalists are involved in all of these damned countries, doing this.”

“So, we'll set up a model that GlobalPop is going to stare at. They are going to be just fascinated, as we reveal this. The United States is going to be the center of this planet like you have never seen before, the rest of this year and the rest of next year. And hopefully, if we do this correctly, there will not be any more, ever large-scale, national shooting wars. We have that in our grasp now, as Global Pop.”

“As USA Pop, we're a subset of GlobalPop, we are in charge at the moment. We're in charge, because it happened here and we got the Biden and the Harris shoved on us. So we've got the focus but we're setting up a template for GlobalPop, that if done correctly, over these next few years, will truly lead to the end of war, the end of Communism and the end of Globalism, as we understand it, now, with these Globalist "elite" on top of everybody else. I think it's going to lead 100% to SciFi World, which is an incredible thing that is like true equality and true equality of opportunity, globally. And this has never, ever, ever happened to humanity and will free the slaves.”

“We're going to free the slaves, we're going to cure the infirm, educate the ignorant and humanity's going to go forward to conquer space. And WE ARE LIVING IN THIS TIME! I thought I would die – I knew I was dying – I didn't think I would live to see this...”

“But I have concentrate on the USA, because I'm in that Pop. I've got to concentrate on the war, here in the United States and that war is just going to be fantastic! Hopefully, we won't have any shooting, won't get down to that level. That's what the Globalists and the CCP want; they want this country fractured. It's not going to go that way, because we are truly in irregular warfare and the thing about irregular warfare is – the fun part is – you can self-select to participate.”

AMERICAN REVOLUTION 2.0

Clif explains that the first American Revolution was also fought and won with irregular warfare and that this time, we are in a counter-insurgency.

“Now, counter-insurgency is very interesting. You'll find it very well-defined here (raises a copy of the Law of War handbook) ...Counter-insurgency requires that you really know the Law of War, because you're dealing with people who are embedded in the population and as the military power, you've got to know who you're dealing with. Are these combatants? Are these non-combatants that are sympathetic? And are they sympathetic to who and are they providing aid to who, etc. It gets really murky and you need to know this, because you've got to be correct and complete about how you're going to go about warfare in these circumstances..."

---

"Basically, we have been infiltrated in an insurgency. And what we're doing – USA Pop – is forming a counterinsurgency. The counterinsurgency is made up of two elements. It's made up of military and population. The population has its own civilian command structure – which is infiltrated. And so that's the real problem for the military...the civilian command structure has been captured. That's what the Election was all about; it was about sealing the capture deal; returning power to the rightful elite ruler, Das Biden."

"The command structure is captured, so the military can't really deal with the command structure, so the military needs to do this thing where it needs to locate, within the population natural leaders...These natural leaders are going to rise up within the population and because of a power vacuum, because the command structure is now captured and is seen as illegal...Self-organizing collectives will form around them, whether they like it or not. And they will have to stand up...and they will stand out to the military. And the military will start, over the course of events, supporting these natural leaders. In a surreptitious fashion, so that they don't alert the captured civilians to the importance of these particular individuals prematurely."

"But we're at that point now...our tipping woo is tipping out into the general population. And pretty soon, the general population will realize that they are at war. They're going to have to realize this, in order for us to be successful, because you cannot have a counterinsurgency that is just military, alone. The only thing you get with that is a military dictatorship. And we can't have that in the United States, because then, that turns the population fighting against the military, which is what the civilian command structure wants to have happen, because it's captured..."

"It is inevitable that these natural leaders will win. The only things at issue is how much of the population is going to survive the war to get of these guys [the civilian command structure] and the CCP."

"If it gets really ugly and bad, lots of the population will end up suffering. We have an opportunity to. have natural leaders and a sophisticated military approach that will reduce the ability for active warfare, here, in the United States at a kinetic level, so we won't be shooting people, we'll be using information and ideas and legal maneuvers and these kind of things..."

"This is the Overwoo – that will always, every time we come into another Age of Aquarius, as we leave another Age of Pisces... thousands of years from now, they will go through it again and they'll have an Overwoo at that period, where there will be an upending, just as we are having now. That's just the nature of the Age of Aquarius. It's the nature of the vibrations that are affecting humanity, as we go into these strange energies, in the changed environment of our Solar System."

"STRANGE ENERGIES FROM SPACE"

"Those energies from space – I'm not (expletive) people when I say, 'Universe provides and guides.' It provides the energies that cause these natural leaders to get the (expletive) off the couch and to stand up and say, 'I'm not standing up for this (expletive) anymore. I'm going to go on out and I'm going to correct it.' And then it guides them...Most of the natural leaders who get triggered into doing this have no choice. They're just as unaware of the fact that they're a natural leader...they don't know of themselves as their role in this place and time that universe is now creating. They cannot yet see themselves historically..."

"[But] our irregular war is well underway, at this point. Now, over these next few months, especially in August – it's going to be a real shift, as we get into August – change is going to happen as opposed to simply watching the elites panic. And you can understand, now why I said the elite would be panicking in July and I kept maintaining this way back when, a few months back, saying in July, we would see the elite panicking. You see it in the headlines now in the alternative media, talking about the elite. You see the elite panicking, because of Global Freedom Day and all these giant marches and you see the elite panicking in all these areas."

"And so now, in August, you're going to see change; we're going to see globally all different kinds of actions but within the United States population, we're going to see the counterinsurgency, we're going to see the war start breaking out into the open and it's going to be a really weird war, because this is a war you've got to research to find out that you're in it!..."

GLOBALREV --> GLOBAL CONSTITUTION

"This is AmRev2, this is the American Revolution and it's going to go global. It's going to be GlobalRev and we will end up with a Global Humanity Constitution and that is what, in my old reports, maybe it was back in 2015 or so, it was called the Great Meeting. And there would be a giant internet meeting...but it's going to go on for a long time and it's going to hammer out a Global Constitution and it will probably be – a great percentage of it – based on the United States Constitution, because we're going to kick the Globalists out, upend and change the United States from the American Empire into a Constitutional Republic, we're going to get sound money, change the potential for life on this continent for all the people on this continent and then, we're going to go on and export that to the rest of the world."

"And it's not like we're going to have to do infiltration or any of that, because the rest of the world is going to want it. And as our revolution is being successful, the rest of the world, the rest of the Western World is going to go into their form of revolution in their area."

"So, it's truly going to be an incredible 18 years. It's going to take a long time for this (expletive) to wind down but the next 4 or 5 years are just going to be fantastic, as the Overwoo reaches its peak by 2025. And we're there now!"

"So, it is a war, so you've got to be real careful, because you can be injured; be injured economically, you can be injured physically, you can have your family taken from you, You can be injured legally – all different kinds of things..."

"We are at war, it may go kinetic, it will be stressful, so get fit, work on it, get your diet right, get good sleep. Very, very trying times for the next few years. You can't afford to (expletive) around. We've got all kinds of other potential – including space aliens!"

I highly recommend you seek out the interview between Martin Armstrong and Greg Hunter, recorded in mid-July, 2021. Martin Armstrong's interview offers a unique but revealing picture spoken about by Clif High. Martin Armstrong is someone the U.S. government fears and therefore you need to be aware of what he is predicting and why so. Martin Armstrong essentially confirmed Clif High's comments, as well as I have been saying about the House of Rothschild executing "Pay Back" for the CCP breaking the deal worked out by Dr. Henry Kissinger back in the early 1970s.

The U.S. iron and steel industry was moved to China over the next two decades, lock, stock, and barrel. Being from the Pittsburgh, PA, I watched tractor-trailer loads of steel manufacturing infrastructure moved from mills up and down the Monongahela and Ohio Rivers for export by barge to Louisiana where they were loaded onto ocean ships for destinations in China.

American politicians from the very top down to local representatives were financially rewarded for their support for Rothschild causes and were sold out to the policies and agenda of the globalists who did the bidding of the House of Rothschild. Now with the Chinese CCP double-crossing the House of Rothschild, they used their vast resources to execute punishment and to provoke a shooting war between China and the U.S. The first phase of this war came with financial hegemony jostling, the second phase came last year through executing weather warfare, and the next phase will follow with nuclear exchange. China's threats are real. J.R. Nyquist has written extensively on the threats of the forthcoming war for many years. Take it seriously!

For those of you unfamiliar with Clif High, he was once one of Microsoft's key programmers, traveling the world to solve Microsoft customer computer problems. He and his disabled wife live outside of the Seattle, WA area and is one of the smartest people on the planet. He analyzes data sets, a term best understood as "trends" or "data mining" from my computer background. He is light years ahead of most minds. At times he may come across as out of this world.

As Clif points out we are in a war with China. The first phase began maybe a decade ago or so when China began challenging the U.S. role as the financial reserve currency. Most foreign nations hold $100-dollars, i.e., Federal Reserve Notes. Like most brilliant people, others find them quirky, and it takes a while to appreciate Clif's commentary. The fact is that his predictions over the years have proved to be spot on. That success rate has put him into a unique category along with Martin Armstrong, and Jim Willey. Clif puts out a weekly report, usually about an hour long, and occasionally one or two short posts throughout the week. The reader may be familiar with the old E.F. Hutton commercial, "when E.F. Hutton talks, people listen!" Such is the case with Clif High, expletives included.

The U.S. dollar became the global reserve currency in 1944 at Bretton Woods, NH. A little background here will help you understand what this is all about. The first U.S. Dollar, as it is known today, was printed in 1914 upon the creation of the Federal Reserve Bank. Less than six decades later, the dollar officially became the world's reserve currency. However, its ascendancy to the throne actually began not long after the ink was dry on that first printing in 1914.

Understanding the Birth and Rise of the U.S. Dollar

The Federal Reserve Bank was created by the Federal Reserve Act of 1913, in response to the unreliability and instability of a currency system based on banknotes issued by individual banks. At that time, the U.S. economy had overtaken Britain's economy as the world's largest economy. However, Britain was still the center of world commerce, with the majority of transactions conducted in British pounds. Also, at that time, most of the developed countries pegged their currencies to gold in order to create stability in currency exchanges.

However, when World War I broke out in 1914, many countries abandoned the gold standard so that they could pay their military expenses with paper money, which devalued their currencies. Three years into the war, Britain, which had steadfastly held to the gold standard to maintain its position as the world's leading currency, found itself having to borrow money for the first time.

The United States became the lender of choice for many countries that were abandon the gold standard, which decimated the bank accounts of international merchants who traded in pounds. By then, the dollar had replaced the pound as the world's leading reserve.

As it did in World War I, the United States entered World War II well after the fighting had started. Before it entered the war, the United States served as the Allies' main proprietor of weapons, supplies, and other goods. Collecting much of its payment in gold, by the end of the war, the United States owned the vast majority of the world's gold. This precluded a return to the gold standard by all of the countries that had depleted their gold reserves.

In 1944, delegates from 44 Allied countries met in Bretton Wood, New Hampshire, to come up with a system to manage foreign exchange that would not put any country at a disadvantage. It was decided that the world's currencies couldn't be linked to gold, but they could be linked to the U.S. dollar, which was linked to gold.

The arrangement, which came to be known as the Bretton Woods Agreement, established that the central banks would maintain fixed exchange rates between their currencies and the dollar. In turn, the United States would redeem U.S. dollars for gold on demand. Countries had some degree of control over the currencies in situations wherein their currency values became too weak or too strong relative to the dollar. They could buy or sell their currency to regulate the money supply.

Standing on Its Own as the World's Reserve Currency

As a result of the Bretton Woods Agreement, the U.S. dollar was officially crowned the world's reserve currency and was backed by the world's largest gold reserves. Instead of gold reserves, other countries accumulated reserves of U.S. dollars. Needing a place to store their dollars, countries began buying U.S. Treasury securities, which they considered to be a safe store of money.

The demand for Treasury securities—coupled with the deficit spending needed to finance the Vietnam War and the Great Society domestic programs—caused the United States to flood the market with paper money. With growing concerns over the stability of the dollar, the countries began to convert dollar reserves into gold.

The demand for gold was such that President Richard Nixon was forced to intervene and de-link the dollar from gold, which led to the floating exchange rates that exist today. Although there have been periods of stagflation, which is defined as high inflation and high unemployment, the U.S. dollar has remained the world's reserve currency. This is where China stepped into replacing the U.S. dollar!

Present Day

Today, more than 61% of all foreign bank reserves are denominated in U.S. dollars, according to the International Monetary Fund (IMF). Many of the reserves are in cash or U.S. bonds, such as U.S. Treasuries. Also, approximately 40% of the world's debt is denominated in dollars.

The reserve status is based largely on the size and strength of the U.S. economy and the dominance of the U.S. financial markets. Despite large deficit spending, trillions of dollars in debt, and the unbridled printing of U.S. dollars, U.S. Treasury securities remain the safest store of money. The trust and confidence that the world has in the ability of the United States to pay its debts have kept the dollar as the most redeemable currency for facilitating world commerce.

A reserve currency has to serve as a medium of exchange, a store of value and a unit of account. According to Mark Carney, the former governor of the Bank of England, history has showed that the most important of these attributes is the first one.

Since its first abortive bid to challenge the dollar between 2009 and 2015, China has made progress in setting up a digital renminbi payments system that, by being cost-effective and easy to use, satisfies Carney's criterion for usefulness.

The People's Bank of China is well advanced in preparations for the digital renminbi, which will initially serve the domestic economy. But the central bank is also working with its counterparts in Hong Kong, Thailand and the United Arab Emirates, alongside the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), on using a digital ledger of transactions that is distributed among counterparties. The aim is to harness central banks' digital currencies to make multicurrency cross-border payments simpler and cheaper.

Success will depend partly on other countries' willingness to embrace China's financial innovations and western nations could well resist. But the project offers benefits that should appeal in particular to emerging markets poorly served by current arrangements in which a "correspondent" bank often acts as intermediary for another to facilitate transfers.

China has also made progress on boosting the renminbi's attractiveness as a store of value, establishing its credentials as a stable, low-inflation economy even as financial markets worry that unprecedented fiscal and monetary stimulus will unleash inflation in the US, tarnishing the dollar.

credible store of value now have more rein to express their view. China has opened its capital markets more to foreign investors, triggering hefty inflows into stocks and bonds over the last couple of years.

True, China retains capital controls. But a successful rollout of the digital renminbi, which will be firmly under the control of the PBoC, is likely to make the Communist party more comfortable with relaxing controls because the authorities will have full visibility over two-way flows.

Finally, the renminbi's functions as a unit of account have also increased since the initial bid to internationalize the renminbi. Trade invoicing in renminbi still has to regain its peak 2015 levels, but in the meantime China has launched renminbi-denominated futures contracts in a number of commodities, including oil and gold.

Those who doubt the renminbi will become a reserve currency will point to the absence of the rule of law in China, the lack of independent institutions, and the opaque and unpredictable policymaking of an authoritarian regime. But those who doubt the dollar can remain the undisputed apex currency only have to point to the recent attacks in the US on the democratic institutions that are also meant to be an indispensable underpinning of reserve currency status.

China is now striving to capitalize on a reputation for innovation in payments to carve out a sphere of currency influence, defined not by common interests or political culture but by shared infrastructure and technical standards. While interests can change, the hard wiring of digital and economic connectivity is far harder to break once established. And it is China that enjoys first-mover advantage.

Back in 2010 to 2012 a story came to light about counterfeit gold bars had been discovered in China. I followed the story since I had only recently read 'Gold Warriors: Gold Warriors Americas Secret Recovery of Yamashitas Gold' by Sterling Seagrave and his wife Peggy Seagrave.

Rense.com had an article on "More Tungsten Fake Gold Bars Found" (from Coin Update News of Mar 2, 2010, by Patrick Heller). This one said that W. C. Heraeus (a metals refinery in Hanau, Germany) found a tungsten, gold-plated, 500-gram bar it received from a bank. A Heraeus employee was suspicious of the bar. To check out his suspicions, he cut it in two. It was found to be tungsten with a gold plate.

The Coin news report repeated the rumor of fake, gold-plated, tungsten bars has been almost a total blackout on news coverage of this story.” Well, this charge can’t be laid to gold investor news sources and letters as numerous attempts continue to be made with regularity to try to validate and legitimize the original story that cropped up of an alleged 1.3 to 1.5 million 400-ounce bars produced in the US to flood/fool various nations in the world.

The original story that first came to me was a sensational story that if true it would have rocked the whole political and economic structure of not only the United States but many other countries in the world. It was a fantastic story on the surface which would whet the appetite of gold and hard money publishers as well as the populist press.

According to Robert Bradshaw of the ‘Market Oracle’, To Set the Record Straight:

“My reference to the question, as I had it at www.analysis-news.com, said the following: “The gold world has been ablaze for the last few weeks with a sensational story from fifteen years ago that the U.S. government allegedly manufactured/bought some 1.3 to 1.5 million 400 oz, gold-plated, tungsten bars. Some 640,000 of these bars were allegedly stored at Fort Knox, and the balance was sold/shipped to central banks/other parties around the world.” Please note here that the issue in Germany was a 500-gram bar while the original US story was about 400-ounce bars. There is a considerable difference between the two.

Also, please note in this original story/rumor, the essence was that the U.S. government under Bill “Slick Willy” Clinton had manufactured or bought some 1.3 to 1.5 million of these fake bars and had flooded some 800,000 of them to central banks and others around the world. If this story had substance, it indeed would be sensational to potentially upset the entire monetary world.

Effectively, the story was trying to say that not only was there little or no U.S. gold at Fort Knox, but the same conclusion might be arrived at with other central banks that had received this fake gold from the U.S. As proof, the story said that these U.S. government bars had showed up at a (central?) bank in Hong Kong. It was too bad for the story, but there never was any evidence from any source to support the Hong Kong/central bank allegation. As far as I could tell, the Hong Kong thing was all pure and simple unsubstantiated rumor designed to support the 1.3 to 1.5 million bars story.

My articles on the tale were that it made no sense at all for the U.S. government to be purposely dealing with these fake bars because the U.S. government has no compulsion to ever let the American people know the true status of U.S. gold.

As for as the U.S. government shipping these fake bars to other central or commercial banks, I took it as being absurd because true experts and assayers working with gold around the world would spot it and cause much bad publicity for the U.S. I cited the case of fake bars sent from Ethiopia to South Africa. The story from Hanau, Germany would be another possible example worth noting and especially if the bar would have been 400 ounces instead of 500 grams. But this report proves nothing for the original story since it is impossible to compare 500 grams with 400 ounces.”

“I also noted that one Chinese company was in the business of making gold plated tungsten jewelry. This company and likely dozens of others around the world can put a gold shell around any type of tungsten or any other filler to fool the uninformed public. Of course, there could be fake, gold plated bars--with tungsten, lead, brass, iron, steel or anything else--to be used to swindle uninformed buyers. Although never proven or substantiated, it’s conceivable that a gold-plated, fake bar at one time or another did reach a bank in China. And while such subterfuges may fool most people--to include lay buyers--they would not easily fool jewelers and expert assayers at central banks. If one did sneak by the experts, it would be a rare one and nothing that would commonly happen.”

“Nadeem Walayat (at www.marketoracle.co.uk) raised the question to me in a note which asked what would be the purpose of these fake bars since they could not be exchanged among expert jewelers and central bank assayers?”

“Nadeem then shared a story from Reuters in the Dec 22, 1983 New York Times which reported on the arrest of five men in a hotel in Vienna, Austria. They had ten, fake, gold-plated, tungsten bars that they were evidently going to try to sell to unsuspecting buyers. These bars were stamped with numbers linking to some genuine gold bars stolen earlier (many of the real bars have identifying numbers evidently from mints to make it even more difficult to counterfeit and pass them).”

“My material at www.analysis-news.com related the case of the fake bars sent by Ethiopia to South Africa (which were of course spotted as fakes at once by the Central Bank of South Africa). And now, in the last month or so, we have had the above story from Germany that a gold refinery employee there was suspicious of an incoming gold bar and cut it open to find that it contained tungsten. Now, as a result of this incident, all kinds of gold advocates and populists are coming out that the original story/rumor was somehow true.”

Back to the Original Story

“The original story was not about passing fake gold jewelry or fake gold bars to fool uniformed, public buyers (which is always a possibility). Moreover, the original report was about 400-ounce bars and not 500-gram bars. Last, the original tale alleged that the U.S. produced and stored some 640,000 bars of this stuff at Fort Knox and transferring another 800,000 bars or so to central banks and others around the world. This original story was really far out; though I admit that Clinton was a gross liar; and he and the U.S. government were both fully capable of such dishonesty. I wouldn’t put anything past either of them.”

“Back on Oct 1, 2008, www.goldseek.com published the Goldsmiths XVII with a story citing the work of Edward Durrell and Peter Beter that questioned the presence of the alleged U.S. gold supply at Fort Knox back in the 1970s. After this story came out on Oct 1, 2008, there was a surge of other articles (some from the same source of the later tungsten story) that the alleged gold in Fort Knox was not there, in fact. Frankly, I took it that the tungsten gold story was simply one more along the same line trying to prove that Fort Knox didn’t have the gold it was supposed to have (as I had broached earlier on Oct 1, 2008).”

“The original story about the U.S. using and storing gold plated tungsten bars at Fort Knox and passing them off to central banks around the world has no merit whatsoever. Alternatively, could dishonest people try to pass gold-plated tungsten bars (or other mineral fillers) as being real to unsuspecting lay buyers? The answer here is whether a cat has got a tail or not. Yes, dishonest crooks could try to pass gold-plated tungsten, steal, brass, iron and you name it bars to unsuspecting buyers. I allowed this in my article on the subject at www.analysis-news.com.”

“I also told the movie story of the Maltese Falcon and how a lead copy of it was covered in black paint to try to make people think that under the paint one would find the gold falcon. Well, like Sidney Greenstreet immediately did (when he scraped off some of the paint to find out what was under the paint); I too would make some effort to verify any gold bar or gold jewelry I buy. It might not be so bad to be swindled with a small fake gold ring, but I would hate to be swindled with a large, 400-ounce, fake bar worth $400,000 on the market.”

“The question in this original tungsten story is not whether there has been or could be fake, gold-plated tungsten bars floating around in the world, in the hands of private persons; but correctly the story was actually about the U.S. government producing some 1.3 to 1.5 million of these to store some 640,000 of them at Fort Knox and to distribute the remaining 800,000 or so of them to central banks around the world. This original story never had and still has no worthwhile merit.

inform and educate the public.”

“It boggles my mind how people can now latch onto a story that a refinery found a 500-gram, fake, gold-plated, tungsten bar and claim that that find in some way proves the validity of the original story about the U.S. government and its alleged 640,000, 400-ounce, fake bars in Fort Knox and the remaining 800,000 or so 400-ounce bars being transferred to central banks around the world. It blows my mind on how in the world can people connect the two stories and say that they link or are the same.”

The Bottom Line

“Despite the bad information and confusion associated with the tungsten story, there are at least four other fall-outs over it which deserve mention—one positive and three negative. The good positive fact is that the huge publicity over this apparently false, original story provoked much follow-up in the gold media to cause buyers to at least acknowledge that they could be swindled by so-called gold sellers. This is a good thing, despite the conflict/inconsistency between the original story and the follow-up stories. Yes, gold fans like me need to take some positive steps to be sure that when I buy gold that I am buying the correct quantity and quality of gold.”

“But there are also at least three really bad negative features. The first big negative feature crops up from the advice of the Coin Update News with words to buy and hold gold coins, etc. physically in one’s possession and checking them out when purchased. This sounds good; but it contrasts sharply by all would be purchasers of ETF gold and even investors in the Central Fund of Canada. Per the generated fear, the ETF and Central Fund of Canada could be stuck with large quantities of fake, gold-plated, tungsten bars. While there are negative features for both of these entities, I would suggest that they shouldn’t necessarily be tainted with the tungsten story.”

“In a second negative feature, this Coin position also contrasts shapely with what I have been saying for my own account for years. My take is to get my gold purchases out of this country completely. If I can buy it and inspect it here and then get it out—fine. But in many cases, I may find it difficult if not impossible to buy it here and get it out. Often I will find it more practical to buy it overseas and leave it there. But obviously, wherever I might buy some gold, I would insist that I obtain a valid authentication or insurance agreement protecting against it being a fraud. This is common sense and I believed in it long before the tungsten story surfaced.”

source overseas in comparison with sitting on my duffs and facing the prospect of the state confiscating my gold in the US. And I don't believe for a minute that buying gold and storing it in nearby Canada is a good proposition for me. I must hasten to say that when the Cabal strikes with confiscation, the arms of Big Brother will reach out to seize it in Canada, Britain, Australia and New Zealand as well as in the US."

"There is still one more bad feature about the original gold-plated tungsten tale. I must suggest that it supports and plays directly into the hands of the Cabal manipulating the price of gold worldwide. There is no question about it whatsoever; many persons thinking about buying gold will now back off for fear that their purchases might be fakes."

"This story has not been a good one for the gold business or gold advocates. If the original story could have simply opened the door for a need to authenticate or verify the legitimacy of purchased gold bars, jewelry and coins, it would have been good. But it didn't. Its pitch was that the U.S. had 640,000, 400-ounce bars in its vaults and had flooded the world with another 800,000 bars or so. This alleged 800,000 or so 400-ounce bars out in the world have put fear and doubt into the minds of potential gold buyers around the world. If I believed the original story, I would be very hesitant about buying gold."

---

A Manhattan Jeweler Wound Up With Gold Bars Filled With Tungsten
Rob Wile reported on September 19, 2012, 8:50 PM:

In March, certain corners of the Internet exploded when a one-kilo gold bar was allegedly found to have been "salted" with Tungsten, a metal with a similar weight but far less valuable.

In other words, a gold bar was filled with a much cheaper metal to defraud buyers. An ounce of gold is worth $1,766, while an ounce of Tungsten is worth about $360.

An alarmed, if skeptical, post from Felix Salmon first drew attention to it.

A more breathless take from ZeroHedge, referring to another alleged incident in 2010, sent conspiracy theorists into a frenzy:

So two documented incidents in two years: isolated? Or indication of the same

the Roman empire.

Here was the photo that allegedly proved it:

Both the 2010 and March cases were subsequently debunked by the Perth Mint in Australia.

But in no way has that ended speculation of a vast conspiracy that the world's gold supplies are being debased by filling gold ingots with tungsten.

A gold dealer in Manhattan's Diamond District on 47th Street discovered last week that an evidently certified gold bar was in fact more than 75 percent Tungsten.

Ibrahim Fadl came to New York from Egypt in the mid-70s to earn a Master's in chemical engineering from Columbia University. He's almost certainly the only guy on 47th Street with the periodic table of elements hanging in his office: Eleven years ago, he opened his shop.

Recently, he said, a fellow merchant on 20th street drilled into a 10-oz. bar he'd been sold to check its quality — and learned it was salted with tungsten. He warned Fadl to do the same.

Here's what Fadl found:

Ten ounce bars are thicker, making them harder to detect if counterfeited — the standard X-rays used by dealers don't penetrate deep enough.

Plus, the bars had been sealed and numbered. So whoever did this must be running an extremely sophisticated operation, Fadl said.

"It's a shame. This business is built on trust."

The FBI and Secret Service are investigating the incident, but Fadl wonders whether it's within their power to curb the practice, given the incentives involved.

"With the higher price, I am sure there's a lot of this stuff," he said. "People are bringing in anything shiny and trying to sell it."

But there's a difference between selling anything, and this level of forgery.

As Felix Salmon noted in his post from March:

...the economic incentives here are so enormous, for people looking to make a fortune in the fake-gold-bar industry, that I very much doubt no one has tried. And statistically speaking, if a bunch of people have tried, then some subset of those people will have succeeded.

Fadl says he bought the counterfeit from a Russian merchant who'd bought from him previously. He did not provide the merchant's name and said the man had

We talked with several other merchants on 47th Street who said they heard about Fadl's ordeal but remained unconcerned. Most said they only buy from merchants they know. Of course, that was also true of Fadl.

At the same time, many told us there are a host of non-reputable dealers on the street who probably wouldn't hesitate to sell salted metal.

Fadl said he contacted the media to get the word out to other reputable merchants that there is no precaution too great to ensure their business doesn't get hosed. "They put doubt in everybody's head."

The story went silent on the Internet after about eight months as if nothing ever occurred, ultimately forgotten but more important was how China reacted to receiving tungsten coated gold bar. They do not like being scammed, but they do not mind being scammers themselves.

In October of 2009 China received a shipment of gold bars from the United States exchanged between countries to pay debts and to settle the balance of trade. Most gold is exchanged and stored in vaults under the supervision of a special organization based in London, the London Bullion Market Association (or LBMA). When the shipment was received, the Chinese government ordered special tests be performed to guarantee the purity and weight of the gold bars as China is the largest foreign holder of US Treasury securities. Chinese officials were shocked to learn that the bars were fake. The gold shipment contained a tungsten core with a thin coating of real gold. These tested gold bars originated in the U.S. and had been stored in Fort Knox for years.

New Federal Reserve Gold

The Chinese government quickly launched an investigation and issued a statement that implicated the U.S. government in the scheme. The gold shipment serial numbers revealed that these fake bars were made by the Federal Reserve bankers during the Clinton administration. It was during the Bill and Hillary Clinton presidency that the bankers of the Federal Reserve manufactured between 1.3 and 1.5 million 400 oz. tungsten blanks. 640,000 of these tungsten blanks were gold plated and were shipped to Ft. Knox where they remain there to this day. Insiders suggested that the stolen gold was used to fund the Clinton Foundation.

According to Chinese investigators, the balance of this 1.3 million to 1.5 million 400 oz. tungsten cache was also gold plated and then “sold” into the international gold market. Not only has the United States gold stocks been swapped with fake gold, the global market has also been defrauded by the Federal Reserve bankers and the Clintons. As much as $600 billion dollars-worth of gold has been affected by the Clinton Gold Heist. No one seems to know what the investigation revealed, again the story went silent!

While that might seem to be a surprise, theft of massive quantities of gold even have ties to the attack on the WTC on 9/11. The attacks of September 11th, 2001 will forever be mired in doubt and suspicion by millions of people who saw the events live on their televisions. Almost immediately following the attacks theories began to emerge.

Were the hijackers’ operatives for a Western intelligence service? How did a passport from one of the terrorists survive completely unscathed, only to be found later amidst the rubble of the Trade Centers? How did WTC Building 7 collapse even though it was never struck by an airplane? Why was President George H.W. Bush meeting with members of the Bin Laden family at the very moment of the attacks? Were the planes that hit the buildings actually commercial airliners or quickly sanitized and shipped to China for recycling before any investigation ever took place? And, what are the odds that on the very day terrorists used planes to attack the Pentagon and World Trade Centers, the U.S. military was holding exercises simulating hijackers crashing planes into buildings, a circumstance that led to total confusion across the United States and a complete failure of national defense?

These questions and thousands more have been the subject of fervent debate for over a decade, and like the Kennedy assassination, may never have an official answer.

But just as has been the case with the investigation of JFK's murder, new details and evidence continue to emerge surrounding the events of that day.

In a shocking report published by 'The Sun', former Federal Emergency Management Agency employee Kurt Sonnenfeld says he has evidence proving that certain insiders were privy to the attacks, perhaps even including President George W. Bush.

Kurt Sonnenfeld was working for the U.S. Federal Emergency Management Agency, an organization tied to the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, when the terrorist attack on the World Trade Center took place.

After the planes crashed into the building, Kurt was given unrestricted access to ground zero – the site where the buildings once stood.

Armed with camera gear, the 39-year-old was asked to film everything he saw. His documented evidence was supposed to form part of a report about what happened – but he never handed back the footage.

He says they want to silence him over what he saw beneath World Trade Center 6, evidence he is convinced paints the Bush Administration as big players in the deadliest attack on American soil.

Sporting bleached blond hair, Kurt wove his way through the rubble of Manhattan's downtown financial district. He shot hours of footage but never handed it in. Of particular interest was what he found beneath World Trade Center 6. He says inside the building he came across a vault that had been cleared of its contents before the planes struck.

In a documentary filmed in Argentina, Kurt said the discovery is proof that

“One thing I’m certain of is that agencies of intelligence of the United States of America knew what was going to happen and at least let it happen,” he said.

“Not only did they know it was going to happen, but they in fact collaborated.”

It is given weight by a similar discovery on a basement door below World Trade Center 4. According to a ‘New York Times’ article, the door to a vault was still intact but it appeared as if somebody had tried to gain entry. Behind the vault door were nearly a thousand tons of silver and gold.

According to 911 Research, the vault under WTC 4 was reportedly owned by COMEX:

Reports describing the contents of the vaults before the attack suggest that nearly $1 billion in precious metals was stored in the vaults. A figure of $650 million in a ‘National Real Estate Investor’ article published after the attack is apparently based on pre-attack reports.

Unknown to most people at the time, $650 million in gold and silver was being kept in a special vault four floors beneath Four World Trade Center.

An article in the ‘Times Online’ gives the following rundown of precious metals that were being stored in the WTC vault belonging to Comex.

- Comex metals trading – 3,800 gold bars weighing 12 tons and worth more than $100 million
- Comex clients – 800,000 ounces of gold with a value of about $220 million
- Comex clients – 102 million ounces of silver, worth $430 million
- Bank of Nova Scotia – $200 million of gold

It was of note to mention that Sonnenfeld’s wife died under mysterious circumstances shortly after he carried out his investigation. The cause of death? A bullet to the back of the head. Sonnenfeld was charged with the murder but those charges were eventually dropped, at which point he fled to Argentina. He has since remarried and had two children.

The U.S. Department of Justice was attempting to extradite Sonnenfeld back to the United States where he was once again being charged with his wife’s murder.

But Sonnenfeld says that the reasons behind the U.S. government’s push to bring him back to America are more nefarious than they are letting on, alluding to his taking him into custody.

We know for a fact that gold was being stored under Trade Center 4. Perhaps similar riches were being stored under WTC 6.

That the vault was completely empty when Sonnenfeld carried out his investigation certainly suggests foreknowledge by highly placed insiders. Related to the Sonnenfeld account, New York City sanitation night shift workers reported seeing heavy dump trucks entering and leaving basement access to WTC underground garages all night long. As one who followed the 9/11 story, I can confirm there are more loose threads that the public will never know the truth or the entire story.

A New York Post article titled, DA investigating NYMEX executive ,Manhattan, New York, –Feb. 2, 2004 indicated that the Clinton Gold Heist was being investigated by U.S. officials. The article, written by Jennifer Anderson, reported that “A top executive at the New York Mercantile Exchange is being investigated by the Manhattan district attorney. Sources close to the exchange said that Stuart Smith, senior vice president of operations at the exchange, was served with a search warrant by the district attorney’s office last week. Details of the investigation have not been disclosed, but a NYMEX spokeswoman said it was unrelated to any of the exchange’s markets. She declined to comment further other than to say that charges had not been brought. A spokeswoman for the Manhattan district attorney’s office also declined comment.”

The offices of the Senior Vice President of Operations — NYMEX — is exactly where you would go to find the records [serial number and smelter of origin] for EVERY GOLD BAR ever physically settled on the exchange. They are required to keep these records. These precise records would show the lineage of all the physical gold settled on the exchange and hence “prove” that the amount of gold in question could not have possibly come from the U.S. mining operations — because the amounts in question coming from U.S. smelters would undoubtedly be vastly bigger than domestic mine production.

Why use tungsten?

To print fake money you need to have the special paper, otherwise the bills don’t feel right and can be easily detected by special pens that most merchants and banks use. Likewise, if you are going to fake gold bars you had better be sure they have the same weight and properties of real gold.

The problem with making good-quality fake gold is that gold is remarkably dense.

steel. You don't usually notice this because small gold rings and the like don't weigh enough to make it obvious, but if you've ever held a bar of gold, it's absolutely unmistakable: A gold bar is very, very heavy.

The standard gold bar for bank-to-bank trade, known as a "London good delivery bar" weighs 400 troy ounces (over thirty-three pounds), yet is no bigger than a paperback novel. A bar of steel the same size would weigh only thirteen and a half pounds.

There are very few metals that are as dense as gold, and with only two exceptions they all cost as much or more than gold. The first exception is depleted uranium, which is cheap if you're a government, but hard for individuals to get. It's also radioactive, which could be a bit of an issue.

The second exception is tungsten. Tungsten is lot cheaper than gold but it has exactly the same density as gold, to three decimal places. The main differences are that it's the wrong color, and that it's much, much harder than gold. Pure gold is quite soft. You can dent it with a fingernail.

A top-of-the-line fake gold bar has to match the color, surface hardness, density, chemical, and nuclear properties of gold perfectly. To do this, you would start with a tungsten slug about 1/8-inch smaller in each dimension than the gold bar you want, then cast a 1/16-inch layer of real pure gold all around it. This bar would feel right in the hand. It would have a dead ring when knocked as gold should. It would test right chemically. And it would weigh exactly the same as a real gold bar.

Today Fort Knox still holds these Clinton Fake Gold Bars and even today they are being shipped around the World as gold exchanges between countries to pay debts and to settle the so-called balance of trade.

It makes you wonder why Hillary Clinton took the Secretary of State job. Why not? No one is going to interfere or question the actions or activities of the Secretary of States of the United States. Why take the heat as president when you can travel the World using U.S. tax dollars. Smuggled gold and other contraband in and out of the United States using diplomatic immune aircraft. Move the stolen real gold anywhere in the World. Be the first to be informed of any investigation into the manufacture and distribution of her fake gold and then immediately kill the investigation. If you ever wanted to be the top crime boss, Secretary of State is the job you will need to watch over your crime syndicate. And everyone thought Richard Nixon was criminal.

This story about the U.S. giving China fake gold bars from Fort Knox may have been long forgotten here in the U.S. but you can be sure it remains fresh in the memory of the Chinese CCP. They show no mercy to their opponents! How this might have influenced their plan to cut out the middle man, i.e. House of Rothschild is an intriguing possibility.

The Gold of The Rothschild

Historically the Rothschild family wealth is hidden in underground vaults. The Rothschild secret wealth records were never audited and never accounted for ...researchers estimate their wealth to close to 500 trillion dollars more than half the wealth of the entire world palaces wineries horse race resorts mansions the Rothschild bought Reuters in the 18th century , Reuters then bought the Associated Press AP which selects and delivers the same news stories to the entire world day after day they have controlling interests in 3 major television networks until recently the owned and operated the England's Royal Mint and continue to be the Gold agent for the bank of England which they also direct they control the LBMA London Bullion Market association where 30 to 42 million ounces of gold worth over 11 trillion dollars are traded daily . The Rothschild earn millions weekly just on transaction fees alone , they also fix the world price of gold on a daily basis and profit from its ups and down , over the centuries the Rothschild have amassed trillions of dollars-worth of gold bullion in their subterranean vault and

The House of Rothschild remained as the Gold Fixing's permanent chairman until May 2004 at which point the fabled investment bank mysteriously departed the gold fixing and stepped back into the shadows after 200 years in the London Gold Market. James Madison referred to the Rothschild's as the "Money Changers!"

Just who are these "Money Changers" James Madison spoke of? In the Bible, two thousand years ago, Jesus drove the Money Changers from the Temple.

It was the only times Jesus used force during his ministry. What were Money Changers doing in the Temple? When Jews came to Jerusalem to pay their Temple tax, they could only pay it with a special coin, the half shekel of the sanctuary. This was a half-ounce of pure silver, about the size of a quarter. It was the only coin around at that time which was pure silver and of assured weight, without the image of a pagan Emperor. Therefore, to Jews the half-shekel was the only coin acceptable to God. But these coins were not plentiful. The Money Changers had cornered the market on them. Then, they raised the price of them – just like any other commodity to whatever the market would bear. In other words, the Money Changers were making exorbitant profits because they held a virtual this totally violated the sanctity of God's house.

A thousand years after the death of Jesus Christ, Money Changers – those who loan out and manipulate the quantity of money were active in medieval England. In fact, they were so active that acting together they could manipulate the English economy. These were not bankers, per se. The Money Changers generally were the goldsmiths. They were the first bankers because they started keeping other people's gold for safekeeping in their vaults. The first paper money in Western Europe was merely receipts for gold left at the goldsmiths. Paper money caught on because it was more convenient than carrying around a lot of heavy gold and silver coins. Eventually goldsmiths noticed that only a small fraction of the depositors ever came in and demanded their gold at any one time. Goldsmiths started cheating on the system. They discovered that they could print more money than they had gold and usually no one would be the wiser.

Then, they could loan out this extra paper money and collect interest on it. This was the birth of fractional reserve banking that is loaning out many times more money than you have assets on deposit. So, for example, if $1,000 in gold were deposited with them, they could loan out about $10,000 in paper money and draw interest payments on it, and no one would ever discover the deception. By this means, goldsmiths gradually accumulated more and more wealth and used this wealth to accumulate more and more gold. Today, this practice of loaning out more money than there are reserves is known as fractional reserve banking. Every bank in the United States is allowed to loan out at least ten times more money they actually have. That's why they get rich on charging let's say 8% interest. It's not really 8% per year, which is their income. It's 80%. That's why bank buildings are always the largest in town.

But does that mean that all interest or all banking should be illegal? Hardly. In the Middle Ages, Canon law, the law of the Catholic Church, forbade charging interest on loans. This concept followed the teachings of Aristotle and Saint Thomas Aquinas. They taught that the purpose of money was to serve the members of society to facilitate the exchange of goods needed to lead a virtuous life. Interest, in their belief, hindered this purpose by putting an unnecessary burden on the use of money. In other words, interest was contrary to reason and justice.

Reflecting Church Law in the Middle Ages, Europe forbade charging interest on loans and made it a crime called usury. As commerce grew and therefore opportunities for investment arose in the late Middle Ages, it came to be recognized that to loan money had a cost to the lender both in risk and in lost opportunity. So, some charges were allowed, but not interest per se. But all injustice as clearly immoral. As we will see, fractional reserve lending is rooted in a fraud, results in widespread poverty and reduces the value of everyone else's money.

The Vatican franchised its lending usury business to the House of Rothschild in order to appear squeaky clean with the laity. By 1823, the Vatican commissioned the House of Rothschild to be their "Fiduciary Agents", and make the church rich in the process. The Rothschild's were more than receptive to the idea of a fixed 6-8% interest earning for their work serving the popes. Researcher Eustice Mullins writes that the Rothschild's took over all the financial operations of the worldwide Catholic Church in 1823.

"Seldom is it mentioned: that the Rothschild's, along with other western bankers and industrialists, financed the rise of Hitler as a bulwark against the Soviets. The ultra-right wing falsely describes the Rothschild's as "Jewish bankers" when, in fact, the Rothschild's are interwoven with the Catholic Church, and, jointly with the traditional mafia and the American CIA, interlocked with the Vatican Bank, which was pro-Nazi." – Sherman H. Skolnick

"Weishaupt and his fellow Jesuits cut off the income to the Vatican by launching and leading the French Revolution; by directing Napoleon's conquest of Catholic Europe [as the Order would do with Hitler]; by the revolt against the Church, led by such priests as Father Hidalgo, in Mexico and Latin America; by eventually having Napoleon throw Pope Pius VII in jail at Avignon until he agreed, as the price for his release, to reestablish the Jesuit Order."

"This Jesuit war on the Vatican was terminated by the Congress of Vienna and by the secret, 1822, Treaty of Verona. . . . Ever since, the Rothschild's have been the fiscal agents of the Vatican."

Back in January or February of 2020, I shared a report which noted that the Pirbright Institute located in Surrey, UK had used a 5G satellite passing over Wuhan, China to hijack the "smart city" 5G base station and amplified the facility with a spiked 60 GHz pulse of 5G wireless energy that is believed to have resulted in the death of 21 million Chinese citizens using their new 5G phones. That number of 21 million came from an international business report of the national phone system having 21 million fewer cell phone accounts gave added credibility to the crematories in Wuhan, China burning bodies around the clock for more than six months 24/7.

George Eaton mentioned in a TruNews Broadcast on 7/27/21, revealed that the during a special visit by the U.S. military to Wuhan. Some of the troops started to experience flu like symptoms, and then it spread into the local population.

The Communist leadership called the U.S. soldiers nothing more than "dogs" to be experimented on. But once the release took place the virus spread faster than they anticipated and that's when it got out of control. This was a bio weapon attack on U.S. soldiers, with the intention of spreading the virus throughout the United States. Through "Gain-of-Function" the common cold virus was weaponized with 18 fragments of the HIV genome and 4 fragments of SARSV-CoV2. This information was revealed by Anthony Patch's magazine "Entangled", and confirmed by the French 2008 Nobel Peace Prize winner Dr. Luc Montagnier and by a group of Indian scientists as early as March, 2020.

The strange decline of cell phone customers could have come from the 5G wireless attack that occurred. The information I had been given said the CIA and UK's MI6 coordinated the timing of the "modulation" spike at 60 GHz and killed millions using their 5G cell phones and devices. The secrecy of this incident was such that it remains an open question to this day as whether the Chinese scientists and engineers ever figured out whether the spike was an accident or intentional. It was accomplished in less than ten, probably as short as a five second burst of 5G wireless energy at 60 GHz.

This was all likely part of "pay back" to the Chinese for double-crossing the Rothschild's and the deal that was arranged by Dr. Henry Kissinger back in the early 1970s. The Rothschild's are the primary owner of the Pirbright Institute. I noted previously the fact this attack on China's new "smart cities" was done to provoke a war between the U.S. and China. In order for the Rothschild's to advance the globalist agenda, it was necessary to destroy the two world economic powers of China and the U.S. by pitting them against each other! This was alluded to by Clif High's remarks at the beginning above as well.

China's secrecy is virtually iron-clad, and then, because of the proud nature of the CCP, they never admit to anything, even if caught red-handed. They steal what they can't buy and their theft and counterfeiting is well-know whether it be CDs and DVDs to Gucci women's purses. Theft of intellectual property has been a real thorn in the side by entrepreneurs and inventors in the U.S. and elsewhere for years. History has not forgotten the fact that the Clintons were trading secrets for cash during the eight years of William Clinton's administration, or making restitution of their gold theft of counterfeit gold bars.

The CCP in the past decades apparently decided to cut out their financial backers not take the House of Rothschild long to figure out they were being played. Cliff High in the opening remarks confirmed that fact and so now came "Pay Back!" This is the move to challenge the House of Rothschild, the Vatican, and the International Banking cartel.

The Chinese have for months been threatening the world with Nukes for any reason that irks the CCP. From Chinese generals spouting off in their statements, the Chinese people have been told that they will destroy the U.S. in order to feed the Chinese population. It was reported this week that the flooding has killed 1 million of China's farm animals. China must be aware of the weather wars being waged against it during 2020 and 2021.

Aaron Kesel, writing for 'Activist Post' wrote days ago this piece:

"China has been very active lately against other nations but it may have recently crossed the line, and in doing so was gifted with flooding in a modern 21st-century Operation Popeye."

"Last month, Chinese President Xi Jinping threatened that any nation in China's way of its goals seeking to bully the Communist country would have its "skulls crushed or bashed."

"More specifically, Xi said the following during the celebration of the 100th birthday of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP.)"

"Anyone who dares try to do that will have their heads bashed bloody against the Great Wall of steel forged by over 1.4 billion Chinese people," Xi said.

"The other thing to point out is where Xi made the speech, at the infamous Tiananmen Square — make no mistake, that's no coincidence to celebrate the 100th birthday of the CCP. Xi pledged to build up China's military, and also committed to the "reunification" of Taiwan as well as the social stability of Hong Kong while simultaneously protecting China's own security and sovereignty.

"Japan has made multiple calls to protect Taiwan, with the latest met with a threat by China in response. But before we get to China's response literally threatening to drop a nuclear weapon on Japan if it interferes with China's plan to invade Taiwan, there's one more key event that took place prior to China's dams breaking and flooding happening. China sailed a ship into the contested South China Sea waters around the Philippines, which resulted in the Chinese ship being chased off by Philippines Coast Guard ships."

“This was after the U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken reaffirmed the U.S. commitment to defend the Philippines’ armed forces from attack in the South China Sea, CNN reported.”

“Two weeks ago, Japanese Deputy Prime Minister Taro Aso said that Japan must “defend Taiwan,” along with the U.S, The Japan Times reported.”

“If a major incident happened (over Taiwan), it’s safe to say it would be related to a situation threatening the survival (of Japan). If that is the case, Japan and the U.S. must defend Taiwan together,” Aso said.

“China’s response to Japan trying to interfere in Taiwan has been a literal threat to continuously nuke Japan until they surrender.”

“We will use nuclear bombs first,” the video said. “We will use nuclear bombs continuously. We will do this until Japan declares unconditional surrender for the second time.”

“In the video, the CCP threatened to “liberate Taiwan,” and it warned against Japan deploying “one soldier, one plane or one ship.”

“The video was deleted from Chinese platform Xigua after gaining 2 million views; however, copies were re-uploaded to YouTube and Twitter, Taiwan News reported.”

“In 2020, China produced and released multiple propaganda videos seeming to threaten the U.S., Hong Kong, Taiwan, and others. However, its latest propaganda video may have crossed the proverbial line; in retaliation, the U.S., Japan, or another nation may have responded with the gift of weather warfare resulting in flooding in the region. As of this report, details of the heavy rains – which analysts have pointed out are 30X worse than usual – have caused dams to break, further flooding Chinese cities.”

“The Chinese province of Henan has been hit by record-breaking rainfall and widespread flooding, primarily the provincial capital of Zhengzhou, which has seen torrential storms since last Monday. At least 25 people have died, according to official reports at the time of this writing. “The Guojiaju dam near the city collapsed at 1:30 am local time,” CGTN wrote in a now-deleted tweet.”

“The rainfall was the highest recorded since record keeping began sixty years ago, with the city receiving an average years’ worth of rain in just three days,

“Daily precipitation in Zhengzhou, China:

2000 – 2020 average: 20mm (0.8 inches) between July 17 and 20

2021: 617mm (24 inches) in the same three days

*How do we design our cities so that they're resilient to 30x shocks?
pic.twitter.com/B8Osj0FoJq”*

The Guojiaju dam isn't the only dam that collapsed. Two dams, in the Inner Mongolian city of Hulunbuir, also collapsed on Sunday afternoon Beijing time. They had formed reservoirs with a combined water storage capacity of 46 million cubic meters (1.6 trillion cubic feet), the Ministry of Water Resources said. In addition, The People's Liberation Army regional warned that the relentless rain had caused a 20-meter breach in the Yihetan dam in Luoyang, a city of around seven million people in the center of China, with the risk that it “may collapse at any time.”

Ironically, just a few weeks ago, the United Arab Emirates caused flooding in Dubai after experimenting with geoengineering and cloud seeding to cause rain documenting that the process is possible recently. The UAE used weather-altering drones as part of a deliberately engineered plan to fight the intense 120-plus degree Fahrenheit heats. However, in playing witch doctor they caused massive floods due to over seeding clouds.

In December 2020, China itself even announced plans to increase its use of technology that artificially changes the weather to cover an area larger than India as CNN reported.

Experts in the country have even expressed worry that China may use its ability to control rain and snowfall as a weapon.

“Lack of proper coordination of weather modification activity (could) lead to charges of ‘rain stealing’ between neighboring regions,” National Taiwan University researchers conclude in a 2017 paper published in Geoforum.

To quote U.S. Defense Secretary William Cohen who made the following statement in 1996 according to the DoD:

“Others terrorists are engaging even in an eco-type of terrorism whereby they can alter the climate, set off earthquakes, volcanoes remotely through the use of

are at work finding ways in which they can wreak terror upon other nations It's real, and that's the reason why we have to intensify our counter-terrorism efforts."

It can be assumed if China and the UAE have the power to play god causing flash rain, the U.S. also has the ability. In fact, this writer has documented the history of experiments on the weather with a whistleblower in a previous article published on Steemit at the time entitled: "The Dangerous History Of Geoengineering And What Experiments Are Ongoing Today."

China has already deployed its hypersonic missiles across Taiwan last year, which can evade traditional missile defense systems.

The South China Morning Post cited an anonymous military source which stated that China's most advanced hypersonic missile, the DF-17, is being deployed to People's Liberation Army (PLA) bases in the provinces of Fujian and Zhejiang, which sit right across from Taiwan. The deployment of the missiles is part of a PLA pattern of a beefing up of its forces along the coast of China in what some analysts are saying are preparations for an invasion of Taiwan.

According to the unnamed source, "The DF-17 hypersonic missile will gradually replace the old DF-11s and DF-15s that were deployed in the southeast region for decades." The source added that, "The new missile has a longer range and is able to hit targets more accurately."

The deployments of the missiles are a part of an expansion of the Marine Corps and Rocket Force bases in Fujian and Guangdong provinces, according to Andrei Chang, editor-in-chief of 'Kanwa Defense Review'. Chang told the newspaper that "every rocket force brigade in Fujian and Guangdong is now fully equipped." Chang further asserted that this is evidence of the communist regime's invasion plans:

"The size of some of the missile bases in the Eastern and Southern theatre commands have even doubled in recent years, showing the PLA is stepping up preparations for a war targeting Taiwan."

Chang added that the Russian-made S-400 Triumpf air-defense system is being deployed at bases in southeast China, claiming that the system can cover "the whole of Taiwan." He then claimed that the system is "able to shoot Taiwanese military aircraft once they take off."

The report stated that the People's Liberation Army Air Force (PLAAF) now has Marine Corps (PLANMC) now has 10 to 13 armies along China's southeast coast, with China's President Xi Jinping only last week telling the marines to "prepare for war," Taiwan News previously reported.

The war drums are so loud now that conflict between nations seems almost inevitable. Although right now it's a silent war being waged in the cyber realm and with weather warfare, that could quickly escalate and change at the flip of a hat. If you are interested in weather warfare and geoengineering you can see this author's article: "The Dangerous History Of Geoengineering And What Experiments Are Ongoing Today."

It has been less than a month ago since the U.S. Air Force deployed "dozens" of F-22s, and F-35s from the West Coast and Alaska to bases in the Pacific region in what was an anticipated attack by China. My information sources stated that five squadrons were dispatched on a recent Sunday in early July. Pentagon senior staff have frequently testified before Congressional committees that the next war will be with China. The U.S. Navy has been in the process of moving naval assets from East Coast bases to the West Coast for the past two years. Every time the U.S. sells any military equipment to the Taiwan government, it is met with a flurry of threats and belligerent rhetoric.

This coming war will wipe out a third of the world population. As Revelation 9:15-16 states, this will happen! That said there is reason for comfort for all believers, American and Chinese, that Revelation 3:10 will save the day. With more than 300 million Christians under China's communist regime, God will not abandon them any more than he will abandon those of you who know Jesus Christ as your Saviour."

"Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth." -(Revelation 3:10)

This church kept the word or teaching about the patient endurance of Christ. They kept looking to "Jesus the author (leader, example, pacesetter) and finisher (perfecter who brings believers to maturity and completion because He has already reached the goal toward which believers strive) of our faith." For the joy (a joy believers will share) that was set before Him, He "endured the cross, despising the shame (caring nothing for the shame and unafraid of it), and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God" -(Hebrews 12:2). This implies that they laid aside every weight (or encumbrance) and sin, and then, by running with patient endurance the race set before them, they kept their eyes on Jesus.

What did Jesus mean when He promised He would keep these believers from the "hour of temptation"? There are two principal and conflicting views concerning this matter about which there is much dispute. There is no need for this dispute except for the fact so few in the Church understand the meaning of a simple two-letter Greek word. They deserve to be compared with each other.

First of all, it should be noted that the verse should be viewed from an end-time perspective, for Jesus immediately says, "Behold, I come quickly." Obviously, the temptation or trial in view is not a personal distress or a local persecution. It belongs to the eschatological time of temptation "which shall come upon all the world."

Such an early theological writer as Dr. Edwin Hatch says in his 'Essay on Biblical Greek' that Revelation 3:10 has an "evident reference to the tribulations which are prophesied later on in the book" (pg. 73). Most exegetes agree that it refers to what is called the Great Tribulation. This must mean that Philadelphia and the other churches are representative of the whole Church in this age.

Now, what does Christ mean when He says, "I will keep you from the hour of temptation"? Will the Church be kept in and through the Tribulation, or will she be kept from coming into it at all? One school of thought holds the Church will go through the Tribulation, but that Christ promised special protection here, pointing to John 17:15, where the same phrase "kept from" is found. Other expositors see in this verse as a promise that the Church will be kept from enduring this trial, which is a time of God's righteous judgment upon sin, that the contexts of John 17:15 and Revelation 3:10 are quite different. As I will show below, the evidence is that this is a Promise of the Lord Jesus Christ!

The idea that the Church will go through the Tribulation is totally inconsistent with the character of God and the specific reason for a Saviour; however, the answer is found in the meaning of the two-letter Greek word "ek". The hope of Christ's coming was to encourage the Philadelphian believers to hold fast to what they had, to what they received from Christ, lest they lose their crown. (The word "man" should not be emphasized here. The Greek is just a pronoun meaning "no one.") Because Christ promised to keep them did not mean they could let down their guard or become careless. They must avoid false teachers. Most certainly I would include those Judas Goats encouraging and coercing their sheep to take Satan's poison promoted as a vaccine. They must keep fighting the only fight worth fighting, the fight of faith. -(See Colossians 2:18, 19; 3:1-4; 2nd Timothy 4:7, 8).

found 917X in 4 grammatical forms. It even exhibits the Heptadic Design Feature of being divisible by “7” [917 = 7 X 131]. This unique mathematical design is so unique but it gets little attention. It validates the accuracy of the Biblical manuscripts used to translate the King James Bible. It is revealed in my two-volume eBook, ‘The Inspired Word of God: Mathematically Proven True!’ I cite thousands of such examples of how God used His Covenantal Number “7”. As further proof, God sprinkled the Scriptures with this “theme” and “pattern” in no fewer than through nine different ways.

STRONGS NT 1537: ἐκ

ἐκ, before a vowel ἐξ, is a preposition governing the genitive. Also, it denotes exit or emission out of, as separation from, something with which there has been close connection; opposed to the prepositions εἰς into and ἐν in: from out of, out from, forth from, from, (Latin e, ex) (cf. Winers Grammar, 364, 366f (343f); Buttman, 326f (281)). The Noun case is used to express some relationship such as possession or origin. It corresponds roughly to the English preposition "of." In grammar, genitive is the grammatical case that marks a noun as modifying another noun.

ἐκ ek preposition

From, out of, away from.

Grammatical Forms:

1. ἐξ ex gen
2. ἐκ ek gen

Word Studies:

This extremely versatile preposition can be found in almost all of Greek literature. (Ex is used before words starting with vowels.) The discussion below will focus on its function as an independent preposition, though it is a regular component of a compound verb. In its simplest definition it means “from, away from” or “out of.” But under different circumstances the preposition has different shades of meaning.

New Testament Usage:

First, it particularly denotes the point of departure or separation such as “to rise from (ek) the dead” -(e.g., John 12:1,9,17; Acts 3:15; 4:10; etc.). “Out of (ek, before a vowel ex) Egypt have I called my son” -(Hosea 11:1; Matthew 2:15) should also be understood in this way. Ek also indicates a separation between persons or objects; Jesus prays that His disciples be “(kept) from (ek) the evil one” -(John 17:15).

A second basic function of ek is to designate direction: Two possessed by demons came “out of” the tombs -(Matthew 8:28). “He came up (anabainō) out of (ek) the water” -(Mark 1:10).

Third, ek suggests the source or reason for some event or act, including the “source” of someone. This is evidenced in Nathaniel’s question, “Can there any good thing come out of (ek) Nazareth?” -(John 1:46). In this sense ek speaks of something as part of a larger whole such as in the frequent rhetorical question, “Which of you . . . ?” -(e.g., Luke 11:5,11; 12:25; 14:28; 15:4; 17:7). Similarly, righteousness comes ek God and is by faith -(Philippians 3:9; i.e., God is the source of righteousness).

Fourth, ek can imply cause or reason. Paul asked, “Did you receive the Spirit by works (ex ergōn) of the law?” -(Galatians 3:2,5). It may refer to a condition or state of being. Paul admonished Timothy, “The goal of this command is love which comes from (i.e., results from the condition of) a pure heart” -(1st Timothy 1:5). The term may also suggest a basis for some action. “For the tree is known by (ek) his fruit” -(Matthew 12:33; cf. verse 37).

Fifth, ek marks a point in time. According to Matthew 19:12 some men are eunuchs having been “so born from (ek) their mother’s womb.” The rich ruler explained to Jesus that he had kept the commandments ek neotētos, “from youth.” And Herod had hoped to see Jesus ex ikanōn chronōn, “for a long time.”

Sixth, ek expresses means or agency. It may parallel hupo plus the genitive (after passive verbs or after any voice when accompanying the perfect verb). Some examples are Mark 7:11; 12:30, 33 (with active verbs); the James series in 2:18 (active verb) 21,22,24,25; 1st Peter 1:23; Revelation 2:11. A similar pattern can be noted with apo plus the genitive in Luke 7:35; 16:18; James 1:13; 5:4; Jude 23. Dia plus the genitive exemplifies the same basic idea under yet another imagery. It seems that Hellenistic Greek is simply adding ways of expressing agency through the use of additional prepositions for this purpose, which is in keeping with the growing use of prepositions in places where earlier Greek relied on case alone together with the nature of the circumstance or topic.

Also in keeping with the trend toward the proliferation of prepositions in Hellenistic Greek, on occasion ek and apo appear to be little more than pleonastic (use of more words than needed) descriptive genitives roughly equivalent to our usage of “of” to link one noun adjectivally to another.

Many other fine distinctions of definition may be drawn, but the basic functions of ek are outlined above. Context in conjunction with grammar always makes the best guide for determining this preposition's meaning.

“Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.” -(Revelation 3:10).

I can tell you with absolute certainty this passage is our definitive proof that the Lord will remove believers “prior” to the hell that will be unleashed as the Great Tribulation commences.

This is not to say over the coming weeks will not be without perilous trepidations and anxiety, and it will seem to be akin to a free fall from the greatest roller coaster there exists today!

Most of the world has been oblivious to the work of Satan over the past eighteen months, and even much of the Christian community have no idea of what we have been experiencing since the beginning of 2019. When Jesus stated in John 10:10, “The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.” His inference was to Satan. If you had any doubt as to this then you did not get the message of the U.S. Department of In(Justice) on Tuesday, July 27th, 2021! The government cannot mandate the Vaxx but did an unconstitutional end-run move by allowing the In(Justice) Department to allow government agencies and businesses to require their employees to be Vaxxed. We are no longer free, but rather prisoners of Nazi tyranny! Do not take it, it is the “Mark” of the Beast found in Revelation 13:17 and six other verses.

U.S. Treasury Plan If Economic Collapse: “Force Majeure,” Paratroopers to Fed Res. Banks, “De-Monetize” U.S. Dollar

Are you aware that the United States of America actually has a PLAN in the event they can no longer service their debt? They do! Adopted it back in the early 2000's. Meet the “6900 Protocols.” Hal Turner brought this up on July 28th, 2021. I read it back in 2008 and stored it away in my memory. I subscribed to Al Martins site for two years until I could not afford to continue.

With all the hoopla taking place nowadays, our national government being completely ILLEGITIMATE via a fraudulent and stolen election, and hyper-inflation creeping just around the corner, it might be worth a minute or two to learn what our “trusted public servants” have planned . . . for us . . . after THEY have

Protocols For Economic Collapse In America
By Al Martin
2-23-2008

And this is how the U.S. Treasury would handle an economic collapse. It's called the 6900 series of protocols. It would start with the Secretary of the Treasury declaring a force majeure, preventing the United States of America from servicing its debt.

This, of course, would immediately be interpreted by the marketplaces as a de facto repudiation of U.S. debt.

They even know precisely WHAT TIME they would make such a declaration: 11:38 AM eastern U.S. Time. That's because by 11:38 AM ET, markets in Asia and Europe will be closed, leaving only US markets operating for a few more hours.

A few seconds after that announcement was made, all United States markets, both equities debt and commodities i.e., stock, bonds, commodities that have trading limits or permissible daily limits would all be limit-offered with pools. Limit-offered means that there are more sellers at the limit i.e., limit down, than there are buyers.

So-called 'pools' would immediately begin to form, probably a thousand contracts every few minutes. 'Limit-offered with pools' – this is trader language. Pools to sell 2,000 lots, 3,000 lots. That means, the number of sellers over and above the available buyers at the limit-offered price. That would begin to build.

By 1:00, the news would begin to sink in because it would take a while before panic selling would arise from the public. This news is being released at lunch hour.

Most of the American people initially would not even understand the horror of the news. You would see professional selling first, and as that professional selling intensified over the afternoon, the SEC, the CFTC, NASDAQ, and various market regulatory authorities would begin to institute certain emergency market protocols. This would be the installation of the so-called 'declaration of fast market conditions,' for instance; the declaration of 'no more stop orders,' the declaration of 'fill at any price,' etc. in a desperate bid to maintain liquidity.

That first day, the Dow Jones Industrial Average and related indices on a business that day. The real impact would come overnight when the American people found out what this was all about when it was explained to them.

The SEC and various regulatory entities have anticipated the market's decline, hour by hour and they will be closely watching every move (down) the markets make. It is widely expected that "circuit breakers" will be triggered within an hour, and then triggered again, until the market suspends trading for the rest of that day.

When Japan's markets open the next day – we will call this "Day 2" – what would happen is almost instant collapse. At 7:30 a.m. EDT, the Tokyo markets would open, and no price would be affixed for probably three or four hours into the session due to the avalanche of selling.

Once prices were established, the government of Japan would close all of its financial markets.

Europe would not even open. All European governments would close all capital exchanges.

When the U.S. goes down, everything around the world in matters financial goes with us.

On that second day, here in the US, Army Forces would be dropped in via parachute to the cities where the twelve Federal Reserve district banks are located.

The reason they would be brought in by parachute is there won't be enough time to do this via driving. Those troops would HAVE to be in-place around the twelve federal reserve banks, to protect the gold inside.

The origin of these U.S. Treasury protocols comes from the Department of Defense (DoD). The DoD has contingency plans for a variety of scenarios. Those scenarios would include, obviously, military collapse, World War III, and its aftermath. What we're talking about now is aftermath — how the aftermath of the U.S. being unable to service its debt, would be handled.

One does not necessarily know how the events would transpire that would cause the collapse, whether it's military collapse or economic collapse. In World War III, it would become obvious — when the mushroom clouds started to appear over cities.

Economic collapse scenarios were always premised on the basis of a US declaration of force majeure on debt service. It's a very extensive scenario.

The scenarios are all together, i.e., military, economic, political and social, complete destabilization leading to collapse.

Then they break down individual scenarios. In the economic collapse scenario, the starting point would be the United States Treasury declaring a force majeure on debt service, which is de facto repudiation, and that's how it would be interpreted by the world's capital marketplaces. Then the scenario goes on from there.

The US Treasury would obviously declare a force majeure after the European markets had closed. In other words, they had gone out for the day, which means 11:38 a.m. EDT, our time. They'd wait until the European markets closed, and the US markets had been open for a couple of hours. That's when they'd determine how to begin the process of unwinding or controlling the collapse to the best extent possible, mainly because they know that the greatest hedge pressure would be people seeking to use other markets to hedge their long exposure in the United States and that the US would be the biggest seller in all the rest of the world's markets.

Therefore you would want to declare the force majeure when the rest of the world's markets closed. (catch'em off guard! I like it-it's just so American.) The declaration of force majeure would be precipitated by the declaration that the United States is no longer able to service its debt. That's pretty simple.

Who makes that decision? The Treasury Department. The President does not make that decision. The Secretary of the Treasury does. He has that authority.

You might ask — wouldn't he have his arm twisted not to do that? The answer is that if there isn't any money left to service the debt, it doesn't make any difference what the current regime might want to do.

The day of reckoning is now coming. What has happened in the interim, from 2001 to present, is dynamic, global economic deterioration. The economic deterioration visited upon the United States by rampant deficit spending enacted by Congress is not a localized event. It is, in fact, global. We have a planet now that is sinking into a sea of red ink.

Back around the year 2008, the United States was consuming about 80% of the to need MORE than the entire world had to lend. Enter the U.S. Federal Reserve, monetizing debt by entering digits into a computer account. PRESTO! Money created out of thin air to buy Treasury Bonds!

Bringing this problem to a head is the issue of the central banks of Germany, Japan, and Saudi Arabia; they are no longer the powerhouses they used to be. Their reserves have now been substantially depleted. They can, therefore, no longer hide the fact that they own a certain number, likely in the trillions of dollars, of U.S. Treasury debt that isn't being serviced, because they can't hide it through bookkeeping tricks anymore; because their reserves are so depleted.

This is why not too long ago, someone put the arm on Great Britain and demanded payment in Gold Bullion. It was all very hush hush, but readers of the Hal Turner Radio Show web site did get the information quickly.

Very serious amounts of Gold/Silver Bullion and cash money was abruptly removed from the United Kingdom on 13 April 2021, and shipped to Doha, Qatar without explanation.

Authorities in London did a rolling road block along the motorway to allow the tremendous shipment of bullion and cash to get through! Three (3) armored bullion trucks, 4 unmarked police cruisers, 6 marked police cars and a police helicopter was following in the sky.

Someone is putting demands on western banks because they see the US money is in gigantic trouble. Someone is saying to the US "You've got to start servicing this debt because we, and foreign central banks, are in nations – European and Asian – whose reserves are now nearly exhausted. We no longer trust you to pay the debt, we want Gold. Now."

Foreign Central banks can no longer make it appear that the U.S. debt is being serviced because those foreign central banks own reserves are so substantively depleted. Therefore the US and the west in general, are being told they must begin to cover this debt. If the US cannot, or will not, then, at some point, people in banking around the world will have to publicly admit in order to save their own necks — that THEY were the end buyers of a lot of stealth debt, a lot of debt that the U.S. Treasury issued illegally and has never serviced. That would then expose the whole cabal.

The process of unraveling has already begun because of ever-spiraling budget deficits. The U.S., even in its overt policies (now they're overt political, economic,

There isn't enough money on the entire planet to lend such amounts to the US.

Because foreign central banks are so depleted from buying other US debt, they can't refinance the stealth debt by issuing more stealth debt anymore. Nor can they bleed money out of the system like they could in the 1980s. There is no mechanism that they can use anymore to hide expansion of debt that could be used to service said stealth debt, and they are, frankly, running out of assets that they can steal from the American people.

So the proverbial day of reckoning is coming.

Back in 2008, David Walker, U.S. Comptroller General and chief of the GAO has said that the United States would no longer be able to service its debt beyond 2009. Yet here we are, now, in 2021. How could that be? Well, as stated earlier, the federal reserve is monetizing US debt. The fed is entering digits into an account on their computer system, then using that account to "buy" U.S. Treasury Notes. Money out of thin air.

What does that mean? The key is in what Walker meant when he says the debt can no longer be serviced. It simply meant the United States would no longer be able to pay even the interest on its debts because it needs more than the planet has available to lend to them.

Therefore, if the planet can no longer generate any more liquidity to lend to the United States, one of three things have to happen:

A) There has to be a sudden and dramatic reduction in federal spending. There are only two places that can come from. There would have to be an immediate slashing of defense spending probably by 65-75% OR; there would have to be an immediate cut in all social programs: Welfare, Food Stamps, Social Security and all the rest.

B) The other option, 6900 B, is a dramatic increase in the rate of federal income taxation from the current nominal rate of 28% to 65%-85%, which is what the Treasury Department estimated would be required post-2009 to provide the U.S. Treasury with sufficient revenues to continue to service debt, OR;

C) The third option, 6900 C, becomes the declaration of a force majeure on credit service of U.S. Treasury debt by the United States Treasury, which is tantamount to, and would be accurately construed as, de facto debt repudiation by the United States of America.

When that day comes, in other words, when the U.S. Treasury declares a force majeure on debt, it wouldn't be broadcast on mainstream media. There's no sense because the American people don't even understand what it means. The announcement would actually be put on the Federal Reserve wire system, which would, of course, immediately be picked up by all media outlets anyway.

The United States would, in order to accommodate global electronic trading, attempt to open the market on the second day, which they would do, regardless of price, just to maintain some liquidity. At the end of Day Two, the Dow Jones and related indices, would have lost two thirds of their value, and prices would be set accordingly.

On Day Three, the New York Stock Exchange, the SEC and other related agencies would recommend to the United States Treasury and the Federal Reserve that all markets be closed. That would be on the morning of Day Three.

At Eleven AM EDT, the Federal Reserve would then order all domestic banks closed.

At 9:00 PM EDT on Day Three, the President of the United States would declare a state of martial law. All financial transactions would come to an end. The Treasury would act to formally de-monetize the U.S. dollar and declare it worthless.

This would be totally unprecedented. In the past, collapses have been temporary and have been brought back up. But what we're talking about now is the end.

These protocols that I'm referring to aren't even all that secret. They were publicly available all through the Clinton era. These are Treasury protocols that were instituted mostly in the late 1970s when the Treasury and Federal Reserve began to feel that it was important to have an emergency-collapse protocol in place.

What precipitated the timing of this was the inflationary spiral of the mid-late 1970s, during Richard Nixon /Gerald Ford terms up to that point. The U.S. Treasury and the Federal Reserve were both concerned that this inflationary spiral, which was occurring not only domestically but globally, might lead to a global, uncontrollable hyper-inflation that the Federal Reserve or major central banks could not stop by traditional means, i.e., by raising interest rates and contracting money supply.

There was also the recognition, of course, that global central reserve bank bullion institution of a species currency, even on a temporary basis, and even within a regional or individual nation-state basis, was no longer possible.

This is an analogy. In a military scenario, it's like the President of the United States pushing the final red button — the commit button. The Treasury Secretary of the United States has a similar mechanism. It's called the yellow button, the commit button. The Secretary of Defense has the same system. This is what happens. Computer programs start to institute these protocols.

Imagine the complexity of trying to manage all this. I think it's going to happen all simultaneously. There are hundreds of different agencies involved, both domestically and internationally.

In order to maintain liquidity for as long as possible, it has to be extremely well-coordinated, and there must be existing collapse protocols that can be used.

The reason I was familiar with them was because I used to see the U.S. Treasury 6900 Series Collapse Protocol, 6903, 6904 there'll be A, B, and so on which keyed in to the Department of Defense to be incorporated within the Department of Defense' own World War III scenario and various types of military/ political/ social instability/ war/ pestilence, chaos, etc. scenarios.

All federal agencies had individual collapse protocols that ultimately got coordinated through the Department of Defense. Obviously, the Department of Defense would be the ultimate coordinator because it would need to have special forces available, on a stand-by basis, ready, that could quickly parachute into areas all over the country, into the cities particularly, to secure federal properties and assets.

And that's literally how it would begin. By the end of the third day, it would be all over — a state of martial law. We're not talking about war, now; this is just economic collapse.

There's no military implication here, no political, no social implication or policy directive thereunto. This is strictly economic collapse.

By the end of Day Three, effectively, all banks in the world will be shut down, all paper currencies will become valueless. Martial law would be declared.

There would be no continuing transactions, at least for a period of time, of commodities. All providers of fuels and foods would be shut down automatically.

They have this planned in extremely great detail too. For instance, the U.S. Department of Defense Special 117th Assault Unit would parachute in to seize control of the cattle yards in Oklahoma City. This is how well it's planned. In other words, economic collapse would automatically involve expansive military action and control.

By the end of the third day, when you no longer have a domestic medium of exchange, you have to have secured food and fuel stocks. You've got to have troops that have secured distribution points where there is food and fuel stocks, warehouses, tanks, etc. Otherwise people are just going to go get them, and the people have to know that if they try to go break into that store and steal that loaf of bread, they're going to be shot.

Protocols for environmental disasters are called 'scaling-circle scenarios.' 'Scaling circles' is a Department of Defense euphemism. It's also used in FEMA, OEM and other emergency management services.

In environmental catastrophes, which are going to become national or global, it's got to start someplace. It's going to start in one very small, specific area. Therefore what happens is that the immediate force containment is the greatest in the first circle, to try to contain the spread of the disaster and keep it within that circle-not allowing it into circle 2.

The environmental problem, to whatever extent it's possible, before it spreads, will be neutralized or mitigated, in order to keep that catastrophe within that circle, or, if it is likely that it is to escape that circle, to attack whatever it is in such a fashion as to mitigate its strength and its ability to contaminate or otherwise affect other areas.

In the case of earthquakes, for instance, affecting the west coast, beginning at Mt. Rainier and moving southward — that's a different type of scenario. That does not include as much Department of Defense involvement. It includes separate protocols, wherein mostly FEMA and OEM act as the senior coordinating agencies between municipal, county and state disaster and containment, which is called Disaster and Containment Units. Federal troops would only be brought in for the purposes of maintaining control.

In a military or economic collapse situation, National Guard units would provide any spare help they could in combating whatever the problem is. Federal troops would be used in order to have the specific authority simply to shoot anyone.

one I always found the most intriguing because it is the one that is least understood by the American people.

Military control would be necessary when lines begin to form at the banks, people trying to access their money. But that wasn't even anticipated as a big problem. Lines would form at the banks, but it was not even envisioned until sometime on Day Three because the American people wouldn't get it. It would be announced that the stock markets are down 2000 or 3000 points, and since we've always been taught they'll come back, the people would still be buying stocks.

You could count on everybody remaining in ignorance all the way down because the American people have never been taught Economics 101. The American people wouldn't realize the full extent of it until the markets were closed on the third day, or until the time when they went down to cash a check and the bank was closed with soldiers out in front. Then they would go down and see the gas station's closed. They see the local supermarket has been shuttered, and there's federal troops in front of it. Then they might begin to catch on.

And remember — it's not just federal troops. In emergency-collapse protocols, even before the declaration of a formal state of emergency or a state of martial law, the local military authorities within any given county or jurisdiction have the ability to essentially militarize anyone, that is, any civilian. This would be more than just deputizing civilians. It's federal. In other words, they would have the ability to militarize and give military authority to a civilian force. This would include not only police and the sheriffs and state police, but all local law enforcement that exists below the state level would be immediately militarized. They wouldn't take just anybody like they did in Iraq. It would be like the military when they call for volunteers.

In other words, this is how it would unfold over three days, but, in fact, very few Americans would know what to do about it or how to take any precautions. They wouldn't have a clue because they don't understand enough about economics to know what is happening. So that's what it is — Economic Armageddon.

In conclusion, since there is very little the people of the United States can do to protect themselves. We're not going to make any suggestions of how to protect yourselves because there's very little you can do.

We could tell you to go out and buy gold coins and bury them in the coffee can in the back yard and go to your nearest survivalist store, but, frankly, that's useless. In the last analysis, it's a lot of hype. There is very little the average US citizen

Here's an interesting and humorous aside. A couple of years ago, Hormel Foods, which makes Spam, announced that in the last six months there have been record sales of Spam in the United States the survivalists' food of choice. After all, they pride themselves on the fact, as the spokesman for Hormel said, "It is the only food product you can buy with an expiration that's 50 years."

When everything goes to hell, when all that man has created has turned to dust again, the final legacy is going to be Spam. It will be the last surviving item — when the anthropologists of 20 thousand years from now are digging sites and they see these enormous mountains of unopened cans of Spam-still unspoiled and ready to eat. They'll have monuments to the past out of Spam.
(-Spam is the true definition of DEAD FOOD-it never goes bad)

Furthermore, on Washington Journal they were talking about how FEMA has recommended to the Office of Homeland Security to have increased restrictions regarding citizen hoarding of long-term food and fuel supplies. That's pretty sinister too.

What they're talking about is the purchase of long-term so-called stores of survival food. FEMA was talking about some sort of restriction preventing people from accumulating food stores; putting it simply, that's what it means. The second point was to increase restrictions that already exist.

FEMA was recommending even tighter restrictions on citizens building their own private property underground storage tanks for the purposes of long-term storage of fuel. The real intent of this is threefold: a) to restrict citizens' ability to hoard food; b) restrict citizens' ability to hoard long-term storage of fuel; c) the forced identification of citizens to reveal food and fuel stocks they may be hoarding.

And that, in my opinion, is the real essence. The government wanted this kept secret — having the FEMA supply restrictions angle put into the equation, because they knew how people would interpret it.

They have tried to use environmental legislation to restrict people's ability to build fuel storage facilities on their own property — to get around what the true intent of that was.

But the bigger picture is that if you start to limit citizens' ability to hoard fuel and food and shake them up by potential forced identification of gold holdings or forced redemption.

food and fuel and to own gold because they would be able to resist state control in the future.

The feds need to have every citizen on a rationing card to control the civilian population. You can't have citizens out there hoarding food and fuel because then people can say to government, "I ain't taking a rationing card, baby, with my national ID card. I don't have to. You can't control me through food and fuel and worthless paper currency."

I used to make fun of these people. But now, things have come full circle on this debate. The pattern is becoming increasingly clear. So is the future.

In fact, I would believe that those of the survivalist mentality (the food, fuel, the gold coins in the coffee can in the back yard) . . . people who think that way will be ultimately vindicated.

People should quit making fun of them because they would be vindicated – even though they were all burned out, twenty-dollared to death, buying books and tapes, and discredited by mainstream media.

It may sound like a hollow victory, but it won't be a hollow victory for them – them that's got the Spam...

Attribution and Conclusion

The majority of this article was written long ago, in 2008, by a guy named Al Martin. It was forwarded to me (Hal Turner) by a visitor to this web site.

I tweaked the numbers to make them more current, and added the info about the federal reserve monetizing the debt so as to afford an answer to anyone wondering how, if this was all slated to collapse in 2009, we're still here?

It brings many frightening realities to the forefront because these days, what's taking place in matters financial with our federal government, is absolutely off the rails. They're not just spending a little more than they take in via taxes, their spending almost DOUBLE what they take in in taxes.

Let me ask you, how much is the currency of a Bankrupt nation actually worth? The very simple takeaway from this article is this: Have Emergency Food, Water, Medicine, and other supplies to tie you over for a few months, minimum.

If/When you hear the phrase "FORCE MAJEURE" – you will have only HOURS to you have left, and haul ass home to pack and head to your bugout location, then move out fast.

Bear in mind too, the banks will get word of this before the rest of us. They may cut off all credit cards before the public is even TOLD of a force majeure. That would mean you could only buy more food with cash. Got enough cash at home to do that?

Once it all goes to hell, and money (as we know it) is “de-monetized” everyone is (expletive); except the people who put their cash into something ELSE which is not cash. No, I don’t mean gold or silver because government will try to get their filthy hands on all of that. Something with intrinsic value (it has its value within itself). Things like land/real estate, precious gems, food supplies, fuel. Anything that will be useful to you and holds its value in itself.

But for God’s sake, don’t just sit around and do nothing. Prepare because when this hits, it will strike like a lightning bolt out of the blue.

The masses that are asses have no idea such a thing CAN EVEN HAPPEN, never mind happen to them. When stores all have to close because there is no longer any monetary means of commerce, what do you think the savages in the cities are going to do?

Yes, it will be that simple. So bug out before the savages figure out what’s going on because the cities and urban areas will descend into violent chaos very VERY fast.

Then remember, under our system of Government, it is CONGRESS that holds the purse strings. No President can borrow or spend a single cent, unless CONGRESS authorized it. All that debt which is collapsing our country, wrecking our currency, was done to you by CONGRESS. So if you see any of those scumbags on the street, you’ll know what to do.”

It has been fourteen years since I first read Al Martin’s article reposted by Hal Turner and I long ago forgot how discouraging the scenario was. ‘Al Martin Raw’ was the name of his web page. He stopped posting around 2013. All of that said, where it will matter is in the coming war just ahead for China and the U.S. China, or whatever remains after the weather wars being waged can be counted on in seeking retribution. There will be millions of them left to invade the U.S. through the southern and northern borders, and they may be met with greeters like Nancy Pelosi, and Joe Biden at the shores of San Francisco. Things are going to go Christ. The Bible is better than the money in your bank account or wallets.

We are entering the climax of History and all I can add to what I have shared is that we are days away from the 40 days of Repentance. Sunset of August 8th begins a period in which Jews observe as a time of repentance leading up to Yom Kippur or their Day of Atonement. Messianic Jewish believers are very excited over what looms just ahead with the Rapture of the believers in Jesus.

The 1st of Elul marks the beginning of a 40 day spiritual preparation called the Season of Repentance. The Season of Repentance culminates on the Day of Atonement. In Blessed Hope #65, I discussed Teshuva in its being one of the 12 idioms or idiomatic expressions associated with the Feast of Rosh HaShanah.

The fact is we have not previously had a time such as this which was so full of indicators of the Rapture than we have for this year. Monitoring world geo-political events, economic signs of total collapse, threats of wars, seismic activity, natural disasters, repetition of the plagues, and particularly what I have focused in this article, the war between the globalists and the CCP. Martin Armstrong said a week ago the globalist agenda for the New World Order is tearing the world apart. Surprisingly the secular world speaks more in apocalyptic terms while the Church is focused on going back to the "old normal!" Everything is upside down!

The Gospel narratives begin with John's call to repentance, the baptism of Jesus and his subsequent 40 day trial and temptation in the wilderness. Those 40 days of fasting and prayer culminate in a showdown with the adversary; a contest of will in which the Messiah emerges victorious and the Adversary is thwarted.

In the liturgical and legendary traditions of the High Holidays of which end on the Day of Atonement, the Adversary stands to accuse and confound Israel. He accuses them in judgment and seeks to display their sins before God and thereby achieve a guilty verdict. That is his job as prosecutor.

On the Day of Atonement, all Israel is enjoined to fast and pray. By the conclusion of the Day, Israel is vindicated before God on the basis of his mercy and his provision of atonement. The fast is broken after the day is completed with a festive meal. Thus the Adversary is defeated. In the same way, we read in the Gospel's Yeshua withstood the Adversary's temptations in fasting and in prayer and defeated him, and at the conclusion of the testing, he broke his fast. Angels served him.

The Day of Atonement is the last day of 40 days of repentance. The 40 days the same way, we read in the Gospel's that Yeshua was in the wilderness 40 days prior to his confrontation with the adversary. The 40 day period began with his immersion by John. John's baptism of Israel is called, "A baptism of repentance."

In the Synagogue, the shofar is blown after the morning prayers throughout these 40 days to remind the congregation to repent. It is a time of serious introspection and soul searching as each individual prepares to come before God on the Day of Atonement.

When the Gospels relate John's call to repentance, the baptism of Jesus and a 40 day period of fasting and testing, those events and themes seem to allude to the Season of Repentance. Therefore, the New Moon of the 6th month is an appropriate and perhaps accurate time to remember the Master's baptism.

As his disciples, it is our duty and privilege to follow in the Master's footsteps. Don't let the Sixth Month slip by. Let's take time to read the gospel accounts of the baptism of Yeshua/Jesus and His time in the wilderness. Let's pray for the endowment of the Holy Spirit to search us and reveal to us those areas of our lives where we must turn around. Let's let the Spirit lead us each into perfect repentance.

We can use the ensuing 40 days to turn back to Him. There are areas of our lives where we have grown lax and undisciplined. There are relationships we have damaged. There are people we have hurt. There are sins we have stumbled into and old habits we have returned to. We must seize on these 40 days to recover that ground and renew our devotion. Let's tune our ears to the voice of John as he calls to us, "Repent, turn around, quit sinning and start doing good because the kingdom of heaven is now!" Let's tune our ears to the sound of the shofar as it awakens our souls and reminds us to repent. Let's enter the cleansing mikvah-water of repentance and follow our Master into the wilderness. Let's follow his example in resisting temptation and the Devil.

Time is short. Forty days go past quickly. We have apologies to make. We have mitzvahs to do. We have repairs to effect. We have things to change and priorities to rearrange. Let's not wait until the High Holidays are already here. This is our opportunity to prepare the way of the LORD in our hearts and to make straight paths for the King, King Jesus Christ!

Blessings,

www.pastorbobreid.com
<http://jesusisthewaythetruththelife.com/node/22>